DISMISSED THE SERVICE.

THE CAPTAIN OF THE VIGILANT COULD NOT BE FORGIVEN.

Sir Arthur Blackwood of the Imperial Postoffice Will Go Over the C.P.R., and on His Report Will Rest the Action of the British Government.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—Hon. Mr. Foster has not been long in settling the case of the first officer of the cruiser Vigilant, who got drunk in Souris, P.E.I., on Friday night last, disgracing the uniform he wore and being made the butt and laughing stock of the American fishermen in port. He has been dismissed the service, the reputation of which Mr. Foster seems bound to maintain. The whole of Prince Edward Island is nominally under the Scott Act, but it seems easy enough to get drunk in any part of the Island.

Deserters Jailed.

Four deserters from the Critic have been jailed for a month at Georgetown, P.E.I.

The Writs for Charlevoix and Dorchester.

Speaker Ouimet is expected here next week. He has been notified by Messrs. Laurier and Amyot of the death of Mr. Duchesnay, M.P. for Dorchester, and it is probable that his visit here is in connection with the issuing of the writs for Charlevoix and Dorchester.

Sir Arthur Blackwood's Visit.

Sir Arthur Blackwood, personal secretary of the Imperial Postoffice, arrived here last night and leaves for Victoria, B.C., where he will join Hon. Messrs. Thompson and McLelan. Sir Arthur is professedly on a pleasure trip, but it is understood that on his report on the Canadian Pacific Railway will to a large extent rest the action which the British Government will take with regard to using the road. Sir Arthur, who is a prominent temperance and Christian worker, will probably deliver lectures in Canada and other places on his return from the Pacific Coast.

Revenue and Expenditure.

The revenue and expenditure accounts for the fiscal year have been closed, and show the former to have been $35,801,941.46, and the latter $35,607,504.36, leaving a surplus of $194,437.20. The sources of revenue were as follows: Customs $22,305,993.21, excise $6,308,195.35, postoffice 2,012,022.17, public works, including railways, $3,488,022.79, miscellaneous 1,997,667.93; total $35,801,941.46. Compared with last year this shows an increase of $3,490,521.89 in revenue and a decrease of $3,509,468.98 in expenditure. Every item of revenue shows an increase, except miscellaneous, which is $1,398,451.32 less than last year, the falling off being mostly in the item of interest consequent on closing up the Canadian Pacific Railway accounts. The increases are customs $3,032,141.12, excise $455,157.76, postoffice $112,902.17, public works $188,767.16.

Tenders for the Soo Canal.

The Department of Railways and Canals give notice to contractors that tenders for the new Sault Ste. Marie Canal will probably be called for in January next, and that from now to the middle of November is the best time for examining the locality.

From The Gazette.

To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain the appointment of Theotime Blanchard of Caraguet, N.B., as preventive officer of customs; John Wallace of Hillboro, N.B., as collector of customs, and R. C. Jamieson of Brockville as deputy collector of inland revenue.

An order-in-council has been passed approving the bylaws of the Quebec Harbor Commissioners respecting the Lewis Graving Dock.

Following is the imports and exports' statement of goods entered for consumption in July: Dutiable goods $5,386,458, coin and bullion $60,000, free goods $2,388,448, total $7,833,-906; duty collected $1,774,104. The statement of goods exported during the month of July is as follows:

	Produce of Canada.	Produce of other Countries
Produce of the mine	$ 287,212	$ 25,201
Produce of fisheries	753,398	2,340
Produce of forest	3,008,089	277,561
Produce of animals	3,498,166	163,735
Produce of agriculture	322,680	1,191,309
Produce of manufactures	267,615	25,551
Miscellaneous articles	42,693	5,731
Coin and bullion		631
Total	$8,749,709	$1,698,04[illegible]

Making a total of $10,447,[illegible] against $7,630,901 last year, being an increase of $997,844, of which $414,715 is in goods the produce of Canada and $493,179 in the produce of other countries. In goods the produce of Canada the increases are animals and their produce $286,650; manufactures $74,863; miscellaneous $1,942. The decreases are: mine $11,924; fisheries $56,064; forest $13,500; agricultural products $170,042. The increase in goods not the produce of Canada is almost entirely in agricultural products.

KILLED BY THE BULLET.

JOSEPH PRIESTMAN, JR., FOUND DEAD ON A PARKDALE SIDEWALK.

Probable Case of Murder—The Awful Discovery of a Policeman Yesterday Morning—The Clothing of the Corpse Rifled—An Affair Full of Mystery.

TORONTO, Aug. 27.

Until Thursday night Mr. Joseph Priestman, jr., was the Toronto agent of the Northwestern Masonic Assurance Association of Chicago, with his office in the Manning Arcade. To-day he is a corpse lying in the drawing room of his handsome red brick, flower-surrounded villa at the corner of Dunn and Rose avenues, Parkdale. Filled with all strength, vitality and happiness that a prosperous man of 45 with a loving family could desire, he left his house on Thursday night only to be found on a sidewalk yesterday morning with a bullet hole clean through his head.

JOSEPH PRIESTMAN.

Mr. Priestman left his office in the city between 5 and 6 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and went out to his suburban residence at Parkdale. He had dinner with his family and then a couple of hours were spent with friends who called to spend the evening with them. The company left at about 9.30 and shortly after Mr. Priestman said that he intended to make a business visit on a man below the subway. He first escorted to its home a child of a neighbor named Mr. Page and then returned to his own home. This was about 10 o'clock. Mrs. Priestman asked him how long he would be absent and he said "only an hour." He started out, and this so far as is known was the last seen of him alive.

The First Search for Him.

Mr. Priestman's wife and three daughters and his nephew, Mr. Harry Putman, a Normal School student whose home is at Grimsby but who had been living with his uncle, retired at about 10.30. Mrs. Priestman felt a strange uneasiness, and between 12 and 1 grew very anxious because of her husband not returning home. The others were asleep. Towards 2 o'clock she could not control her uneasiness and, rousing Mr. Putman, she asked him to go out and search for his uncle. Mr. Putman dressed and started out. He went up Dunn-avenue to where it ends at Queen-street and walked eastwards on Queen to the subway, expecting that his uncle would return that way. But he met him not, and returning to the house informed the family of the non-success of his walk. He retired, and the whole family spent the next few hours in sleepless anxiety. Mr. Putman arose again at daylight.

It is the daily duty of Constable Alexander Smith of Parkdale to extinguish the street lamps. He started out at his usual early hour yesterday morning. He had extinguished the lights on Dufferin-avenue and, as he says himself, it was between 5.10 and 5.15 when he started west on the old G.W. Railway track to Dunn-avenue to put out the lights on that thoroughfare. As he reached a point opposite the centre street marked on a map as running south through the commons, which is nothing but a big, dried-grass-covered meadow, he observed in the early light something white lying on the sidewalk. He left the track and, jumping over the fence, waded through the deep grass to the sidewalk. He saw the body of a man and, thinking it was a case of drunk, he kicked the feet in the hope of rousing him. But the man made no move and, as the constable stooped to catch hold of him, he was horrified to find the man dead, with bloodand brains oozing from a hole in the head. The body was lying on its back with arms and legs outstretched. All about were lying partially crumpled papers and it was these, together with the white shirt, exposed because of the vest being torn open, that first attracted Constable Smith's attention. The body was lying on its back with the head on the south edge of the sidewalk and its feet towards the middle, the head pointing directly towards the Exhibition Grounds. Three feet west of the feet he found a revolver which proved to be one of the "British Bull Dog" make, six chambered and of the largest calibre. Of the six, two chambers were empty, and it was afterwards ascertained that only one had been recently emptied. On the sidewalk was also found 15 cents in silver. The pockets of the trousers and coat were turned inside out and contained nothing, the hat with a bullet hole in the right side was lying near the feet, and the ghastly white face with eyes wide open was turned skywards, as if in mute appeal for justice. The hair on the left side was singed, and this, together with the clotted blood and the pale face, made the remains of Joseph Priestman look most horrible.

The Body Removed to an Afflicted Home.

Constable Smith surmised that he had a terrible case on hand and he hastened to notify Dr. Lynd, who is also Mayor and Coroner. He went up Dufferin-street, hastily extinguishing the lights as he went. Dr. Lynd was roused out of bed and told of what was wrong. Smith, with Constable Keith, whom he had summoned, returned to the scene of the tragedy. Whilst there, Harry Putman, Mr. Priestman's nephew, who had searched in vain for his uncle a few hours before, who had again started out on a search, came along and approaching the body glanced at it and exclaimed: "My God! that's my uncle! He has been murdered!"

This was the first identification, for neither Smith nor Keith knew whose body it was. Mayor Lynd was soon on the spot and made an examination of the body. He granted to Mr. Putman an order for the removal of the body and the papers lying about, and, assisted by a workingman who was among those attracted to the scene at even such an early hour, Constable Smith removed the body on a plank to the saddened home of the deceased, only a few hundred yards away. This was between 6 and 7 o'clock, and by this time there was quite a gathering of townspeople.

A Sad Homecoming.

In the early dawn, and with the cold blue waters of Lake Ontario heaving only a few yards away, the solemn procession moved slowly towards the house where the poor wife and children were yet abed. It was hoped that the body would be got into the house without their knowledge. But they heard a noise downstairs, and, fearing the worst, rushed down only to find the loving husband and father being carried into the drawing-room on a board, stiff and cold, and with his head blood-clotted and bullet-bored. It was a most agonizing sight, one which those who saw it will never forget. The remains were deposited in the drawing-room and while a few kind friends tried vainly to assuage the bereaved family's grief the crowd remained outside in awe-stricken horror. After a while the bereaved ladies were induced to go upstairs, while the house was closed and a servant placed to guard the drawing-room door.

"Was it Murder or Suicide?"

This was the question which was asked all day long wherever the tragedy was spoken of—and that was everywhere. Although even the facts in the earliest rumor would point to murder there were many in this, as in every other similar case, who exclaimed: "Oh, it's suicide," without even attempting to reason, even with themselves, as to why it should be so, and without any regard whatever for the sensitive feelings of relatives upon whom such a blow falls like a bolt from Heaven. There are people who think a murder such a horrible thing, especially in good Toronto, that they scout the idea of its possibility and fall back on the most convenient theory—one without a support in this case—and that is suicide. Any clear headed person who will consider the facts will conclude that this is a case of foul murder.

Reasons Why it Must Be Murder.

Mr. Priestman, so far as known, had no enemies. But he had a roll of money on him on Thursday night, and he was always known to carry a large sum of money when other business men would have it in the bank. It was no unusual thing for him to pay a large bill with money taken out of his pocket, when others would have that money in the bank and pay by check. That he had considerable money on the night he met his death is beyond doubt. In the afternoon he met one of his daughters down town, and in giving her some money he displayed a roll of bills. Again when he went home his wife asked for some money and he gave her a $5 bill which he took out of a roll. Just how much that roll consisted of cannot be said. He left home in cheerful spirits promising to be back soon, and when he was found his pockets were inside out and emptied of all they contained. Even a pocket piece which he had carried since the death of his little boy a few years ago was gone. It was an American trade dollar of the issue of 1883. His death must have occurred several hours before the body was found, because when Constable Smith made the discovery the papers lying about were wet with dew and the body was as cold as ice.

The funeral of the deceased will take place on Monday morning, and the remains will be conveyed by train to Welland for interment in the family burying ground. The remains will be taken to the Parkdale station.

NEGROES ARMING.

A Threatened Attack on the Whites in Lonoke County, Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 26.—Intense excitement prevails in the southwestern part of Lonoke County over a threatened negro uprising. The trouble arose over a quarrel between a white man named Clarence Chapman and a negro named Hunt. Chapman refused to pay Hunt what he wanted for some work he had done for Chapman a few days ago. Hunt and four other armed negroes attacked Chapman, and he was shot through the hip. Three of the negroes were arrested, among them a justice of the peace. Since that time bands of armed negroes have been collecting and threatening vengeance on the whites. The Sheriff of Lonoke has organized a formidable posse and has posted guards every four miles from Clear Lake to Lonoke, a distance of 18 miles. It is feared there will be serious troubles before the difficulty is settled.

The Other Side of the Story.

OTTAWA, Aug. 26.—The Governor of Carleton County Jail, the attending physician, the turnkey and other officials are very irate over the attack made on them by Rev. Mr. White with regard to the treatment of Mrs. Edmonson. They indignantly deny that the woman was in any way ill-treated, and state that her friends were allowed to see her once, but the visit seemed to excite her so that the doctors would not allow more. They say that she was kept in the almost nude condition in which she was found because she would not keep her clothes on, but wanted to tear them up.

THE PARADIS CASE.

The Check Alleged to Have Been Forged Not Produced in Court.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—The case against Rev. Father Paradis for forging the name of Mayor White of Aumond on a colonization roads check for $450 was continued at Aylmer to-day before Magistrates Prentiss and McArthur.

Hon. James McShane was examined, and mostly confined himself to expressing his opinion as to Father Paradis' honesty and uprightness. He did not produce the check; said he had never seen it, and did not know if it was in his department, but promised to have it searched for, and, if the Attorney-General for the province did not object, he would send it to the court.

George R. Nettle, C. T. Bate & Co.'s bookkeeper, was the next witness examined. He testified to having received by letter a check from Tremblay dated Oct. 5, 1885. Part of the proceeds of this check was applied to settling Father Paradis' account with the firm for supplies given him and part was sent in cash by letter to Tremblay. The check was an official check, but he could not say whether it was endorsed or not. Nor did he know on what bank the check was drawn, but he knew it was deposited in the Bank of British North America.

This closed the evidence for the prosecution

SALISBURY IS SUSTAINED.

GLADSTONE'S MOTION DEFEATED BY A MAJORITY OF 78.

Sir Geo. O. Trevelyan, the Latest Gladstonian Recruit, Condemns the Government for Proclaiming the Irish National League.

In the House of Commons this afternoon Sir George O. Trevelyan, one of the late Gladstonite recruits, resumed the debate on Mr. Gladstone's motion for an address to the Queen praying for nullification of the Government's proclamation of the Irish National League. He said the late Government did not ask the House of Commons to pass the Irish Crimes Bill on hearsay, but that they based their demands on Parliamentary returns of grave outrages. There had been committed 7763 outrages during the previous year, and 26 agrarian and political murders during the first half of the year. He contended that the House should have tabulated statistics of crime in Ireland, and that to mention one crime here and another crime there was not sufficient to justify such action as the Government were now taking against the whole Irish people. He denied that the general operations of the Irish National League increased crime in Ireland or led to the general non-payment of rent. Let the House understand, he continued, that if the proclamation of the league is sanctioned every Irishman belonging to it who will not leave it at the command of the Government will be liable to be punished as a common criminal, and that liability will not depend on any judicial proceedings worthy of the name. In conclusion he complained that the statements made by Mr. Balfour, and only given out last night left no time for examination of their character. Mr. Balfour had presented a series of alleged facts in justification of the Government's action. These allegations the House should have a chance to corroborate or refute before coming to a decision.

Sir R. E. Webster, Attorney-General, held that the reason why there were not more convictions of crime in Ireland was simply because of the terror of the league. He reminded the House that Earl Spencer's Government had repeatedly proclaimed the land league meetings and that Sir G. O. Trevelyan had supported these proclamations on the grounds that the objects of the land league were to put down landlordism and to effect a separation between Ireland and England. The object of the existing league, said the speaker, were the same.

Mr. Harrington (Nationalist) said that as one largely responsible for the league, he desired to reply to the calumnies that had been hurled at its character. He read letters from branches of the league condemning the practices which the Government declared the league promoted. The league repudiated every form of outrage. The league would go on doing what it had done in spite of proclamations which had no terrors for the Irish people. (Cheers).

Mr. Wm. Redmond accused the Orange Society of worse intimidation than was ever charged to the league, which was a genuine national association. Under certain circumstances, he said, boycotting was justifiable and necessary. (Cheers from the Ministerial benches.)

The Resolution Negatived.

Mr. Gladstone's resolution was negatived by 272 to 194.

Gladstone in High Spirits.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—In an interview with a representative of the press to-day Mr. Gladstone, in reply to a question as to whether he expected to beat the Government to-night, said: "No, we can't expect to do that; but the fact that a year ago the Government majority was 110, while now the most sanguine Conservatives only anticipate a majority of sixty on proclaiming the league shows what a tremendous change has come over the face of the country. The change is coming more rapidly than many people imagine, and, in fact, quite fast enough." Mr. Gladstone seemed to be in high spirits and declared he was in excellent health.

A Justification of Resistance.

DUBLIN, Aug. 26.—The Freeman's Journal says Mr. Gladstone's speech in Parliament yesterday was the best encouragement and justification Irishmen could have to boldly confront coercion like men, not like mice, while they must not forget its appeal to their patience, prudence and forbearance.

At a meeting of landlords to-day a deputation was appointed to wait upon the Government ministers and urge them to consider their claims in arranging the terms of the Land Purchase Bill.

A Victim of the Quebec Mob.

QUEBEC, Aug. 26.—Thos. Law, one of the injured Salvationists, had to be conveyed to the Jeffrey Hale Hospital last night. He is still delirious this morning. The ringleaders of the riot will probably be arrested to-day.

Fifteen Persons Drowned.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The excursion yacht Monarch was capsized in a squall in Bristol Channel to-day and fifteen persons were drowned.

FATHER AND MOTHER ARE DEAD.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

Written for the Examiner.

How very sad words like the above sound when uttered by little children. They bring to the mind visions of the sick-bed, and of long-suffering, and then death and the grave. They take us, in imagination, to the last parting at the bedside of parent and child, and we hear the sighs and moans of those about to be taken away and the cries, the bitter cries, of the little ones, who are soon to be left behind. What the feelings of the dying parents may be, as they look upon their children for the last time, it would be hard to tell. They know they have to go away, they know that the future of the little ones must be different from what it would have been had their lives been spared, They know how often they will cry for father and mother, and how often their pillows will be wet with their tears. They know how little sympathy in their troubles will be shown them by the strangers by whom they will be surrounded, but they feel that their doom is fixed, and that they will soon be called away to leave their loved ones with strangers, without a parent's care In a quiet part of a far western country lived a man and his wife and two little children. They were anxious to better their former condition, and so they moved away to the wilds of the far west, where the man took up land, hoping soon to have a home. His wife nobly seconded his efforts, and the two little girls caught the spirit of Adventure and resolved to do all they could to cheer on and comfort their parents. So their dreary time went on, alwards looking forward and hoping for better things. For the day when the country would be settled up and the then wilderness give place to smiling fields and waving grain. When they would have kind neighbours around them and the church and the school would supply their simple wants. But man proposes and God disposes. After a time the husband sickened and died, to be soon followed by his ever faithful wife. And these two little girls were left all alone. Alone in the wilderness, and alone with the few settlers around them. And the father and mother were buried side by side in one grave, in a small clearing in the midst of the dark and lonely wilderness. They cried over the graves, and they thought of their lonely home and wondered what they were going to do. Happily for them a kind neighbor brought them to his house and his kind wife looked after and cared for them. Their relations lived afar off in the east and they were notified of these sad events and it was likely the children would be taken back again to their old home. And thus all their bright dreams and the hopes and expectations of their parents were ended. But they did not forget often to visit their father's and mother's grave. And they used to sit down and talk in their childish way over the past, and used to wonder if father and mother could see them now. And many were the bitter tears which they shed as they sat there and listened to the songs of the birds in the trees above them. And, oh, how still everything was and how sad and lonely they felt. And how often they looked back as they were returning to their new home.

I'm lonely since my mother died,
The friends and kindred gather near,
I cannot check the rising sigh
Or stay the silent, heart-felt tear.
Of earthly friends she was the best
My erring youthful steps to guide,
Oh, do not smile because I weep,
I'm lone y since my mother died.

You may not deem it brave or strong,
To let these tears so often flow,
But those who've lost a mother's love,
Can tell the pain of my sad woe.
Could I but on her back again,
And kneel once more down by her side,
I'd love her better than before,
I'm lonely since my mother died.

Oh! You who have a mother dear,
Let not a word or act give pain,
But cherish, love her with your life,
You ne'er can have her life again.
Then, when she's called from you away,
Across death's dark and troubled tide,
In pain with me you need not say
I'm lone ly since my mother died.

By and by these two little children will be taken to their eastern home. Then, thousands of miles away from their parents' graves, they will sit together at eventide and think and talk of their father and mother, and of their past trials and troubles. And when they lie down to sleep they will go over again their childhood's days and call to mind the many acts of father's and mother's kindness, and how in the long, lonesome evenings in that far off country they used to sit and talk over their hopes for the time to come, and about the old home which they had left behind. And, some day when they grow older, they hope to visit those graves again. "Father and mother are dead," came from the cries of two little boys, wandering helpless and homeless on the streets of a great city. They were not always so. They once lived in a quiet, comfortable home, nursed and cared for by kind and loving parents, with every prospect of future happiness. But their sky became clouded. Their father failed, and they lost their comfortable home, and their parents went to the city, hoping to do something for their maintenance, little knowing the troubles and disappointments which were before them. Their trials were great and were more than they could bear. Reduced in health through exposure and poverty, the parents sickened and, died, so their two little boys thenceforth were doomed to wander the streets begging for bread, oftentimes at night lying down, cold and hungry; and crying for father and mother, but crying in vain. Nobody knows the amount of the suffering of such poor little outcasts as these, asking for only one little piece of bread but passed by unheeded and uncared for, and thus they wander on, almost ready to sink down through their hardships and desolation and misery.

Please give me a penny sir, my father and mother are dead,
And oh, I am so hungry, sir a penny please for bread,
All day I have been asking, but no one heeds my cry;
Will you not give me something, or surely I must die,
Oh, please give me a penny, sir, my father and mother are dead,
And oh, I am so hungry, sir, a penny please for bread.

Please give me a penny, sir, you won't say no to me,
Please I'm poor and ragged, sir, and oh so cold you see,
We were not always begging, we once were rich like you.
But father died a drunkard, and mother she did too,
Oh, please give me a penny, for mother dear is dead,
And oh, I am so hungry, sir, a penny please for bread.

Please give me a penny, sir, is heard on every side,
Lisp'd by little trembling lips, sighing on life's tide,
Oh, listen to their pleading, and pity these the poor,
These blessings bright from heaven will shine on thee the more,
Please give me a penny, sir, father and mother are dead,
And oh, I am so hungry, sir, a penny please for bread.

And so the cry goes on until these little weary ones are laid to rest. Rest from the sorrows and cares of the world, their places to be taken by others as badly off as themselves. Many of these thus appealed to have families of their own and I often wonder if they ever think that some day their children may be brought to a similar condition as they pass these poor creatures by with so indifferently, when so very little would help them and stay their cries. For if they ever did so think, I am sure they would freely give, hoping that He who sees all things will care for and protect their little ones, should they ever be reduced to the same condition of want and misery. People marry and have families, but how many of them never look forward to the possibilities of trouble, arising from death or financial ruin, to which they may be exposed in the future. And how few ever make provision against possible losses in regard to their effects upon those too young to take care of themselves. Generally speaking fathers and mothers live as if they had no helpless children dependent upon them, and as if all they had to do is to waste their substance in riotous living and pleasure. Never taking thought of what to-morrow may bring forth. Never taking thought that to-morrow they may be raised or in their grave. And never taking thought of the dreadful want and troubles and misery to which their little ones may be exposed. But the world is full of cases of this kind, and many of the poor little wanderers upon the busy streets have been forced there through the follies and the extravagance of their parents, and sometimes, too, through unforseen misfortunes and losses. Let all persons then think of these things, and let them open their hearts and their purse strings to the helpless and the poor, and especially to the poor little homeless and fatherless children who in suffering and pain, cry to them for help, and who ask for the gift of even a penny.

ANOTHER FIRE IN MONTREAL.

The Herald Building Completely Gutted; Loss $125,000.

MONTREAL, Aug. 26.—Another destructive fire occurred here this evening in the building occupied on the ground floor by the St. Leon Water Company, Geo. Hart, coal merchant, and the business and printing offices of The Montreal Herald. On the flat above are the editorial rooms of The Herald and the office of J. Stewart & Co., auctioneers. The next flat is occupied by the compositors of The Herald, and the top or fifth flat is occupied by the Montreal Steam Laundry Company. The building is about 105 by 50 feet, and faces on Victoria-square and St. James-street. About 8 o'clock the flames were observed bursting from the top flat occupied by the Laundry Company, and so quickly did they spread that men working on the flat below had barely time to escape. Fortunately no one was left behind, although many of them had no time to get their coats. The Central Division of the fire brigade was as soon on the ground, and so firm a hold had the flames obtained on the building that a general alarm was sent out, which was promptly responded to. By this time it was evident that the building was doomed to destruction.

About half an hour after the fire broke out part of the roof fell in with a crash and shortly after the upper portion of the wall facing on Victoria-square fell in, and a quarter of an hour later a portion of the wall on St. James-street also fell. The firemen, despite the intense heat, stuck to their posts like Trojans and directed their efforts to confine the fire in the building in which it was fiercely raging.

After three hours' hard work the flames were got under control. Loss at present cannot be estimated, but is put down at about $120,000. The building is fully covered by insurance, but the stock and plant are only partially insured. The Herald Company were burned out of the old premises on St. James-street in July, 1882, and the building which is now completely gutted was destroyed by fire in 1879.

The Rector and the Society Lady.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The City of Elizabeth has the biggest sensation it has experienced for years, in the scandal affecting Rector Otis A. Glazebrook of St. John's Episcopal Church and Miss Julia Foote, a prominent society woman and Sunday school teacher in Rector Glazebrook's church. Mr. Glazebrook made an impassioned statement of his innocence at the vestry of St. John's Church, yesterday, and demanded an immediate investigation.

French Army Mobilization.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—The 70th Army Corps has been selected for the mobilizing experiment, for which the Government has arranged. Final instructions to the commanding officers were issued this morning.

In Brief, And To The Point:

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in gold." Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w34d

SPRECKLES, THE SUGAR KING.

He Has a Poor Opinion of the Hawaiian Government.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Claus Spreckles, the Hawaiian sugar king, is staying at the Continental Hotel. Spreckles has not much opinion of the present monarch of the Sandwich Islands, whom he calls a good-natured, weak fellow. With reference to the present state of affairs in Hawaii he remarked that the English Government would never be able to compel the ministry to sign the London bonds, because they are not legally issued under the laws of Hawaii. He spoke very lightly of the present revolution, which was quite a small affair. He gives very amusing accounts of the Hawaiian method of government and of the royal household in Honolulu.

Mr. Spreckles at present is very much interested in beet-root sugar. He has purchased machinery which will manufacture from three hundred and fifty to four hundred tons of sugar per day. He has also bought a large cargo of sugar beet for plantation. He intends making the experiment in one of the middle western States, where the climate is about the same as in Austria. The cultivation is very economical and a source of great wealth in Austria and Germany, where the planters are obtaining 60 per cent. on their investment. He hopes to see this industry flourish in America.

TAYLOR'S ARRIVAL HOME.

A Crowd of a Thousand Greets His Arrival in London Last Evening.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A stir was created here to-day when it became known that Henry Taylor, ex-president of the Bank of London, was on his way home, and would arrive in the evening. About 1000 people were at the Grand Trunk Railway Station when the Pacific express arrived. When Taylor stepped off the train he was accompanied by M. D. Fraser, barrister, and F. A. Fitzgerald, who had gone to Toronto to meet him. Neither Taylor, Fraser, nor Fitzgerald would be interviewed and positively declined to discuss bank matters. It was even impossible to obtain from them information as to whether Mr. Taylor had been guaranteed immunity from arrest.

He was not arrested, however, but to-night drove through the principal streets with his family, laughing and chatting gayly.

A meeting of directors of the Ontario Investment Association was held to-night. Taylor wasn't there. None of the directors would be interviewed. Interested parties feel confident that Taylor's return augurs well for them.

MYERS, THE WIFE MURDERER.

He Will Voluntarily Return to the Custody of Michigan.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 26.—Yesterday the case of Emmanuel Myers, who attempted to murder his wife in Jackson, and who was apprehended here on Wednesday, came up before Magistrate Bartlet. Information was submitted by Chief of Police Bains charging Myers with assault with intent to kill. He at first seemed exceedingly combative, but after a while weakened and signed an acknowledgment to the effect that he would voluntarily accompany the Michigan officers to Detroit. He made the condition, which was strictly observed, that he should not be handcuffed and should not be taken across the river in charge of Chief of Police Winney of Jackson. The reward of $100 for his apprehension has been awarded to Chief Bains. Myers was taken to Jackson, and will be tried there.

COLOROW IS NOT CORALLED.

He Does Not Want a "Little Fight" With the Troops, but a Big One.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 26.—Telegrams received here this afternoon from Meeker deny the reports of yesterday that Colorow is surrounded by militia and desires peace. The Indians are intrenched in the hills and so protected by natural fortifications that their dislodgment by all the State Militia combined will be impossible. Colorow yesterday said that he did not want a "little fight," but he did want a "big fight" and they would have it if the troops were not called back. "Ingun no fraid." Capt. Lawson, who was returning to Meeker on Wednesday afternoon from Campaign with telegrams, was headed off and chased twenty miles up Puesaano Creek and held by the Indians until darkness permitted him to escape.

The Escape of McGarigle.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Ex-Ald. Appleton, who followed McGarigle to Canada, says that the latter positively assured him that no one was connected with his escape. He stated that the States Attorney had told him he would either have to testify against his friends or go to jail, and, rather than do either, he took the first opportunity to escape.

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner of Nesbing, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system he has ever taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w34d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair,

Use Dr. Doreswend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

An Undoubted Opinion.

"I was severely troubled with diarrhœa and having used some of the wonderful Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry, I was in a short time completely cured. I can recommend it as a splendid medicine." Wm. A. Stafford, Shedden, Ont. 2w34d

Have You Tried It?

If so you can testify to its marvellous powers of healing and recommend it to your friends. We refer to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, the grand specific for all summer complaints, diarrhœa, cholera morbus, dysentery, cramps, colic, sickness of the stomach and bowel complaints of infants or adults. Let its merits be known to all who have not used it. 2w34d

Handsome Horses.

Mr. T. Cavanagh, of Peterborough, has been in Lindsay during the past few days, says the Post, in quest of a few fine horses, and we believe he has secured the same. Among the animals purchased was a fine mare from Mr. Coughlin, of Emily, for $200; also an excellent mate for the same from Mr. Moynes, of Fenelon, at about the same price. Together they make one of the handsomest pairs that have left Lindsay for some time.

A Boot Burglary.

This morning the foreman in Mr. J. Griffin's boot and shoe store on Hunter street on entering the workshop found the back door wide open and a ladies' buttoned shoe lying on the ground a few feet away. An examination revealed the fact that a burglary had been committed, two pairs of fancy sewed boots, and a side each of calf and hip leather being missing. Other articles may and doubtless have been taken, but this is all that is missed at present. The means of entrance of the burglar is a mystery, as the key of the door was found hanging in its usual place beside the door.

The Horticultural Show.

Next Tuesday, in Bradburn's Opera House, the fall exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society will be held. The prize list is a large and comprehensive one, and it is to be hoped our citizens will show a practical appreciation of the personal labors and large expenditures incurred by the members of the Society in the establishment and care of the Court House and Central Parks, and their efforts to stimulate a taste for the beautiful among the public, by patronizing the show and encouraging them in every way. The admission fee is only 10 cents.

The male choir of the Association is making rapid progress under the leadership of Mr. L. Seward. The practices are held every Monday evening.

The new secretary, Mr. W. H. Stevens, of Montreal, will be here the latter part of September.

The Charlotte Street House Moving.

Mr. Allen McCarthy, has completed his contract of moving the large double house from the market square to its new site on Charlotte street. He carried out his contract completely and gave satisfaction to all parties. He deserves great credit for so successfully moving a ponderous building which architects estimated. weighed in the neighbourhood of 200 tons. He did it too, without injuring the house itself or the Charlotte street bridge, over which it was taken, thanks to the precautions taken to strength on the bridge. Mr. McCarthy's experience and knowledge of his business stood him in good stead, and all parties wanting buildings removed, or other work in his line, can call upon no more competant and trustworthy man than Mr. Allen McCarthy.

Peterborough University.

It is desired very earnestly to call the attention of parents to the offer made by Bannell Sawyer & Co., in this issue to all who place themselves under their tution. The present condition of this Institute cannot be too highly spoken of. For three years in succession Principal Sawyer has made a tour of inspection and observation to the leading Canadian and American Business Colleges, Penmanship Institutes and Shorthand Schools, bringing back each time not only ideas but office and school appliances which place the Institute this season far beyond the status of ordinary colleges. The staff has been increased, a new department opened, new fixtures added and altogether an admirable institution is just now entering its third year with flattering signs of a successful future in training young men and women in practical business affairs.

The Melee of the Milky Way.

The Sandy Point affair, between Messrs. Fuller and Rubidge, is soon to be ventilated in the courts. Counter-complaints were lodged, Engineer Rubidge laying an information against Mr. Fuller before Police Magistrate Edmison, and Mr. Fuller one against Mr. Rubidge before Magistrate Hull, of Lakefield. The latter case came up for trial at Lakefield Thursday, but the defendant being unable to appear it was enlarged until Tuesday next. P. M. Edmison held court at the Court House here yesterday afternoon, but Mr. Rubidge again not appearing, an enlargement was made till Wednesday next, at 3 o'clock. The case for the plaintiff is in the hands of Mr. Jno. Burnham; Mr. E. B. Edwards appears for the defendant. Mr. Fuller was in court, and Constable Chapin, of Lakefield, who stated that Mr. Rubidge had told him only the night before that he expected to be able to attend court. However, a certificate from Dr. Caldwell to the effect that the defendant was unable to appear was presented, and the adjournment granted. The affair is creating much interest.

The Wrong House.

A good story is published in the Warder of the recent visit of Peterborough True Blues to Lindsay. The train left sharp on time that night, and left the excursionists, though they were making all possible haste from the lower wharf to the station. Well, the "boys" naturally felt disappointed, but making the best of the job went in for fun. One party, wandering in the neighborhood of a worthy South Ward "alderman", rang him up at 2.30 a.m. The aldermanic voice, mingled with an occasional thud of the elbow, was heard, awaking his better-half to go to the window. The good, as well as good-natured, lady obliged her liege lord, but was informed that it was the noble alderman himself that was wanted. He appeared, and in breathless suspense received the interrogation:—"Say, (hic) old fellow, (hic) is—this—house—Pe-ter-bor-ough?" The town father assured the deputation that it was not, when they withdrew.

Willow and Wicket.

Peterborough vs Whitby.

Eight members of the P.C.C.(aided a junior) journeyed to Whitby yesterday to play the return match with the local club of that place. Three boys were got in Whitby to fill up the team, and play was commenced at 10 o'clock with Whitby at the bat. Owing to the fine bowling of "Cob" and H. Ray the team was all dismissed for 52, of which that old stand-by, Pelham got 15 and Greenwood 10, both playing excellent cricket for their scores.

As the outset of their innings Peterboro' had a streak of bad luck which threatened defeat, "Cob," "Baker" and Hugh Ray being got rid of for a few runs. Max Hamilton then stayed with Sam Ray, both playing in remarkably fine style until 25 was reached, when Max fell a victim to point. Stirling helped Ray to add a dozen to the score, and W. Hamilton got 4, when lunch was called. On resuming, the end soon came, the innings closing for 54 of which Ray got 24. The excellence of the bowling and fielding may be judged when it took Sam Ray, usually a fast scorer, an hour and half to get his runs. It may be stated however, that the wicket during this innings was in anything but good condition. In the second innings, the wicket in the meantime having been thoroughly rolled and put in better order for batting, Whitby made 72, of which Hatch played a very steady game for 18, and C. Ray (the eldest brother of the family) got 13, and Lawler 12, in good style.

With 71 to get to win, and a big tail to the team, it was thought that the Peterborough's, to use a slang expression, "had bitten off more than they could chew", but the result proved otherwise. "Cob" was again easily got rid of, but Hugh Ray scored 18 in fine style before he succumbed. "Baker and Sam Ray then made a good stand, taking the score to 57 before the former was bowled by a full pitch, after playing a very fine innings for 22. "Max" was bowled off his legs at the same figure, but Stirling kept up his wicket until Sam had made the fourteen runs required, his 25 being a splendid piece of cricket, which included a four to square-leg out of the ground.

Two phenomenal catches deserve notice, one a left hander in the slips by "Cob" and the other a hot one at point by Baker. Mention should also be made of the grand fielding of Snow, one of the "subs".

Seven years ago, Peterborough took six men to Whitby and beat that team, then one of the strongest in Canada. Of the team which then played, "Baker" and "Cob" were the only two who played for Peterborough, Sam Ray then playing for Whitby. It is worthy of remark that "Baker" got precisely the same number of runs in each match.

Matrimonial.

The EXAMINER has pleasure in recording a matrimonial event which, though happening in Chicago, had Peterborough people for its central figures. It is the marriage of Mr Peter L. Moscrip, formerly well known in Peterborough, and Miss Maggie Metherall daughter of Mr. John Metherall, town. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mrs. Spence, Englewood, Chicago. She is also a former resident of Peterborough, as well as the groomsman, Mr. John Moscrip, and the bridesmaid, Miss Lily Dickson. Mr. and Mrs. Moscrip take up their residence in Milwaukee, where the former holds a responsible and lucrative position in a wholesale house. Both the contracting parties are well known in Peterborough, and they enter auspiciously upon their married life with the best wishes of their hosts of friends in this town.

The Plum Market.

This is the season for plums, and everybody is alive and on the lookout for plums, particularly the wide-awake housewife. In every kitchen, this is the song of the preserving kettle:

Double, double, toil and trouble,
Fire burn, cauldron bubble.

The plum crop is said to be abundant this year, but, so insatiable is the thirst of the public for this fruit, that, no sooner does a basket of plums appear on the market, than there is a general rush, and, as the demand governs the price, the figures are put up and kept up. But there has been a new kind placed on the market, named the prunus commercialis, and its price and quality are such as to insure public appreciation, and there are dozens of varieties of it, suited for all purposes. The plums referred to are those to be found at the fruit farm of gough, the wonderful cheap man, and the plums he has for the public are the magnificent, unsurpassed, unparalleled bargains he gives this fall in Cardigan jackets for men and boys, men's and boys' underclothing, silk ties. His cotton bags at $1.20 per dozen will catch the farmer—if the crops are short, gough makes up the difference in cheap grain bags. Bandies, bales, cords, stacks, mountains of ready-made clothing, are to be found at gough's establishment. Read his advertisement on page two of this issue, and you will see that as a business man gough is a rustler, and, to use a familiar expression, lubricated lightning.

Police Court.

A Horse Deal That Ended In Blood.

"Keep yer hands off'n o' that horse or I'll bust ye, d'ye see?" was the angry exclamation, accompanied by a fist-shake in his opponent's face, of a good-sized "lump of a lad" named McDonald, on the corner of Hunter and George streets on Friday morning, towards a young man named Cummings, who was holding a horse by the bit and endeavouring to keep McDonald off. Both claimed the animal, hence the dispute, which waxed warmer every minute and attracted a large crowd. The trouble was caused as follows: Some time ago Cummings sold McDonald a horse, to be paid for in instalments, and in case any payment was missed Cummings should re-take possession of the animal. Several payments having gone by default, Cummings took legal advice, and was told that the horse was now his. Both parties live in town. The other day Cummings went to McDonald's stable and surreptitiously extracted the animal, and was driving across George street yesterday morning with it when young McDonald swooped down upon him and began unhitching it. Then fun began. Cummings, of course, interfered, and the lad danced around, white with anger, threatening, swearing like blue lightning, and occasionally striking out at his adversary, who clung to the horse and tried to keep him off. Cummings, who is a Salvationist and wore his colors, kept his temper well under the circumstances. A big crowd gathered, McDonald became bolder, and finally his mother appeared on the scene and "took a hand in". Cummings pulled one way, and the two McDonalds in the opposite direction, kicking, slapping and pushing for all they were worth. Finally the lad made a determined assault on Cummings, and a running fight between the two began, the belligerents rolling around in the dirt and pummelling each other. After a few minutes they were separated, Cummings bleeding profusely from the nose, and McDonald also considerably cut and bruised. In the meantime the old lady had run the horse to one side, and as soon as McDonald was liberated he mounted the innocent cause of the trouble and rode out of sight. All this time, probably half an hour, not a member of our large and generally ubiquitous police force was to be seen, so no arrests were made. Cummings claimed legal right to the horse, but the sympathies of the crowd were evidently against him. They cheered heartily when the lad came out the victor.

The case was called in court this morning, but the lad Daniel Macdonald not being present, an enlargement was made till next Thursday.

THE IRISH SITUATION.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The Government's majority of seventy-eight votes in the division on Mr. Gladstone's motion in the House of Commons last night was a genuine surprise to both sides. It had been predicted by many Liberals that the margin in favor of the Ministry would not be above fifty, and even the most sanguine Conservatives did not, in view of the scant attendance and the defection of some of the Unionists, who, as a party in this case, were an unknown quantity, claim more than sixty-five. When, therefore, the result became generally known through the medium of this morning's papers, there was a general rejoicing among Conservatives and a faint realization among the opponents of the Government that the Salisbury Cabinet was really not as helpless as it had been represented to be by those who desired its downfall. The consistent support of the Unionist members has greatly stiffened the vertebra of the Government, and it may be set down as a certainty that the campaign against the league will be conducted with all the vigor that the law and the animus of the Irish Government officials can bring to bear. The debate in the House was, although quite spirited, conducted with unusual freedom from angry retort and exasperating innuendo, and the Irish members who took part in the discussion were with one exception marvelously temperate and guarded in their expressions. The declaration of Mr. Wm. Redmond that boycotting was not justifiable, but in many cases necessary, is generally deplored by his colleagues, and was particularly offensive to Mr. Gladstone, the drift of whose argument was directly opposed to admitting that the league countenanced any of the things it was charged with having abetted.

The people of Ireland will have a difficult task before them for the next few months, and upon their patient endurance and unqualified heed of the advice of their leaders depends entirely the chances of speedy relief from the burdens imposed upon them by the Government's application of its power. The voluntary connection of a number of English commoners with the league will vastly improve the prospects of that organization continuing its work in defiance of the Dublin government, and the league may be considered abundantly able to take care of itself; but its most difficult work will be that of restraining the peasantry, under the weight of extreme provocation, from resorting to deeds of violence.

Anti-Coercion Meeting in London.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Under the auspices of the Liberal League and the Radical and Irish Temperance clubs a procession, containing 10,000 men, marched to Trafalgar square to-night to listen to speeches in denunciation of the Government's action against the Irish National League. Four platforms had been erected, and from these four speakers addressed the multitude simultaneously. Among the orators were Messrs. Biggar, Nolan, Quinn and Shirley, members of Parliament, and the Socialist leader Morris. A resolution denouncing the proclamation of the league was carried by acclamation. Large bodies of police were present, but the crowd was perfectly orderly.

Prosecutions Under the Coercion Act.

DUBLIN, Aug. 27.—The Government have summoned John Mandeville, chairman of the Mitchelstown Board of Poor Law Guardians, for making a speech inciting to violence on the occasion of Mr. Wm. O'Brien's visit to Mitchelstown. Mr. Mandeville leads the plan of campaign movement in County Cork. He is a nephew of Col. O'Mahoney, the late Fenian leader in America. It is expected that Mr. Condon, member of Parliament for East Tipperary, will be prosecuted simultaneously with Mr. Mandeville and Mr. O'Brien.

Chamberlain Votes With the Ministry.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—In the division in the House of Commons last night all the Conservatives, including Lord Randolph Churchill, supported the Government, as did Lord Hartington and Messrs. Bright and Russell. The bulk of the Unionists voted with the Gladstonians and Parnellites. Messrs. Joseph and Richard Chamberlain, Collings, Williams of Birmingham, Hingley and Buchanan also voted with the Ministry. During the evening Mr. Bright had a short talk with Mr. Gladstone. There were only eighty-two pairs on the votes and a few absentees unpaired.

COLOROW CORRALLED.

The Ute Chief Wishes to Have a Talk With the Whites.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 25.—The following message has been received here: "Glenwood Springs, Col., Aug. 25, 4.15 a.m.—To Gov. Adam, Denver: Major Leslie has Colorow corralled with two hundred bucks. They want to see big white man, and won't talk to cowboy whites; want little fight; soldiers must go back or have little fight. Kendall has only 52 men. This is positive. All other information on this point is false. (Signed) F. M. REARDON, Brig. General."

LATER.—"Please come to Glenwood Springs immediately, even if requires special, to meet General West and County Commissioners Gregory and Reynolds. An emergency exists which requires your presence there at once."

A $60,000 Fire at Sussex, N.B.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 27.—The pretty town of Sussex, on the line of the International Railway, about forty miles from here, suffered severely by fire this morning. It broke out in the Victoria Hotel owned by Wm. Holman, which was soon destroyed. The Masonic Hall, Geo. H. Waiter's building, dwelling and the saloon of Robert Kellie, Robert Garrigue's dwelling house and shoe store, Mrs. Wm. Quigley's residence and Albert Peawick's dwelling and meat store were all consumed. Loss at least $60,000; insured for about half that amount.

COMMERCIAL UNION.

Mr. Wiman and Others Dwell Upon the Benefits to Result.

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—Erastus Wiman of New York, the Hon. Benjamin Butterworth from Cincinnati, and Prof. Goldwin Smith, delivered addresses this evening before a large audience on invitation of the commercial bodies of Detroit, the subject of discussion being commercial union between the United States and Canada. Mr. Wiman's address, which was the principal feature of the evening, occupied nearly an hour, and was an elaborate presentation of the advantages and possibilities of this movement. He claimed that a commercial union would bring as much profit and as much advantage to the United States as a political union, and illustrated his contention by the contributions to the wealth of the country of California and Alaska. It was claimed that Canada was commercially independent and that without appealing to England the Parliament of Ottawa could adjust a tariff precisely similar to that of the United States, and that, around the whole continent this uniform tariff existing, there would be no let nor hindrance to the ebb and flow of commerce within the continent itself. The result would be that an extension of the commerce of the United States would thereby be secured of almost unknown possibilities.

The speaker said that without the drawing of a sword, the shedding of a drop of blood, or the expenditure of a single dollar, the area of the commerce of the country could be more than doubled, because the area of Canada was larger than that of the United States, and her riches in minerals, fisheries, timber, phosphates and other things rendered Canada a treasurer house of resources which could be made greatly contributary to the United States. As to the iron ores of Canada, Mr. Wiman claimed they were much more free from phosphorus than those in the United States, and remarked that what the Devil was to religion phosphorus was to iron; that the importations of iron from Spain and other countries were a necessity in order to treat United States ores successfully, but that Canada contained unlimited supplies of just the kind of ore the United States needed to benefit her own products; that in copper there were abundant supplies, in quality ranging from 6 to 30 per cent., while the great Calumet and Hecla ores rarely exceeded 5 per cent.; that there were also evidences of ample supplies of nickel and other valuable minerals within close contiguity to the United States border.

It was claimed that the fishery question and all other outstanding disputes could be adjusted, and the possibility of future difference entirely removed by a union between the two countries, based on purely trade considerations. The objection in England to such a movement would not be controlling, because Canada had for many years regulated her own tariff to suit her own purposes; that while she was still part and parcel of the British Empire, she commercially belonged to herself; that all her interests pointed in the direction of a close alliance and assimilation with the people of the United States, and that her people were evidently determined upon the accomplishment of this purpose if the Congress of the United States afforded them any encouragement by the passage of the Butterworth Bill, or any similar measure looking toward the obliteration of the commercial barriers now existing between the two countries. Mr. Butterworth and Prof. Smith also addressed the audience at length and strongly urged the favorable consideration of the proposition to unite the two countries upon a commercial basis.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The citizens of Detroit have long suffered from the existence of a system or policy which has practically limited their market and debarred them from free commercial intercourse with their nearest neighbors and natural allies—the inhabitants of the Dominion of Canada; and

Whereas, Full and complete freedom in commercial intercourse does not in any sense disturbe the political integrity of either nations in such interchange; and

Whereas, The Dominion of Canada—with a territorial area greater than that of the United States—is separated from us commercially by an imaginary and arbitrary line, although the people of the United States are one with the people of Canada in language, lineage and traditon and with like opportunities in the fields of industrial enterprise; and

Whereas, the vast reciprocal advantages accruing to the states of the Federal Union in their mutual interchange of trade are all present and appeal with equal force in support of an open and uninterrupted exchange of commodities between the States and the neighboring Dominion; therefore

Resolved, As the sense of this meeting of the citizens of Detroit, that consequences the most beneficient to the mutual interests of the inhabitants of Canada and of the United States will follow the opening up as one common field for commercial enterprise, the territory of both nations, that the truest policy as well as the highest considerations of patriotism demands for both peoples such freedom in commercial exchanges as will aid the most rapid development of the wealth and resources of the continent—that to the end and purpose we would obliterate the picket line of customs duties on the border that the industrial armies of both nations may meet in peaceful competition in the fields of commercial enterprise and prosperity.

The Conference Held.

DETROIT, Aug., 28.—The commercial union leaders held a long and important conference at the Russell House to-day. Hon. Mr. Butterworth, Mr. C. W. Bunting and Mr. Erastus Wiman were present, together with one or two local members of the league during a part of the time. It is understood that at the first portion of the meeting the plan of campaign to be prosecuted in Canada was fully discussed, and when the local men were let in the further steps to be taken to swing Michigan into line were decided upon. The News, the recognized organ of the commercial unionists in this state, says editorially to-day, adopting its tone from the speeches last night:

It would doubtless be better for both proples if they were under one government as well as under one tariff, but the chief benefit of it would be that political union would be a perpanent guarantee of commercial union. Political union in itself would not put a dollar into any man's pocket, but it would secure beyond the dangers of possible future political disturbances the dollars which all would make by commercial union.

PRANZINI, THE MURDERER.

Still a Chance that the Death Sentence will be Commuted.

PARIS, Aug. 27.—There is still a chance that Murderer Pranzini's sentence may be commuted to life imprisonment. M. Grevy has consented to hold a conference with M. Demange, Pranzini's counsel. The nocturnal tramp around the prison where the condemned man is confined increases every night. Rowdies throng the taverns in the neighborhood and fights are frequent among them. The doors and windows of houses near the prison are smashed and the utmost disorder and lawlessness prevail. The police seem to be unable to quell the disturbances. The erection of the guillotine is watched day and night, and spies shadow the executioner, Deibler, who frequently shifts his quarters in order to be ready when the notice comes. Harris's services are wanted to act as the prison official being seen.

London Stock and Money Market.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—There was no change in discount during the week. Business on the stock exchange was extremely inactive with a downward tendency. Fluctuations were slight. In American railroads there was a constant dullness. The weakness of the market throughout the week in the face of the generally improved traffic, puzzles and disappoints operators.

A STORM ON LAKE MICHIGAN.

A Schooner Wrecked and the Captain and One Man Lost.

MILLER, Ind., Aug. 25.—The schooner Clara of Manistee was driven ashore yesterday, and her wreckage is strewn along the beach for miles. Capt. Olson, her master and owner, and one of the sailors, lost their lives, and John Gustavsen, the mate, escaped by swimming ashore on a plank. The vessel was bound for Chicago with a cargo of hardwood and lumber. She left Manistee Monday morning with a light wind, but upward night a storm swept down upon her from the northeast, jerking her head sails out of the bolt ropes and crippling her so that she became unmanageable. All night long she went before the gale which kept increasing in violence. The sea ran very high and the waves swept her decks of everything movable.

The schooner arrived off Chicago in such a disabled condition that it was impossible to work her into the harbor, and she was driven up the lake. Realizing that she would soon be on the beach, Capt. Olson let go of the anchor when abreast of this place, but the flukes failed to hold and she dragged on a sandbar half a mile from shore. The seas kept dashing over her, and the crew of three men were compelled to take to the rigging and lash themselves to keep from being washed overboard. In less than an hour the coverings of the hatches were carried away and the sea swept into the hold filling it to the deck. Then she rolled over on her side, and Hans Christensen was carried away on the crest of a wave. Capt. Olson and Gustavsen got hold of a plank. It was raining hard and the night was so dark they could see nothing, but they clung to the plank with the hope that the waves would wash it onward to the beach. Gustavsen says he heard a loud cry, and looking behind saw the captain had released his hold and was disappearing beneath the waves. He was unable to help him and the captain went down.

Gustavsen does not recollect much about his battle for life. Three times the plank turned over and buried him in the water, but he hung on to it and was dashed bleeding and senseless on the sandy beach. When he regained his senses he was lying upon his back with rain pelting down on his face. There was not a house in sight, for the village was three miles back from the lake. Naked and bleeding he made his way along the beach to the club house of the Calumet Shooting Club. He had just enough strength to give a feeble rap on the door and when it was opened he fell fainting across the threshold. He was carried inside and kindly cared for until he recovered sufficiently to relate his story, and after being provided with clothing he took the train for Chicago. Before leaving Gustavsen went to the beach to see what had become of the wreck and cargo. He found that it had broken up, and the broken timbers and cargo were scattered in every direction. The captain's chest, which Gustavsen said contained a large sum of money, was found, but it had been broken open and the contents were missing. Gustavsen thinks the chest was rifled by thieves. Neither of the bodies has been recovered.

A large crowd of men from the village has been on the beach gathering up the cargo as it drifted ashore and hauling it away. Benj. Langlois of the Chicago Life Saving Crew, who came here, says he never saw such a hungry lot of thieves around a wreck in his life.

TRAMPS' GRATITUDE.

A Minnesota Woman Nearly Killed by Two of the Fraternity.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 25.—D. L. Hiller lives upon a farm near Maple Grove with his mother and brother. Yesterday morning when the brothers were absent at work two men called at the house and asked for something to eat. Mrs. Hiller complied with their request, and when they had finished eating one of them picked up a poker and threatened to kill her. The old lady begged them to spare her life, whereupon the brutes dragged her to the cistern and threw her in. The cistern is twelve feet deep and was half full of water, but Mrs. Hiller clung to the lead pipe of the pump and managed to keep afloat until noon, when her sons returned and she was taken out in an exhausted condition.

Investigation showed that the tramps had ransacked the house and abstracted $170 in cash and $1,350 in certificates of deposit on the First National Bank of Minneapolis. Mrs. Hiller is 65 years of age, and it is feared the shock to her system from the brutal treatment she received may result fatally.

FAREWELL TO DALHOUSIE.

Sir John and Lady Macdonald on Their Way to the Capital.

DALHOUSIE, N.B., Aug. 25.—Sir John and Lady Macdonald left on Saturday morning en route for the capital. They spend Sunday at River du Loup and will remain over Monday at Quebec.

The French frigate Beauvet was here from Tuesday to Friday and was visited by a large number of people who were politely received and shown over the ship by her officers. The latter were entertained to a dance on Thursday evening by the guests of the hotel and expressed themselves as very much pleased with the courtesies extended to them.

Sir Alex. Campbell, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Miss Campbell, who have been here for some days, left for Toronto on Saturday morning.

A Comet in the Northern Sky.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 25.—The largest comet that has appeared in many years was visible here last night in the northern sky. The outline is somewhat dim, but is perfectly plain to the naked eye.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Convention of Canadian Knights of Labor —Instantly Killed Near Union Station.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.

At 2.20 Saturday afternoon John Johnston, who has been in the employ of the Grand Trunk Railway for a number of years, as a car-cleaner, was instantly killed while crossing the tracks at the west end of Union Station. The unfortunate man was carrying two buckets of water, and he did not notice yard engine No. 13 bearing down on him. Before he was aware of it, the engine had knocked him over, mangling his body frightfully and killing him instantly. Deceased was an elderly man, lived at 33 Brant-street, and has two sons conductors on the road.

Toronto District Assembly No. 125, K. of L. have decided to call a convention of the order in Canada, for the purpose of considering the advisability of taking steps to secure the autonomy of the organization in Canada without in any way impairing the connection with the General Assembly. A committee has been appointed to make arrangements for a convention. It has become necessary that there should be some central authority in the Dominion to deal with purely Canadian matters.

Sergeant Detective Reburn has asked permission from the Police Commissioners to enter a suit against the Guarantee Company of North America for the recovery of the reward of $500 offered by them for the "arrest and delivery" of James L. Wilson, the Philadelphia forger. The above were the distinct terms of the circular issued, and Reburn has earned the reward. He arrested Wilson, took him to Philadelphia, got a receipt from Detective Miller for the delivery of the prisoner, in which the reward was mentioned as being won by Reburn. The society's plea for non-payment is said to be that the award does not go as the information leading to the arrest was telegraphed from Philadelphia. It is probable that the affair will be compromised, and that there will be no legal action.

The Parkdale Murder.

Parkdale, and in fact the whole city, is still deeply wrapped up in the mysterious tragedy of Thursday night, wherein Mr. Joseph Priestman, jr., was found dead on the lonely common that stretches along the lake front from Exhibition Park to the westward.

All day yesterday the spot where Mr. Priestman's remains were found was besieged with visitors of all ages and sexes. As many as 10,000 people must have crossed over the common to the circular blood stain on the grass close beside the plank walk. The visitors would look curiously down at the little dark patch and pass curious comments thereon.

There was considerable talk around town on Saturday about the amount of life insurance carried by the dead man. This was learned to be about $20,000—$5000 in the Northwestern Masonic Aid Association, for which he was Toronto agent, $5000 in the Canada Life, and other smaller policies which made up the $20,000. Mr. Priestman owned property in Toronto and Parkdale, and many people say that he was in very easy circumstances, in fact his surroundings were extremely comfortable. Besides this Priestman was spoken of as a good natured, light hearted gentleman, who seemed to take things easily, and who did not allow every day affairs trouble him.

While the murder theory is a strong one, plenty there are who believe that Mr. Priestman committed suicide to secure for his heirs his insurance. Among the circumstances which back up the suicidal theory may be enumerated these:

A large patch of the dead man's hair around the bullet hole is burned off and the skin is discolored with grains of powder, showing that the pistol must have been placed quite close up to the head when it went off. The ball entered the left side of the head, an inch or so above the front part of the ear and passed directly through the brain, coming out on the right side, after a somewhat downward passage. This fact was demonstrated by Dr. Riddell's post-mortem examination. Death must have been instantaneous.

Mr. Priestman had no less than three loaded revolvers in his house, and some people argue that any man who kept three of these weapons in his residence was apt to have four, the fourth being the one found near his dead body on the common. This revolver does not look like a weapon which might be carried by a tramp. It was clean and bright, and its nickle-plated embellishments were quite glistening. It was an English bull dog, of 32 calibre with five chambers, three of which were empty, one a few hours before found at 5 o'clock Friday morning and the other quite recently. One of the revolvers found in the house is just the same as the one found on the common, with the exception that they contained different shaped bullets. The revolver which lay on the common held cartridges about an inch long; that in the house was loaded with much shorter bullets. In other respects, however, they tallied. No bullets could be found in the house which corresponded with those in the revolver found on the common. Nor could any bullets whatever, outside of those in the three loaded weapons, be unearthed.

AN UNPARALLELED CASE.

A Remarkable Incident on a New Brunswick Railway Train.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Aug. 26.—A rather remarkable incident occurred on board the western train this morning. When the train was about passing Grand Bay a woman passenger was seen to enter the rear apartment. As she did not come out when the train was nearing the city the conductor grew suspicious. At his request two women entered the apartment and found the occupant in an unconscious and completely exhausted state. They told the conductor; who, on the arrival of the train at St. John, had her placed in a coach and taken to the public hospital. It was then discovered that she had became a mother. Subsequently the babe, a bouncing healthy boy, was found at the foot of a thirty-foot embankment near Grand Bay. The child was taken to a house near by and will probably live. This is remarkable when it is known that the train was going at the rate of thirty miles an hour when passing this point. The mother has not yet fully recovered consciousness. Those who have seen her acquit her of any criminal intent. The woman was on her way to Boston from Woodstock. It is said her name is Putnam and that she came a short time ago from Nova Scotia.

AN ODDFELLOW HOME.

The interest aroused in the public mind by the prominence into which Oddfellowship was brought by the recent visit of the brethren to this town, has not abated so that items concerning the word of the order will not be attentively considered. The corner-stone of the order is charity, and on this the order is built, a fact practically exemplified to a fuller extent than perhaps in any other secular, or, for the matter of that, in any religious, organization. Substantially elaborating the central idea of charity the German Oddfellows of the state of New York decided to provide a home for the aged and feeble. Having thus decided, they proceeded with energy and tact to carry out their plans. They purchased a large building at Unionport, New York, and the necessary renovations and repairs required to make it a comfortable home, were carried out at an expense of $19,000, amply provided for. A board of managers has the charge of the inmates, while a staff of medical men have offered their services when needed. The dedicatory ceremonies took place on the afternoon of Tuesday, 16th instant, and were of an interesting character. The Grand Lodge of the State of New York being in session, an invitation was given, and accepted by almost all. On arriving at the station they were met by a large number of friends, headed by bands of music. They marched in procession to the grounds, the presence of four Cantons of Patriarchs Militants in full regalia, under command of Colonel John W. Rayner, adding much to the splendor of the pageant. No doubt such an institution has a most useful and beneficent future. That a concentration of energy and means, as implied in the existence of such a home, represents a large economy of funds and exertion and more satisfactory results, is a self-evident fact. The Oddfellow order in this province, with their energy, enterprise and fraternal spirit, will, doubtless, consider whether the record for good deeds and practical exemplification of the principles of the order, achieved by them, can be improved by the establishment of a similar institution in Ontario. In case such a thing should be decided upon, the EXAMINER would suggest that Peterborough would be an admirable site for it. Geographically, it is the most central town of any in the province; its being the converging point of seven branch and main railway lines is another large point in its favor, while it is the most enterprising Oddfellow town in the Dominion

A MATTER OF CHOICE.

The Toronto News published the result of an interview which a contributor had with Sir John Macdonald, in which the latter is reported as saying, in effect, that he would stop the building of the Red River Valley Railroad, and bring the Manitobans to terms with British regulars. This Sir John denies, whereupon the News remarks:—

"Sir John has denied that he said he would suppress the Manitobans with British regulars. He is somewhat late with his denial. Unfortunately the News informant is now in the far west and cannot be communicated with for some time. Even when he is reached he may not see fit to give us permission to use his name. The News may get the blame of inventing the interview which has caused all this flutter, but the charge will be false. Small as the consolation is, and much as we dislike the comparison, it is some comfort to know that the reputation of the News for veracity cannot possibly be worse than that of Sir John."

It is a fact generally believed that Sir John has never pleaded guilty to the charge of belonging to the juvenile George Washington class of politicians. If he made the statement attributed to him by the News, it was made because he had some object to gain, and his denial would be based upon the same grounds. None knows better than the thousands of disappointed office seekers in Canada, that Sir John is given to the habit—to put it mildly—of expressing himself differently on the same subject on different occasions. Those who believe that Sir John made the threat to suppress the Manitobans with British steel, will not have their belief disturbed by his denial; the only matter that will affect it is their estimate of the chances of his having anything to lose by such an assertion, or to gain by its denial.

HON. OLIVER MOWAT is enjoying himself in the north of Ireland. His hundreds of thousands of friends in this province will be pleased to learn that he is in good health. He sails for home from Liverpool on Friday, September 2nd.

Literary Notes.

—"PUBLIC SCHOOL TEMPERANCE." We are in receipt of a copy of this new book from the publishers. It is the work selected and authorized by the Department of Education, in accordance with the amended Act, for use in our Public Schools. The object of this book is to impart to the youth attending school a knowledge of composition and effects of alcohol, with a view to impressing their minds with the danger and the needlessness of contracting the habit of its use. The author is the celebrated Dr. Richardson of England, than who no better authority on this subject is to be found. The work is a strictly scientific one, written, however, in simple language, and divided into short and easy lessons, with a view to its adoption as a text-book for children. It contains the whole of the matter of the English edition, but, being somewhat compressed in form, is offered to the public at one-half of the price. We hail this new book; and we trust that inspectors and teachers, and all concerned, will see to its immediate introduction, as a text-book for study, into our public schools. For whatever difference of opinion may divide us as to the course to be taken on this temperance question with those advanced in years, there can be no doubt of the advisability of instructing the young in the facts concerning alcohol and the results of its use. Through lack of such warning thousands have fallen; and a wise thing has been done in providing that the coming men and women of our land shall have the advantage of full information on the subject. This book may be had at all the bookstores for 25 cents.

BASEBALL SATURDAY.

All the Scores—The Standing of the Three Leagues.

The Toronto team will not soon forget its treatment at the hands of the hoodlum element upon the conclusion of the game at Buffalo Saturday. Stones were thrown at the players after they had taken their bus for the hotel, and one of them was struck on the back of the neck. These same hoodlums had the day previous threatened Umpire Mapledoran with bodily injury, and as a result of this unexpected and uncalled-for treatment, the International League loses its best umpire, as Mapledoran that night wired Secretary White his resignation. Umpire McLean, who officiated in the second game, fared no better, the rowdies evidently wanting him to go wholesale into the robbery business to enable the home team to win. Two defeats at this stage of the pennant race means a serious blow to the Bisons pennant aspirations, and their blackguard admirers by their actions evidently don't propose to allow the team to be defeated. Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

A Conundrum.

A great many people are puzzled to know how it is that groceries can be sold so cheap at Mr. Geo. Carton's store opposite the market, in the City Hotel block. The conundrum can be best explained by making a personal visit to his store to purchase some of his magnificent groceries, which are fresh pure and very cheap.

Out of His Element.

Among the "Lakeside Notes" in the Orillia Packet of last week is the following:—"John Wesley is the only Rama Indian who uses any other than a birch bark canoe. John has been overturned so often in his birch while trolling that this spring he bought a "Peterborough". An Ojebway Indian in a machine made canoe looks as much out of his element as a Comanche chief in a plug hat and a claw-hammer coat, and Lakeside hopes the poetic instinct is sufficiently strong in Rama to discountenance the innovation, even at the expense of an occasional dot skin."

More Alarm Than Fire.

A spark from the smokestack settled on the roof of the Central Iron and Bridge Works this afternoon and caused a little blaze that could have been extinguished by a couple of pails of water. The fire alarm was rung though, the brigade were soon on the spot and quickly "doused" the flame.

The Best Machine.

The Cobourg Sentinel-Star says:—"Mr. Luther Westington, Plainville, a few days ago, reaped in with one of Hamilton's celebrated binders, 5 foot cut, 11½ acres of wheat in six hours and a half. This is considered quick work, and Mr. Westington says he don't believe it can be equalled by any other machine."

Flowers, Foliage and Fruit.

Citizens are again reminded of the fall exhibition of the Horticultural Society in the Opera House to-morrow afternoon and evening. The band will be in attendance in the evening, and everything has been arranged by the directors for a most creditable display. All lovers of the beauties of flowers, foliage and fruit, should patronize the exhibition and encourage the Society in its good work of developing the public taste and arousing interest in the refining and delightful pursuits of floriculture and horticulture.

Taken by Storm.

Mr. W. J. Mason purchased a lot of extra fine honey the other day, and exhibited it in his store window. Yesterday a large swarm of bees, attracted (Ernie says) by the low price and excellent quality of the honey, found an entrance through the ventilator at the top of the window and took possession. The window yesterday was a perfect beehive, and Mr. Mason had some difficulty in getting rid of his swarm of visitors, though by darkening the store most of them were driven out; quite a "colony" however yet remains.

Lindsay's Civic Holiday.

Arrangements for the pic-nic on Wednesday, under the auspices of St. Mary's Church have been completed. The athletic events include base-ball and lacrosse matches, bicycle race and other sports. An excellent string band has been engaged for dancing. Mr. T. McNaughton, of Peterborough, will give an exhibition of club-swinging, and Prof. Hays, selections on the Irish pipes. Reduced railway rates have been secured from Peterborough. This picnic promises to be the pic-nic of the Midland District, and should draw a large attendance from town.

Turnbull's dress goods department is now laden with new dress goods in all the new colors. A first-class dressmaker in charge of the dressmaking department, to cut and fit or make up on shortest notice.

Baseball.

The Port Hope Times says:—"Baseball in Port Hope is lying dormant, or perhaps better, couchant. Cobourg seems the only team that cares to split a lance with them. Peterborough has been written several times but does not yearn for Port Hope's scalp." And the reason is patent enough. When Port Hope played here civic holiday they were offered a guarantee or 50% of the gate money. They choose the latter, and got their share when they had no right to it, as no "game" was played. Port Hope then offered Peterborough 50 per cent. of the gate receipts for a match at that town, without the alternative of a guarantee. When a guarantee sufficient to cover expenses is offered a match will be arranged. "Fifty per cent. of the gate receipts" is an over-doubtful inducement to take the Peterborough club to Sleepy Hollow.

That Twenty Dollar Gold Piece.

People are beginning to wonder who will get the twenty-dollar gold piece, to be drawn for at the Ennismore pic-nic, Bridgenorth on Thursday next. Two young ladies are engaged in selling tickets for the drawing, and the one selling the largest will be entitled to a gold watch, while every holder of a ticket has a chance for the coveted golden coin. This Ennismore picnic should be looked upon in the light of a public benefit. With glorious weather, not too hot and not too cool, a visit to the grove at Bridgenorth, expanding the lungs with pure fresh air, a delightful dip in the limpid waters of the lake, will be an experience worth seeking. Remember busses leave the post office corner, Peterborough, on Thursday morning for the picnic grounds. Fare for the round trip, 35 cents.

Our Future Men and Women.

This morning, as in Brussels before the Battle of Waterloo, "there was hurrying to and fro and gathering tears and sighings of distress," in a hundred homes in Peterborough, as about 1,500 youngsters skirmished about the house hunting books and preparing generally for the opening of the schools. The different public schools opened this morning with an aggregate attendance of nearly 1400 pupils. Over 600 in the Central; 175 in the South Ward; 100 in the West Ward; 120 in the Murray Street Separate School; 119 in the Lake Street Separate School; 178 in the Convent. The pupils assembled, the promoted pupils assigned to their new rooms, classes arranged, lessons given out for the following day, and the pupils dismissed till Tuesday when work will be begun in earnest.

Dr. Barnardo's Good Work.

A Late Visit to Peterborough Home for Destitute Children.

While at our rambles last week (says) of the Barnardo Home at Hazel Brae, Peterborough also the good work being done there in giving little girls a useful domestic training and afterwards finding for them comfortable homes in the town and country. These little girls are gathered in as "waifs" from London and other large English cities, and afterwards sent to Canada to be distributed among those people of means who may wish to "adopt" a child. The work is carried on principally in England, with branches in Canada.

Dr. Barnardo, the founder of this institution, is at present in Peterborough, and is, it is understood, in conjunction with Mrs. Barnardo, who has ably assisted him in his life's work, inviting to a drawing room meeting to be held Thursday evening at 6.30, at Hazel Brae, all those friends who have by gifts of money, by personal help or by sympathy towards it, assisted in the work from its establishment at Hazel Brae, and without a doubt they will be glad to issue invitations to any others who may express interest in the proceedings and may have a desire to be present. The Doctor will make a personal statement on this occasion regarding the work, in Canada especially, and a most interesting occasion is expected. The work in Canada is rapidly assuming extensive proportions. Dr. Barnardo has at present what is probably the largest family in the world, having no less than 2,070 children under his care. An idea of the importance and extent of the good work can be had from the following summary, which is intended to convey very concisely, the leading facts connected with institutions already widely known, but as to which details are constantly being asked.

"DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES."

The work of these Institutions was begun twenty-one years ago by their present Director, then a young medical student attached to the London Hospital in the Whitechapel Road.

His attention was called to the state of homeless children by the condition in which he found an unfortunate boy in a Ragged School in East London, in the winter of 1866. This poor "waif" he rescued, and following the subject up closely, discovered that large numbers of homeless children, not only in the East End, but in the Centre, South, North, and even West of London, habitually found their own shelter at night in hall doors, under archways, in deserted markets in wagons and carts, down by the water-side, in the halls and passages of empty or tenement houses (the doors of which were left open), and in courts and alleys of the poorest parts of the metropolis, unless they had chanced during the day to gather a few pence, sufficient to pay for a bed in one of the common lodging-houses. Gradually the work of rescuing these London children from a street life developed, and appeals from other quarters reached him until almost every city and town of the kingdom had sent him up their homeless children to be cared for. These were all fitted for industrial pursuits and trained for useful lives. Other phases of mission effort of a widely varying nature also opened up out of this first simple attempt to save a single street boy from starvation and crime.

The income of successive years, from that earliest effort to the present date, tells in a significant manner the rapid strides by which the whole enterprise found favour with Christian men of all denominations. The donations for the first year were £214; for the year 1886-87, some £76,877.

There are at present 33 distinctly separate institutions, in various parts of the kingdom and in the colonies, comprehended under the title which stands at the head of this article, among the most important of which are the emigration depot and distributing homes at Toronto and Peterborough, Canada, and the Industrial farm at near Shell River, Manitoba, the remainder being in the old country.

Over 10,000 boys and girls have already, through the agency of these "Homes", been removed from the life of the streets, from the perils of orphanhood, or from positions of the gravest danger—often from the custody of criminals or immoral people. These have all been educated, taught trades, or fitted for domestic service, and brought, during their stay in the "Homes", within the kindly influences of genuine Christian instruction and example.

Of the large number already equipped for their life-work, 2,618 have been placed out in the Colonies, no fewer than 922 of these having gone out during 1886, to Canada, and 400 more will, it is hoped, be emigrated during the current year.

The Village Home for Orphan and Destitute Girls, near Ilford, Essex, comprising 47 complete buildings and 10 other houses (with 10 more to be finished), each cottage containing a family group of 8 or 10 girls, presided over by a Christian lady called "Mother" by the girls; and the Babies' Castle, at Hawkhurst, Kent, and Bow, Middlesex, in which about 80 little infants are cared for, are unique features of the work. About 300 healthy children are also boarded out with respectable foster parents throughout England and Wales. The hospital for sick children, in London, is being rebuilt to contain 65 beds.

Boys and girls are admitted to the institution from all parts of the kingdom, irrespective of creed or age, or of physical defects, without a money fee, the sole condition of eligibility being utter destitution. If a child is admitted and afterwards found to have living relatives able to take care of him, he is at once returned to them.

Finally, the circular says—It should be remembered that the whole work is absolutely dependent, under God, from day to day, upon the free-will offerings of the Benevolent. There are no funds derivable from endowments, or any similar source of income whatever. The gross daily expenses are not less than £140, and £25,000 are required to defray the costs of the structural additions still needed to complete the scheme of this Christian as well as national enterprise, so as to place the institutions upon a permanent and broader basis, enabling them to carry out their work of child rescue in the future upon the comprehensive system already adopted.

The Homes are open in the afternoon of of every day, except Saturdays and Sundays, to any one who chooses to visit them and see for himself the nature of the enterprise. Applicants for children are bound by a promise to abide by certain rules as to the future guidance of the young entrusted to their care. Capt. W. G. Annesley is superintendent of the Peterborough branch, and Miss Millie Sanderson Secretary, to whom communications and donations may be sent.

Eagle Blasts.

Instead of holding their usual open air concert in the park to-morrow evening the Fire Brigade Band will attend the horticultural exhibition in the Opera House.

Drum-Major Graham will, in his new uniform, kindly presented by Mr. W. A. Sanderson, be conspicuously gorgeous, and it is suggested that some equally public-spirited citizen completes the outfit by presenting the band with an appropriate baton. The band would then have at its head the most magnificent figure head in the district.

The Funeral of the Late H. B. Weller.

Laid at Rest with Military Honors—Exceedingly Large Funeral Cortege.

On Saturday afternoon at three o'clock the funeral of the late H. B. Weller took place, and was conducted with military honors. The people thronged in thousands to pay the last tribute of respect, while the streets were lined with other thousands of spectators. Promptly at three o'clock the military carriages were formed. First came a detachment of the Peterborough troop, 3rd regiment of cavalry, dismounted, followed by the Millbrook troop, 3rd regiment, in which deceased held the post of captain, both with reversed caddoes, and the Fifty-Seventh Battalion Band; then the casket, mounted on a gun carriage draped with the British flag. The casket was also wrapped in the folds of the flag, and upon it rested the helmet and sword of the deceased officer. The gun carriage was drawn by four horses, a pair of black horses and a pair of gray horses. Behind this was the led horse and the empty saddle of the dead officer, the boots reversed. The pall-bearers came next. They were Capt. Edwards, No. 1 Company, 57th battalion; Capt. Langford, No. 4 Company, 57th; Capt. Sanderson, Durham Field Battery; Capt. Stapleton, staff; Veterinary Surgeon Stevenson, 3rd troop of cavalry, and Capt. Brown, A troop, 3rd cavalry. Then followed the officers of the local military corps, on foot and the visiting officers.

The carriages containing the mourners was followed by a long line of hundreds of carriages containing the friends of the family among the general public. The cortege moved down Hunter street at the solemn pace of the slow march to the pathetic and mournful strains of the "Dead March in Saul," to St. John's Church. A cordon of military was drawn up on each side of the circular drive, from the gates to the church steps, the body passing between them and being met at the church door by the rector, repeating the solemn opening words of the office for the dead—"I am the resurrection and the life" etc., the organ pealing forth the sad notes of a funeral dirge. After the religious services the funeral procession reformed and proceeded to the Little Lake Cemetery, where the usual religious and military ceremonials were observed. The immense attendance at the funeral, both from adjacent and from the town, testified to the high respect in which deceased and his family were and are held.

HUDSON'S BAY FISHERIES.

GOVERNMENT CONSIDERING LIEUT. GORDON'S REPORT THEREON.

Steamship Service Between France and Canada—High Prices Paid for Mackerel —Sir Alex. Stuart to be Administrator During Hon. Mr. Masson's Absence.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—It is understood that the Minister of Fisheries is considering the recommendations contained in the report of Lieut Gordon, who commanded the Hudson's Bay expedition. Among other things the commander urged the Government to suppress the destructive slaughter of whale in Hudson's Bay by explosive bomb lances used by the Americans; the advisability of establishing a Government revenue cutter in the bay, and the necessity of collecting revenue along the coast of Labrador, a task now faithfully performed by the Newfoundland Government.

The Government has received advices that the steamship service, inaugurated last May between France and Canada, is giving great satisfaction. Messrs. Bossiere & Co. of Paris, who secured the contract, have already received payment of one-fourth of the annual subsidy guaranteed them by the Dominion authorities.

The Fisheries Department has advices that special lots of mackerel are being sold by Canadian fishermen for $20 per barrel. This is an increase of $10 over last year's quotations.

Sir John A. Macdonald is expected to return here to-morrow. He was in Quebec to-day. His Excellency is also there and Mr. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council.

It was stated here to-day that Sir Alex. Stuart, Chief Justice, would be sworn in to-day as administrator of the province during the absence of Lieut.-Gov. Masson, who leaves shortly for Europe.

Advices from the North west Mounted Police indicate that everything was quiet along the border.

It is expected that the United States authorities will shortly inform the Department of Justice that the necessary authority has been granted for the extradition of the two half-breeds who are suspected of having murdered McLeish.

It is understood that the Finance Department had reduced its deposit in the Bank of London to about $13,000 previous to the failure.

ANOTHER DENIAL.

The Yarn Telegraphed From Toronto Continues to Give Trouble.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—In the House of Commons this evening Sir Henry Holland, the Colonial Secretary, read a cablegram from Lord Lansdowne, Governor-General of Canada, declaring the report that Sir John Macdonald had said that he would not hesitate to ask the aid of Imperial troops to stop the construction of the Manitoba Railway to be a pure fabrication.

Lord Lansdowne also said in his despatch: "The provincial act for the construction of the Red River Railway was disallowed by me on the advice of my responsible advisors, on the ground that the proposed line would tap the traffic of the Canadian Pacific Railway and would thereby seriously injure the interests of the whole country, which had submitted to large sacrifices in order to unite the provinces by a national road."

THE UTE BATTLE.

Five Whites Were Killed and Four Wounded in Thursday's Encounter.

DENVER, Aug. 29.—A telegram from Meeker, by way of Glenwood, says information has been received that at Thursday's battle with Colorow there were five whites killed instead of two and four wounded. Seven Indians and two squaws were killed and five wounded. There has been no fighting since Thursday, but over 600 Indians are camped within six miles. The Indians are ready to fight at the least provocation. The loss of nearly thirty ponies and their squaws has made them wild, and they are ready for revenge.

DOMINION RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

Opening of the Annual Matches at the Ottawa Ranges.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—The annual bombardment of Ottawa commenced at 8.30 this morning, when the first shot in the Dominion Rifle Association matches was fired, and a lively fusilade was kept up all day. The morning was bright and fine with very little wind and a good light. Towards noon it clouded up a little, and the wind rose as a slight shower came on, but after that had passed it fell again for a while, but in the latter part of the afternoon it varied a good deal. The shooting in both the MacDougall and Rideau matches fell off a little from that in the Nursery which was the best for several years in that match. Last year the first prize was taken by Trooper Duncan, P.L.D.G., with a score of only 23 out of a possible 25 and three twelves were in. This year the highest possible, 25, was made by Color-Sergeant Donnelly, G.O.R., and fifteen sixteens were counted out.

In the MacDougall Cup the shooting was a little, but not much, better than last year, when the cup was taken by Pte. Bartlett of the Queen's Own with a score of 43 and all the thirty-three but three were in. This year Lieut. Vaughan of the Fifth Royal Scots took the cup with same score, 43.

The Rideau match this year can scarcely be compared with last year, as the range is 600 yards, whereas last year it was only 500. The shooting was, however, better than in the 500 yards for the MacDougall, there being fourteen scores of 24 and over, while in the Rideau there were only one 24 and nine 23 and over.

He Crawled Under the Snow.

NEWYORO, Mich., Aug. 29.—A. W. Lambson, a well to-do farmer of Ashland Township, was severely gored and bruised yesterday by the same Jersey which a few days ago gored Mr. Shipps, who yet lies in a critical condition. Mr. Lambson only escaped death by crawling under the bull. The beast was finally captured and anchored to a stump where he awaits another victim.

THE NEW DRESS-COAT.

How the Undercoated Garment is Taking in New York and London.

For years the regulation dress-coat has been out of favor, owing to several reasons, says The New York Sun. It is hot and uncomfortable, and then some devotees of fashion realize that it is hard to distinguish between them and the smiling tip fiend of the restaurant. To the end of making the difference more marked great minds have pondered long and deeply. Wine-colored coats, knee breeches, and long silk stockings have raised themselves above the dead level of somber swallow-tails only to sink again into oblivion and the second-hand clothing store.

Efforts are now being made to introduce a new style of coat for evening wear and here is its picture, copied from the authentic columns of our esteemed contemporary, the Haberdasher. It is a sack coat of black diagonal, moderately rounded, and made to fit into the back. The collar is a soft roll known as the shawl pattern. Cuffs and roll are silk, finished with a small corded edge. There are two buttonholes below the roll. With this coat is worn a low-cut vest, either of the same cloth as the coat or of white silk or pique. The other articles of dress correspond with those usually worn with evening dress. The new costume originated in England and it has now reached New York and is in a fair way of becoming acclimated, for it has actually been adopted by that class of society whose standing is sufficient to command for what they endorse the approbation and imitation of the multitude.

Bent on ascertaining the extent of their popularity a Sun reporter visited some of the leading tailors. At Redfern's the gentlemanly head cutter took the reporter under his wing.

"Do we make many of them? Yes, lots of them. They are cool and comfortable and much superior to the regulation swallow-tail?"

"Where did the style originate?"

"They have been worn in England quite generally for a great many years, but the fashion has just got to this country."

"In what locality are they most worn?"

"Well, that is hard to tell. We send them all over the country. Quite a number go to Newport and the northern watering places. They seem to be slowly gaining in popularity."

AN ARTICLE BY GLADSTONE.

The Ex-Premier Thinks a New Election Would Completely Overthrow the Tories.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—In The Nineteenth Century appears an article by Mr. Gladstone entitled "Electoral Facts of 1887 in which he says that the general election of 1886 indicated not the conviction but the perplexity of the country. He contends that the results of the recent elections are equivalent to an improved Liberal strength of 22 per cent. and that, giving the Conservatives the benefit of all doubts, a new election would have the latter in a minority of 103. This basis, he continues, is too narrow to allow of a demonstration of the expression of undue confidence on the part of the Liberals, but viewing the figures in cold blood a rational Tory or dissident will probably regard them as of marked significance and may even begin to inquire in a reflective temper, "where is all this to end?"

BREAK IN CALIFORNIA WHEAT.

Mackay Denies That He Conceived the Recent Deal.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—There was a large and excited crowd in the call board room at 11 this morning, the official hour for the beginning of trading. One sale of 100 tons was made at $1.34, a decline of 11 cents from the latest official sales on Friday.

John W. Mackay, in an interview this morning, repudiated the statements made a few days ago that he "was a large holder of wheat." He said the Nevada Bank had loaned a large amount of money on wheat, but neither the bank nor its officials were directly interested in the deal, and he was willing to throw open all his books to show this to be a fact.

AN ELEPHANT COUNTING TIES.

Robbins' Largest Animal Counting the Fate of Jumbo.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 29.—Robbins' largest elephant got away from the circus this afternoon and swam across Smith's pond and then went through the town at a lively pace. It turned west, and, following the river for some distance, destroying any fences that were in the road, it got into a field where there were a number of cattle, and after chasing them around for a while without doing much damage, it got on the G.T.R. track and is still on the road west about six miles from here. There are a number of men and two other elephants after it, but they have not succeeded in stopping it.

The Loan Companies.
From The Journal of Commerce.

The annual statement of loan and building societies in the Dominion of Canada for the year 1886 shows that there are ninety-four companies doing business, of which seventeen, for various reasons, do not make returns. The total liabilities of the companies making returns are $66,875,518, being $6,270,907 more than last year. The assets are $69,016,902, being $6,645,129 more than last year. The dividends declared vary from 15 per cent. by the Commercial Building and Investment Society of Toronto to 5 per cent. by the Scottish Ontario and Manitoba Land Company of Toronto.

A Prize Fight Deferred.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A party of men who enjoy pugilism left here last night and went to Nyack, where they expected to see a fight to a finish between Jack Hynes of Rockland County and Harry Reardon of Sing Sing. The men were in bed at Nyack Hotel when the visitors arrived. The police of the town spotted the coming fight and warned the pugilists to re-

Collision on the West Shore Railway.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 29.—Train 33 on the West Shore road, due in this city at 1.15 a.m., ran into a freight train at Montezuma this morning about 3 o'clock, and by the accident Express Messenger Alexander Kinny of Buffalo was killed and a baggageman named O'Hara was quite badly injured.

Will Outgrow It.

"The not going to play with Willie Wellen any more," was Flossie's distress.
"Willie is a very nice little boy," said her mamma.
"I don't like him. In fact, I don't like boys at all, mamma. I guess it's because I'm not old enough."

AN UPRISING IS IMMINENT

A REIGN OF TERROR PREVAILS IN THE CUBAN CAPITAL.

The High-handed Proceedings of Captain-General Marcia Driving the People to Desperation — The City in Charge of Regular Troops.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29.—A Key West special says advices received on Saturday night state that great excitement prevails in Havana, caused by the recent acts of Captain-General Marcia in taking possession of the Custom House and placing the officials under arrest. The city is in charge of regular troops, and the situation becomes daily most desperate, recalling the events attending the massacre of the medical students in 1871. A reign of terror prevails, and it is expected that Havana will be declared in a state of siege. Already several conflicts have occurred between the troops and civilians, resulting in the killing of some and the wounding of others. The Captain-General has issued a proclamation calling on the rioters to maintain order, otherwise severe measures will be adopted to uphold the law.

Daily conferences are being held with the military chiefs, and measures will be adopted to prevent a general uprising, which is imminent. The colonels of all the volunteer regiments were called together and ordered to disarm their forces, otherwise they would be held responsible for what might occur. The volunteers, who are opposed to Marcia, and encouraged thereto by political bodies, are desirous of his removal, and have joined the rioters.

Several meetings have been held where cheers of "Viva Salamanca" were given, and cries of "Down with Marcia." The city is placarded with a call for a general mass meeting to-night, and requesting all to bring arms. The call is believed to emanate from the volunteers, and serious trouble is expected. So far the Captain-General controls the situation with the regular troops which have been distributed throughout the city prepared for any emergency. The artillery have been placed in commanding positions, while the troops stationed in the towns adjoining Havana are kept under arms, ready to move at a moment's notice. Those in Havana also have been quartered in the barracks several days. The battalion of Isabella Seguina and the forces of the Queen's Regiment are under arms at the Cabanas and Castilla del Principe. Orderlies are hurrying in all directions conveying secret orders. Troops are stationed in front of all public buildings throughout the city, and mounted police are patrolling the principal streets.

All confidence appears to be gone, even the cable officials are suspected, and the military are in charge to prevent dispatches being sent off relating to what is transpiring. All important dispatches between the officials in Havana and the authorities in Madrid are brought here by special messengers for transmission, the replies being also sent to this office. Those acquainted with General Marcia state he will carry his policy and purify the public service regardless of consequences, and already a feeling of uneasiness promeates every branch thereof.

Not Believed in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Cubans in this city think there is no reason to believe that there is any far-reaching or in any sense important uprising in Havana.

A STEAMER IN A CYCLONE.

The Bermuda in Danger of Foundering During a Storm.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The steamer Bermuda, which arrived here to-day from St. Kitts, was struck by a cyclone on the evening of Aug. 24, and narrowly escaped destruction. Everything movable about the decks was carried away, the cargo shifted and the vessel was half full of water. The cabins were almost wrecked. One immense sea boarded the ship aft, smashing the aft steering wheel, and on its way forward gutted the engineer's room and galley and washed away the starboard coal bunker hatch, the ship lurching very heavily and shipping enormous quantities of water fore and aft.

The chief officer and some of the crew managed to get the bunker hatches covered with tarpaulins and spiked down, but the water below was now up to the fires and the boilers were losing steam. The steam pumps had been tried, but were found to be useless, as the coal, washed from the bunkers, had got into the bilges and choked everything up. The ship was in great danger from losing steam and the engines being rendered useless, when nothing could have saved her. But the engineers and firemen stuck to their posts and managed to keep enough steam so that she would answer her wheel. By the evening of Aug. 27 the ship was out of danger. She presents a sorry appearance.

THE C.P.R. WILL NOT INTERFERE.

The Construction of the Red River Road a Matter for Federal Action.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—Sir G. Stephen, Sir D. Smith, M.P., and Mr. Van Horne have just returned from a visit to the Northwest, and report the crops as being in splendid condition. Mr. Van Horne says that the Canadian Pacific Railway will not interfere with the construction of the Red River Valley, as the matter rests entirely with the Federal and Manitoba governments. He regards the construction of the road as an unwarranted attack on his company and injurious to the interests of Canada, and says the London companies, but his success is yet uncertain. He tried in vain to induce American companies to take the risk before he left Vienna for Bulgaria and their refusal will doubtless influence the English companies.

The Freeman's Journal states that Arthur O'Connor, M.P. for Donegal, and Sir Thomas Henry Grattan Esmonde, M.P. for Dublin County, will visit the United States in September and address monster meetings to be convened by the Irish National League of America. Sir Henry Esmonde is a great-grandson of Henry Grattan, the famous Irish patriot.

Trouble in a Religious Order.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—Some excitement has been caused in religious circles by a suit which has been instituted in the Superior Court by Rev. Frere Napoleon Hussault of the Order of the Holy Cross, known in religion as Brother Wilfred, against Rev. Bro. Rouage, Provincial of the Order and Superior of Cote Des Neiges College, for $2000 alleged damages for expulsion from the order. In his declaration the ex-brother states that he was called upon by the Superior to perform duties which he was physically unable to do, consequently his expulsion.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.

The members of the Canadian Shorthand Society assembled last night in goodly numbers in their rooms at the Public Library to tender a reception to Mr. George R. Bishop, official reporter of the New York Stock Exchange, who is on a visit to Toronto. Mr. Thomas Pinkney president of the society, occupied the chair, and stated that the council, being aware of Mr. Bishop's presence in the city, resolved to offer him a fraternal welcome. Their visitor, in addition to his official position, had been a member of the New York Law Reporting Association and president of the New York State Stenographic Association. He had been one of the examiners in the speed contest at Alexandria Bay, when 300 words per minute had been written. The society hoped he would have pleasant recollections of his visit to Toronto and his presence amongst them that evening.

Mr. Bishop then delivered an appropriate address, eulogizing the sights and institutions of this city. He gave particulars of the speed contest referred to and its wonderful result, stating that he knew others who could have written quite as rapidly and have read their notes more quickly. He gave particulars of his professional experience in law reporting and otherwise. He formerly wrote phonography, but was dissatisfied with its indefiniteness in certain respects, and also with Graham's system, which he also practised. Hence he set to work to improve on them and claimed that he had succeeded. He then at great length gave a short-hand specimen of his system, which consisted in a different vowel indication and fresh forms for some consonants. It was a most arduous undertaking to change from a system he had written for years to a fresh one, but he had succeeded, and could write quite as rapidly and with much more legibility his own stenography as he formerly wrote phonography. A manual of his system he purposed publishing shortly. At the close of the interesting exposition Mr. E. A. Horton, one of the oldest Canadian reporters, proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Bishop for his valuable address. Mr. N. R. Belcher and Mr. Thos. McMillowddy supported the motion, which was carried with acclamation, and Mr. Bishop returned thanks.

Yesterday afternoon Captain George H. Orr and Mr. R. S. Pearson of the Wanderers' Bicycle Club started out for a run down the Kingston road. Between 5 and 6 o'clock, and while near the Halfway House, on their way back Mr. Pearson's wheel struck a stone. He took a "header" which resulted most seriously for him. His right arm was not only broken but it was terribly cut and torn from the hand to the elbow. He was conveyed along the Kingston road in the wagon of a kindly farmer until King-street was reached. Then he was Mr. James Bain, jr., and Mr. Wm. Houston, M.A., of the Legislative Library, leave this morning for the Thousand Islands to attend the annual meeting of the American Library Association. There are 150 members in the association and it is expected that many of them will visit Toronto before returning to their books.

THE CHEESE INDUSTRY.

In this county the cheese industry is of great importance, and is a source of considerable wealth to the farmers. Few persons have even an approximate idea of the extent and value of the exportations of cheese from this Dominion. During the present season, up to the end of July, there had been exported from Canada cheese of this season's make to the value of $2,597,000, an increase over the exportation for the same period of 1886 of $1,153,000, of 1885 of $797,000, of 1884 of $399,000, of 1883 of $671,000, and of 1882 of $1,128,000. The export this year, as a matter of quantity, is not so exceptionally large, but the price is remarkably high. Of itself the million dollars in excess of last year, which the Canadian farmers have obtained for three months of their make of cheese, will do much to make the country prosperous. The high price which now rules for butter as well as for cheese will make this a very profitable season for dairy farmers in spite of the drought, and if it encourages both cheese and butter makers to improve their product, it will have a lasting influence for good on the country.

THE Toronto Globe thus comes the high crow over London:—

"Toronto adds to itself every year the "population of one of our smaller cities, and "has added to itself in three years past a "population equal to the whole of that of "London."

The Globe then proceeds to grow prophetic over the comparative growth of Montreal and Toronto after this wise, thus tabulating its figures:

	Pop. 1871.	Pop. 1881.	Est. Pop. 1887.	Est. Pop. 1891.	Est. Pop. 1901.
Montreal	107,225	140,747	187,000	213,000	294,000
Toronto	56,092	84,415	144,000	165,000	225,000

Thus at the beginning of the next century or within thirteen years, Toronto will be as populous as Montreal, though six years ago it was very little more than half as large as the metropolitan city of Eastern Canada.

THE Montreal Herald has met with a heavy loss by the destruction of its premises by fire, and this is not its first "baptism by fire" either. It has suffered severely on several occasions, but it has risen superior to all its reverses. It has of late been a great force in the journalistic world, doing its work thoroughly and zealously on behalf of good and honest government. While condoling with the Herald on its loss the EXAMINER has much pleasure in congratulating the management on its enterprise. Though thoroughly "cleaned out by fire on Friday night, the Herald completed arrangements and was out on Monday as usual.

THE following from the Montreal Journal of Commerce will be read with interest by the farmers of this and other counties affected by the measure of optional prohibitory legislation, known as the Scott Act:

The crop of barley in Carleton County this year will be the smallest raised for years. The smallness of the crop is due to the retaliatory measures taken by brewers throughout the country against those counties which accepted the Scott Act.

This would indicate, if the above journals' facts and opinions are correct, that there exists a boycott of Scott Act County barley.

The Methuen Mica Mines.

A camping party, just returned from Stony Lake, furnishes some particulars concerning the almost-unknown mica mines in Methuen township, which are reached by paddling to the head of Stony Lake, walking inland about five miles to the Blue Mountains, two or three miles beyond which the mines are located, on the border of a little sheet of water called Mountain Lake. The mine as it is designated, is simply a cutting into the side of the high embankment, from the sides of which the mica is blasted in large quantities, and cut on the spot into the desired shapes. The quality of mica is said to be fair, though rather hard. Shipping privileges are, however, inadequate the mineral having to be carried in bags on the backs of men to the nearest available point of shipment. About two weeks ago a couple of men, who are said to comprise the staff, left Julien's Landing with a cargo clung over their backs. Were there any means of direct shipment from the mine, it could be developed into an important industry. No one in the neighborhood, though, knew the owner of the mine—not even Mr. Nixon, who lives in the vicinity, and acted as pilot for the party who visited it. A few specimens of the mineral were brought to town by the campers, who had no difficulty in extracting pieces from the side of the cutting with their fingers.

The Central Exhibition.

Press Opinions of the Central Exhibition Poster.

The large three-sheet poster announcing the Central Exhibition is receiving great praise for the artistic execution and display employed in its printing. The following are samples:

IS A DANDY.

An excellently executed and highly striking mammoth poster, announcing the holding of the Peterborough Central Exhibition, on October 4, 5, 6, and 7 next, is at hand. The bill is gotten up by Mr. J. R Stratton, of the EXAMINER office, and is a dandy.—Ottawa Free Press.

DO CREDIT TO ANY OFFICE.

The poster for the Peterborough Central Exhibition is one of the neatest pieces of colored work that has ever been turned out of any newspaper office outside the larger cities. It would do credit to any office, and must have its effect in attracting large numbers to the exhibition. The EXAMINER may be proud of its work.—Port Hope Times.

THE THISTLE'S FIRST SPIN.

An Assertion that She Carries a Patent Appliance to Increase Her Speed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—As the yacht Thistle went through the Narrows to the northward to-day it appeared to those on shore that she did not "move off" with all the ease that has been accredited to her in light weather. The inevitable Royal Club dory was dangling astern and some people thought the small boat caused a hindrance, but if the dory had been full of water it could not have caused the heaviness or drag that the vessel clearly displayed. As the Thistle passed under the critical eyes of the inhabitants of the Quarantine Station Capt. Barr hauled his main sheet away aft and in that condition passed Fort Wadsworth, still going dead before the wind. The inhabitants were not pleased with the boat. They declared that either she had been very much over-rated or that some kind of "monkey work" was indulged in to retard her progress. After the boat had passed Dix's Island the sails were jibbed over with a rush and the Thistle came up to a south by west course for buoy 10 on the southwest spit in a very lively manner.

Accounting for the Thistle's Speed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The Commercial Advertiser says it has been informed that there is reason for believing that the Scotch cutter Thistle is provided with a patent appliance which, aside from her lines and sail area, will materially increase her speed. It is furthermore alleged that it was to conceal this appliance that she was built under a shed by men pledged to secrecy, and launched with her hull draped in canvas. The contrivance which the owners of the beamy cutter are said to depend upon for enabling her to take home the American cup is not designed to propel the yacht, but merely to lessen the opposition to her progress. The theory of the invention is a current of air, is made to pass through chambers, running along either side of the keel. Those chambers are perforated in such a way that a current of air, with a strongly impelled jet of water, escapes through each hole in the chamber and so forms a bed of air bubbles on which the yacht rests while in motion. Obviously the friction is greatly diminished and the speed of the vessel is proportionately increased.

Mr. Shields' hunter Cyclone is the only Canadian representative at the Rockaway steeplechase meeting.

In Brief. And To The Point

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in gold." Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w34d

MANITOBA'S GRANARIES.

Hon. A. C. Wood Talks About the Province's Great Harvests.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.

Hon. A. C. Wood, Manager of the Freehold Loan and Savings Company, who has returned from a three weeks' visit to Manitoba, gave the following interesting of the present condition of that country to a reporter yesterday:

"I left Toronto about the beginning of August and drove over 600 miles throughout the Province of Manitoba. I found the crops unequalled since the organization of the province. The wheat is excellent in all parts of the country, if you except a few fields now and again which were noticed not to be so good. All the farmers with whom I conversed are certain that the yield will not be found less than twenty-five bushels to the acre. From what I saw myself it is my opinion that this estimate will prove correct. The oat crop is also good, but the barley is nothing extra. Root crops of all kinds looked well, and will turn out good. As to these crops not much revenue is gained by the farmer through them. The reason is that each farmer cultivates only a few acres, owing to the local demand (which is the only one) being very limited.

"When I left Winnipeg on Aug. 20 it was generally supposed that three-fourths of the wheat crop had been harvested. The people have had new hopes infused into them by the brilliant prospects of an abundant crop. In Winnipeg the good crops gave confidence to the merchants, but values have not as yet been affected. The business facilities of Winnipeg are sufficient for all the country, towns and villages which are tributaries to its trade. Increased railway facilities, along with the present year's good crops, will naturally give greater confidence to persons leaving Ontario for the Northwest. They will also have the effect of a fewer number of Canadians going to the United States, and of a larger number emigrating to Manitoba.

"I regret to have to say that the largest proportion of Manitoba farmers are in reduced financial circumstances. The early frosts and bad harvests could have but one of two results—either the reduction of capital, or increased debt. Last year's crop, though not a very good one as regards first class grain, was in excess of the two or three previous years. The sample of last year was good indeed. This year, however, they will have a very large crop of first class wheat, but it will take two or three years to remedy the drawbacks of the past. They are yearly improving on their system of farming. They do a large amount of summer fallowing and fall plowing, and consequently can sow earlier, and in case of a dry season the better cultivated land stands the drought to a greater advantage.

"There seems to be but one opinion regarding railway accommodation. The railway from the boundary to Winnipeg, say 60 miles in length, is being built. It is proposed to extend that from Winnipeg, on the south side of the Assiniboine, to Portage la Prairie, say 60 miles further. This will connect with the Northwestern, having an independent charter and which is already completed through Gladstone, Nippewa, Minnedosa, Shoal Lake, Birtle and some miles to the northwest of the latter place. It runs through a magnificent country and is being extended year by year. The question of freight rates is important to the profitable development of agriculture, but, in the present financial position of Manitoba, to the farmer there it is above all other considerations. The Manitoba farmer is thoroughly convinced that he is unjustly treated by the railway company, and he is determined to have his rights at all hazards.

"The Local Government fully understand the spirit of the people on the question, and are giving expression to it by every possible means. The question of railway accommodation is above party politics in Manitoba, and as a consequence rest assured it will be obtained. The farmers there work hard, they are economical, and with the present year's abundant crop and fair play in freight charges there is a bright future in store for the Prairie Province."

CHICAGO'S BUCKET-SHOP WAR.

The Telegraph Companies Forced to Stop the Sending of Quotations.

CHICAGO Aug. 29. The instruments of the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company were removed from the Board of Trade room late on Saturday afternoon because the company were slow in complying with the request of the Board that they discontinue furnishing wires to bucket-shops. This morning the Baltimore and Ohio operators were refused admittance to the Exchange Hall until 11 o'clock, when Superintendent J. D. Clark of the the Baltimore and Ohio notified President Wright that they had removed the wires as requested. Their instruments were immediately replaced and business was resumed.

The Postal and Western Union wires to the number of six that run from Wiley, Strawbridge & Co's office to bucket-shops all over the country were out this morning. This left the latter firm, which is said to be the headquarters for the largest bucket-shops outside of this city, without wires to disseminate their quotations.

The city authorities have also cut the overhead wires leading from all bucket-shops in the city. The work consummated to-day is the result of over a month's study and, it is believed, leaves the Board master of the situation

A False Alarm.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29.—The Privy Council was hurriedly called to meet at Dublin Castle to day, and it was rumored that the league was to be suppressed immediately. The rumor was without foundation, however, as merely formal business was transacted.

Fire on a London Dock.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The upper floors of the warehouses on Catherine's Wharf together with a great quantity of property were burned to-day.

A Valuable Discovery.

The Simcoe Street Hiatus.

The gap in Simcoe street, caused by the removal of the bridge over the creek, threatens to remain all winter. Phelan has applied for an injunction restraining the contractor from proceeding with the work, on account of the damage it is alleged will result to the Snowden Hotel building.

More Music.

The Young Men's Christian Association is booming, in musical matters at least. Having got a very good male choir hard at work under Mr. Seward's leadership, they are now organizing a double quartette of brass instruments, which will be added to by degrees. They also intend having an orchestra of string and reed instruments. The brass quartette, which is in charge of Mr. John Miller, will make its first appearance at the anniversary of the Association.

Resolution of Condolence.

At a special meeting of the Peterborough Law Association, held on Saturday morning, the following resolution was adopted:

Moved by Mr. BURNHAM, seconded by Mr. Moore:—The members of the Peterborough Law Association desire to offer to the respected Judge of the County Court of Peterborough, their sympathy in this time of sore affliction. The lamented death of his son, Mr. H. B. Weller, barrister, has elicited universal expressions of regret. His kind and genial character associated with a brave and manly spirit, endeared him to all, and, especially, to us his brothers in the profession, who were brought into more immediate contact with him: This Association tenders to Mrs. Weller and to the bereaved widow its heart-felt sympathy and condolence and commends them to Him who alone can comfort in the hour of sorrow.

Mr. Patterson's Farming Operations.

Persons crossing the Hunter Street bridge and noticing men and teams employed in ploughing up the bed of the creek, inquired of W. Patterson, Jr., what crop was to be followed by his summer following operations. The crop is gravel. It is a good crop and Mr. Patterson offered it to the corporation authorities for street purposes, but they not being in economical mood and not preferring good clear-washed gravel to mud material, declined the offer. Mr. Patterson, who is deepening and straightening the channel of the creek to prevent ice jaming and flooding in the spring is depositing the gravel removed against the crib work on each side the creek at this point. The work will be of much benefit in securing a freer flow of water in the spring and thus obviating to that extent the danger of flooding.

P. A. A. A. Meeting.

Monday night a special meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association was held in the office of Mr. R. B. Rogers. Dr. Burnham, president, occupied the chair. Among the business transacted was the appointment of a standing committee to have charge of the arrangements for a series of entertainments of a high class, yet withal, popular character, to be given the coming season. It was also decided to get on a foot ball match with Norwood, to be played by electric light on the Association grounds—a decided novelty which would doubtless attract a large attendance. The Association is doing a healthy work in the way of encouraging and promoting the interests of athletic sports and games, free from every objectionable feature and entirely amateur in their character, and it is worthy of the encouragement and support of the public.

Murdering Sleep.

Monday morning about half past two o'clock, agonized cries of "murder! murder! great God! murder! they're lyin' in their gore," emanating from a woman attired only in the airy drapery of a night dress, who was rushing up the street at full speed, startled the residents of the north end of George street not far from the Barnardo Home, from their slumbers, and quickly a crowd of half-dressed, half-awake men and women poured out upon the thoroughfare enquiring of each other the cause of the outcry. In the back yard of the cottage from which the woman ran were two men pummelling each other and fighting like bulldogs, and cursing and swearing till the air was redolent with the odor of brimstone. One of the belligerents was the husband of the woman and the other her brother, who had undertaken to chastise the husband for his cruel conduct towards his wife. After the whole neighborhood had been aroused, and some of the ladies frightened till they became ill, the uproar subsided but now before everyone had been so thoroughly awakened that sleep was banished from there eyes for the remainder of the night. These "rackets" are of not infrequent occurrence, and if the police and authorities don't interfere and secure their discontinuance the residents of the vicinity feel that they will be justified, in self defence, in taking the law into their own hands.

Peterborough's Parliament.

Special Session of the Town Council.—By-Law to Come up at the same Meeting.—The Usual Chief of Business.

Councillors Hartley, Massie, Douglas, Moore, Yelland, Stevens, McNeil, Kelly, Davidson, and MacNaughton attended the special meeting of the Town Council Monday evening. The mayor occupied the chair.

A complaint was read from Henry Rossiter, against Acting Chief Adams, for neglect of duty.—Referred to the Committee on Supervision of Police.

A communication from the town solicitor, stating that the contracts for the new bridge have not been signed, was received. The contract was ordered to be signed.

The award of the arbitrators between the town and county as to the town's proportion of the expenses for the administration of justice, etc., Messrs. R. W. Errett, H. T. Strickland and F. W. Pool, was read, directing the town to pay annually for the years 1887, 1888, and 1889 the sum of $2,025 for the administration of justice; $930 as its share of altering the gaol and court house premises; and that the expenses of the arbitration be equally divided between the town and county.—Received.

From Mr. C. W. Sawers, notifying the council that immediate legal proceedings would be taken in the high court of justice against the town, and an injunction secured to prohibit further work upon the stonework of the new Simcoe street bridge, which if carried out to completion, as now intended, would seriously injure Mr. E. Phelan's hotel premises.—Referred to the town solicitor.

From the Auston Manufactoring Co., Brighton, asking what inducements the town would give in the way of exemption, bonus, free site, etc., if they would remove their corset and shoe lace factory to Peterborough.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From the Secretary of the School Board, making a demand of $12,000 upon the town council for school purposes during the year.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

A PROPOSITION.

From the Peterborough Water Company, stating that they intend to issue bonds upon their works to the amount of $60,000 in order to pay off the amount they have expended over and above the capital of the company. The amount of subscribed stock is $42,000, on which 50 per cent. is paid up, or about $23,000. The company had to make extensions this year which would involve an expenditure of about $9,000, which will be provided for by the issue of farther stock. The company in response to its application for the purchase of the proposed bonds find that they cannot negotiate for a less period than 20 years, which they did not feel warranted in doing considering its relation towards the town. The company therefore proposed that the town either guarantee the bonds of the company for 20 years or issue their bonds in exchange for a mortgage upon the works of the company. By this means the loan could be secured at a low rate and it would be, the letter stated, to the interest of both parties.—The communication was referred to the Finance Committee.

From the County Treasurer, stating that upon payment of all money for Scott Act fines held by the town, but rightly belonging to the county, the whole matter would be considered settled. It was understood that this has already been done, and the report was referred to the Finance Committee.

From the Secretary of the Separate School Board, asking for the sum of $2,700 for school purposes during the year.—Finance Committee.

The applications of James A. Morrison and Thomas Lytle, for positions on the police force, were referred to the Committee on Appointments.

From Thomas Dale, asking for street improvements.—Referred to the Committee on Streets and Bridges.

From Geo. Gladman, and 14 others, asking for gas lamps at convenient places between Park street and the boundary.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From Robert H. Pope, asking for a side walk on the west end of King street—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

The Directors of the Mechanics Institute applied for their yearly grant of $100.—Received.

From James Warner, asking for rebate of taxes on a house of his that has been burned.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From N. T. Laplante and 26 others, asking for gas lamps and hydrant.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The accounts were referred to the Finance Committee, except those of R. H. Mitchell, Bell Telephone Co., R. H. Adams and the Peterborough Fire Co., which were paid.

An official notification was read from the Clerk of the passing of the by-law to issue debentures to the amount of $20,000 for the building of bridges and cribbing of Crescent street, etc.

Mr. DAVIDSON presented the report of the Finance Committee, recommending payment of all the accounts referred to them. The report was adopted.

GAS AND ELECTRIC LIGHT.

Mr. McNeil presented the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, reporting that they had considered the petition of Rev. E. F. Torrance and 11 others, and found that it has already been acted upon; recommending on the petition of Wm. Metherall and 25 others, asking for an electric light on the corner of Murray and Aylmer streets, that the same be granted; that four gas lamps be removed, one from the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets, one from the corner of Murray and Aylmer streets, and two from Murray street, between George and Aylmer streets, and that lamps be placed at the corners of Park and Charlotte, Aylmer and Lake, Perry and Lock streets, and two on Weller street; on the petition of D. B. Gardner and 50 others, asking for additional electric lights on George street, the committee regret having to refuse the same. The report was adopted.

There was a deal of discussion on this report, a number of the councillors objecting to the placing of the lights, each wanting some for their own respective wards. Motions for gas lamps were made as follows:—by Mr. Hartley, at the head of George and Water streets; by Mr. Moore, on Bon Accord and Elm streets; by Mr. McNaughton, at the corner of Sherbrooke and Rubidge streets. The motions were referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

MOTIONS.

On motion of Mr. DAVIDSON the by-law to provide for the construction of bridges over the creek in town and the cribbing of Crescent street was read a third time and passed.

Mr. KELLY moved, seconded by Mr. McNeil, that the street Inspector be instructed to advertise for tenders for the cobble-paving of George street, from Brock to Charlotte street, in accordance with a resolution of this council recommending the same.

This motion drew out some warm discussion, the majority of the councillors being of opinion that the work should not be done for two or three years. The motion was lost on the following division: YEAS, Messrs. Kelly, McNeil and Stevens; NAYS, Messrs. Davidson, MacNaughton, Yelland, Moore, Douglas, Massie and Hartley.

Mr. MCNEIL moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that the street Inspector be instructed to repair the sidewalk in front of Mr. Haigh's residence on Lake street.—Carried.

Mr. HARDLEY moved, seconded by Mr. Massie, that the street Inspector be instructed to repair the sidewalk on Stewart street in front of Mr. R. H. Smith's residence; also a sidewalk on Bethune street opposite Mr. Bowden's.—Carried.

Mr. KELLY moved seconded by Mr. McNeil, that the Street Inspector be instructed to lay a new sidewalk between Snowdon's Hotel and Dr. Crevier's office on Simcoe street. The motion was allowed to drop on the understanding that the walk would be repaired.

Moved by Mr. STEVENS, seconded by Mr. Kelly that a sidewalk be placed on Simcoe Street, on the north side, between Rubidge and Reid Streets, as soon as the grade is struck.

A couple more motions were placed on the table, but the councillors at this stage departed in such a hurry that they were left over.

Another meeting will be held next Monday evening.

Chemong Pic-nic and Regatta.

A Racy Report from a Special Correspondent.

An Indian correspondent sends a report of the annual Chemong pic-nic and regatta, with a request to "fix it up," but as the naive, native humour of the writer could not be improved upon, his report is given literally as follows:—

The Chemong pic-nic and regatta that was held at Davis' Point was the best pic-nic that ever was 25 miles round Peterborough. Lots of the pic-nicers wanted the manager to have another one before cold weather comes—he said, "once a year is enough" (you see Indian don't like hard work, no doubt he did work hard that day.) He says, come next year (if we are spared) we will have as good a one if not better.

The day was a little rough on the water for the races—but that's Indians' delight.

In the half mile, men, double canoe race, three canoes started. Richmond David and Zack Knott came in first by three lengths, prize, a set silver knives and forks, second George and John Taylor, prize, a white shirt.

The three-quarter mile, ladies' double canoe race, Mrs. Dow Taylor and Mrs. Moses McCue come in four lengths ahead, prize, 20 yards good dress goods, second Mrs. Patrick Gormon, of Eganismore, and Mrs. Thos. McKee, of Georgian Bay, prize, 2 pairs slippers.

The half mile men's single canoe race, three canoes started. Geo. Taylor came in five lengths ahead. First prize, bag of shot, 25 pounds (look out ducks); Second, Zack Knott, 2 pounds of powder.

Ladies single canoe race did not come off, lake being little rough, so we got boys instead) under fifteen years to race for the dress goods and pair boots. Three canoes started, Mr. Garner Nichols' two boys came in ahead four lengths, prize 10 yards dress goods; second, Fred. Taylor and Alf Copway, prize pair boots (and had to be sold and divide the money). There was no danger of any one getting drowned, as the life-boat used to run ahead round the race course.

Saw-log race and greasy pole did not come off as the afternoon was too short—next year will have races before noon.

G. Nichols had the largest family, No. 12, paise wash tub and board and 24 bars soap.

As to pertiest couple, none on ground; Judge say so; and as to oldest couple, no one to be found; they all want to be young.

Chemong, Aug 29th 1887.

Police Court.

TUESDAY, Aug. 30th.

Two young men, Duncan McFarlane and —— Weir, were arrested last night by policemen Adams and McGinty. This morning they were arraigned before Police Magistrate Dumble. McFarlane, who was the driver of the horse, was charged with furious driving on the streets, and with driving over the Hunter street bridge at a faster pace than a walk. For the first offence he was fined $2 and costs and for the second $2 without costs. The charge against Weir was dismissed.

Our Riflemen at the Canadian Wimbledon.

The squad of sharpshooters we sent to the Dominion Rifle Association meeting at Ottawa are "getting on." On Monday in the "Nursery Match," Lieut. W. H. Hill and Private W. A. Bell each secured a $3 prize. Private D. Cameron has covered himself with glory and filled his "sporran" with ducats. In the "Macdougall Challenge Cup" competition he took a prize of $8 and in the Rideau match, a prize of $10. It requires exceptionally good shooting to get a place at all, let alone a high place, against seven or eight hundred of the crack shots of the Dominion, including all the members of the Wimbledon team.

OTTAWA NEWS.

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—Sir John and Lady Macdonald and Mr. Joseph Pope, Private Secretary, returned to the city yesterday via the Canadian Pacific Railway. The Premier looks the picture of health and a stranger looking at him would never for a moment imagine that he is the hero of many hard fought political battles. His stay at Dalhouse was of the most beneficial character, and it is said that he tips the scales at 180 pounds. The party left Ottawa on July 21 and started on the home trip on Saturday last, spending Sunday at River Du Loup and Monday in Quebec, where the Premier had a conference with the Governor-General at the citadel.

Some difficulty has, it appears, turned up in connection with the work on the Short Line Railway between Oxford and New Glasgow, and Mr. A. Wilson of Pugwash has arrived to interview the Minister of Railways with reference to the matter. He was appointed a delegate for that purpose at a public meeting. The department will enquire into the complaint and endeavor to remove all obstacles in the way of the immediate completion of the work.

It is understood that the Quebec Government has postponed the payment of the ground rent on timber limits in the province, which were payable on Sept. 1, till Oct. 1, pending the question as to what the increase in rent is to be.

THE SHERMAN INTERVIEW.

The Chicago Banker That He Justified Canada in the Fisheries Business.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 30.—The Commercial-Gazette prints the following:

"MANSFIELD, Ohio, Aug. 28.

"On my return home my attention is called to a published telegram from Winnipeg, giving views alleged to have been expressed by me on the fishery question to Senator Ogilvie of the Dominion Government, which I am told have been extensively reprinted in the United States during my absence, in which it is alleged that I justified the action of the Dominion Government upon the fishery question as perfectly within their rights and extremely moderate.

"I wish most emphatically to deny any such interview or having expressed to any one any such opinion. I had a conversation with Senator Ogilvie in the presence of a number of gentlemen in which I took exactly the opposite position, that while the Canadian Government had legally a right to exclude American fishermen within the three mile limit of their shore, it was an act of bad policy to do so, and that their denial to American fishermen of the commercial rights to seek shelter and buy bait and supplies in Canadian ports was inconsistent with the civilized and generous policy of modern commercial nations; that I hoped it would be promptly abandoned as the best preparation for more intimate commercial relations between the United States and the Dominion Governments.

"These views in substance were published in the papers at Winnipeg, and I feel quite sure Senator Ogilvie never authorized the publication of the statement I have quoted.

(Signed) "JOHN SHERMAN."

Gladstone Praises the Queen.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Mr. Gladstone, speaking at Hawarden to-day on a "Retrospect of the Queen's Reign," said that the leading change during the reign was the system of a representative Parliament, elected by the direct influence of the people, ruling the country. Many sovereigns consented to laws because they could not help themselves. From individual personal experience he knew that Queen Victoria had given willing, hearty and active consent to all beneficial changes and had made herself the prime benefactor of the country.

Argyle on Gladstone.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Duke of Argyle in a letter to the papers states that he is astonished and pained at Mr. Gladstone's speech in the House of Commons on his motion in reference to the proclamation of the Irish National League. He says that Gladstone's attempt by devices of language, of tricks of phrase to minimize and excuse the detestable tyranny of the league shows a condition of mind on which no reliance can be placed for counsel or guidance.

WHY PEOPLE COMMIT SUICIDE.

Some of the Peculiarities of Those Who Make Away With Themselves.

From The Philadelphia News.

An English physician, Dr. Westcott by name, has written a rather entertaining little book on the subject of suicide. According to him hanging is the most prominent means of suicide. Drowning comes next. Women are especially fond of watery graves, for some reason or other. People have also killed themselves by voluntary starvation, eating horse hair and swallowing pennies. The impression is general that the gloomy months of the year are those in which the majority of suicides occur. In the large class of suicides proceeding from disappointment and misery, the very contrast between the beauty of nature and the state of mind of the sufferer must, in many cases, be unbearable and precipitate the fatal act. Here are some figures, obtained a short time ago from Coroner Ashbridge, in regard to deaths from suicide in this city last year:

Business troubles	15
Cheerful at parental discipline	4
Destitution	3
Dissipation	10
Political disappointment	2
Family trouble	21
Insanity	32
Love trouble	5
Sickness	5

Let it be said that a man who cultivates the full force and energy of his moral character need never fear that he will fall a victim to the suicide tendency of civilization. For it is a sad fact that self-destruction follows the triumphs of education, cultivation and civilization.

HEALY SCORES HARMAN.

THE IRISH UNDER-SECRETARY DENOUNCED AS A CONVICT.

The Debate on the Vote for the Irish Secretary's Office Calls Out Much Vituperative Language—The Nationalists Amendment Negatived.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—In the House of Commons this evening in the debate on the vote for the Irish Secretary's Office, Mr. T. M. Healy denounced Mr. Balfour as a Scotchman, ignorant and careless alike of the duties of his office. He then made a long and violent attack upon Col. King-Harman, the Under Secretary, and was loudly called to order for referring to the Under Secretary as a convict, because he had once been imprisoned for making an assault upon the police at the Queensrue.' He accused Harman of inducing The Times reporters to suppress his admission in the House of Commons, that he had threatened to shoot one Weldon.

The chairman here reminded Mr. Healy that Col. King-Harman was absent.

Mr. Healy retorted that he was within call. Proceeding, Mr. Healy said that Mr. Balfour was a mere shadow, but not so Harman, who had been hand and glove in Fenianism, had stood for Parliament as a Home Ruler and had been Secretary of the Home Rule League. He had been informed that the Chief Secretary's brother, General Balfour, had stated that Arthur had been appointed Chief Secretary because he despised Ireland. [Parnellite cheers.]

The chairman, upon Mr. Balfour's appeal, ruled Mr. Healy out of order.

Mr. Healy accepted the ruling, but reiterated his allegations, denouncing King-Harman's connection with the Orangemen, who, he declared, had committed five hundred murders to one committed by Ribbonmen.

At this point King-Harman entered the House and Mr. Healy repeated his assaults upon him in a violent and taunting tone.

Col. King-Harman said the Cremorne affair was a boyish escapade and the Weldon story a lie.

Mr. Healy said he did not blame King-Harman for accepting office, but he did blame the Government for appointing a law-breaker and released convict.

Col. King-Harman appealed to the chair, who censured Mr. Healy for his language.

Mr. Healy accepted the rebuke of the chair, but continued that Harman was a landlord whose rents had been reduced by the Land Commissioners. It was wrong, therefore, to place him in a position where he could influence the appointment of commissioners. Concluding, he moved a reduction of the vote of £500 to £2000.

Further discussion took place, Messrs. Balfour and Smith testifying to the efficiency of Col. King-Harman as Under-Secretary for Ireland and the amendment was negatived, 113 to 52.

STORMED BY BAILIFFS.

An Irish Widow's Unsuccessful Resistance to Eviction.

DUBLIN, Aug. 30.—The evictions on the O'Grady estates at Heberstown began to-day. The bailiffs were enforced by 100 soldiers and 200 policemen. All the houses occupied by the tenants were barricaded and guarded for defence. The house of Mrs. Crimmins, a widow, was the first advanced upon by the bailiffs. The widow and her friends were well armed with paving stones and boiling water, and both were showered upon the bailiffs with such telling effect that they were repulsed four times. The sheriff's men attempted to crowbar their way through the walls and roof and Mrs. Crimmins had the scalding water poured over their heads, faces and necks. After the fourth repulse, the police attempted to storm the house. They also were driven back.

Finally a joint rush was made by bailiffs and police and the house was broken into and captured. It was found that the defenders of the habitation numbered but nine persons—five men and four women. All were taken prisoners. A large crowd had collected about the house to witness the contest. The crowd all sympathized with Mrs. Crimmins and did all in their power to cheer her up in her battle and to annoy and exasperate the officers. When the widow's party were at last overpowered the crowd became frantic and pressed closely up towards the house. The prisoners when they were led out sang "God Save Ireland," the crowd joined in the singing and became so demonstrative that the police had to cut their way out with their batons.

TRAIN WRECKERS FOILED.

An Engineer Drives His Train Over a Burning Bridge in Safety.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 30.—An attempt was made yesterday morning to burn the bridge over a culvert on the Wabash Railway, one mile east of this city. A freight train came around the curve at full speed, and the engineer, seeing the fire, put on steam and passed over safely. A second section of the train was flagged and stopped before it reached the bridge and the train crew put out the fire. An hour afterward the first train reached the burning bridge he saw a man run out from his hiding place near by and disappear in the woods. Wabash detectives were put on the trail, but as yet there have been no arrests.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Grist of Interesting News From the Queen City—What Her Police and Her Criminals Are Doing, etc.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.

Tom Jones and Tom Buckley are two characters with Police Court records. At 6.30 yesterday morning Jones tried hard to kill Buckley by firing two shots from a revolver at him, but only one took effect. This occurred in Paddy Rats' dive at 63 Adelaide-street west.

On Monday night Jones, Buckley, "Bobby" Trumble and "Stoney" Jamison, all fellow roughs, had one of their usual sprees. Early in the evening they were in the place of Eddie Hunt, at 135½ York-street, and there Jones and Buckley had a fight. Buckley used Jones up badly.

The party all got drunk, and Buckley so much so that the others quit him in "Paddy Rats'" place, where they left him sleeping on a sofa. "Rats", whose proper name is William Rowe, left the place early in the morning and went elsewhere to sleep. Buckley states that between 6 and 7 yesterday morning, he being the only one in the place, he heard a knocking at the back door. He had not recovered from his debauch of the night before, and though he was sleepy and his head ached as badly as it could be, he staggered to the door and opened it. Jones, he says, was there and fired two shots at him from a revolver, exclaiming: "Now, I've got you and I intend to put it to you."

Jones started down the lane and Buckley, weak though he was, tried to follow him but had to stop at the sidewalk and lean against a lamp-post, where he was found by Policeman Geddes, who helped him back to the house.

Buckley was attended by Dr. Cuthbertson, who found that a bullet was lodged in the upper part of the man's stomach. He probed for it but in vain, and after doing all that he could he ordered that Buckley should be removed to the Hospital.

Jones, it was discovered, had slept at 177½ York-street, where he runs a cigar store, but early in the morning visited Eddie Hunt's dive and later went to Fitzgerald's Hotel, York and Adelaide-streets. It was here that he was arrested at 8 o'clock by Policeman Denning.

Jones protested that he was innocent, while Buckley grew quite stubborn and refused to say who shot him. Jones stood in the dock before Magistrate Denison at 11 o'clock and pleaded not guilty to the charge of "felonious wounding with intent to murder." He elected to be tried summarily and was remanded for a week, bail being refused.

The only witnesses to the affair were a couple of rag pickers named George McCollum and his wife, who live in the rear of 63 Adelaide-street west, and who saw Jones standing at the back door, heard two shots, and then saw Jones make off.

Last midnight Buckley was found by a reporter to be in a sinking condition—so weak that the physicians did not deem it safe to continue their probing for the bullet. He may not recover.

No. 63 Adelaide-street west, the abode of William Rowe and the resort of low characters, where Tom Buckley was shot yesterday, was the scene of another serious crime at an early hour this morning. Just after midnight "Gee" Burns, a pickpocket with a record, took Elizabeth Ann Griffith, aged 14, to Rowe's place, which makes pretention of being a lodging house. The girl says she went there to get lodging, being given to understand that it was proper place for her to go. Her story is that after being shown to a room Burns left her. Shortly afterwards William Mitchell (familiarly known as "Squib") of 172 Edward-street made his appearance in the apartment, and after a struggle assaulted her. She made a loud outcry, and Policeman Noble, who was on duty in Adelaide-street, entered the house. He took the girl and Mitchell to Headquarters.

The sergeant in charge held her on a charge of vagrancy and as a witness against Mitchell. She said she had been but two months in the country, having come out from England. She was a domestic. The girl is quite small for her years, and talked in rather a free and easy style.

For some time past the city has been imposed on in a way which has become unbearable, and the Mayor announces his intention of putting a stop to it. Unfortunate women, both of this town and from outside, are confined here, perhaps at the Barracks, or elsewhere, and they place the result of their sin with professional nurses, or baby farmers, paying them one or two weeks' keep, and promising to pay the rest as it becomes due. Then they either leave the city or keep away from the place and the baby farmer is left with the child in her hands. Invariably the baby farmer applies to the Mayor and asks that the infant be taken care of by the city. This means $60 a year for each child that the city places in the Infants' Home. As the Mayor says, it must be stopped, and he commenced yesterday by refusing the application of one woman. He contends that baby farmers should not take in infants unless they are possessed of a guarantee of their keep.

At 11 o'clock last night as Pat Dalton, a salman, was driving a passenger across No. 3 track at the foot of Simcoe-street the carriage collided with a shunting engine which was passing at the time. Dalton was thrown to the ground with considerable violence, but escaped with a few bruises on the arms and hands. The wheels of the cab were badly smashed and were it not for the speedy manner in which the driver stopped the engine a serious, if not a fatal, accident to Dalton and his passenger would have occurred.

Johanna Fitzpatrick, wife of a laborer living at 14 Walnut-avenue, was arrested last evening charged with stealing several articles from the dry goods store of Duffett & Co., in Queen-street west.

Failure of Coal Mining Firms.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—Robert Hare, Powell & Co. and Robert Hare, Powell, Sons & Co., the great coal mining firms, have failed. The failure was the result of the suspension of Charles E. Pennock of Coatsville, the extensive iron plate merchant. Liabilities are placed at $1,572,000. The assets, consisting of vast tracts of coal lands and appurtenances, are valued at more than $1,000,000. The Guarantee Trust Company have been made assignees.

MEETING OF THE LEAGUE.

O'BRIEN SUGGESTS A PLAN OF POLICE OBSTRUCTION.

Dublin May Yet Witness the Strange Sight of the Proclaimed League Meeting in the City Hall Guarded by Policemen Specially Detailed.

DUBLIN, Aug. 30.—Wm. O'Brien presided to-day over the fortnightly meeting of the Irish National League in this city. The meeting was unusually large. A number of Catholic clergymen were present.

Mr. Harrington announced that Mr. Chas. Augustus Vansittart Conybeare, Radical member for Northwest Cornwall, and Mr. C. E. Schwann, Liberal member for North Manchester, had joined the league.

Mr. O'Brien said that the first branch of the league against which the Government should issue a proclamation would hold its meetings with closed doors and refuse to open them for the police, even if they demanded admittance. This would leave the police nothing to do but break their way in if they were determined to enter. As the police would probably resort to this violence, the central branch of the league would then ask the Lord Mayor to grant them the use of the City Hall, with special police to defend it during league meetings therein.

A majority of the Dublin City Council, as well as the Lord Mayor, are strong Nationalists.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

John Bright in Favor of a Permanent Treaty With the United States.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—John Bright, writing to Secretary Jones of the London Peace Society, who is one of the deputies going to the United States to present a memorial to President Cleveland in favor of the establishment of an international arbitration treaty, says: "There is talk of a permanent arbitration treaty between the United States and England. The project is a reasonable one and discussion may lead to its adoption. If the Government of the United States were willing and were in any way to signify its willingness to become a party to such a treaty, there is a force of good men with us to induce our Government to consent. If this be done it will be a good step forward in the world's march, and will be followed in some not distant time by other nations willing to escape the social burden of military armaments. Two hundred members of the House of Commons sign the arbitration memorial, but far more than this number will be ready to urge the acceptance of the treaty upon our Government.

"If the action taken at Washington be favorable to the success of the scheme England and the United States will still remain two nations, but I would always have them regard themselves as one people. An arbitration treaty honestly made and adhered to would tend much to bring about this blessed result."

ON THE RIDEAU RANGES.

Second Day of the Annual Match of the Dominion Rifle Association.

OTTAWA, Aug. 30.—The weather to-day has been splendid. The light was good, the wind moderate and tolerably steady, and the shooting on the whole well up to last year's average. In the manufacturers' match Staff-Sergt. Ross of the Prince Wales' Rifles topped the score with 38, the same score with which Capt. Sylvester of the 56th took it last year, and nineteen twenty-fours were counted out, while last year five twenty-fives were counted out, showing about one point in favor of last year. In the Oulmet match a fair comparison can't be made, as last year it was a Snider match and this year it was a Martini. The winner this year, Pte. Hayes of the 7th, made 33, while last year Lieut. Cartwright of the 47th took it with 32. Last year all the twenty-twos got in while this year eighteen twenty-fours were counted out. The average, therefore, shows in favor of this year, but scarcely more than the difference in the rifle used would account for.

THE MILITARY MATCHES.

The Gzowski and British Challenge Shield were fired this afternoon and were not concluded until after 7 o'clock; indeed, they may be said to have been finished in the dark. The scores have not been compiled up to 12.15, but it is believed that the 8th Royal Rifles of Quebec won both matches. It is not, however, possible to tell positively to-night.

The Fisheries Convention.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Sir James Fergusson announced in the House of Commons this afternoon that the Government had agreed upon a new commission to represent British interests in the North American Fisheries Convention. He added that he was glad to say that Mr. Joseph Chamberlain had accepted the office of principal High Commissioner for Great Britain.

In answer to questions Sir James Fergusson said that the deliberations of the Fisheries Commission would be solely upon the points in the controversy between Canada and the United States.

A Rejected Suitor's Act.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A despatch from Weaverstown, Pa., says Baird Knox Snyder, a young Englishman, attempted to murder Mabel Harton in the parlor of the handsome residence of her father, James Harton, near that place, on Sunday evening. He had been her affianced lover, and she had just told him she could no longer receive his attentions, when he drew a revolver and fired two shots at her, one taking effect in her left ear. It is thought Miss Harton will recover.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

An ingenuous Government organ calls for a higher duty on sugar, on the plea that the present tariff, which takes two millions of dollars from the people's pockets, is not protective. This is very clever—on behalf of the refiners. It is proposed to pile the duty upon refined sugar. Thus the refiners will be protected. This would freeze out such wide-awake firms as the one which recently got the start of the ring formed by the wholesale dealers and refiners. The latter, having got the tariff arranged sufficiently in their interests, combined, it is stated, with the wholesale dealers to raise the price. However, the firm referred to refused to join the compact, and had the audacity to order a cargo of sugar from Scotland; paid ocean freight incidental charges, and, in spite of the tremendous duty, they were able to sell at a lower figure than the Canadian sugar, which, according to Government organs, is not highly enough protected. It is of no account that the people are not protected; such paltry considerations do not count. While the ormorants declare that a tax upon the people of Canada of two millions a year is not sufficient protection the present tariff makes its duties on sugar, nearly three cents per pound and our sugars would be this much per pound cheaper if the duties were not in existence and if the present government made rings impossible.

The Conservative organ referred to, is anxious that the raw sugar should be imported free of duty and the tax put "away up" on refined sugars. Wouldn't this be a splendid thing for the refiners? Wouldn't they put the price up to the highest notch and wouldn't they make a mint of money out of the people of Canada? And would not the people have to pay the shot and would not the preserving season be a terror to the Canadian housewife? With a prohibitory duty on refined sugars, the refiners getting their raw sugar free would put on what price they pleased so long as it did not quite reach the limit of the prohibitory duty. No matter if the price of sugar in Scotland were half a cent per pound it would not benefit the Canadian consumer. A high enough duty would be placed upon foreign sugars to bring the price up to what the refiners chosed to impose. More protection for the favoured few and higher prices for the consuming millions.

There is, perhaps, a very slight prospect of an advance in the price of wheat, though there is a certainity that the wheat supply outside of the continent will be up to the usual mark. The indications show a more than average European crop, and the United States will have a surplus of wheat for export amounting to say 120,000,000 bushels, and Australia 1,000,000 bushels more than last year. India's large surplus of last year will be reduced by some 40,000,000 this year, but this will not affect the the general plenty. The United Kingdon is the principal purchaser, and draws supplies largely from North America. During the first six months of the current year, of 43,000,000 bushels imported, two-thirds came from the United States alone, and something more than one-eighth from India. A noteworthy feature is the higher value of American wheat, which averaged 5c. per bushel above that from Russia, and 8c. per bushel above that of India in the English market. America is also the steadiest source of supply, being less affected on the whole by drouth than India or Russia.

The Montreal Star, a professedly independent journal, but in reality the most pronounced Tory organ on the continent, thus declares itself:—

According to the Government returns, revenue and expenditure for the year ending June 30th, 1887, nearly balanced each other. This, of course, does not include the sums expended on capital account out of borrowed money. The current revenue was $35,501,-941 and the current expenditure was $35,-607,804. The exact details of the expenditure will not be known until Parliament meets, but the information vouchsafed is sufficient to convince thinking men that the people of Canada are taxed quite heavily enough, and that it is high time that in other than ordinary expenditure their Government called a halt. Although the revenue has increased, the expenditure has increased in equal ratio, and there is more than a proportional augmentation of the public debt. The Government of the Dominion has been lately spending all the money it has received and going into debt besides. This sort of thing cannot go on forever, so the sooner the Government makes its income more than meet its expenditure and stops running into debt, the better for the people

Notice to the Public.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I have been informed by several persons who have been waited upon that two ladies had been soliciting aid from them for my daughter, Mrs. Despreze, whose husband was recently drowned while bathing in Stony Lake. These persons stated that she was in need of assistance, as her parents and relatives had turned against her. I have to say that neither myself nor Mrs. Despreze is cognizant of any person having been empowered to solicit aid for her, and if any one is doing so in good faith, I would hereby urgently request that they discontinue and return whatever sums may have been secured, as my daughter, Mrs. Despreze, is not in need, having been taken to my home, which is here also, immediately after the death of her husband. Those who know me know that I do not require public assistance, and I ask you to insert this notice, so that I may be set right with those who know me and that others charitably disposed may not be imposed upon by persons whose ostensibly charitable endeavours are the means selected by them to put money into their own pockets. From the actions of the pair as described to me I have no doubt but that they are imposters.

Yours truly,
WM. SIMPSON.

The Baseball Scores—Other Items of Interest to Sportsmen.

TORONTO, Aug. 31.

There was hardly as large an attendance at the baseball grounds yesterday to see the benefit game between Hamilton and Toronto as might have been expected. However a thousand or more of the greatest admirers of the game, including an exceptionally large number of ladies and several visitors from a distance, were present and appeared to appreciate the play. As fast the match went a bit slow, the players apparently not feeling like over-exerting themselves, but as it proceeded they became aroused and the ending was quite as interesting and exciting as any game played here this season, if not more so.

The Captain of the Thistle Satisfied.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Capt. Barr said to-day that the short spin of the Thistle yesterday was entirely satisfactory to him. The mainsail bagged somewhat, but he expected that on the first spreading; it only needed stretching. During a little chaff between a reporter and Mate McDonald about the patent mystery that some people have suggested the Thistle may have concealed about her, the mate said: "Everybody will be fooled when they see her bottom." He was asked if the people would have a chance to see it when the yacht was hauled out, and replied, "Oh sure, why not? There was build a better one." Another spin will probably be taken to-morrow.

The Owner of the Thistle Coming Over.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 31.—The owner and the designer of the Scotch yacht Thistle sail on the steamer City of Rome to-morrow for New York.

Sporting Matters at the Sound.

OWEN SOUND, Aug. 30.—A lacrosse match was played here to-day between the Owen Sound and Shelburne clubs for a magnificent flag, given by the association. Shelburne took the first game in 12 minutes, Owen Sound the next four in 20, 35, 40 and 10 minutes.

A baseball game was also played between the Clippers of Owen Sound and the Markdale clubs for a purse of $30. The Clippers won by a score of 21 to 4.

A game of cricket was played between the Port Elgin team and Owen Sounders. The Port Elgin club winning by six wickets.

The Elephant Caught.

INGERSOLL, Ont., Aug. 30.—The elephant which escaped from Robbins' circus yesterday afternoon was captured late last night.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this evil business and making the American people so healthy that they can eat [illegible] meals and be happy. Remember:—[illegible] happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Very Versatile.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and [illegible] with the very best results I [illegible] recommend it to all [illegible] troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in gold." Tillie White, Mastersounding, Ont. 2w34d

THE BULGARIAN [illegible]

[illegible] Porte Appoints a Successor to Prince Alexander.

[illegible] Aug. 31.—The Porte has decided to appoint Gen. Kaulbars as provisional Governor of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia until a new Sobranje shall legally elect a prince for the Bulgarian throne. The paper adds that the Porte is seeking the means of the speedy and safe carrying out of the proposed plan, and that it has guaranteed that Turkey will place Gen. Kaulbars in power and supply him with a Turkish army if necessary.

Opposed to Russia's Proposal.

SOFIA, Aug. 30.—It is reported that M. Stransky, formerly Minister of the Interior, will undertake the task of forming a Cabinet. The people are strongly opposed to the proposal of Turkey to send a general and a commissary to Bulgaria.

Nelidoff's Appeal to the People.

BUCHAREST, Aug 30.—M. Nelidoff, whose appeal to the people of Roumania on behalf of Russia on the Bulgarian question was suppressed here, has succeeded in getting it published in Turnu-Severin, Roumania, and having it scattered broadcast over the country from that point.

In this document M. Nelidoff declares that Bulgaria has no means of safety unless Russia nominates a commissary to regulate the affairs of the soldiers as well as of the civilians of the country and prepares the way for free election of members of the New Sobranje, which shall elect a new Prince. All other plans M. Nelidoff pronounces dangerous "delusion," he adds, "Bismarck aims to exterminate the Bulgarians by civil war, which undoubtedly would affect other countries."

COLLISION ON THE G.T.R.

Two Freight Trains Come Together a Short Distance From Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 30.—A serious collision between two freight trains occurred on the Grand Trunk at 7.30 last night, between three and four miles from the city. The trains met head on. The down train was made up of twenty-five cars of hogs, and the up train composed of ten loaded and twenty empties. Both locomotives were badly used up and eight or nine cars were thrown off. Fifteen hogs were killed and five hurt. The train hands escaped with slight injury. The loss will be heavy. John Rayoir of this city, who was on the west-bound train, was thrown from the rear platform and was badly, but not dangerously, cut about the head.

INTRIGUE IN CABUL.

Two Parties Preparing to Seize Power Upon the Ameer's Death.

BOMBAY, Aug. 30.—The latest Afghanistan news says that since it first became known that the Ameer was ill two parties have risen into prominence at Cabul. One of these divisions favors Ayoub Khan, who recently escaped from Teheran, while the other supports Ishak Khan. Both parties are urging their favorites to come to Cabul and be ready to assume the throne in the event of the Ameer's death.

ESCAPED FROM KINGSTON.

Two Convicts Get Over to the Other Side in a Steam Yacht.

KINGSTON, Aug. 30.—Two convicts named Kelly and Scoon escaped this evening on the steam yacht Juna, lying at the penitentiary wharf. The guards fired on them, but they soon got beyond range of the guns. The boat was headed for Nine Mile Point, around which they had to go to reach American soil. Three boats with guards are in hot pursuit.

Socialists Visit Lasse's Tomb.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—The police order forbidding the Socialists to celebrate the death of Ferdinand Lasse did not have any effect, as thousands of followers of the great labor union organizer made the pilgrimage to Gremace yesterday. A row occurred during the day and several arrests were made.

A Russian Attack on France.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 30.—Prince Meah Tscerski in The Grashdanin, now the official organ of the Czar, makes an insolent attack upon France. He says "a nation whose patriotism only exists in phrases cannot be an ally of Russia."

The Seizures in Behring's Sea.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Times protests against the treatment to which British sealers in Behring's Sea are subjected by the American authorities in Alaska, and suggest that the Government send a cruiser to Alaskan waters to secure strictly legal treatment for British vessels.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Geo. H. Pell, of the firm of Prevoteau and Pell, the Wall-street brokers who recently assigned, has been arrested to-day at the suit of Walter C. Stokes of Stokes & Co., who charge him with fraud. It is claimed that he owes Stokes $30,000. He was released on $15,000 bail.

HOME HORTICULTURE.

Peterborough and Ashburnham Society's Show.

Flowers and Fruits.—Fine Art and Feminine Fingery.—Tubers and Taxidermy.—Meritorious Music.—Worthy Winners of Prizes.

Considering the phenomenal drouth of the season, which directly affected the staple commodities for exhibit, the exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, Tuesday night, was a most gratifying success. The Opera House had been very appropriately transformed by Mr. E. C. Hill, who had charge of the the work, for exhibition purposes.

Of course the display of fruits and vegetables was not extensive, yet there were many excellent specimens shown. There was some exceedingly fine fruit, but the quantity was not large. In flowers, which are more independent, through irrigation, of drouth, there was a most creditable display. Several large tables were brilliant masses of bloom and foliage, Mr. Frank Mason being the larger exhibitor. His collections of foliage plants and fuchsias were magnificent. The cut flower table was most attractive. In the department of ladies' work there was a good display of excellent work in all the departments. Much of the work was elaborate and some really artistic. In fine arts, by amateurs, there was, an unusually large showing, and a novelty of the display was that there were no "mere daubs." While there were many pieces of really meritorious work, all were very much above the average of amateur effort. Among the new exhibitors in this department was Mr. K. G. Lech, who contributed three very creditable and spirited water colours of very promising merit.

Among the specialities was the magnificent exhibit of business and ornamental penmanship made by Mr. Bassell Sawyers, Principal of the Peterborough Business College, "The Picture of Progress" especially, being a most elaborate and artistic specimen of pen work, as meritorous in execution as ingenious and original in design.

Mr. E. Elcome contributed a very fine case of excellent specimens of taxidermy well worthy of the first prize that was awarded it.

The attendance was not such as to do away with the complaint of lack of public interest and appreciation of the work of the society. It was equal, however, to that of last year and indicates that what few practical friends the society has, are constant.

One thing which prevents an intelligent and comprehensive notice of the exhibits is the absence of information as to the names of the exhibitors. The plan that a knowledge of names might influence the judges, would lose its force if the names were affixed to the different articles after the awards had been made.

The Fire Brigade Band was present and contributed excellent selections of music at intervals.

The Prize List.

Lakefield's Civic Holiday.

A Rousing Success—Good Sports—Jollity in the Village and on the Water.

Civic holiday at Lakefield Tuesday was not ushered in by the booming of cannon, nor the day celebrated by the profuse display of bunting, arches and flags, nor any gorgeous pageants, but in the genuinely rural style, athletic sports being continued without break almost from daylight to dark. An energetic committee, comprising the most solid and energetic residents of the village, Messrs. S. Henderson, R. C. Strickland, Thomas Cox, R. Cotton, D. Strickland, John Clarke, Geo. Saringer, Geo. Cochrane, A. I. Wright, Wm. Eastland and W. Casement, drafted a programme of events which was carried out to the letter. Sub-committees were appointed as follows:—Sports committee, Messrs. Geo. Cochrane, A. I. Wright, and J. Clarke; Regatta committee, Messrs. Wm. Eastland, R. C. Strickland and W. H. Casement. The whole village turned out en masse to witness the events, which were all eagerly contested. At nine o'clock a baseball match took place on the cricket field (where all the sports were held) between two teams of the Lakefield club. The game was close and the score kept down pretty well.

WRIGHTON'S LAMBS VS. LAKEFIELD.

"Muncaster's Excursion", from Peterborough to Lakefield, in the morning, was largely patronized by eight members of the cricket fraternity known as "Bill Wrighton's Lambs." Though the Shepherd was absent Mr. R. W. Muncaster acted as deputy most efficiently. At Lakefield they were joined by Mr. W. J. Minore, and with a couple of 'subs' the eleven was completed that was to have a "go" at Lakefield cricket club. The crease was a poor one, but the visitors had it all their own way. Ray, Giroux and Minore made the scores for Peterborough, Captain Muncaster also doing well, he and Ray together making 22—nearly as many as the whole Lakefield team. Ray and Sabine bowled most effectively. Sabine bowled as he probably never did before. Jas. Watson's bowling played havoc with the stumps of the "lambs" in the fore part of the innings, and Thos. Watson's in the latter, they claiming credit for slaughtering nearly all the innocents. Very little fielding had to be done, the score being pretty well kept down.

FIELD SPORTS.

Immediately the cricket was concluded, the field sports began under the direction of the Sports Committee. The Lakefield band was in attendance and enlivened the proceedings with music at intervals. Lakefield should pride itself on its band, which, though small, renders selections of no mean order in excellent style. For each event there were half a dozen or more entries.

Following are the prize winners:—

100 YDS. BOYS RACE.—1st Fred Tanner; 2nd Jas. Redpath.

100 YDS. MEN'S RACE.—1st W. Trude; 2nd P. Gallon.

THROWING CRICKET BALL.—1st J. Watson 2nd T. R. S. Parker.

In the high jump, long jump, and three legged race (the latter with N. Arnott) the successful competitor was W. McIlmoyle, but his wins were afterwards disallowed by the committee, it being proven to their satisfaction that he was a "professional."

The prizes for the regatta which followed, were articles of value donated by merchants and other citizens of the village, who entered heart and hand hand into the demonstration and lent their every aid and encouragement.

THE REGATTA.

The regatta was then opened on the river the starting point of the races being the "Cruiser's" wharf. The races were all eagerly contested, and won amidst the greatest enthusiasm and excitement among the people who lined the banks.

DUCK RACE.—J. Seringer, duck, won.

SINGLE SKIFF RACE.—1st Dr. Douglass, 2nd Alex. Strickland.

A tug-of-war was afterwards held on the public square between teams of mill men and villagers, captained respectively by J. Morrison and H. A. Kemp.

A purse was made up for a horse trot, which took place late in the evening, several horses entered. The course was from the public square to the railway track.

The demonstration was brought to a close by a grand illumination and physog procession in the evening.

The demonstration was an undoubted success, the weather excellent, and the committee are to be congratulated upon the success of their undertaking.

Exchange of Courtesies.

At the first meeting of Otonabee Lodge held after the session of the Oddfellow Grand Lodge, here, a resolution of thanks was passed to Bro. Macdiarmid, barrister, Lucan, and P.G.M. and Grand Representative to the Sovereign Grand Lodge, for his kindness in nominating a member of Otonabee Lodge, Dr. Bell, for the position of Grand Warden. The following acknowledgement was received in due course:

LUCAN, 24th August, 1887.

To Charles Russell, Esq., Secretary, Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O.F., Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—In accepting those thanks so courteously tendered by the Lodge, and so endeavored by me, permit me to congratulate not only Otonabee Lodge but the whole Order in Peterborough, on Brother Dr. Bell's election to a position the duties of which he is so eminently qualified to discharge.

The contest was close and keen, as might have been expected, with such a number of able, popular candidates in the field; and I am thoroughly satisfied that the choice of the Grand Lodge has fallen upon one who will do honor to the office.

I cannot allow this opportunity to pass without stating that the Peterborough Session was the most pleasant and comfortable Session that I have attended during my ten years' connection with the Grand Lodge. The arrangements perfected by your several committees for the reception and accommodation of the Representatives, and for the transaction of business, were admirable; while the successful efforts of the Peterborough brethren and citizens to make our short stay amongst them as delightful as possible, cannot soon be forgotten.

Fraternally and thankfully, yours,

W. MACDIARMID.

A Vegetative Freak.

Mr. E. G. Stone, of the Rochester Fruit Store, has, displayed at his door, an extraordinary freak of vegetation. Nature intended it for a crook-neck squash, but it ran altogether to grass. What should have been the squash is a flat mass of growth representing the skin of the squash with the inner sides close together without any sign of the usual contents of a well-behaved squash. This strange growth is studded on one side with countless blossoms and terminates in a fringe-like growth mingled with blossoms. It is well worth seeing, and is an interesting subject of study for the botanist.

Two False Alarms.

The efficiency of our fire system is being pretty thoroughly tested. Almost every day or night there are one or more false alarms of fire, and the brigade boys, though none the worse for the "practice" given them, are getting tired of it. Last night two false alarms brought the boys out, one about nine o'clock and the other an hour later. The first alarm was caused by a burning brush heap in the Central Park; the second by a small blaze in a lumber pile on Water street near Mr. T. Menzies' residence, that only required a few pails of water. The brush heap was allowed to burn; a few seconds sufficed to squelch the other blaze.

Rubidge vs. Fuller.

The Rubidge-Fuller assault case was heard on Tuesday at Lakefield, before Justices John Hall and J. W. Moore. The charge was considered proven, and the defendant fined $12 and $6.50 costs and bound over to keep the peace. The counter charge, to have been heard at the Court House to-day, was withdrawn. Mr. E. B. Edwards appeared for the complainant, and Mr. John Burnham for defendant.

Destroyed by Fire.

The residence and barns of Mr. O'Leary, at Indian River, were with their contents totally destroyed by fire Monday evening. It is supposed the buildings were struck by lightning. The estimated loss was $2,500. The house and contents were insured for $450, and the barn and contents for $650, in the Agricultural of Watertown, Mr. J. A. Hartley, Agent Peterborough.

DEATH CLAIMS PRANZINI.

A PARIS MURDERER UNDER THE KNIFE OF THE GUILLOTINE.

A Mob of Twenty Thousand Persons Surrounds the Prison and Yells as the Criminal Dies—He Protests His Innocence and Refuses to Confess.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Pranzini, the murderer of Marie Regnault, her servant and the latter's little girl, was guillotined this morning in Paris at 5 o'clock. Pranzini, who was ghastly pale, was led by four of the executioner's assistants. As he neared the scaffold he faltered for a moment, then turning with a smile of agony he kissed the crucifix and then walked forward. The next instant the knife fell and Pranzini had expiated his crime Fully 20,000 people surrounded the prison.

Pransini made no confession. Vast crowds waited about the place of execution during the whole of the night and kept up a constant howling and yelling. The din was horrible. When the chaplain, who was to officiate at the execution, arrived at 4.30 a.m. the mass of people was so great that he was almost prevented from reaching the gate of the prison. Pranzini marched from his cell to the scaffold with a firm step and defiant air. When the executioners seized him the murderer resisted and fought desperately, demanding that they let him alone. The executioners overpowered him and threw him upon the machine, and in an instant had him securely bound. Immediately the terrible knife was started. It descended with horrible slowness at first, but then its movement quickened and the head of the murderer rolled into the basket. The mob outside became very disorderly during the progress of the execution.

The Murderer Refused to Confess.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Pranzini was awakened out of a sound sleep at 4.45 o'clock by the jailers. Father Beauquesne, Chaplain of La Rouquette, entered the prisoner's cell and exhorted him to be courageous. Pranzini replied that he had no fear, but regretted that the only favor he had asked—that of permission to see his mother—had been refused. He reiterated his profession of innocence and refused to make confession to the priest, saying, "Father, you do your duty; I will do mine."

While being dressed for the block, he declared he was glad that his life was to be taken, as he preferred death to penal servitude for life. He reproached Chief of Police Taylor for having called, as Pranzini alleged, false witnesses against him during his trial.

When he had been conducted to the scaffold he appeared to be quite calm and displayed considerable assurance. He kissed the crucifix presented to him by the priest, but he refused to kiss the priest when the latter proffered the farewell embrace. Pranzini was at this moment skilfully grasped and suddenly thrown upon the guillotine. Its great knife fell and the murderer's head was severed from his body. The head was at once placed in a wagon and carried at a gallop to the Ivey Cemetery, where it was buried after the regular funeral ceremony had been performed over it. The Faculty of Medicine claimed the body and it was surrendered to them.

THE TRIPLE MURDER.

The Crime of the Rue Montaigne for Which Pranzini was Executed.

During the last two years there have been several murders in Paris of women of loose character by men who stole their jewels and money. Among the most sensational of these was the murder last March of Marie Regnault, her servant and the latter's little girl.

Marie Regnault occupied a suite of rooms in the Rue Montaigne in an apartment house, where the people raised no objection to Mme. Regnault as an immoral person until she began to be so indiscriminate in her male visitors as to cause distrust of the honesty of some of them. In fact, the concierge said to her:

"Madame, you admit all kinds of men—perfect strangers even—to your rooms, and some day we shall all wake up with our throats cut."

One morning her door remained closed until a late hour, and, as no sound was heard inside, the concierge finally ventured into her room, where she was found dead beside her bed with her throat cut. The servant, who was partly dressed, was found also dead at the door leading back toward her own room, and her little girl was found gashed by the same weapon—a huge carving knife—in her room.

Evidently robbery had been the motive of murders, for Mme. Marie's jewelry was missing and the whole place had been searched for other valuables. About $20,000 worth of bonds and securities had escaped the assassin's notice. There was little clue to the murderer's identity. He had left the house early and no one had seen him.

Several days later, however, it was learned that a portion of Mme. Regnault's jewelry was in the hands of some disreputable women in Marseilles. They willingly gave it up to the police, and said that they had received it from a man named Pranzini. The latter was arrested and confronted with the women. He denied ever having seen them, and thenceforward his whole defence was a series of persistent denials of everything that would connect him with the murders.

Investigation showed that he had had a wonderful adventurous career—one day with General Skobeloff, the next in Egypt, the next organizing caravans in Asia or gambling at the roulette tables at Monte Carlo. His two passions had been play and women, but chiefly play. On his trial the efforts of the Interrogatories were directed to showing that to satisfy the first he was always ready to satisfy the second.

He was about 30 years old, short, neither very dark nor very fair, a real garcon, the French would say—short, curly hair, very thin at top, brushed smoothly over the square forehead, but a magnificent curly beard and whiskers neatly trimmed like the moustache; small, observant eyes and wonderfully mobile eyebrows; no particular character in the nose or mouth; neck shapely.

He had many encounters with women, and among his effects were several letters from an American girl, apparently wealthy, educated and refined, whom he had seduced. One of the chief witnesses against him was an elderly woman named Mlle. Sabatier, who, as was stated in court, had supported him as his mistress, though nearly old enough to be his mother.

At the time he met Mlle. Sabatier, Pranzini seems to have been abjectly poor. The evidence showed that he even had hardly any linen to wear, and that but for his bonnes fortunes he would have had a good chance of starving.

Pranzini admitted that he got a big knife just before the murder, but maintained that it was given to him by a cutler in exchange for a pocket knife which needed repairing. As to his flight from Paris after the crime, he was panic-stricken at the idea of having left two visiting cards at Marie Regnault's.

His trial began July 9, and on July 13 he was found guilty and sentenced to death. President Grevy's well known antipathy to the death penalty did not prevent him from signing Pranzini's death warrant.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

Negotiations Regarding the Matter Have Long Been Pending at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Assistant Secretary of State Porter said to-day that negotiations relating to the fisheries have long been pending, but what the character of the negotiations is it would not be proper to state. The object is to secure a satisfactory adjustment of the differences which have arisen between Great Britain and the United States on this subject. No conclusion of any kind has been reached nor can it be stated when, if at all, one will be reached. Under the present laws the department has no power to create a commission or to appoint a commission. All that the department could do would be to arrange a place of adjustment and determine the details and in making negotiations of that sort the regular agents of the department would be used.

The Fishery Commission.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Francis Sharp Powell, M.P. for Wigan, and the Earl of Dunraven, will probably accompany Mr. Chamberlain to America as members of the Fishery Commission. It is likely that Jesse Collins, M.P. for Birmingham, will also be of the party, but in an unofficial capacity.

A MUCH BETTER ASPECT.

Recent Events Have a Good Effect on the New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—There was a complete revulsion in the temper of the stock market to-day from the depressed and demoralized feeling of yesterday. The official announcement of the taking over by a foreign syndicate of the securities of the Oregon Transcontinental Company and the payment of its debts, together with the sale of the Baltimore and Ohio Express, which was believed to indicate that the other Baltimore and Ohio interests, embracing the Baltimore and Ohio Railway and Telegraph Company, had also been practically sold to Mr. Gould, thus settling the long-pending "B. & O. deal," were the most important events on the stock market in the last two or three months, and give the future of the market a very much better aspect.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Collision at Malton—"Squib" Mitchell Remanded—Notes From the Hospital.

TORONTO, Sept. 1.

Allie Shaw, a young girl who some time ago made herself notorious at Detroit and Hamilton by associating with fast people, and afterwards being rescued by the police and sent to her friends in this city, charged Thomas McCarthy, a young "Jim dandy" in the Police Court yesterday with expectorating in her face on the street. McCarthy used a patent squirter in the shape of a breast pin, from which he made a fusillade of Florida water into the girl's face. She mistook the mixture for a liquid insult and McCarthy was summoned for assault. His explanation of the affair satisfied Miss Shaw and he was allowed to go.

Two Grand Trunk Railway freight trains collided at Malton station yesterday, resulting in several thousand dollars damages. As a westbound freight was ascending the steep grade near that town several of the cars became detached and ran back to the station, colliding with a side-tracked freight. The western express train, leaving Toronto at 12.20, was delayed for several hours till the track was cleared.

Tom Buckley, who was shot on Adelaide-street west on Tuesday morning, is progressing favorably at the hospital. The bullet was extracted yesterday, and if blood poisoning does not set in there is every prospect of a speedy recovery.

There are twenty-two cases of typhoid fever being treated in the hospital. Many of the patients come from the country.

Lou Sievert, the victim of the vitriol-throwing incident, is still in hospital, but is making good progress considering the serious nature of his case.

"Squib" Mitchell, who Elizabeth Ann Griffith, aged 16, claims assaulted her in William Rowe's lodging house early yesterday morning, was in the Police Court yesterday and was remanded till Monday for a hearing. Magistrate Denison refused bail, adding that Mitchell was charged with a capital offence. The girl will be held as a witness.

George Baker, arrested in North Toronto Monday evening on a charge of stealing a horse and buggy from Thomas Somerville of Newmarket, was acquitted in the Police Court yesterday. As he had a revolver in his possession when arrested he was fined $20 and costs.

The amount of customs dues collected at this port for August was $465,256, an increase of $25,125 over August of last year.

The Demonstration Committee of the Trades and Labor Council and the District Assembly of the K. of L. met last night. It was decided to hold the Labor Demonstration on Saturday, Oct. 1. The procession, particulars as to the formation of which will be announced shortly, will proceed through the principal streets to the Toronto Baseball Grounds, where a program of athletic sports will be gone through with. Quite a number of prizes have been donated. The various committees were appointed. Communications were received from outside bodies signifying their intention of taking part in the demonstration, which, it is expected, will be one of the finest ever held in Toronto.

Yesterday Sergeant Detective Hebura brought to Police Headquarters two well-dressed American thieves who had been in town for a week. They were photographed and ordered to leave town. One is Edward D. Allen, alias Red Allen, alias Red Dan, alias P. H. Davis, and the other George Moss, alias Howard. They both left the city last evening.

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL.

Nothing Done Yet to Fill the Vacancy Caused by Judge Cameron's Death.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—No information has been received by the Department of Justice with reference to the result of the proceedings for the extradition of the murderers of McLeish.

Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, was in Vancouver to-day. He is expected to return here on Sept. 10, about which time Hon. Messrs. White and McLelan will also return.

There will be a Cabinet meeting to-morrow, but it is not expected that any business beyond routine will be transacted until more members are here.

It is understood that no action so far has been taken with reference to filling the vacancy caused by the death of Chief Justice Cameron, and nothing may be done before the return of the Minister of Justice.

The Land Act in Operation.

DUBLIN, Aug. 30.—Numerous tenant farmers in County Limerick have instructed their solicitors to apply for a revision of rents under the new land act.

MEETING OF THE MEDICOS.

THE CANADIAN ASSOCIATION IN SESSION AT HAMILTON.

The Local Medical Society Welcomes the Delegates to the City—The Address of the President-elect, Dr. J. E. Graham of Toronto.

HAMILTON, Aug. 31.—The twelfth annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association was convened here to-day in the school room of St. Paul's church. Dr. Holmes of Chatham, president of the association, was in the chair. Less than a hundred physicians were present when the meeting opened this morning, but nearly as many more arrived during the day.

After Dr. Holmes' opening address an address of welcome on behalf of the Hamilton Medical Society was delivered by Dr. McCargow. Dr. J. E. Graham of Toronto replied.

The following new members were elected: Dr. Cockburn, Dr. Biggar, Dr. Reynolds, Hamilton; Dr. McDermid, Dundas; Dr. Evans, Seaforth; Dr. D. L. Ross, Windsor; Dr. McGraw of Detroit, and Dr. Osler of Philadelphia. Visitors to the association were welcomed and invited to seats on the platform.

The president made the following appointments: Medical Section—Dr. Mathieson of St. Marys, Chairman; Dr. Bruce Smith of Seaforth, Secretary. Surgical section, Dr. Bray of Chatham, Chairman; Dr. Pickard of Thamesville, Secretary.

After adjournment the members of the association visited the Asylum for the Insane.

In the afternoon the president-elect, Dr. J. E. Graham, delivered his annual address, in course of which he urged the necessity of maintaining a high standard in the profession, spoke encouragingly of the present condition of the profession in Canada, and reflected severely on doctors who take contracts to attend members of secret society lodges.

Two important papers were read and discussed, the first one a medical paper by Dr. McPhedran of Toronto, on the pathological conditions of behavior of the fluid of empyema. The diagnosis and treatment of this condition were discussed by Doctors Mullion of Hamilton, Stewart of Montreal, and Whitehead and Teskey of Toronto.

Dr. Grassett of Toronto read a surgical paper on obstructed urinary flow, and it was discussed by Doctors Kingston of Montreal and Sir James Grant of Ottawa.

In the medical section Dr. Macdonnell of Montreal read a paper on diphtheria, and Dr. Aikens of Toronto discussed the subject of the detection of typhoid bacilli in drinking water.

In the surgical section Dr. Malloch of Hamilton analyzed the reports of nineteen cases of diphtheritic sore throat.

This evening a conversazione was held, at which there was music, addresses and refreshments.

THE GARNISHEED CITIZEN.

A Parade of Judgment Debtors in the County Court at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—There was quite a levee at the County Court this morning, some eighty or ninety of the judgment debtors on the books of The Citizen Printing and Publishing Company appearing before Judge Lyon to defend themselves from the garnishee issued at the instance of the Canada Paper Co. for a debt of $1823.22, for which judgment was obtained in the High Court of Justice in April, 1885.

Mr. McLean, on behalf of the plaintiff, applied for a garnishee of debtors to the advertising columns of The Citizen.

Mr. Ferguson, who appeared for the judgment debtors, objected to the proceedings on the ground that many of them knew nothing of any indebtedness to the paper. Mr. W. Gibbins, the manager of The Citizen, Mr. Ferguson contended, had not made a positive affidavit that all these debts were all due, and secondly, he had not been manager long enough to know for a fact when these amounts were due and how long such advertising debtors were on the books. He moved for an order to set aside the garnishee.

His Honor, Judge Lyon, took a favorable view of Mr. Ferguson's contention, but in order to consider the objections thoroughly postponed decision until Sept. 19.

There are 380 debtors on the Citizens' ledger, the amount owing aggregating between $12,000 and $14,000.

COLOROW HAS HAD ENOUGH.

He and His Band March to an Agency and Say They Want No More Fighting.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—The Denver News has the following despatch from Wintah Agency, Utah, Aug. 28, via Green River, Wyo., Aug. 31: "Colorow and all his band arrived at Omay Agency at 1.30 p.m. last Saturday and say they want no more fighting. The Indians on both these reservations were very much excited until assured that Colorado troops would not come on the reserve. Everything is quiet here. At 9 p.m. the Indian chiefs were all in a council of peace. (Signed) B. DUDLEY WILLIAMS, M.D., Agency Physician."

Sale of Express Privileges.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The plant, franchise and business of the Baltimore and Ohio Express Company have been sold to the United States Express Company for a period of thirty years. The United States Company will take possession to-morrow. The price paid is said to be $2,500,000.

A FISHERIES DEPARTMENT

NEWFOUNDLAND AT LAST REALIZES THE VALUE OF SUCH A BUREAU.

Jubilee Celebrations on the Island—Birth of the Fishery—Better News From Labrador—A Great Improvement in the Northern Prospects.

Correspondence of The Montreal Gazette.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Aug. 24.—It will be a surprise to most people to learn that Newfoundland, one of the largest fishing countries in the world, has never yet had a Governmental Department of Fisheries. Consequently, among the Government officials, there is no one specially charged with the oversight of the staple industry of the country, on which the great bulk of the people are dependent for their bread. There is no bureau to collect and tabulate the annual statistics of the various fisheries; no report on their condition is presented to the Legislature from year to year, in which their advance or decline might be recorded, and suggestions made for their improvement or for removing existing evils or introducing new modes of fishing, or presenting information in regard to the fisheries of other countries. The consequence is that our main industry is in an unorganized condition. When the Legislature takes up questions connected with the fisheries there is a want of accurate official information on which enactments might be based. No means have been adopted for the introduction of fish culture which is now carried on elsewhere with such satisfactory results. The fisheries, in other words, have been left to take care of themselves. In vain have all these evils been pointed out for years past. Our politicians were too much absorbed in party warfare to pay attention to such matters; and all our Governments, in succession, have been indifferent to one of the most important considerations connected with the prosperity of the country.

The evils flowing from this negligence have at last made themselves felt. The Government took up the matter last session, and the Legislature authorized them to appoint a commission "to inquire into and report on the operations of fisheries departments in other countries, with the view to the establishment of a similar department here." The commission have held two meetings. The Hon. A. W. Harvey, a member of the Legislative Council, has been appointed chairman; Mr. P. J. Scott, a member of the House of Assembly, local secretary; and the Rev. M. Harvey, corresponding secretary. Communications have been opened with the Department of Fisheries in Canada, the United States, England and Norway. One of the first things to be aimed at will be to secure the services of a thoroughly qualified person to inquire into the condition of our various fisheries, and to organize and superintend a department of fisheries suited to our requirements. The introduction of fish-hatcheries for restocking our exhausted rivers with salmon, and our bays and seas areas in which cod are becoming more and more scarce, with that valuable fish, will be one of the first duties of a superintendent, who must be an expert in all such matters. It has been satisfactorily proved that cod can be multiplied artificially to any extent, just as readily as salmon or fresh water fish. In a number of our bays and coastal fishing grounds, where cod were once abundant, they are now comparatively scarce, and apprehensions are felt lest this state of matters should get worse. To restore such localities to their original productiveness would be an immense boon. Norway is now extensively engaged in the artificial breeding of cod with complete success. Several hatcheries are at work at different points. I have seen a report of one of these for last year. It is therein stated that in three years this single hatchery had placed 69,000,000 young cod in the sea. Supposing that 50 per cent of these came to maturity, what an increase to the stock! The cod is a local fish and obeys the great law of all fish life by returning to the waters in which it first scares to life, for feeding and also for reproductive purposes. Hence it is that, by due means, depleted areas may be restored to productiveness. When the commission presents its report to the Legislature there can be little doubt that an improvement will be founded thereon of a comprehensive and satisfactory character, and an intelligent supervision of our fisheries will thus at length be established.

There is not any marked change in the condition of the fisheries since the date of my last letter. The news from Northern Labrador, received a fortnight ago, was very unfavorable. Southern Labrador was fairly the northern bays of Newfoundland nearly all reported fish as scarce; south and west the fisheries are good; the bank fishery is excellent. The next news from Labrador, which is expected hourly, will be decisive as to the fishery there this season, and is awaited with much anxiety, as a great deal depends this year on the fishery in that quarter. The price of the best merchantable fish at present is $3.60 per quintal.

Tried to Hide a Case of Suicide.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—Samuel Sparks, a once wealthy man, ended his life with a dose of poison yesterday on account of his loss of fortune. His wife tried to keep his suicide from being public, and after much difficulty procured a burial permit without giving the real cause of death. The coroner learned of the matter in time to stop the ceremonies at the grave, and with the mourning relatives and friends surrounding him conducted an inquest, after which he assisted in the last sad rites.

THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Another annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural society has come and gone, and there is again need of our annual appeal to the generosity, gratitude and sympathy of our citizens. In no respect was the exhibition a measure of the capabilities of the town and Ashburnham in any of the departments represented. Those who did exhibit, did themselves credit, but the lack is in the number of exhibitors. The society is not in that condition in which it should be, considering the importance of the constituency it represents. Instead of a membership of some sixty or seventy, there should be a membership of ten times that number. There is no reason why this numerical strength should not be secured. There are hundreds of persons whose duty it is to encourage such an enterprise. There are scores of others who are in a position to become successful exhibitors, who take no apparent interest in the matter. All the essential conditions are present in town for the existance of a flourishing society, with a membership reckoned by hundreds instead of tens—except one—and that is the taking of an active interest. There exists here a wide-spread and general love of flowers, as attested by their extensive and general culture, and by the town supporting, and supporting well, two extensive floral establishments. It is a pity that some successful means cannot be devised to awaken a general interest in the work of the Society. It is deserving of it, both from its objects and aims and from the practical work it has effected. Whatever discouragement it has met, it has been a success. Though its exhibitions have not been phenomenally successful, yet the public are liberally reaping the rewards of its persistent efforts outside of its exhibitions. To the work and efforts of the society the citizens of Peterborough are chiefly indebted for possessing and having the use and enjoyment of the most beautiful park, size considered, in the Dominion, and now another equally beautiful, barring the lack of certain natural conditions, is well under way. It is true that the public money to a certain extent has been contributed for these objects, but it is safe to say, that, had it not been for the energetic and persistent work of the Society the town would have neither of these parks which are so gratifying a source of pardonable pride and genuine enjoyment. It is only indifference which prevent a practical recognition of the public debt of gratitude due the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society. General appeals seem to have no effect. Every body is willing to admit that the Society is deserving of more liberal support, and everybody is apparently willing to let somebody else do the encouraging. Surely some means could be hit upon to waken the public from the condition of apathy—apathy, however, is not the word—inaction, for the public feel grateful to the society but not deeply enough to crystallize their sentiments into action. We believe that if the ladies took the matter in hand, became organized and made up their minds to bring about certain results in the direction above insisted on, they would effect their undertaking—"for when she will, she will—you may depend on it."

The Water Works Co. and the Council.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—Do the ratepayers know that a scheme is on foot to burden them with sixty thousand dollars for the benefit of the above Company? And do they propose to acquiesce in the success of the above scheme or, do they intend to resist it and so protect themselves. It is not enough that the ratepayers now annually pay this company some three or four thousand dollars, from which many of them do not receive any benefit, and then in addition, to issue the bonds of the town for sixty thousand dollars more, ostensibly as a loan, but in reality to make money, advanced to the Company, and which it cannot and will not pay. There is a "nigger in the fence" somewhere, and I suspect he will be found in the Council Chamber. And if there is, his name will be dragged into the light of day, and he will be consigned to eternal infamy and disgrace. Let the conduct of Councillors and Mayor, in this matter, be watched, and then let the people put their foot upon every man of them who aids the Company to swindle the town.

Rutherford; first Vice-President, John McClelland; second Vice President, Robert Vance; Messrs. Garbutt, Collins, Davidson, Fitzgerald, Fair, Foster and Redmond. Among the business of importance transacted, was the addition to the prize list of an award for "one year old entire colts," in classes 1, 2 and 4, the amount to be the same as allowed for section 2 in each class. Some business of minor importance, relating to the affairs of the Society, was completed.

At a previous meeting of the Society, the following gentlemen were appointed judges; Mr. Prattley, Ashburnham, for poultry; David Watt, Port Hope, grain, seeds, roots, etc., with Mr. Walker Needler, Millbrook, as a substitute; W. Cook, Belleville, butter, cheese and miscellaneous; M. Mitchell, Port Hope, fruit, garden vegetables, and plants; Dr. Smith, V.S., Toronto, and Dr. Willoughby, Colborne, blood horses; Wm. Guy, Oshawa, grades; sheep, long wool, W. E. Swain, Valentia, and T. G. Hodgkins, Brooklin; sheep, short wool, Thos. Shaw, Hamilton, of the Stock Journal, and H. Spencer, Brooklin; swine, John Collis, Fenelon Falls. Mrs. McKibbon was appointed Lady Superintendent, and Miss Galletly, assistant.

The directors contemplate devoting $300 as a purse for a horse trot, open to the world. The Secretaries' file is already crowded with entries. This year's exhibition promises to be more successful than any preceding ones.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

The Baseball Scores—Other Items of Interest to Sportsmen.

SARATOGA, N.Y., Aug. 31.—The regatta on Saratoga Lake was inaugurated this afternoon by trial heats. There was a large crowd present. The surface of the lake was dotted with small boats and the races were watched with interest. The course extended three quarters of a mile up the lake, the distance to be rowed being three miles. Previous to the race the contestants drew for positions. Toemer was assigned to Ross, Hamm to Lee and Bubcar to Plaisted. Wright Sanford of New York was chosen referee, A. R. Purdy of New York, timer, H. C. Blodgett, judge on the boat, and C. E. Teft, jr., judge at the finish.

The first heat was between Hamm and Lee and the race was given to the latter, although he finished last and was outrowed by Hamm, because Hamm did not turn his stake on the third turn.

The second heat called was between Bubcar and Plaisted, but on the first stroke the oar of the former snapped and he was precipitated into the water. He was towed ashore and the heat was deferred.

Toemer and Ross then made their appearance. After the last turn both men settled down for home. Toemer was a length ahead and kept it until near the finish, when he spurted and finished several lengths ahead; time 20 mins.

Bubcar and Plaisted then rowed their heat, which was won by Bubcar in 21.06.

To-morrow afternoon the final heats will be rowed, Toemer, Bubcar and Lee being the contestants.

Declared a Draw.

THE THISTLE SHOWS HER SPEED.

These Who Saw Her Performance Change Their Opinion Regarding Her.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The yacht Thistle took her second spin to-day over the New York Yacht Club course. She started at 10.50 a.m. There was so little wind at the time that, even with the assistance of the big club topsail she had set, her progress was made almost altogether by the ebb tide. After drifting a quarter of a mile the Thistle came to anchor again and remained so for nearly half an hour, when she picked up a tug and was hauled back to a point above her original anchorage. Then the breeze put in a trifle more force from the northeast and the Thistle stood over for Owl's Head, with sheets hauled aft. Standing from Owl's Head back to Fort Wadsworth the wind shifted around almost to south and blew quite briskly. Her sheets were still belayed aft and what the boat could do was not to be seen.

In the next board, however, from Fort Wadsworth over to Coney Island Point the sheets were trimmed in order and the Thistle got through the water at a mighty lively rate. The breeze was freshening all the time and the yacht heeled over enough to make a beautiful picture. The Staten Island people who expressed no opinions of great admiration of the boat's capabilities on Monday, now admit that she made very fast time. She sailed easily, making hardly any commotion in the water, and having little wake. There seemed to be an improvement caused by the club topsail alone. Anyhow the Thistle showed much better work than on Monday, and even those who were inclined to ridicule the Scotchman a few hours before agreed that she was a very dangerous antagonist.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in gold." Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w34d

THE DOMINION RIFLE MATCHES.

A Record of the Proceedings on the Rideau Ranges.

OTTAWA, Aug. 31.—The weather to-day was magnificent with the exception of the wind, which was shifty and uncertain, and the shooting was consequently not up to the average. A heavy smoke hung over the range early in the morning, but cleared off when the sun was well up, and there was nothing to complain of on the score of light. The only matches concluded to-day were the Minister of Militia and the Standing Match, in the former of which the Queen's Own took the second team prize and Sergt. Ashall took the second individual prize, and in the Standing Match Col.-Sergt. Hewgill, Queen's Own, took first money and Major Delamere, Queen's Own, third. Taking it altogether the Queen's Own did well to-day, as will be seen from the synopsis of the scores given below.

The shooting in the Minister of Militia's Match was below the average of last year, although the first team prize was taken with the same, 157. For the lowest winning team last year the score was 152, while the two lowest this year got in with 156. In the individual prizes Corp. Crowe, 1st R.F.A., took first place with 51, and three forty-twos were counted in, whereas last year Pte. Sands, 45th, took first prize with 50 and four forty-fives were counted out.

The Standing Match cannot fairly be compared with last year, as then it was a Snider match, while this year it is Martini. Still the shooting this year with the Martini was no better than last year with the Snider.

The Dominion of Canada Match was commenced this evening but not completed.

The Latest News.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld, Aug. 25.—The mail steamer Plover arrived last night, and brings news of a great improvement in fishing prospects on Northern Labrador. The fish had as last struck in, and "the floating craft were doing well." On southern Labrador the fishing was fairly good. There is now reason to hope for a moderately good fishery on the whole of Labrador should the weather continue favorable. The news has had a very cheering and reassuring effect. Prices of fish are looking up a little.

An Elora Saw Mill Burned.

ELORA, Ont., Aug. 31.—Between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning the saw and shingle mill belonging to Thomas Appleyard here was destroyed by fire. How it started is a mystery, as especial care was taken last night not only by the workmen but the proprietor himself to see that everything was safe. About 300 bunches of shingles and 20,000 feet of lumber were destroyed, besides the machinery, which, except the boiler, will be entirely useless. Two thousand dollars will not cover Mr. Appleyard's loss. No insurance.

Making for Canada.

SACO, Me., Aug. 31.—Frank McNulty, clerk in the Saco and Biddeford Savings Bank, at Saco, was left in charge of the bank by Treasurer H. M. Kelly while the latter went to Kennebunk on Monday. McNulty is 19 years old. He made up the cash, and having the combination of the safe took a large amount of money and about $20,000 in bonds. The bonds are registered and will be of no use to him. McNulty left for Boston on Monday night, and took the boat for Yarmouth, N.S., it is supposed. His brother, Harry, has gone to Montreal in search of him and detectives are on his track.

Foreign Capital Coming In.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The Post says an arrangement has been entered into between the Oregon and Transcontinental Company and a foreign syndicate headed by the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, in pursuance of which almost the entire floating debt of the Oregon and Transcontinental Company will be paid off immediately. It is understood about $6,000,000 will be applied immediately to this purpose. This amount, with the amount due Kept. 1 for one-third of the $7,000,000 of Iron Mountain bonds recently negotiated by Mr. Gould, will bring over $8,000,000 of money into the New York money market within the next week.

A Conservative Re-Elected.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—In the Parliamentary election to fill the vacancy in the Ramsey North Division of Huntington, caused by the acceptance by William Henry Fellows, Conservative, of an office under the Crown, he was re-elected over Mr. Saunders, the Gladstonian candidate, 2700 to 2416. In the last election Fellows was unopposed, and as the Liberals this time came within 285 of capturing the district, they regard the result as additional proof of the change of English public opinion in favor of Gladstone's Irish policy.

Ferdinand is Going to Travel.

SOFIA, Aug. 31.—It is rumored that Prince Ferdinand is going on a European tour. It is stated that the Prince has given serious offence to officials of the Government and to military officers by the hauteur which characterized his intercourse with them.

Fire at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Aug. 31.—The Lowell Telegraphic Company's works were damaged by fire to-day. A large amount of finished work was ruined by smoke and water. Loss, about $8000. Partly covered by insurance.

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner of Neebing, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system he has ever taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w34d

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

An Undoubted Opinion.

Junior Lacrosse.

A team of the "Shamrock" lacrosse club of Peterborough, played a Keene club at that village yesterday, winning by three straight games, after about three hour's hard play. The Shramrocks accuse the Keene boys of "slugging," and exhibit plenty of cuts and bruises in support of their statement.

How to Spend the Evenings.

The September and night classes in shorthand instruction, at the Mechanic's Institute, have been formed at reduced rates. Here is a golden opportunity to acquire a knowledge of the "lightning art" by a series of evening lessons. For rates, etc., see the advertisement of Miss E. Harper, teacher, in another column.

Hotel-Keepers Purse.

The Directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition have decided to enlarge the prizes offered under the heading, "Hotel Keeper's Purse", to two hundred dollars, open for all horses in harness, speed to be considered, mile heats, best three in five. 1st prize, $100, 2nd $60, 3rd $40. Ten per cent. entrance fee will be charged for this class, not less than four to enter and three to start. Pacers barred.

Per SS. Norwegian.

Direct importations forcash from the manufactories in Dundee, Scotland, made specially for Sheppard, Peterborough's Great Cheapside, will cause a panic in prices this Fall. Carpets are a marvel of cheapness. The wide pure wool flannel at 20 cents would be cheap at 30 cents. You can save money on every purchase. Go straight to Sheppard's for good goods, cheap. The Town Clock overhead, Peterborough. 3d53

Errors of the List.

In the prize list of the Horticultural Society, published Wednesday, there were a few errors. In class 4, the "Painting in Oil, portrait," prize taken by Mrs. J. M. Masson, should have read, "Painting in Oil, landscape." Then the prize for painting in water colors, flowers, and for drawing in pencil, which were credited to Mrs. F. J. Jameson, were also won by Mrs. Masson. In class 6, was "Plush and Arrasene work, (commended) Miss Mills," whereas Miss Henry should have received credit for the same.

They Must Go.

Mr. James Alexander intends retiring from the dry-goods business in Peterborough. The public will regret this, for his name and that of his establishment have become household words in town and country. Yet Mr. Alexander is his own master and he has so decided. He will, to effect an early closing of his affairs and complete clearance of his stock, sell out his present stock, all fresh and seasonable goods at whatever reduction may ensure his object. All his fine stock of goods laid in new this season will be offered at cost. The goods must go and go at cost. The reduced tariff of prices goes into effect on Saturday, Sept. 3rd. This is the greatest chance for bargains offered in years.

Turnbull has just received an Immense Shipment of Fall Dress Goods. The value and styles are right. Inspection invited.

A Commendable Plan.

The EXAMINER has before it a postal card containing the half-yearly announcement of the Woodstock Collegiate Institute, Mr. D. H. Hunter, B.A., Principal. It contains the course of study and the "Special Features," which for the edification of our own School Board may be given:

"A thoroughly competent and efficient staff of five specialists.

The building, including class and waiting rooms unsurpassed in the Province.

A laboratory well supplied with apparatus to illustrate experiments in physics and chemistry.

An excellent reference library for the use of the pupils.

Written examinations bi-monthly, and pupils are promoted as soon as they are competent to take up the work of higher classes.

A vigorous literary society every Friday evening.

Town healthy, pretty and progressive.

Eight religious denominations represented.

Good board in private families at from $2.50 to $3.00 per week."

The announcement also contains the record of the Institute for 1887, and a list of the teachers and their qualifications. This is an economical and excellent plan to bring the Institute into prominence with the public and is worth while the consideration of the local educational authorities.

PUT your foot in it! In what? Why in one of KIDD'S easy-fitting boots; and you can't help buying a pair when you hear the price.

Lindsay's Lamentation.

Because Peterborough Athletes Down Everything at the R. C. Picnic.

Yesterday was Lindsay's civic holiday, and the day was celebrated by a monster picnic at the agricultural grounds, under the auspices of St. Mary's church. The picnic was an entire success, the attendance large and sports well contested. Quite a number from Peterborough went up on the 8:15 train.

THE FIRST WIN.

At 10:30 a.m. the "Riversides," of Peterborough, and Y. M. C. A club, of Lindsay, began a lacrosse match for a silver cup, valued at $20. Four goals were scored by the "Riversides" after an hour and a half's play, against none by their opponents. First goal was taken by Eaton, second by Duncan, third by Begley and the fourth by Phelan. Following are the "Riversides'" team—

G. McCabe	Goal
A. Ross	Point
T. Meagher	Cover Point
J. Meagher	1st Defence
A. Eaton	2nd Defence
M. Halpin	3rd Defence
F. Larose	Centre
J. Phelan	3rd Home
J. Begley	2nd Home
L. Squires	1st Home
H. Nail	Outside Home
T. Duncan	Inside Home
W. Rudkins	Captain
J. O'Meara	Umpire
Dr. Brennan	Referee

THE SECOND WIN.

The most exciting an interesting feature of the sports was the baseball match between the Peterborough and Lindsay clubs, which occurred in the afternoon. This, too, resulted in a victory for the visitors, though the game had a most unsatisfactory conclusion. The Lindsay men claimed a "block ball" in the ninth innings, but this was disallowed by the umpire, whereupon the Lindsay men refused to play and the game was given to Peterborough on a score of 9 to 0. The result, though, could scarcely be in doubt, as the score was a tie, 10-10, with Peterborough an innings to go.

For Peterborough Fitzgerald pitched a puzzling curve ball, and was admirably supported by Landy. The field work too was good, and our boys are deserving of credit for the manner in which they reduced a most discouraging state of the score in the fore part of the game to their own favor. Towards the last the Peterboroughs began to pound Little all over the field. Little pitched well also, but the visitors "got on to him" and gave the Lindsay fielders a lively time, Brennan in particular "slugging" the ball right and left.

Mr. Harry Long umpired the game to the general satisfaction, only in the ninth innings when the Lindsay men, knowing no other way to avoid certain defeat, fell to the old "reliable" method of kicking against the umpire's decision. It didn't work, though, and the handsome silver cup was awarded the Peterboroughs.

It, as well as the one taken by the Riversides, are on exhibition in G. C. Clarke's store. Following is the official score, etc.:—

Peterborough.		Lindsay.
Landy	catcher	Bates
Metherall	1st base	McAdams
Fitzgerald	pitcher	Little
Callahan	2nd base	McCrimmon
Brennan	centre field	Hungerford
Galley	3rd base	Sisson
Moore	left field	Robinson
Kincaid	shortstop	Gladstone
Squire	right field	Needler

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Lindsay	1	4	2	0	2	0	0	0	1—10
Peterborough	0	1	1	1	0	3	2	2	x—10

The runs for Peterborough were made as follows:—Landy 2, Callahan 2, Brennan 3, Galley, Kincaid and Squire 1 each.

In the second innings, a foul "tip" struck umpire Long in the face and cut an ugly little gash over his left eye. Dr. Brennan dressed the cut and the game went on as before.

SEVERAL MORE WINS.

During the afternoon a programme of minor sports was carried out. In all the principal events in which any Peterborough men entered they carried off the prizes. Archie Moore won the 100 yds. foot race, winning a silver cup; A. Ross, 2nd, a three dollar prize. Moore also took first prize in the hop, step and jump, and Rose first in the high jump. The half mile foot race (professional) was won by Rose, with Squire second; time 2.15. Mr. M. Bird, another Peterborough athlete, not wishing to re-enter the ranks of professionalism, kept out of the race, but afterwards gave an exhibition run, making the half mile in 2.13. The prize for the above sports were the best in the list. The other events were unimportant.

Mr. T. McNaughton, of Peterborough, gave an exhibition of Indian Club swinging which was greatly admired. The Irish pipe selections, by Mr. T. Hayes, were also highly appreciated

Lindsay Citizens' Band furnished the music for the day. A fine orchrestra was also present for dancing.

Upon returning home in the evening, the Peterborough delegation, headed by the Irish pipes, formed in procession and made a triumphal march through the streets. Everyone was greatly pleased at the success of our boys in Lindsay—except the Lindsay athletes and their friends, who would have preferred keeping the best prizes at home.

Literary Notes.

SHOPPELL'S MODERN HOUSES. The EXAMINER has received a copy of this excellent architectural and building periodical. It is the monthly form of a quarterly formerly issued under the auspices of the "Co-operative Building Plan Association of Architects," 63, Broadway, N.Y. This publication is devoted to the practical development, improvement and facilitation of domestic architecture. Its chief feature of merit is its extremely practical nature. Every number contains complete plans of medium sized and cost prepared with a view to convenience, economy and sanitary requirements, the result of the combined experience and wisdom of the different architects composing the guild. Every monthly number consists of twenty large quarto pages, chock full of valuable building information, including plans, elevations, and other illustrations in great profusion, together with carefully prepared estimates, etc. It is admirably adapted for the busy builder whose leisure does not admit of his devoting time to the preparation of plans for his clients. It is worth many times its price to the young carpenter, who by a careful study of "Modern Houses" will gain knowledge that will fit him for eminence in his trade. Its cheapness brings it within the reach of all. Single copies, only ten cents; $1 per year. Specimen copies may be seen at the EXAMINER office.

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The last shreds of the harvest in this locality are gathered in, and the farmers are busily engaged sowing fall wheat, quite a number beginning last Monday.

The kerosene gas well at Pallin's is still throwing forth, and in larger quantity. Mr. Leary has recommenced boring, and intends going down two hundred feet.

A citizen of Keene paid the prospective Rawdon coal mine a visit last week. It seems that the coal is not found below the old Trent limestone of this district, but above it. The workers have made a hole about twenty feet deep and twelve or fifteen feet wide (so says my informant), where they have struck a black rock, out of a fissure of which flows a strong spring. The pit is on sloping ground, and the workers get rid of the water by a deep cut leading to the valley. The first eight feet down is through ordinary earth, the lower depth of twelve feet is through a den e, fine-grained, greyish-white clay, which is distinctly stratafied. May it not be possible that this stratafied clay overlies coal, and that the coal in turn overlies the Trent limestone? At least, the matter is worth investigating, since coal in small quantity has certainly been found.

The steamer Golden Eye called at our skeleton wharf yesterday for a party of excursionists. The excursion was not largely patronized, the fear that spirits might be aboard preventing many from going.

Mathor's Corners is favored as being the residence of Mr. W. J. Campbell, their popular teacher, who has lately taken to himself a bonny bride, Miss Kidd, of Warsaw. Long may they live in health, peace and plenty—with happiness assured.

The marriage of James Arthur McCann to Miss Mary A. Keneally, of this place, caused a flutter of surprise among the young people here.

THE FISHERIES QUESTION.

WHO WILL REPRESENT CANADA ON THE COMMISSION?

It is Thought at Ottawa That if Sir John Macdonald is not Our Representative Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, Will Be.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—There is a good deal of quiet excitement in official circles with regard to the Fisheries Commission, and some curiosity as to the scope it will have; that is, whether it will be confined to defining the territorial limits of the Canadian waters from which American fishermen are to be excluded; to providing machinery for the speedy trial of offenders and prescribing regulations for the protection of Canadian rights under the Treaty of 1818, as was foreshadowed in the correspondence on the subject laid before Parliament last session; or whether its scope will be enlarged so as to include the commercial question as well. The general impression is that the scope of the commission will be confined to the definition of the rights of both countries under the treaty of 1818 and that the commercial question will not be touched at all. But this cannot be ascertained until the arrival of the despatch containing the ipsissima verba of the agreement entered into between Great Britain and the United States, which cannot very well be for a week or ten days. Sir John Macdonald declined to be interviewed with reference to the composition or scope of the commission and preferred not saying anything about the matter until he was in possession of the exact wording of the agreement.

Should Sir John be unwilling to act, then the feeling here seems to be in favor of Hon. Mr. Thompson. If the labors of the commission are to be confined to the definition of the treaty of 1818, then the question will be almost wholly one of law, and any layman would be at a serious disadvantage. Sir Charles Tupper has made himself very familiar with the subject and would undoubtedly prove an able commissioner, but his lack of legal knowledge may prove a drawback. As the case at present stands it is thought that should Sir John not represent Canada on the commission Hon. Mr. Thompson will.

There was a meeting of council to-day, at which it is understood only departmental business was transacted. The fisheries commission cannot be considered until official notification of its terms has been received.

THE JOINT COMMISSION.

The U.S. Not Yet Officially Notified of Its Creation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The Department of State has not yet been officially advised of Mr. Chamberlain's appointment as president of the Royal Commission charged with the duty of effecting a settlement of the question at issue between the United States and Great Britain concerning the fisheries. While this Government has not yet selected the persons who will be entrusted with the conduct of its interests, yet little difficulty is expected to be met in finding men whose breadth of view and legal acumen will ensure a proper presentation of the interests of the United States and an agreement honorable in terms and satisfactory to the whole country. Secretary Bayard will make it a point that on the questions at issue our representatives shall present an undivided front.

The exact functions of the commission have not been defined. Generally it will consider all of the questions now at issue between the United States and Canada arising from the conflicting claims of the two countries respecting the fisheries, but whether the result of the negotiations, if successful, will be a new treaty or an amicable agreement under the treaty now operative, cannot at present be predicted.

The negotiations with Great Britain have, however, now reached such a phase that Secretary Bayard is encouraged in the belief that a final adjustment of the questions which have vexed the two nations since the expiration of the treaty of Washington is near at hand.

Will Probably Meet at Halifax.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Untily official advised of the appointment of negotiators by the British Government to consider the questions in dispute between the United States and Great Britain relative to the Canadian fisheries, it is probable that no selection will be made of representatives of the United States Government. It is believed at the Department of State that the first conference will be held some time during the fall or next winter. The place of meeting has not been decided upon, but the indications are that the negotiators will meet first in Washington and then proceed to Halifax.

Coffee Jumps Twenty Points.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—At noon to-day coffee had jumped twenty points above the closing last night. The feeling is bullish because reports from South America have every indication of a short crop this year and next. The drouth in Brazil has had a great effect on the September idiosom. The bears say that there is more coffee in the market now than there was ever at one time.

THE DOCTORS' CONGRESS.

DR. ROSS OF MONTREAL ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE BODY.

A Large Number of Medical Men Attend Yesterday's Meeting of the Canadian Medical Association—To Meet Next Year at Ottawa.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—The Canadian Medical Association resumed its session at 10 o'clock this morning. There was a much larger attendance than on the previous day. The following additional names were registered: Dr. Johnston, Montreal; Dr. Mackelcan, Hamilton; Dr. Stuart, Milton; Dr. Harrison, Selkirk; Dr. Ryall, Hamilton; Dr. Malloch, Hamilton; Dr. Irving, Kirkton; Dr. Lowry, Acton; Dr. F. E. Woolverton, Hamilton; Dr. M. S. Griffin, Hamilton; Dr. Ridley, Hamilton; Dr. Herod, Guelph; Dr. H. P. Wright, Ottawa; Dr. R. W. Powell, Ottawa; Dr. G. H. Groves, Carp; Dr. A. Woolverton, Hamilton; Dr. Wilkins, Montreal; Dr. J. Leslie, Hamilton; Dr. T. H. Wilson, Hamilton; Dr. T. Bell, Montreal; Dr. Sterling, Montreal; Dr. W. H. B. Aikens, Toronto; Dr. Strange, Toronto; Dr. Campbell, Seaforth; Dr. Chas. O'Reilly, Toronto General Hospital; Dr. Trenholme, Toronto; Dr. Hawkes, Oil Springs; Dr. A. Lafferty, Hamilton; Dr. Olmstead, Hamilton: Dr. McDonnell, Montreal; Dr. Teskey, Toronto; Dr. Addison, St. George; Dr. Atherton, Toronto; Dr. Cameron, Montreal; Dr. Elder, Huntingdon; Dr. Burgess, Hamilton; Dr. Lundy, Galt; Dr. Gillis, Teeswater; Dr. Gunn, Durham; Dr. Robinson, Markham; Dr. Gardner, Montreal; Dr. Sweetnam, Toronto.

The following gentlemen were elected members: Dr. Hawkes, Oil Springs; Dr. Sterling, Montreal; Dr. Lafferty, Dr. Olmstead, Dr. F. E. Woolverton, Hamilton; Dr. J. N. Elder, Huntingdon; Dr. Lovett, Ayr; Dr. J. B. Lundy, Galt; Dr. Gillis, Teeswater; Dr. Stuart, Milton; Dr. Robinson, Markham.

The paper by Dr. Eccles of London on the subinvolution of the uterus was one of particular interest to those present and provoked an animated discussion, which was taken part in by Dr. Powell of Ottawa, Dr. Cameron of Montreal, Dr. Trenholme of Toronto, Dr. Holmes of Chatham, and Dr. Bantock, the celebrated surgeon of London, England, whose contributions to The Lancet have made his name well known in this country.

At the special request of the members the paper of Dr. Gardner of Montreal on "The Year's Work in Abdominal Surgery" was transferred from the surgical section to the regular session. Dr. Gardner is an ardent admirer of Dr. Bantock, and after the reading of his paper in which a number of exceedingly interesting cases in abdominal surgery which had come under his notice were fully described, Dr. Bantock consented to deliver an impromptu address before the association, taking as his text some of the points raised by Dr. Gardner in his paper. He deprecated the giving of opium and stimulants after cases of abdominal surgery, and also took occasion to object strongly to men performing such operations unless they have extended knowledge and experience in this class of surgery. He advised young men who get such cases to send them to older practitioners having large experience. When he himself began the treatment of cases in abdominal surgery he was unsuccessful in nineteen cases in the first hundred, while in later years the ratio was only about one per cent., showing that practice and experience is an important factor in this description of surgery.

Dr. Rosebrugh of Hamilton and Dr. Hingston of Montreal followed with further illustrations and descriptions of cases, and then Dr. Bantock answered a number of special questions from the members present.

Dr. McCargow, on behalf of the Hamilton Medical and Surgical Society, invited the delegates to take a sail per steamer Mazeppa to the Beach, where luncheon awaited the members.

Afternoon Session.

In the afternoon Dr. Stuart of Montreal delivered an address on the present state of cardiac therapeutics. In the medical section papers were read by Dr. MacDonnell of Montreal on aortic aneurism; Dr. Sterling, Montreal, on the etiology and treatment of conjunctivitis; Dr. Campbell, Seaforth, on albumenuria of pregnancy; Sir James Grant, Ottawa, on renal calculus and Chehne Stokes respiration; Dr. Mills, Montreal, on a physiological basis for an improved cardiac pathology; and Dr. Buller of Montreal, on headaches in connection with certain ocular defects.

In the surgical section the papers were by Dr. Cameron, Montreal, on aseptic midwifery; Dr. Johnston of Montreal, on puerperal peritonitis; Dr. Duperis of Kingston, on the removal of the actragulus; and Dr. Sweetnam, Toronto, on stricture of the rectum.

The following officers were elected: Dr. Geo. Ross, Montreal, President; Dr. James Bell, Montreal, General Secretary; Dr. Charles Sheard, Toronto, Treasurer.

Provincial officers for Ontario: Dr. Eeles, London, President; Dr. J. A. Grant, jr., Ottawa, Secretary.

For Quebec: Dr. Christie, Lachute, President; Dr. Armstrong, Montreal, Secretary

For New Brunswick: Dr. Currie, Fredericton, President; Dr. Lunam, Campbelltown, Secretary.

For Nova Scotia: Dr. Nickwin, Halifax, President; Dr. Trueman, Sackville, Secretary.

For Manitoba: Dr. Blanchard, Winnipeg, President; Dr. Chown, Winnipeg, Secretary.

For British Columbia: Dr. N. True, New Westminster, President; Dr. Milne, Victoria, Secretary.

The next place of meeting will be Ottawa.

Fire in a Saloon.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Charles O'Brien's saloon, 158 William-street, was gutted and the stock totally destroyed by fire early this morning. Damages $1000; partly covered by insurance. The bartender and two young children who slept overhead had a narrow escape for their lives

Parent Pleads Guilty.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—The Court of Queen's Bench for the September term opened this morning, the Hon. Judge Baby presiding. Parent, late cashier of the Hochelaga Bank, pleaded guilty to eight indictments charging him with embezzlement.

A Quaker Seminary Burned.

WATERVILLE, Me., Sept. 1.—Oak Grove Seminary, at Vassalboro, was burned early this morning. A son of Stephen Jones, aged 16, perished in the flames. The building was occupied as a school by the Society of Friends.

The Result of a Spree.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 1.—Thomas Joyce, a vegetable peddler, shot his wife fatally and wounded his daughter, aged 18 years, this afternoon. Joyce had been drinking hard. The daughter may not recover.

Yellow Fever at Key West.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—A despatch from Key West, Florida, received to-day states that the number of cases of yellow fever reported up to Sept. 1 was 274 and the number of deaths 62, an increase of 17 cases and 9 deaths in the past nine days.

OTTAWA MATTERS.

Sir John Macdonald Refuses to Speak About Manitoba Affairs.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—In conversation with Sir John Macdonald to-day he again most strongly denounced as a malicious falsehood the alleged interview published in The Toronto News and other papers about calling for Imperial aid in settling the Manitoba difficulty. He said he had no interview at all with any person while he was away with regard to Manitoba matters, and as for Major Walsh, with whom he was reported to have had the conversation, he had not seen him for two years.

When asked if he would be interviewed about Manitoba matters now, Sir John laughingly shook his head and said he had nothing to say about Manitoba matters.

Mr. Alex. Wilson of Amherst, N.S., had an interview this morning with the Department of Railways with reference to the construction of a branch from the Short Line railway into Pugwash Harbor.

The Department of Railways and Canals is considering the advisability of placing electric light along the Rideau Canal locks and wharves.

A deputation from Hamilton will have an interview with Sir Hector Langevin, Minister of Public Works, to-morrow morning with reference to the temporary use by the city authorities of the old Postoffice, and old Custom House, which have been empty since the new building was occupied.

The Mayor of St. Catharines and Ald. Butler are in the city to interview the Department of Railways and Canals in regard to some matters in dispute between the city and the Government.

The Tremblay-Paradis forgery case comes up at Aylmer to-morrow. It is stated that two propositions from the defence for securing an amicable settlement have been rejected by the Gilmours.

The duty on imports at the port of Ottawa for August was $30,582, an increase of $2471 over last year. Exports $540,106, an increase of $380,181. This increase is phenomenal, but is partly accounted for by the fact that a great deal of lumber, which is usually exported in September, was got out a month earlier, but besides this the business increased considerably.

FIRE AT COLLINGWOOD.

The Northern Railway Freight Shed and Docks Destroyed.

COLLINGWOOD, Sept. 1.—A destructive fire occurred at the Northern Railway docks this morning, whereby the freight sheds were totally destroyed and the docks on which they stood ruined. The alarm was sounded about 3.30 a.m., and in a very few minutes after the entire building was a mass of flames, which began spreading along the docks towards the elevator. Five loaded box cars were destroyed and two empties before the fire was checked in this direction, and a staff of employes has been busy ever since clearing up the wreck and putting the road in running order.

On the other side of the dock and just about where the majority claim that the fire broke out, the Frances Smith was tied up, and would doubtless have shared the same fate as the sheds had not the citizens who went to the fire taken her rope and towed her back to a safe position. The Campana and Niagara were lying at the town dock, and though the former immediately steamed out into the harbor the paint on her cabins, etc., was badly scorched.

The utmost that could be done was to save the cars and prevent the fire from reaching the harbor. All the books and papers were saved from the company's offices and the customs people got out nearly all their stock. All the baggage and the express parcels were also saved. It is estimated that local business men had about $2000 worth of goods in the sheds and the property of outsiders is placed at about the same figure. Fully $1900 worth of grain was destroyed.

Mr. Holgate, Chief Engineer of the Northern, arrived in town by the noon train. He estimates the road's total loss at about $18,000, on which there is an insurance of $10,000. There was also insurance to the amount of $25,000 on freight in transit. It is the intention of the company to at once erect accommodation for the fall traffic, and it is not expected that shipping will be retarded beyond a few hours. The origin of the fire is unknown.

He Was Born in Canada.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Col. Wm. H. Boyd, well known as a directory publisher, is lying at the point of death at his residence here. He was born in Montreal, Canada, in 1825, and came to the United States in 1845. At the present time he and his immediate family publish the directories for forty-six different places.

Henry Villard Up Again.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Henry Villard to-day refused either to confirm or deny the report that he, as the representative of a German syndicate, had come to the relief of the Oregon Trans-Continental Company with a loan of $600,000. It was reported, however, that $350,000 due to-day had been paid out of the money raised by Villard.

The California Wheat Break.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The sale of 6000 tons of wheat for the benefit of the creditors of the recent bull operators, Dresbach & Rosenfield, took place this forenoon. The first sale of 100 tons was made at $1.23½ per cental, and the succeeding 300 tons sold down to 22½c., after which the price rose quickly to 25c., and final sales were made at 27c. The prices obtained were considerably higher than had been deemed possible.

JOSEPH PRIESTMAN'S DEATH.

He Was Not in Affluent or Easy Circumstances—A Heavy Mortgage on His House.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.

The inquiry into the mysterious death of Joseph Priestman, jr., on the lonely common in Parkdale on the night of Aug. 25, will be opened before Coroner Lynd this evening in the Parkdale Town Hall. Great interest will attach to the outcome of this investigation, as the mysterious manner in which Mr. Priestman met his death is still the subject of very much interest, and even anxiety, in this city and suburbs. The fact that the tragedy occurred just outside Toronto's limits precludes the possibility of utilizing the city police department in ferreting out this mystery. Detective Rogers and a few county constables are working alone.

By many people the idea is gaining ground that it was a case of suicide.

One of the first objects of the detectives, it is said, at the inquest will be to get, as near as possible, a statement of the dead man's affairs. From what can be gathered it will be found that instead of being in comfortable circumstances the unfortunate man was in reality in straightened circumstances. The house in which he lived and some property in West Toronto Junction were mortgaged for $4500. The dead man purchased the house from Albert H. Hovey on June 15, 1886, the price mentioned in the deed being $5400. He gave a mortgage, which was subsequently discharged and a new mortgage was given to the Bristol and West of England Company for $4700, covering the land and a lot at West Toronto Junction. This mortgage is dated April 4, 1887, and the first interest is due on Oct. 1 next.

Mr. Priestman has some property in Richmond-street, and it is said also to be heavily encumbered. It is also known that on the day of the night of his death he was unable to meet payments on certain notes held against him, and this seemed to trouble him a great deal. John Stephenson held a note against him for $500, dated July 6, 1886, on which he was paying 10 per cent. interest.

Thus the idea that deceased was in easy circumstances is far from the case. When such mysterious affairs as Mr. Priestman's death occur the public is naturally anxious to know as much as possible about circumstances that might lead up to the commission of a crime.

As has already been stated, Mr. Priestman's life was insured for $19,500. He had $8500 in the Northwestern Masonic Aid Association, of which he was agent; three policies of $3000 each in the Canada Life and $5000 in a company said to have its headquarters in Nova Scotia. It is also said that he had borrowed money on some of these policies.

Of late Mr. Priestman was positively known not to have carried large rolls of bills around, as has been freely stated in some of the city papers. If he were really murdered on the common for his money, it is not at all likely that the assassins got a big haul.

Mrs. Priestman returned to Parkdale Wednesday evening from Welland, where her unfortunate husband was buried.

A FORGER'S FLIGHT.

Ernest Brunet of Montreal Believed to be on His Way to Buffalo.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Ernest Brunet, a young man with good prospects, has defaulted. He was in the office of Brunet & Co., cigar manufacturers, and, living beyond his means, he stooped to crime. He offered Moses Vineberg of St. Paul-street a check apparently signed by R. Depatie, tobacconist, and obtained $223 from him. The check was forged. Brunet was arrested but managed to obtain bondsmen. He jumped his bail. Messrs. Richot & Richot, it is understood, are among the victims of Brunet's pleasing address. They are said to suffer to the extent of $600, being the total of his forged notes which they hold. One note, payable to Brunet's own company, has the maker's name forged, and another, payable to Richot & Richot, had a forged endorsement. Brunet also forged his father-in-law's name to a check for $586. It is said he is on his way to Buffalo.

A Bookkeeper Disappears.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1. — Richard Burnham, bookkeeper for the Montreal Rolling Mills Company, has disappeared from the city since Monday. A rumor was current that he was a defaulter to the extent of $1500 to the company, but this is emphatically denied by officers of the company. The cause of Mr. Burnham's departure is supposed to be domestic troubles.

Persecutions Must Stop.

MOSCOW, Sept. 1.—In consequence of the ill-treatment of Jews in Novgord, General Baronoff has sent circulars to the authorities ordering them to adopt stringent measures against violators of the law, and to guarantee safety to all subjects of the Czar without distinction.

The Crown Prince's Condition.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The German Crown Prince is still in London. The weather is so stormy that Dr. Mackenzie fears that the Walderner atmosphere will affect the prince's throat injuriously. The doctor is gratified at the effect of the visit to the Highlands, the prince's health being excellent, the vocal fatigue much less and the catarrhal attacks not severe. Dr. Hovell will accompany the prince to the Tyrol.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1887.

THE ENGLISH NAVY.

Among the various demonstrations held in honor of the Queen's Jubilee the naval review at Spithead was one of the most significant. It was the largest navy ever mustered within the four seas, and its equipment and appearance might well produce feelings of pride in the heart of any sovereign. The vessels numbered one hundred and thirty-five, but their size had little to do with determining their actual value. Their power in hurling vast weapons, their swiftness and celerity in repelling missives, and the elaborate and costly machinery with which they were fitted up, and which made them obedient to the will of man, have all to be considered if we would estimate correctly the worth of the English navy.

In these days, naval warfare requires a fleet composed of vessels varying in size and capacity. It demands the use of the great iron-clad, with its fighting capacity in ram and tower, the rapid cruiser, to scour the seas in search of the enemy, the torpedo boat, for attack, and the torpedo catcher, for defence, and others equipped in various ways to suit modern exigencies. All these were marshalled before Her Majesty, and gave a marvellous exhibition of the naval power of England, made all the more effective when it was remembered that fleets such as the Queen witnessed last month at Spithead, were, at the same moment, to be found in various quarters of the globe, and all bearing the same honored flag.

We may well believe that England possesses a fleet capable of protecting the interests of the empire from all attacks. It is another question whether the empire does not expend too much on the navy. Of course we are aware that Lord George Hamilton is able to point to a decrease in the naval estimates this year of £793,300, and this, he claims, without any diminution of efficiency. But this is probably due to the stand taken by Lord Randolph Churchill, and the country is doubtless indebted to him for understanding the affairs of the Admiralty as it has never done before. Resigning office, because a large sum was not struck from the estimates, was a sure method of arresting the popular imagination and fixing attention on the subject, and this, at any rate, Churchill effected.

In 1885, after a period of great activity extending over four years for all the other naval powers of Europe, England assigned the sum of two millions sterling for the purpose of equipping and increasing her naval power. On the strength of this large vote Lord Northbrook constructed a special programme, according to which he proposed to expend over £3,000,000 sterling in ship-building by contract in private yards, so that the whole would be completed by March 1890. The builders, however, have been quicker than he reckoned; a large portion of the work is now complete, and the whole will be finished next year. In March of next year, it is expected that a total of 48 ships shall have been added to the English Navy. An arrangement has been made with the White Star and Cunard Companies so that the Admiralty can use some of their fastest steamers and turn them into armed cruisers within a week. It is claimed, however, that a great deal remains to be done. Many of the gunboats and sloops are in an obsolete and unserviceable condition, and we can only hope that the vigor and energy now displayed in the Admiralty department will continue until the task of reconstruction and equipment is completed.

From 1881 to 1885, England spent eleven millions a year on her navy and during this year and last the average annual expenditure has been fifteen millions. It is therefore not surprising that much more might have been effected if, as Lord Hamilton says, "consideration and a continuous policy had attended its disbursement." Hurry and scare accompanied the outlay, which was lavishly and rashly spent instead of having been evenly spread over a limited number of years.

The naval review at any rate proved that if England had been improvident in her expenditure, she had something to show for it, and we may well believe now that economy has been taken in hand, the scandals of the dock yards, especially at Sheerness, Chatham and Haslbowline, to which Lord Churchill drew attention, may be followed by practical and necessary reforms. We hope England is now on a fair way to get full value for the large amount expended on her navy, and that her supremacy on the seas may long continue.

BASEBALL YESTERDAY.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.

Toronto finished its championship series yesterday with Buffalo and the season thus closes with honors easy between the clubs, as the game resulted in the home team's third successive victory over the Bisons, and leaves the teams tied in the number of games won and lost. The weather was threatening and affected the attendance, there being probably not more than 1000 present. The home team got the benefit of unlimited applause from the commencement to the finish of the game, and the unusual spectacle of a Toronto audience "pulling" unitedly for its own team seemed to have a depressing effect upon the Bisons. ANENT THE IRISH LEAGUE.

Conybeare and Stanhope Volunteer to Speak in Ireland.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. P. Robertson, Liberal, read Justice Stephens' definition of an unlawful assembly and contended that a league meeting did not come within that definition.

L. P. O'Connor said he considered that the proclamation simply meant that the Government had proclaimed war against the Irish people.

After the debate on the proclamation this evening an informal conference was held between the Parnellites and the English Home Rulers, and Messrs. Conybeare and Philip Stanhope offered to join Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien in addressing the meeting of the Ennis branch of the league. They say they will not flinch from arrest.

Mr. Chamberlain does not expect to leave for America till the middle of next November. He will address a Unionist gathering in London just prior to his departure.

ON THE OTTAWA RANGES.

The Result of the Dominion of Canada and London Merchants' Cup Matches.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—The weather this morning was the best of the meeting so far as wind was concerned, for there was none; but the smoke from neighboring bush fires hung so heavily over the range that the targets were invisible and shooting had to be postponed. About 10 o'clock a light breeze sprang up and cleared the smoke away, and for a couple of hours the shooting was good. Then the wind increased and became variable, and the shooting grew poor.

The matches completed to-day were the Dominion of Canada and the London Merchants' Cup, better known as the provincial match, and the grand aggregates was also made up.

Assailants of the Salvation Army.

QUEBEC, Sept. 1.—The parties alleged by certain witnesses to have been prominent in the recent murderous attack upon the Salvation Army, and against whom summonses have been issued, are Napoleon Wagner, Pierre Sheppard, Auguste Lemoine and F. X. Belanger. All the defendants have pleaded not guilty to the charge. They will be tried to-morrow.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

The ladies of the congregation had made excellent preparations for

FEEDING THE MULTITUDE.

There were five tables laid beneath the trees, one representing each of the five electoral wards of the township and keen as the rivalry between them was it would have puzzled a keener judge to have decided what table took the palm for abundance, good quality and tasty arrangement of the tempting food under which each of them groaned.

DANCING ON THE "GREEN".

The staple amusement of the day with the light hearted and light heeled of the juvenile portion of the assemblage was dancing. A large platform had been erected and it was kept vibrating with the pulsating feet of the delighted dancers from before noon till the close of the day, to the excellent music of Prof. Doucet's orchestra.

SPORTS AND ATHLETIC GAMES.

The first of the series of these was the baseball match between a Peterborough nine and an Ennismore nine. The following was the composition of the respective teams:

Peterborough.		Ennismore.
F. Billings	catcher	M. Flaherty
J. Fitzgerald	pitcher	M. Hickey
W. Metherall	1st base	M. Collins
J. Landy	2nd base	J. Sullivan
H. Galley	3rd base	P. Kennedy
K. Kincaid	short stop	D. Kennedy
A. Moore	left field	P. Connors
P. Fitzgerald	centre field	T. Connors
J. McKinn	right field	L. Connors
Harry Long	Umpire

It was arranged to play a five innings game.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Ennismore	2	0	2	1
Peterborough	5	4	0	9

At the conclusion of the third innings for Ennismore a demand was made by the crowd for the other part of the programme, which was accordingly run off in the following manner, under the charge of Mr. P. Kennedy, assisted by Dr. Collins, of Peterborough.

STANDING HIGH JUMP—Three entries.—Archie Moore J. "L." Sullivan and M. Colline.—First J. "L." Sullivan, second M. Collins.

RUNNING HOP STEP AND JUMP—Three entries.—Archie Moore, M. C. Collins and J. "L." Sullivan.—First M. C. Collins, second J. "L." Sullivan.

RUNNING HIGH JUMP—Four entries.—J. "L." Sullivan, A. Moore, M. C. Collins and P. F. Flood.—First J. "L." Sullivan, second M. C. Collins.

HUNDRED YARDS DASH—Two entries.—A. Moore and David Miller. First Archie Moore, second D. Miller.

PUTTING HEAVY WEIGHT—Six entries—J. Clancy, B Scully, A. Moore, M. C. Collins, D. Kennedy and P. Maloy.—First D. Kennedy, second B. Scully.

Just as a team was being got together for the tug of war, ringing cheers from the dancing platform, proved too strong a counter attraction—the decision was being announced in between Miss Hickson of Ennismore and Miss McDonald of Montreal.

THE WATCH CONTEST

MR. JAMES STEVENSON announced the result of the watch contest declaring Miss Hickson the winner of the gold watch, she having collected the sum of $256.75 from the sale of chances for the drawing of the $20 gold piece and her friendly rival Miss McDonald, $234.70 a total of $491.45.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P., announced that Mr. Glover, of Toronto, a former resident of Peterborough, was the lucky winner of the $20 gold coin. The cheering with which these announcements were received were the sounds of jubilation which brought the tug-of-war contest to an untimely end. But this was not the end of the enjoyment of the occasion. A most graceful recognition of the services of Miss McDonald was made, Rev. Father Keilty evidently feeling that two such sharp young ladies as Miss Macdonald and Miss Hickson had proven themselves to be should be well "watched", and he headed with $10 a subscription to purchase a watch for Miss Macdonald also, and in a very few minutes the sum of $50 was secured for the purpose.

Rev. FATHER KEILTY, parish priest, then made a few remarks touching upon the pleasant day's enjoyment which had been passed, and thanking the ladies of his parish for the valuable and appreciated services they had rendered in aiding to so substantially increase the library fund. Thanks, he said, were especially due to the Protestant friends who had so liberally attended the picnic. It was a pleasant sight to see Protestant and Catholic mingling in friendly intercourse and sharing social enjoyments together—it was a practical evidence of the recognition of the common Fatherhood of God and of the brotherhood of man.

Mr. JAMES STEVENSON, M. P., made a short address, assuring the people that it had given him great pleasure to be present with them. He had received from the people of Ennismore none but the kindest and most hospitable treatment whenever he had come amongst them.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P., briefly addressed the people. It gave him very great pleasure to be with the people of Ennismore that day. If Mr. Stevenson had reason to recognize the kindness of Ennismore people, he (Mr. Stratton) had, he felt, greater reason to acknowledge the gratitude he owed them for the noble political support they had extended to him and for the hearty manner in which they had extended him their support in every respect. It gave him great pleasure in meeting old and young together in the enjoyment which such an occasion afforded. He was pleased to see both young ladies presented with a watch; they well deserved it, and he expressed the wish that their new time pieces should measure for them nothing but happy hours.

Cheers were given with a hearty good will for Rev. Father Kelty, and Messrs. Stratton and Stevenson.

The rain threatening, the Rev. Father Keilty advised the people to return to their homes as quickly as possible, so that the enjoyment of the day should not be marred by a wetting. His advice was followed, and speedily the beautiful park was left to its wonted solitude, except for such occasions, and thus ended one of the most pleasant and successful of Ennismore's long series of successful pic-nics.

Rescuing Little Children.

From Infancy and Poverty on the Streets of London—Interesting Address by Mr. Barnardo.

A few days ago the EXAMINER published some interesting particulars regarding the good work carried on by Dr. Barnardo, who is at present stopping in Peterborough, and his agencies in providing homes for destitute children who were picked up on the streets of London, Eng. Last evening the Doctor and Mrs. Barnardo held a drawing room at Hazel Brae, at 8.30 o'clock, to which all supporters and friends of the institution were invited. Nearly fifty persons attended. About half past seven Dr. Barnardo began an address upon the work in question.

After a few preliminary words of welcome and complimentary mention of the "real" host and hostess of the evening, Capt. and Mrs. Annesley, for whom he bespoke the friendship of them all, the Doctor referred to the unavoidable absence of Mr. Geo. A. Cox, a true friend of the institution, to whom they owed almost everything there, and said he wanted to let the people know what "work" was, what they have been doing, how they have done it, and with what results.

IN ENGLAND.

It was likely, he said, that they all knew more of the English aspect of the work than of the Canadian, and one of the duties he would have to perform would be to sweep away from their minds misconceptions and perhaps prejudices in regard thereto. Many were disposed to judge the Canadian work by the English, but the two were as distinct and separate as it was possible to be.

The Doctor then made a lengthy exposition of the English work. Their's was a home, he said, for the reception of homeless children. Any boy or girl finding himself or herself destitute on the streets of that great modern Babylon, London, applying at their door, set up a claim to such aid as they were able to give. Think for a moment, he said, of the condition of things in the great city of London, the greatest in the world, with a population of some four and a half millions. It was estimated that during the business hours of the day its population was not less than six millions. Every year an addition of 100,000 was made to that population by births, or a birth rate of ten times the number of souls in the little city of Peterborough. And in that great city Christian love and Christian activity were ascendant. There the wealth and poverty of the world met together. There the greatest extent of luxury and profound ease is found with that squalid misery which may be sometimes described but only feebly, for no words are sufficient to depict it in its true colors. And their work was to follow out that poverty and misery. How could he describe it to his hearers? Perhaps better, he said, by telling them a little of how some of the poor lived there. He then went on to relate how immense numbers of the poor who had no dwellings of their own find shelter in the large, common lodging houses, the likes of which are not seen in Canada. There are hundreds of beds in each, which are every night crowded with the poor and destitute, and it is among these people that little children, who never knew a home, are obliged to rest. I declare here, said Dr. Barnardo, you in Canada. I have heard persons, since I was here, pity the Canadians because of the hardness of their lives—but it is life, surrounded with nature and beauty. Look at the poor who struggle, and fight, and die in London. Crime, poverty, squalor that knows no name, filth, abominable odors—everything that deprives life of its beauty and joy, are the lot of the poor in London. And think of the little children, whose heritage is woe, who come into life so heavily handicapped that the race is already lost before they begin life. Little boys and girls so bright and fair that when I bring them over here the Canadian farmers gladly accept them, and find for them a future such as their own children would have. And there are thousands of such in London.

"CHEEK BY JOWL"

The speaker related a couple of pathetic incidents in connection with the work of rescue which had come under his notice. The stories were told with a degree of feeling that made an impression on the hearts of his listeners, vividly illustrating, as they did, the terrible depths of woe to which some of the London poor were reduced. The directors of the homes did not wait for the children to apply to them for aid, but sought out the little waifs, and in the course of his expeditions of rescue, Dr. Barnardo had come across these instances.

HOME WORK,

Their homes, he said, were receiving on an average every day four or five children, and since he had been in Canada he learned that they have been taking in 16 or 17 daily. They had under their care altogether some 2,075 children to be taught and trained, so that through the grace of God, the Doctor said, I have the largest family of any man in the world. Every precaution was taken to prevent any evil effects being produced upon their children from contact with the waifs first taken in from the streets. Altogether some 11,000 children have been taken in hand and in some degree prepared for the battle of life. It was their aim to bring children to a personal knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ, without which their work would be useless.

THE CANADIAN BRANCH.

For a number of years children were being sent out to Canada, a few at a time, in charge of different persons, but it was not till 1882 that they resolved to attempt emigration on a larger scale. They were led to do this because they had so many children they didn't know what to do with them, and to set them abroad again in the London labor market, which was already overdone, would destroy their chances in life. So they turned their eyes towards Canada, and since that time nineteen parties of boys and girls had been sent out; in all some 2,483 children, including those who came out in earlier years, had been forwarded to Canada, and a party of 40 were now on the sea en route to this country. The Doctor said he wished to remove some unreasonable prejudices entertained by Canadian people, some of whom were under the misconception that all their cripples and worst children were shitted over here. That was a mistake. They only sent out here the flower of their flock, and took care to send out none to Canada until they had been thoroughly trained. Their steady design had been to send out here none but those of good physical and moral type. But they were not infallible, and if it was afterwards found that a boy or girl should not have been sent, they were at once returned to England. Sometimes complaints were received of children who did not give satisfaction, and these were at once changed to other homes, where perhaps they did better. Often a child who does not suit one mistress pleased others. The children brought out here (principally girls) were not angels, some would say. Certainly they were not; but neither were their mistresses, so if a lady gets a girl that is not an angel she should remember the other side of the case too. Out of 72 girls who were brought out in 1883, 22 have remained where first placed, and ten have had two places. This he offset by telling of one girl who had 23 different places, and in pursuance of their plan never to lose sight of a child who had been under their care, she had been placed, lost and found and finally had to be sent back to England.

The Doctor related a few more histories of how these girls had been rescued from lives of idleness, and woke other's of their way to become honorable women. The drinking dives, he stated, were at the bottom of most of the misery in London. He also read several letters from girls at present in Canadian homes, all breathing a spirit of contentment and gratitude.

THE PETERBOROUGH HOME.

When they came to Peterborough at the kind invitation of Mr. Cox, said Dr. Barnardo, [illegible] he (Dr. Cox) placed Hazel Brae at their disposal, there was no unwritten agreement to the effect that if there should come to their doors any destitute Canadian children, they would be received; and the result is that a number of children have been received into the home here. The Doctor mentioned two or three cases almost similar to those in his English experience, though showing a lesser degree of poverty and destitution than the London cases. The speaker said he could not in doing justice to his feelings if he didn't express his deep indebtedness and gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Cox for their continued and unremitting kindness which has always seemed to seek new channels, with the ingenuity of Christian love. But he was sorry that they didn't seem to reach the hearts of everyone in Peterborough. There was no one so poor that he could not do something to help the institution.

Only girls were now kept at Hazel Brae, as it was not advisable that the large class of boys they were emigrating from England should be at the same Home with so many girls. These boys were taken care of at Toronto, in great, rough houses, where they were given work to do. That did very well, but an was to be opened in the far Northwest. A little better than 6,000 acres of land had been acquired close to Russel, near the Shell River, Manitoba. The Doctor said it was one of his duties to place that institution in working form. They intended to place some 200 lads, some of them young men, on the farm to till the ground and become the architects of their own fortunes. There they shall experience the truth of the adage, he who shall not work shall not eat. Cheap labor was wanted in the great agricultural districts, and they were accomplishing a double purpose in supplying this demand and placing the boys in the way of leading useful and industrious lives. By continuing carefully the system of sifting those who are sent out here, he had no doubt that in increasing years that work would become as successful as the older branches.

The Doctor concluded with an earnest appeal for support in this great work, both by money gifts and by assisting in teaching and training the girls in the useful arts of life. He suggested to his hearers the blessed privilege they had of serving their master through these little children. Ministers of the gospel, too, could help by visiting the Home, taking up special collections once a year for the benefit of the Home, and the church people could hold socials and in many other ways work for the good of the cause. In England many persons of high rank were helping, and the children who had been benefitted by it were always anxious to show their gratitude. Dr. Barnardo commended Dr. Fife for his kindness in giving his professional services to the Home whenever called upon, and made special mention of Major-General and Mrs. Haultain as earnest supporters.

Afterwards short addresses were made by Rev. Messrs. Torrance, Bennett and Wilson, Major-Gen. Haultain, and Mr. Duff, late manager of the Home, who related several little incidents similar to those mentioned by Dr. Barnardo, in connection with the work which had come under his personal observation.

Mr. and Miss Annesley, Mrs. Davis and Miss Cox rendered some musical selections, and a light tea was served, after which the assembly broke up.

SALISBURY EXPLANATION

In an Address to the Electors of Dungannon Mr. Russell Says as Yet He Has Not Withdrawn from the Liberal-Unionist Ranks.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Lord Salisbury has written a letter to the Conservatives in the Brighton Division of Glasgow, in explanation of their defeat in the recent election, in which he says: "By dexterous ambiguity of language many Liberal-Unionists have been persuaded that Mr. Gladstone has abandoned his separatist designs. In course of time the Gladstone policy must be explained definitely, and then the exertions of the Unionists will receive their triumphant reward."

Mr. Russell's Position.

DUBLIN, Sept. 2.—In an address to the electors of Dungannon last night, T. W. Russell, M.P. for South Tyrone, and one of the Liberal Unionists who disapproved of the proclamation of the National League, explained that he had opposed Parnell's bill to reduce the rents because the Government had promised to appoint a commission of enquiry. The report of this commission, however, had convinced him that a revision of rents was needed. He was sorry for the landlords, but they must realize that a purchase scheme should be pressed forward in order to put an end to the suspense now existing. The tenants must not be compelled to pay impossible rents merely because jointures had to be paid and because of mortgages on the land. As yet he had not left the Liberal-Unionist ranks, but he believed that the House of Lords, by its action on the Land Bill, had struck a dangerous blow at the Union itself. He had unbounded confidence in Lord Hartington, appealing to the constituents of South Tyrone to stand by him. Mr. Russell declared he would never accept a Scotch constituency to make room for a Tory landlord.

A BIG FIRE IN MONTREAL.

It is Believed the Insurance Will Fully Cover the Loss.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Early this afternoon a fire broke out in the store occupied by the Wanzer Lamp Company and spread with great rapidity into the adjoining store, occupied by G. W. Prowse, and up the ventilator into the premises of Beckett Bros., printers. Those on the upper flats had a close call for their lives. The smoke was stifling. The flames had communicated to a stairway leading from the shop below, effectually cutting off their exit in this direction, while the smoke was rolling up in so dense a volume in front as to render escape by the windows and along the ledge into the adjoining building both difficult and dangerous. Beckett Bros'. loss is complete. Mr. Beckett was alone at home and had a very narrow escape. Mr. Prowse is insured for $25,000, the building for $10,000, $5000 in the North British, $5000 in the Royal Canadian and $3000 in the Western Assurance. The stock is insured for $30,000 in the following companies: North British, Royal Canadian, Western Commercial Union and Phœnix. Only half an hour before Mr. Prowse had taken an additional insurance of $5000 in the Royal Canadian.
Beckett Bros. are insured for $6000 in the London and $3000 in the Norwich Insurance Companies.
E. R. Landy of the lamp store is insured for $3000 each in the Western, Lancashire and Quebec Assurance; damage mostly by water.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.

About 300 men and boys crowded the Parkdale Town Hall last night when Coroner Lynd re-opened his enquiry into the death of Joseph Priestman, jr., found dead with a bullet hole in his brain on the common west of Exhibition Park early on the morning of Aug. 26 last. Nothing important was made public last night, and the inquest was adjourned till Tuesday evening, Sept. 20, at 8 o'clock.

Papers dealing with all phases of prison reforms will be read.

About 7.30 last evening a good-looking Scotch terrier jumped from the roof of Occident Hall, which is five stories high, and lighted with a Dull Thud on the Queen-street pavement. The indiscreet poodle's blood and brains were dashed all over the pavement, but he held on to life for some time. In his downward flight he narrowly escaped lighting on the white plug of a West End swell.

The "Crown Prince" Takes a Wife.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 1.—A great event in Omaha society took place to-day, when Miss Sallie Lowe, daughter of General Lowe of the U.S.A., was married to Mr. W. J. Bell, son of the great organ manufacturer of Guelph, Canada. Miss Lowe is a cousin of President Cleveland, and on this account unusual interest was taken in the event, guests being present from Washington, Buffalo (the former home of the bride), Chicago, etc. The presents were handsome and numerous. Mr. Harry Gow of Guelph, Mr. John Merrill of Boston, Mass., and Mr. Lowe of Omaha, a cousin of the bride, officiated as groomsmen. The bride was handsomely attired in white silk, with veil of Lyon lace. The only ornament worn was a diamond necklace, the gift of the groom. The happy couple left for the east immediately after the ceremony. They intend visiting the parents of the groom at Guelph for a short time, after which they start on a complete tour round the world. Mr. Bell will eventually settle in Paris, France, in charge of the firm's agency there.

A Five Days' Battle.

The Salvation Army will begin this evening a five nights' celebration at the Temple in honor of its fifth anniversary in Canada. Before the meeting there will be a torchlight procession along Yonge, King, York and Queen-streets. The evening will be enthusiastically devoted to welcoming home the Commissioner and old officers of the city corps. The battle will rage till Wednesday night.

THE ROYAL COMMISSION.

SIR SACKVILLE WEST WILL ALSO REPRESENT ENGLAND.

Secretary Bayard Regards the New Phase of the Question as a Hopeful Indication of a Speedy and Honorable Adjustment of the Difficulty.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Sir James Ferguson stated that the terms to be offered by the British Fisheries Commission in the coming conference at Washington had not yet been decided upon. The points raised in connection with the Alaska fisheries would be included in the matters to be discussed. Sir Lionel Sackville West, the British Minister at Washington, would be the second member of the commission. The third would be a Canadian.

BAYARD SPEAKS FREELY.

The United States Secretary Pleased With the Proposition.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The Times Washington despatch says Secretary Bayard spoke freely yesterday in regard to the new phase assumed by the Canadian fisheries question. He regarded it as a most hopeful indication of a speedy, just and honorable adjustment of these long pending difficulties. That the British Government had itself taken steps to put an end to the triangular manner in which the negotiations had hitherto been carried on, and which had been a source of perpetual embarrassment was pleasing. Every proposition submitted by the United States had to be referred to Canada for the views of the Dominion Government, and after months of delay it would be returned with the Canadian objections, and the whole routine would have to be gone over again. Secretary Bayard especially referred to the proposition made by him to Lord Iddesleigh, British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, which remained unanswered for months after Lord Iddesleigh's death, and was finally returned to the United States by Lord Salisbury with the Canadian objections. There seems to be a strong probability, though this way in no was intimated by Secretary Bayard, that the proposition to Lord Iddesleigh will really form the basis of the forthcoming negotiations.

Secretary Bayard went on to say that all the embarrassment and delays which had hampered negotiations in times past would be obviated by the appointment of Royal Commissioners, clothed with full authority to speak both for Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada. It was not correct, as stated in despatches from London, that the American commissioners had already been selected. In the absence of direct authority from Congress there could be no United States commissioners appointed with full powers, such as those possessed by the commissioners appointed by the British Crown. All the American representatives could do would be to agree upon an amendment or an interpretation of the treaty of 1818, which would have to be laid before the United States Congress for its action before it could take effect. In point of fact the United States commissioners were not absolutely necessary. The Secretary of State himself, as sole representative of the United States, could negotiate a treaty, subject of course to ratification by the President and Senate, but if Great Britain wished the negotiations to be conducted by three representatives on each side that desire might very properly be complied with by the President.

Secretary Bayard intimated that in his judgment this would probably be the best course, and subsequent conversation left the impression that the President, in all probability, would designate two other able international jurists to co-operate with the Secretary of State in the negotiations. The Secretary said it was true that the British Commission would come to Washington, and that the negotiations would be conducted here just as soon as the weather was suitable.

THE ALASKA SEIZURES.

The Dominion Sends Counsel to Inquire Into the Cases.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The Department of State is informed by the United States Consul at Victoria, B.C., that Mr. Drake of the firm of Drake, Jackson & Helmcken, barristers, left there last week for Alaska, by direction of Mr. White, Minister of the Interior for the Dominion. The firm referred to are the solicitors for the Dominion Government in the province. It is presumed Mr. Drake's mission is directly connected with the seizure of the British sealing vessels in Alaskan waters.

When he raises his voice the potentates of the earth will listen reverently, because his voice is never raised but in truth and justice. He will do all in his power for the future prosperity of Ireland."

THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO DEAL.

A Powerful Syndicate to Take Possession of the Road.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The mysterious movement of the stock market during the past week and the continued rumors from all sources that some important developments were hanging over the railroad and telegraph world were explained by facts which were made public late this afternoon. Ever since Garrett wrote his letter to Singerly of Philadelphia, breaking off the Ives' negotiations, the former has been working to save the Baltimore and Ohio from the embarrassments which kept crowding it to the wall. The negotiations were continued by him with J. S. Morgan, on his arrival in London, and yesterday a deal was announced that has no equal in the history of the financial world, outside of the West Shore settlement with the New York Central, and the forming of the Reading Syndicate to reorganize that company. Both of these deals were carried through by Drexel, Morgan & Co., but in the latter case Edward Lauterback was the most prominent figure as a mediator between the Gowen and Drexel interest, and in the agreement now made he takes even a more prominent place.

The consummation of the contract made to-day was held in abeyance until his opinion was obtained on the question of whether the sterling loan made by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad covered the telegraph system of the company. After studying the question in all its aspects he decided that the telegraph lines were free from all liens and on receiving this opinion the agreement, in the nature of a preliminary contract was executed yesterday. The parties to the contract are the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company and a syndicate composed of J. S. Morgan & Co., Baring Bros. & Co., and Brown, Shipley & Co. of London; Drexel, Morgan & Co., Kidder, Peabody & Co., and Brown Bros. & Co. of this city, and Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia.

THE RIFLEMEN'S MEETING.

The Result of the Matches on the Rideau Ranges Yesterday.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—So far as light and wind were concerned, to-day was the best of the meeting, and the scores were accordingly good; but it mizzled more or less all the morning, which made it very uncomfortable for the competitors. Although the attraction of the circus no doubt took away many who would otherwise have attended, still the attendance at the distribution of prizes was large and the proceedings passed off very pleasantly.

Sir John and Lady Macdonald were present, and Sir John made a neat little speech, expressive of the interest he took in the association.

Failures for the Week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The business failures during the past seven days were: For the United States, 175; Canada, 24; total, 199; compared with 190 for the same week last year.

Drowned in the Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—Mr. James Walsh, of the Public Works Department, was accidentally drowned at Gatineau Point, opposite the city, about 10 o'clock to-night. He and two friends were crossing the Ottawa River to the city when the boat, which was old and leaky, sank. The three were thrown into the water. Walsh sank before assistance could reach him, but his two companions, St. George and Demeranlt, were saved. Walsh's body had not been recovered up to a late hour to-night.

A CAPIAS NE EXEAT REGNO

HENRY TAYLOR, OF LONDON, TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

He is Charged With Neglecting to Invest Funds Put in His Hands for That Purpose—The Prisoner's Ineffectual Effort to Procure Bail.

LONDON, Sept 2.—This afternoon Mr. R. M. Meredith appeared before Judge Davis, in chambers, and demanded a capias for the arrest of Henry Taylor, ex-President of the Bank of London.

After a long discussion the request was granted and the capias was placed in the hands of High Constable Schram for execution. Mr Taylor was arrested at his residence in London South at 4 o'clock. He took the matter very coolly and told the constable he would not go to jail, but would fix matters all right.

His first resort was to appeal to the Ontario Investment Association for the protection that they promised. A meeting was called, but no decision was arrived at by 10.15, by which time Sheriff Glass either wanted things settled or Mr. Taylor in the county jail. The time was extended fifteen minutes by the sheriff, but nothing was done, and Taylor was escorted to the jail by High Constable Schram and Detectives Graham, Young and Jackson.

Arriving at the prison Mr. Taylor prevailed upon Sheriff Glass to give him twenty-four hours from the time of his arrest to procure bail. Mr. Taylor, who was still in the charge of the detectives, then set out to look for bail, but up to 1 o'clock he failed to find any person who would take the risk.

The capais on which he was arrested was issued at the instance of R. M. Meredith for breach of contract, Mr. Meredith having placed $15,000 in Taylor's hands for investment which Mr. Taylor failed to invest.

Taylor said to a reporter that he was arrested for debt but further would tell nothing.

Another Account.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 2.—Henry Taylor, ex-President of the Bank of London in Canada and President of the Ontario Investment Association of London, was arrested as his house this afternoon on a capias issued by Judge Davis, at the instance of R. M. Meredith. Mr. Taylor was lodged in jail to-night.

There are various causes assigned for Taylor's arrest, the one generally accepted being that funds entrusted to him for investment by Mr. Meredith were not invested, but still there is a strong feeling that the real cause is being suppressed.

QUEBEC RIOTERS ON TRIAL.

Evidence Taken Against Assailants of the Salvation Army.

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—The little room of the Recorder's Court was seldom, if ever, more fully packed than it was to-day by people who went to witness the prosecution of the four men, Pierre Sheppard, Belanger, Lemaine and Wagner, as ringleaders in the attack on the Salvation Army last week. Mr. Dunbar appeared for the prosecution and Mr. L. P. Pelletier for the defence.

Exhaustive evidence was given, which pointed clearly towards the men Wagner and Lemoine as being inciters of the riot. No evidence was adduced to show that Sheppard and Belanger had taken part in the assault, although they were present. It was shown that twenty-one of the army had been injured. The case has been postponed to Monday.

THE BULGARIAN TROUBLE.

Bismarck to Mediate in Favor of Ernworth's Mission.

SOFIA, Sept. 2.—Prince Ferdinand presided at a council held yesterday to consider the Porte's official notification that Turkey has assented to Russia's proposal to send Gen. Ernworth on a special mission to Bulgaria. The Cabinet crisis continues, but it is believed that M. Stambuloff will be able to-day to announce definitely the formation of a cabinet.

Bismarck Favors Russia's Proposal.

VIENNA, Sept. 2.—The Political Correspondence asserts that Prince Bismarck has agreed to mediate with the Bulgarian Government in favor of Gen. Ernworth's mission.

A TOTTERING OLD MAN.

Evidence that the Emperor is in Very Feeble Health.

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—While passing through the saloons of the palace after the banquet following yesterday's parade of the Guards, the Emperor stumbled over a slight unevenness in the parquet flooring and fell, bruising his left hip and elbow. He was assisted to rise and remained for some time conversing with the guests. The incident created general anxiety. Crowds flocked to the palace all day to-day. The Emperor appeared at the window several times and was greeted with uproarious cheering. He slept well during the night and rose at 9 o'clock.

THE DYING CHRISTIAN.

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

Written for the Examiner.

A death-bed scene is a sight never to be forgotten. It is full of warning, and well would it be for the living if they felt its solemnity and applied it to themselves. And if they would but consider when their time may come also. It is a sad sight to witness the dying moments of a little child. To see the father and mother and its little brothers and sisters gathered around and in silence and tears awaiting the final moment of its last breath. To hear its little moans and its call for mother to come and take it in her arms and sing to it as she once used to do. And then, when all is over, and the little spirit has gone to its eternal rest, to witness the tears and hear the cries of those left behind. And when its remains are laid in the grave and the night comes on, they sit around the table and talk about baby, and they gather up all its little playthings and put them carefully away. And day by day some of the family visit its tiny grave and plant flowers and keep the grass green, and the little birds come and sing their sweet songs, and the night breeze sighs gently through the overhanging branches, as if singing the baby to rest. Its little spirit is now at peace in the home of its heavenly Father. Take another case. In a pleasant part of the country lived a well to do man with his wife and family. Their lives had been passed in comfort and happiness. The mother was a good Christian woman, and her family had been trained in righteousness and truth. Among the children was a bright boy of fourteen summers, who gave promise of a future life of usefulness and worth, and the parents justly felt proud of him. He was a remarkable boy for his age, and he had many friends, and he was justly respected by all. But, unknown to his parents, his days were drawing to a close. His happy life was soon to be ended; and while his father and mother were considering plans for his future life death's flat had gone forth and he was soon to be called away. He had a presentiment of an early death, and he told his heavenly Father that if it was His will he was ready to go. He was alway pleasant and happy, notwithstanding his future prospects, and no one not even his parents, could have detected what was passing in his mind. And so, when his time had come and he had laid himself down upon what he knew was to be his bed of death, he was cheerful and looked forward to an early day of eternal glory. His parents nursed him with the greatest solicitude and called in the best medical assistance, but the doctors shook their heads and gave but faint hopes of his recovery. Gradually he grew worse, and when it became apparent that the dread hour was nigh they and his brothers and sisters gathered around his bed and gave vent to their feelings in lamentation and sorrow. But he told them to be of good cheer and not to lament for him for he said he was ready. He told them to dry up their tears and to prepare to meet him in that celestial home to which he felt sure he was going. And then the weary days and nights wore on. But at last he felt he must go, and he called those to whom he was so dear, and whom he loved so well, around to give them the last farewell. He told them of his far off home. He pointed to his Saviour standing in the door and said that his holy angels were there singing the glorious song of liberty, and comfort, and peace. He thanked them all for their kindness to him in his past life and he especially thanked his mother for good example and for leading him in the way of truth and righteousness. He told his mother not to cry for him for her loss was his gain. And he told them all that when their time came they would find him waiting on the other shore ready to receive them and accompany them to eternal happiness. And when they looked again his spirit was fled, and a bright light of heavenly glory and the sweet strains of angelic music filled the room so lately occupied by the dying boy. He had gone to his rest. And his playmates and companions and all those who loved him best shed tears of heartfelt sympathy over his lifeless remains. And when the grave closed over him all knelt down and bowed their heads in solemn silence, and all arose and strewed flowers over his grave. And they planted trees of weeping willows, and all resolved that henceforth they would keep his grave green in token of his worth and goodness. Requiscat in pace. Our thoughts are now with another, far away in a distant land. A man, a husband and a father, whose life had been passed in goodness and mercy. His motto was truth, justice and right. And to do to others as he would like others to do to him. And he was a model husband and father. And his loving wife nobly seconded his example. His house was like a heaven in itself and his children were brought up in the way they should go, and in righteousness and peace, love and happiness and comfort and joy filled the household with blessings, and they were grateful for God's goodness and mercy. They cheerfully accepted the decree that man should earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. And their lives were given to industry, and labour made their bodies healthful and their sleep refreshing and sweet. And they rose early and each went to his appointed duties. Such a happy home is seldom seen. The husband and father was like Jacob of old, a patriarch and a kind friend. No man ever laid a complaint at his door, and his name was known and revered in all the country around. But he was only human after all. He sickened and died. He died as he had lived, a good and just man. All through his sickness he never complained, but he was resigned to his fate, and said if it was God's will that he should go he was ready. He felt that his house was in order, that his heart was right and his soul was at peace. He was not taken suddenly and was able to counsel and direct, even though he could do no more. Every spare moment that they had his family passed with him, and at night they talked and read and prayed, the husband asking forgiveness and the wife and children that he might be spared longer. When the neighbors came in they were surprised at his resignation and his contentment and happiness, and he told them the secret of it all. And oftentimes they stayed and shared in their evening's meditations. Suddenly, one night when the family were all sitting by his bed side, he cried farewell to wife and children and said God forgive me when I have done wrong, and receive my soul in mercy, and when the wife and children looked again his eyes were closed, his life had gone out in perfect peace and they were left alone. And when the grave was opened and the last look had been taken, and the coffin had been lowered, and the solemn words dust to dust sounded in their ears, they turned away saying man that is born of a woman hath but a short time to live, he cometh up like a flower, which at night withereth away and is gone.

There's a land that is fairer than day,
And by faith we can see it afar,
For the Father waits over the way,
To prepare us a dwelling place there.
In the sweet bye and bye
We shall meet on that beautiful shore.

We shall sing on that beautiful shore,
The melodious songs of the blest.
And our spirits shall sorrow no more
Not a sigh for the blessing of rest.

To our bountiful Father above,
We shall offer the tribute of praise,
For the glorious gift of His love,
And the blessings that hallow our days.

Now let us contrast the respective deaths of the good and the bad man. That of the good man we have already seen. Seen his resignation, his happiness and his peace. The day of retribution for the bad man has now come. He is prostrated on his bed of sickness, lying there uneasily and in great fear. He knows he will never leave that bed again alive. He is now forced to look at himself as he is—a wretched, miserable sinner. He looks back upon his past life, given up as it has been to the world and to the accumulation of money and property. And they are great. But they have been obtained at a fearful sacrifice—the loss of his own soul. Been obtained by robbing the helpless and unsuspecting. As his dread hour draws nigh, he writhes in agony, and cries aloud for help. In his half unconscious state he sees his victims standing and pointing their fingers of scorn at him, who tell him of his dreadful doom. He has no kind friends to sympathize with him or to smoothe his pillow or to speak a word of comfort or hope. His body is racked with pain, and his mind is consumed with agony and fear. He hears the roar of the dark, rushing waters, which soon will bear him to eternal misery. He now asks for life, that he may make atonement for his many sins; that he may make restitution to those he has so ruthlessly robbed. But it is too late, and he dies as he has lived, a bad, selfish, wicked man. And there is no one to do him honor, no one to say a good word in his favor. Even his relatives, those who will share his possessions among them, despise and hate him. He is gone, and the curses of the poor and helpless go with him. Such is the end of the bad man. Look at the contrast between the two, the good and the bad, and say which is to be preferred. Look once more, and take warning.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

The Baseball Scores- Other Items of Interest to Sportsmen.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.

The most exciting game that has been played on the home grounds was that with the Rochester team yesterday. At the close of the sixth inning the score was 6 to 3 in favor of the Torontos and a victory seemed assured. In the next inning however the visitors knocked the sphere all over the grounds and tallied eight runs before they were retired, thus giving them a lead of two runs, the Torontos fortunately getting in three runs in the same inning. Neither team scored in the eighth, and with two men out in the ninth and no one on the bases the prospect of Toronto securing the badly wanted runs was not enlivening. However they were got, and the game was won by the following score:

The Championship of Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 2.—Great interest centred in the lacrosse match here to-day for the championship of Manitoba between the 90th's team, the present champions, and the Winnipeg club. Three thousand people witnessed the game, which lasted two hours and a half and was the best ever played in the province. The match resulted in favor of the 90th Club by three goals to two. Over $5000 changed hands on the result. Tait Howe, late of the Torontos, played home for the 90th's. Fred Henback, at one time a member of the Independents, Montreal, played centre field for the Winnipegs.

Dempsey to Fight Reagan.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Jack Dempsey, the middleweight champion, and Johnny Reagan were to meet to-day and sign articles for a match for $1000, The Police Gazette's diamond belt and the middleweight championship of America, but Dempsey was ill and did not appear. His representative, Jake Stein, agreed with Reagan to fight according to The Police Gazette rules between Dec. 10 and 15, within 100 miles of this city. A deposit of $100 was made on each side. The winner is to receive all the receipts, the stakes, and pay all expenses.

The Proposition Meets with Favor.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—The proposition that the winning teams in the Eastern and Western lacrosse championship series should play for the Canadian championship meets with considerable favor here.

In Brief, And To The Point

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health & happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all those troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in gold." Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w34d

AN ABANDONED CAB.

Stolen from Hamilton and Found at Bronte—A Toronto Man Shot.

HAMILTON, Sept. 2.—Last Monday night Hackman Thomas Connell left his hack and horses for a few minutes on the corner of Caroline and Barton streets, and when he went back for them they had disappeared. It was Wednesday before they turned up. The hack was found on the lake shore near the Village of Bronte, close to the water's edge. The pole had been slipped, and lay underneath the vehicle. The horses had been turned loose, and wandered into John Riggs' stable, quite near the spot where they were unhitched. In the hack were found, among other things, the photograph of a handsome and elegantly-dressed young lady of Hamilton, a pair of lady's prunella gaiters, a pair of lady's rubbers, a man's white shirt, an empty bottle and a black silk parasol with a broken handle. The Oakville Star publishes, under glaring headlines, a sensational account of the discovery of the hack, and intimates that "a single or a double murder" might have occurred. It is not as bad as that. A party of night-birds on a spree merely took possession of the hack for the fun of the thing, and were probably afraid to return to the city with it for fear of the consequences.

On Thursday, while drunk, William Waybrant, who says he belongs to Ayr, tried to jump on a G.T.R. train while it was going at the rate of 30 miles an hour. He fell off the platform uninjured and was taken into custody. This morning he was fined $10 and costs for trespass.

About noon to-day the engine of the train from Hamilton on the Hamilton and Dundas Street Railway left the track and plunged into the ditch. It was badly wrecked. Nobody was hurt except a young Toronto man named Bartram who jumped out of the train and had one of his arms injured. A force of men was immediately set to work to clear the track. A side track was built up to the engine, it having been found impossible to move it on to the main track. The whole damage is to the engine, which is injured to the extent of several hundred dollars.

THE PARADIS CASE.

The Forged Check is Not Produced and the Charge Fails.

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—The celebrated Paradis forgery case was settled in Aylmer to-day by the dismissal of the case by the magistrate. It will be remembered that when Hon. Mr. McShane was examined last week he promised that if he could find the check, the endorsation on which it was charged Father Paradis had forged, he would send it to the court. To-day a check was produced, but Mr. Foran, counsel for the prosecution, declared it was not the check in question. The check produced, he said, was for works in the Township of Egan, while the check required was for works in the Township of Aumond. Mr. McShane had not fulfilled his agreement to send the check to him (Foran) or the court.

Mr. Ayler contended that the check produced was the one referred to in Trembly's evidence, and as it did not bear out the charge the case against Father Paradis fell to the ground.

Mr. Foran said there was another check, that referred to in Trembly's evidence, and it had not been produced.

After a long discussion by the lawyers, the magistrates decided that no forgery had been proved, as no forged check had been produced, and therefore dismissed the case.

ENTICED FROM HOME.

A Toronto Girl Saved From Shame by the Detroit Police.

DETROIT, Sept. 2.—Mary Griffin, 16 years old, arrived in Detroit from Toronto last night and asked Officer McNamara to be directed to her sister's boarding-house, naming one of the most notorious resorts in the city. The officer took the girl to the Central Station, where Sergeant High questioned her and learned that her sister had induced her to come to Detroit. She was horror-stricken when she learned the character of the house. She was turned over to the "Open Door" Society.

Manitoba Favored.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 2.—The Government observatory gives the rain fall for the five months, ending with August, 1887, at 10.60 inches, against 6.24 in 1885 and 8.02 in 1886, showing that the drought which was so general throughout the Western States this season did not extend to Manitoba.

A Short Detention.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Cunard steamer Samaria, which left Liverpool on Aug. 31 for Boston with 1000 passengers, returned to Queenstown with machinery disabled, and after being repaired proceeded on her voyage at midnight.

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner of Neebing, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system he has ever taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w34d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

The Salvationists' Anniversary.

A Big Time at the Opera House—The Work in Quebec.

The "heterogeneous and cosmopolitan" meeting in the Opera House last night was attended by the biggest crowd the building has seen for a long time. The spacious hall was simply jammed full. Previous to the meeting a street parade, the largest of the kind ever seen here, was held fully 200 being in line. Lindsay band led the march, which included all officers and a great many soldiers of this district, and a number of army celebrities. Several transparencies, inscribed in true Salvation Army style, added novelty to the parade, which was watched interestedly by hundreds of people who lined the streets. The meeting was manifestly to aid the cause among the French Canadians, a "French contingent" being present. Commissioner Coombs led the meeting, and spoke of the persecutions encountered by the Army in Quebec. He vividly described the recent attack upon their procession by a mob in the city of Quebec, exhibiting a large four-pound stone which a ruffian threw at one of their lassies. He added afterwards that since that cowardly wholesale assault four of the ringleaders of the mob had died sudden and horrible deaths, and that a fifth, in the act of throwing a missile at the Army soldiers, was stricken with appoplexy and died. That, he said, was the vengeance of God. Just before he left there, said the Commissioner, an order had been paid for 2,375 new panes of glass, which were necessary to replace the ones smashed during the riots. Lieut. Grant sang some pretty songs, in good voice, at intervals, accompanied by the "boy bugler," who plays like a veteran. Mr. Wm. Gooderham, of Toronto, delivered an address, laudatory of the Salvation Army, relating his experience in connection with it. He gave the Army every praise for their courageous and disinterested efforts on behalf of evangelization the world over. Capt. Chapoos, of Quebec, addressed the meeting in French, which was interpreted by Capt. Simcoe, detailing her experience as a Salvationist in Quebec,

GLORYING IN THE PERSECUTIONS

she endured for her Master's sake. Capt. Simcoe also spoke, making an urgent appeal to the people for funds to aid the cause in Quebec, where among two million French Canadians there were but seven girls to tell them the tidings of Salvation. They were meeting with great success, she said, but more laborers were required. These were forthcoming, and now only funds were wanted to support them. The two Quebec representatives took their stand at the door to receive gifts from the audience as they were leaving the hall. Holy Ann next took the floor. She is a very sprightly old lady, with shrunken face and form, toothless mouth and gray hair, yet as agile as a maiden of 16. Her "experience" recital was accompanied by all the gestures (and more two) of the politial stump speaker, jumping up and down, bowing to the ground, rushing frantically from one side of the stage to the other and gesticulating wildly, her arms working like the fans of a windmill, all the while taking rather incoherently at a rate that, but for the frequent interuptions of the audience, who could scarce restrain their demonstrations, would have puzzled the best stenographer in the world. When she wished to become particularly impressive she would stop short, and, bending slightly forward, energetically in the face of Adjutant Bolton, to the alarm of that officer and great danger to his nose. He dodged back once or twice, just in time, apparently, to escape a vigorous whack, on which occasions the audience would manifest its appreciation of the scene vociferously. Commissioner Coombs urged the audience to listen to her words and never mind her "eccentricities", but to no avail. The Commissioner stated that Holy Ann, (of Toronto) was one of the greatest wonders of the Army. When she was converted she could not read a word; now she can read the Bible, but no other book. Any volume but the Bible would be as Greek to her. The meeting was afterwards brought to a close by singing and prayer.

SHAKE HER FIST

Slaughtered a Bear.

A bear was killed in the township of Methuen, Peterborough County, on Monday last says the Herald, the slayer being Mr. Aaron Post, a resident of that settlement. The animal was a very large one, and had a beautiful glossy coat. He was shot on what is known as "Old Sam's Lake," a little sheet of water that is not often frequented. Mr. Post was paddling quietly along in a canoe when he heard a noise in the bushes near him, and raising his rifle in readiness for action, he soon got sight of the bear, and killed him with one ball.

Phœnix of Brooklyn.

A Solid and Sound Financial Institution Among those with the Canadian Fire Monitoring Companies specified.

Insurance, of New York, Aug. 18th, 1887, says:—

"For the space of five months there have been rumors to the effect that the Phœnix Insurance Company was undergoing an examination at the hands of the Insurance Department of the State of New York. Occasionally, dire results were predicted. Something had gone wrong, it was said, things had been covered up, the big company had a skeleton in one of its vaults, and the skeleton would soon walk out. There have been instances, we regret to say, when these statements, made with a peculiar wagging of the head, indicated the wish father to the thought; but rarely, however, let us say, to the honor of the profession. Harm cannot come to one of great companies without harm to all.

"Well, the report is out and no death's head appears. And by the way, let us inquire right here how it happened that on the very day the report was filed at Albany, copies in pamphlet form were sown broadcast all over the country? Was it done by that watchful guardian of the public interest, the New York Insurance Department, and if so, what was the object and who paid the bills?"

"No, there is no skeleton. For more than five months the examiners have been at work and what have they discovered? They have gone over every scrap of account, examined every form of security at the home office and at the offices of the general agencies, and as a result of their patient toil they make out that the assets of the company on the thirty-first of last December amounted to $5,307,000, or about $76,000 less than the company's statement made at that time. Now it is perfectly safe to say that if the company had been allowed to put in certain assets, that in ordinary business affairs would be considered perfectly good, there would appear no shrinkage whatever. There are the farm notes for instance, amounting to something like $900,000, which Mr. Tarbox, Commissioner for the State of Massachusetts, insisted on putting into the schedule last year; these would have made a different showing; and there were the balances due from agencies more than three months due, these were considered no account.

'These accounts were due from agents of repute, and we believe they were well secured in every instance, the agent pushing for business incurring the liability by giving time in the payment of premiums. One item of $26,000 on general agency account for the last month in the year is carried over by the company, owing to the impossibility of getting it into its statement, and the examiners refuse to admit it. But suppose we should admit that in a business where over five millions of premiums are collected in a single year it should turn out that errors in bookkeeping to the amount of $76,000 had been discovered? This certainly would not prove to be a very terrifying sort of a skeleton.

"But the capital of the company on the first of last January, according to the examiners, was impaired to the extent of $97,959, at a time when the company estimated its surplus to exceed half a million dollars. How does this come about? The examiners inform us that they found it necessary to add to the liabilities the sum of $200,373 on unearned fire and inland premiums; and $176,929 on marine premiums unearned, and sundry other items. In other words the shrinkage seems to have been brought about by vigorously scaling down the company's assets, and straining a point to mark up its liabilities.

"Very well, let us accept the report of the examiners, and give them credit for having done their duty intelligently and faithfully. What is the result? What is the status of the Phœnix Insurance Company to-day, for that is the all important point? The summing up amounts to this. Within a period of six years the company, having increased its premium income from two and a half to five millions of dollars, finds its capital stock impaired on the first day of last January to the amount of $97,959; and during the first six months of the year when all companies have been doing a losing business, owing to the enormous fire loss throughout the country, it has been a heavy loser, insomuch that the insurance department judges its capital stock to be impaired to the amount of something over four hundred thousand dollars at the present time. Is there anything so very serious in all this? Could it be that the self interest of men who own the million dollars of stock of the company would allow this deficiency, which is at best but nominal, to hinder the standing and the continued growth of the company? Perhaps this statement is best answered by saying that the directors of the Phœnix met the day after the examiners' report was filed and agreed to assess the stock to the full amount required to make it good in the eyes of the law.

"We have said that the impairment of the capital of the Phœnix is nominal, and so it is, as everybody knows who knows anything about insurance. The reserve required by the State of New York, the highest known, one-half of the gross premium on risks running one year with a corresponding ratio on time risks, is purely arbitrary. Fire insurance is not an exact science, the element of guess is all through it, and an honest management with capital behind it, tested by time, is the better guarantee. The Phœnix Insurance Company has stood like a rock for thirty-four years. It has been tested. It passed unscathed through the fiery furnaces of Chicago and Boston. It pushes boldly for business, and makes some enemies, but it is honest and pays, and means to go on paying. It may make mistakes, but everybody makes mistakes. Its loss ratio for ten years past shows to-day six per cent. less than the average of companies doing business. The examiners figure its reserve on fire premiums at $3,494,651, and this represents a plant with a marketable value exceeding $800,000. Not only the plant but the good name of a big insurance company has money value. If a patent medicine is worth a million simply because it has been advertised, how about an insurance company that has pressed its way into every nook and corner of the land until its name is a household word? No, the only trouble with the Phœnix is that it has been doing too much business. If a merchant were to increase his annual sales from two and a half millions to five millions in the space of six years he would require an enormous increase of capital compared with which the shortage of the Phœnix is a mere bagatelle. The company is all right and sound to the very core. And the little folks who have been doing their best to injure it are not agoing to be happy."

The Investigator, Chicago, says:—

"The retirement of the Phœnix," said Mr. D. B. Warner, of the Phœnix of London, "would be in the nature of a calamity. Those Eastern newspapers seem to be in a feverish condition just now, and if given half a chance would set afloat all kinds of foolish rumors regarding the business in general. The retirement of the Phœnix would give them such an opportunity. Moreover, the plain truth is that the Phœnix has such a valuable plant that they really can't afford to lose it, nor can the business community at large. I am, therefore, pleased at the report that the company's directors have decided to make good the alleged impairment and continue in business as before. Let us hope that the report is true."

J. W. Barley, General Agent of the Company says:

"Within twenty-four hours after notice was received from the superintendent of insurance of the State of New York of the impairment of our capital, our Board of Directors met and unanimously resolved to call upon the stock-holders to make good the impairment.

"Our Board at its meeting decided to at once discontinue the Marine Department, and in future to confine our business strictly to Fire and Inland, in regard to the latter, permit me to say the result for a series of years, shows conclusively that there has been a large profit in it.

"The Company is sound and solvent and will retain the leading place it always held in insurance circles.

"Thirty-four years of honorable dealing and prompt payment of just and equitable losses warrants us in seeking your renewed efforts to obtain for the Company our usual full share of the desirable risks in your territory, and we fully believe that in a very short time we shall with the assistance of our established Agencies, be able to show a large surplus, as our Fire and Inland business has always been profitable."

All Wrong.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Peterborough is evidently jealous of the prominence that the Bay of Quinte District Exhibition has attained. The papers of that town never refer to it. It is big enough to get along without their assistance." The inference is all wrong. The idea of Peterborough being jealous of any Belleville institution! The thing is absurd—as well be jealous of the Lindsay Central. And it is simply because the Bay of Quinte show is not possessed of half the importance the Intelligencer wishes to convey that the Peterborough papers, and in fact all other district papers either never refer to it at all, or in a merely cavalier way—"mere mention", as it were

THE SEIZURE OF SEALERS.

COMPENSATION MAY BE DEMANDED FOR THE OWNERS AND CREWS.

A Deputation at Ottawa in Behalf of the Niagara Central Railway—The Government Not Prepared to Arm the Militia Force With Martini Rifles.

OTTAWA, Sept. 4.—Before Hon. Mr. Thompson left Victoria a conference took place between the Minister of Justice and the members of the Provincial Government of British Columbia in regard to the Behring's Sea seizures. The Government urged the importance of taking steps to secure compensation to the owners and crews of the seized sealing schooners, and pointed out the fact that it was as necessary to have British war vessels in Behring's Sea to protect British interests as it was on the Atlantic seaboard. It is understood that Hon. Mr. Thompson's assurances were satisfactory to the Government.

It is currently rumored in official circles that the Behring's Sea matter will form one of the subjects of reference to the forthcoming fishery commission.

The Niagara Central.

Yesterday a deputation, consisting of Messrs. Blair and Shields of Toronto, and Capt. Beeton and E. A. Smyth of St. Catharines arrived in the city with the intention of waiting on Hon. John Henry Pope and Mr. Page, C.E., with reference to the right of way over a portion of Government property on the line of the Niagara Central Railway. Owing to the absence of the Minister the deputation were unable to present their case. They speak with certainty of the construction of the road right through to Toronto from the Niagara Falls. Already seven miles of track have been laid between the Falls and Thorold, and the finances of the company are in such a condition that it is thought possible to complete a connection with Toronto in the course of a few months.

Brain Food for J.P.'s.

About 17,000 copies of the compendium of the criminal laws of the Dominion, compiled from the revised statutes, are being sent out by the Queen's printer to the Justices of the Peace throughout the Dominion.

Really Can't Afford It.

The deputation appointed at the competitors' meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association to wait on Sir Adolphe Caron and urge the adoption of the Martini-Henry rifle as the arm of the militia force did not wait on the Minister yesterday as was expected. Sir Adolphe stated in conversation with your correspondent yesterday that it would cost half a million dollars at least to re-arm the Canadian volunteers, and as the Martini is considered by the authorities as by no means the ne plus ultra of military rifles it would be better to wait until a more perfect weapon has been discovered.

Low Water in the Ottawa.

Anxiety is now beginning to be manifested by mill owners at the fact that the water in the Ottawa River has probably never been known to be so low as at present. Within the last few days the Eddy Company have had a number of teams in the river engaged in drawing the logs to the sluiceway, as there is not sufficient water to float them. Should the drought continue some of the Chaudiere mills will have to shut down.

Hon. J. A. Chapleau is expected home about the end of next month.

THE FISHERIES COMMISSION.

Maine Fishermen Not Disposed to Favor the Proposition.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 3.—The Portland fishing firms are somewhat anxious over the recent move of Secretary Bayard and disposed to be bitter. They hold that the President has failed to use the ample retaliatory powers given him by Congress, and feel that Secretary Bayard is now where he was at first, afraid of England, willing to yield to Canada and still holding to his idea of a commission.

He is Not a High Jointer.

NORWICH, Conn., Sept. 4.—The Hon. David Wells denies the rumor that he has been selected one of the Joint High Commissioners to represent America on the fisheries negotiations.

Why Bismarck Favors Monopoly.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—The discussion of the spirit monopoly has led to the disclosure of the fact that Prince Bismarck is concerned in distilling on a large scale. He owns distilleries at Varzin, Mindov and Wendisch-Ruddiger, the annual output of which is estimated at 600,000 litres.

The Captain Denies the Charge.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Sept. 3.—The schooner Senator Frye arrived to-day from North Bay. Capt. Holliard says, regarding the alleged attempt of the Canadian cutter to capture his vessel for fishing inshore, that there was no truth in the story. He left Souris, P.E.I., on Sunday, where three cutters were lying and heard nothing about the contemplated seizure.

Gold From Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—The steamship Alameda which arrived to-day from Sydney and Honolulu, brought coin to the amount of £190,000, of which £90,000 were sent to the Bank of British North America in payment of salmon shipped to the colonies

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

SAFE IN A DEBTOR'S CELL.

THE EX-BANK PRESIDENT TAKES HIS TRIALS COOLLY.

Unable to Secure Bondsmen He Taylor is Lodged in the Jail, where He is Known as No. 736—The Discharge of the Capias to Be Argued To-Day.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The arrest of Henry Taylor, ex-president of the Bank of London, continues to be a fertile topic of discussion. Yesterday morning his counsel, Mr. T. H. Purdom, of Messrs. Parke, Mills & Purdom, barristers, applied to Judge Davis to have the capias on which his client was arrested set aside. This the Judge refused, and at 4 p.m. Mr. Taylor, who had, in the meantime, failed to secure bail, was taken to prison and lodged in the debtors' cell. He took the matter somewhat coolly, but evidently winced when undergoing the customary search.

Mr. Taylor passed Sunday quietly in jail, a few friends and his counsel calling to see the prisoner, who is now known as No. 736. Mr. R. M. Meredith has been summoned to appear before the judge to-morrow morning in chambers to show cause why the capias in Taylor's case should not be dismissed.

ANOTHER FIRE IN MONTREAL.

The Hardware Establishment of H. & S. H. Thompson a Complete Loss.

MONTREAL, Sept. 4.—About 11 o'clock last night a fire broke out in H. & S. H. Thompson's extensive hardware establishment in St. Sulpice-street. The fire must have been going on for some time before the alarm was given, as when the brigade arrived the whole building was in flames from the cellar to the top flat. The brigade soon had nearly a dozen streams playing. The flames extended to the hardware establishment of Wm. Darling & Co. on the north side, but through the energy of the fire brigade were confined to the top flat, but serious damage was done to the stock by water. The premises of John Sterling & Co., on the south side, were also slightly damaged by water.

The fire raged furiously and was not got under control until about 2 o'clock this morning, when the roof of Thompson's building fell in, burying Vincent King, a fireman of No. 1 Station, in the ruins. King was at once extricated by his comrades and taken to the general hospital, where he was progressing favorably to-day.

H. & S. H. Thompson & Co.'s establishment was completely gutted, the loss amounting to between $70,000 and $80,000, covered by insurance. The building is owned by William Darling & Co., and is also insured. The damage to Darling & Co.'s establishment will be about $30,000, also covered by insurance. The details of the insurance could not be learned to-day.

WITH A REVOLVER.

How a Constable Executed a Warrant in Tamworth.

NAPANEE, Sept. 3.—Some time ago Henry Roach, who keeps the McKim Hotel in Tamworth, was brought before the Police Magistrate and fined $50 and costs for an infraction of the Scott Act. In due course an execution was issued, but no effects being found a warrant of commitment to the county jail was issued and entrusted to Constable Matt. Wormworth for execution. Mr. Wormworth one day last week proceeded to defendant's hotel to make the arrest. Here he found a lot of sympathisers of Roach, who hooted and jeered at him, uttering such cries as "kill him," "lynch him," etc. Nothing daunted, the constable proceeded up-stairs in search of his man, and was met by Roach, who struck him over the head with a chair. Wormworth then drew his revolver, and as Roach attempted to repeat the blow the revolver was discharged, whether by the constable or by the chair striking it is not known. The bullet struck Roach and glanced across his abdomen, cutting a groove of skin off. The excitement became so great after the shot was fired that the constable had to fight his way through Roach's sympathisers with his revolver and leave without his prisoner. Roach was not seriously injured, but the experience cooled him down, and he quietly paid his fine and costs. The affair has created considerable excitement in the usually quest village.

A Statue of a Priest Unveiled.

DUBLIN, Sept. 4.—A life-size statue of Father Cahill, a Catholic priest whose body was brought from America six years ago, was unveiled in Glasnevin Cemetery to-day.

The Entire Crew Lost.

ST. PIERRE, Miquelon, Sept. 3.—The schooner St. Pierre was capsized in the gale of Aug. 20 on the Banks, and her crew of sixteen men are supposed to have been lost.

THE TROUBLE WITH THE UTES.

An Agent Who Blames the Indian Department for the Outbreak.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 3.—A despatch from Meeker, Sept. 2, says: Indian agent Byrnes arrived from the agency yesterday afternoon. He states that a battle began just as he commenced paying the Uncompahgres their annuity money. Couriers began to rush in and a string of them were flying between the agency and Colonow's camp. He kept on paying the money, thus keeping the Indians good natured at the agency. He says the Indians have not found out yet that several Utes were killed, and at present they think they have only the loss of a papoose. Though several of their friends are missing they are supposed to be safe. The exact boundary line of the reservation has never been accurately established, though the Indian Department has paid for the service of erecting monuments on the eastern boundary. According to the agent's statement the Indian Department is to blame for this trouble.

LIVELY TIMES EXPECTED.

The Chicago Underwriters Boycott an Offending Company.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—A formal notice boycotting the Northwestern National Insurance Company was issued by the Chicago Underwriters' Association yesterday. The boycott is the result of the Northwestern's withdrawal from the Underwriters' Association. This withdrawal was at the dictation of P. D. Armour, who is a director of the company. His action was caused by the Underwriters attempting to enforce against him a rule that all property must be insured for at least 80 per cent. of its value. The contest between Armour and the Underwriters is exciting much interest in insurance circles and live times are looked for.

Imports of Specie at New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The imports of specie at this port last week amounted to $2,712,663, almost entirely gold, of which $466,680 came from South America and $2,238,663 from Europe. The exports were $870,976, of which $10,000 was in gold consigned to South American ports, and $860,976 silver. Of this $352,100 went to Europe and $508,876 to South America. The imports of merchandise for the week were $7,761,227, of which $2,028,999 were dry goods.

THE MEDICAL CONGRESS.

A Large Attendance of Doctors Expected at the Washington Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The disciples of Æsculapius are marshaling in great force here to attend the International Medical Congress, which opens on Monday next and continues in session throughout the coming week. Already about 2000 doctors from a score of foreign countries and every State and Territory in the Union have registered their names with the general secretary, and many more recruits for this army of doctors are expected by Monday morning. The officers of the congress have been busily engaged for a week past perfecting arrangements for the week's work before the congress. To-night everything is reported in readiness, with every indication that this congress will surpass all its predecessors, not only in point of members in attendance but in the character of its work. One of the grand objects of the gathering is to promote research in medical science by bringing the doctors together. It will be a sort of medical exchange where the new ideas of physicians from all over the world and the results of their experiences will be brought, tested, and upon receiving approval will be put out as currency.

Dr. N. S. Davis of Chicago, who has been named by the Executive Committee for president of the congress, says the papers to be read before the various sections will be of great value.

A CHINESE BANKING SCHEME.

A Delegation on Its Way to Philadelphia to Negotiate for Capital.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—At the Grand Pacific Hotel to-day is an Imperial Envoy from China en route for Philadelphia to negotiate with a syndicate of Philadelphia capitalists for the purpose of establishing a system of American banks in the Celestial Kingdom. The delegation consists of Count Eugene D. Mitkiewiez, Mr. Ma Kie Chung, a mandarin, Mr. Li, Mr. Tsu, S. A. Stern, F. B. Rae and E. S. Barberie. The two latter gentlemen are electricians and have secured for the syndicate the exclusive telephone franchise for the kingdom. Wharton Barker of Philadelphia is said to be the head of the syndicate. The main banking house will be located at Shanghai, with branches in all the principal cities. Mr. Stern, who has conducted the negotiations, says there will also be a great deal of Chinese capital invested in the prodigious undertaking. It will be in fact a national banking system, enjoying the special favor of the Imperial Government. Mr. Stern says, however, that Jay Gould will have nothing to do with the enterprise. Most of the American capital will be furnished by Philadelphia gentlemen.

HAWAII TRANQUIL.

An Active Political Canvass in Progress Preparatory for the Elections.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—The steamship Alameda, from Sydney, Australia, having touched at Honolulu Aug. 27, arrived here at noon to-day. Affairs in the Hawaiian Kingdom continue to remain tranquil. An active political canvass is being made for the election under the new constitution which will occur Sept. 12. The nominees for the new House of Nobles and House of Representatives are nearly all Americans or Englishmen. A banquet was given by the Honolulu Rifles at their armory on Aug. 25, to which the King was invited, but sent his regrets. In a speech made at the banquet the American and English rulers were toasted, but the health of the King did not bring any response.

The British Fleet Sails for Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 3.—Official advices were received here to-day from New Zealand to the effect that the British squadron had received definite orders to sail for Honolulu and were supposed to carry explicit instructions relating to the payment of the recently negotiated British loan. The new Hawaiian Government has decided to pay the loans, but minus the excessive commissions demanded for negotiating the loan.

Avenging the Murdered Missionaries.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—By the steamer Alameda, which arrived yesterday, it is learned that the expedition in New Guinea, despatched to inquire into and punish the perpetrators of the recent massacre of missionaries and native Christians at the mouth of the Heath River, attacked a Moveavi village and had a fight with the natives, several of whom were killed and a number wounded. One of the attacking party was wounded by an arrow, but not seriously. At a subsequent expedition the native fled and their village was burned.

Twenty-Four Lives Lost.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The ship Falls of Benar of Glasgow, bound from Hamburg to Calcutta with a cargo of salt, foundered off Yarmouth, the cargo having shifted. Five of the crew were rescued and twenty-four drowned, most of whom were Germans and Swedes.

A Toronto Man Drowned.

PORT HURON, Aug. 29.—Saturday evening Frank Goodwin of Toronto, a waiter on the steamer United Empire, was walking along the dock in Sarnia when he struck his head on a projecting piece of lumber piled on the dock, stunning him so that he fell into the river. He did not rise to the surface.

Cholera at Malta.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—There were four new cases of cholera and four deaths at Malta during the past twenty-four hours.

THE GATHERING AT ENNIS

TEN THOUSAND PERSONS ATTEND THE LEAGUE MEETING.

The Police and Soldiers Put an End to the Proceedings, the Crowd Quietly Disperses and the Leaders Retake Themselves to a Hotel.

DUBLIN, Sept. 4.—Ten thousand persons assembled to-day at Ennis to attend the meeting of the Irish National League. The police last night took possession of the Hill of Ballycorse, where it was intended to hold the meeting. At 2 o'clock the procession, enlivened by twelve bands of music and including Messrs. Timothy, Sullivan, Dillon, Cox, Sheehy, Wm. O'Brien and Phillip Stanhope, all members of the House of Commons, and several priests moved towards Ballycorse Hill, the approaches to which were guarded by soldiers and police. The procession, finding its further progress barred, halted in a field, and Messrs. Sullivan, Stanhope and O'Brien made speeches from their carriages.

A troop of hussars, headed by Col. Turner, divisional magistrate, rode up to where the procession had halted, and Col. Turner ordered the meeting to disperse within five minutes.

Mr. Stanhope handed Col. Turner a copy of the resolution adopted by the meeting, claiming Home Rule, declaring adherence to Mr. Parnell, thanking the Liberal party, pledging resistance to the proclamation of the league and denouncing land grabbing. Mr. Stanhope declared that the proceedings of the meeting were legal and that if a collision occurred between the people and the troops he would hold Col. Turner responsible.

Col. Turner replied that he was bound to execute his orders. After a parley the procession returned to Ennis and O'Brien addressed the crowd in O'Connell-square. The soldiers and police again appearing, the procession passed on to a hotel, which the leaders entered. The crowd then dispersed quietly.

Gladstone Answers Argyle.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Mr. Gladstone has written a reply to the Duke of Argyle's recent attack. He says: "The Duke of Argyle is an old friend whose attacks I prefer bearing silently. I do not excuse tyranny, but I wish to have the National League deals with legally and not by the arbitrary decision of the Viceroy or Chief Secretary for Ireland."

QUOTATIONS CUT OFF.

The Chicago Board of Trade Suspends Communication With St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—No Chicago quotations were received at the Merchants' Exchange here on the opening of business this morning, and when it was ascertained that the telegraph wires were not at fault much comment and enquiry was excited. Later a despatch came from A. M. Wright of the Chicago Board, to President Gainie, saying: "We temporarily suspend your quotations to observe results on Western and Southwestern bucket shops." This was regarded as saying the St. Louis Exchange was furnishing these bucket shops with Chicago quotations, and it aroused a good deal of indignation and caused much hard talk. The suspension had very little effect on the business of the board, however, as private messages immediately took the place of public despatches and there was scarcely a lull in trade. It is said that the exchange will take no action in the matter, but maintain a dignified silence, and will neither ask for an explanation nor for a renewal of the quotations.

A TIE ON THE TRACK.

A Watchful Engineer Prevents Another Wreck Near Chatsworth.

CHATSWORTH, Ill., Sept. 3.—An attempt was made to wreck the evening passenger train on the Illinois Central Railway yesterday evening by some miscreants placing a tie across the track at a point one-half mile south of this station in a cut and on a curve. The obstruction was noticed by the engineer just as the engine was about to strike it. The grade at this point being up hill and on a curve, enabled him to stop the train in a short distance, thereby preventing a serious accident.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1887.

THE PARTY OF THE FIRST PART IGNORED.

The reckless rule of the present Dominion Government has not only brought disaster and trouble to Canada at home, but it has humiliated her in Great Britian. Canada has been plunged into debt, her treasure has been wantonly wasted in corrupting the very people who provide it, misgovernment and maladministration have brought on two rebellions, and now tyrannical exercise of the power of disallowance, tyrannical disregard of the rights and interests of the province of Manitoba, and tyrannical insistence in maintaining the grinding monopoly of a railway corporation, which owes everything to the people of Canada, threaten to involve the country in another intestine disturbance. The government's misdeeds have destroyed confidence in the British mind of the trustworthiness of our Canadian statesmen to properly guard Canadian interests, as shown by the proposal to establish a joint fishery commission without asking the consent or even advice of the Canadian Government upon a subject in which Canada is directly and most largely interested. The news of the issue of a commission by the British Government was news as much to every member of the Canadian Government, as to the humblest reader of the cable despatches, announcing that fact. Our puissant and valiant Minister of Fisheries pleads ignorance of everything in connection with the new Fisheries Commission. This is a humiliating and lamentable fact. In a matter of the most vital importance to this Dominion, such as the sea fisheries of the maritime provinces, Canada has nothing to say. For the year ending December 31st 1886, the value of the fisheries of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Prince Edward Island amounted to $15,478,961—a sum singularly corresponding to the award of the Halifax Fisheries Commission of 1877. Yet with all this at stake, Canada's position is ignored, and on a joint Commission composed of five members, Canada, the most deeply interested party, is allowed only one representative, who will be in a helpless minority. The importance of whatever representations he may make will be gauged by the same sentiment which led to the ignoring of Canada, in instituting the Commission and appointing the British members. The Canadian member of the Commission will be treated as the fifth wheel to the coach. This comes of Canada being kept out of the power of making her own commercial treaties. If the principle which the Hon. Mr. Blake has so loyally and earnestly insisted upon, had been acquiesced in by the present government, Canada would not have been so cavalierly ignored. But to this pass has Tory misgovernment brought us, and greater evils are in store for a country that tolerates, under the diaphanous euphemism of an "administration," a clique of organized corruptionists and political self-seekers.

An Ottawa despatch from Toronto to one of the government organs in Ottawa states that the men who were endeavoring to organize a company to publish a new Tory newspaper have thrown up the job in disgust. The appeals made by Sir John Macdonald and other leading Tories for funds to start the new paper, have met with but a feeble response. Sir John subscribed for some stock himself, but the wealthy men of the party declined to follow suit. The Ottawa Free Press remarks:—"The manufacturers are "tired of being bled to furnish funds for the "Tory party, and unless the Canadian Pacific "Co company or some big contractors furnish the sinews of war, under a promise to "be 'recouped' from the federal treasury, "the Empire will not be started." The willingness of the local faithful who are said to have subscribed their little five hundreds, may be explained on the grounds that they were aware the raising of the wind was hopeless, and that they never would be "called" to pay a cent of their subscribed stock.

Few persons have a true idea of the vast extent of the East Indian portion of the British Empire. The results of the surveys and last census of India show that the area of the peninsula of Hindostan is 1,362,624 square miles and the population 253,891,821. Although immense tracts of country are annually cultivated, according to the most recent survey 10,000,000 acres of land suitable for cultivation have not as yet been ploughed. At the same time 120,000,000 of acres are returned as waste lands.

The hard coal found in the North west territories has been analyzed in San Francisco and contains 92 37 per cent. of combustible matter. It is what is termed a free burning anthracite coal averaging with the best Pennsylvania coal. It is good steam coal and excellent for house and domestic purposes, containing a remarkably low percentage of ash, and little sulphur. For some time it has been in practical use and has given satisfaction. If the Canadian Pacific Railway did not set so much store by its monopoly, we in Ontario might be using Canadian coal, giving employment to Canadian labourers, and saving money into the bargain, instead of developing American coal mining by importing Pennsylvania coal. But the last thing the government thinks of is the benefit of the Canadian labourer or the Canadian consuming public, so long as the monster monopoly it has originated, fostered and still fosters, places its demands upon it. It is a sad truth that the C.P.R. is the real government of Canada and the appparent government mere puppets in its hands. Sir George Stephen, knighted in recognition of the immense wealth he gobbled out of the public chest, or even Mr. Van Horne, could truthfully take to themselves the bombastic boast of the French king who said, l'etat c'est moi.

Cocaine, Iodform or Mercurials in any form is the treatment of catarrh or hay fever should be avoided as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is easily detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of acute and chronic cases, whereall other remedies have failed. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain, agreeable to use; Price 50 cents of druggists. eodw36

A lifetime of torture is often endured by the rheumatic. Their pangs may, however, be promptly relieved and the disease eradicated with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil which is, moreover, a swift and strong remedy for neuralgia, lame back, sores, bruises, frost bite, corns, excoriated nipples, inflamed breasts, liver complaint, and all affections of the breathing organs. w36

A Radical Change.

"I had got so bad with dyspepsia that I hardly cared whether I lived or not," says Frank A. Swan, of the Toronto Globe Office. Three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him, and he says, "it now seems a pleasure to live." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Berton, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medicine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

The International League Record.

Newark and Syracuse are making the fight for first place just now, but Toronto is getting to the front so rapidly that its rivals concede that it is a dangerous competitor. Rochester's and Buffalo's defeat Saturday sent Toronto into third place. Buffalo is not likely to improve its position as the team lacks pitchers. Here is the record to date.

In Brief. And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healthand happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I could recommend it to all that troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in gold." Tillie White, Mantownaing, Ont. 2w34d

A TANNERY BURNED.

A Destructive Fire at St. Henri, Que., on Saturday Morning.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—A large fire broke out in Frank Munday & Co.'s extensive tannery at St. Henri about 9 o'clock this morning. The fire spread with tremendous rapidity and the whole structure was in flames in a very few minutes. Its progress was aided by a stiff breeze which was blowing at the time and which was rapidly carried to the varnish shop and that, adding to the already fierce flames which were blazing over the entire area of the establishment, carried speedy and final destruction of the entire building. The flames also extended to the Bridge House, and that was very soon a thing of the past.

At 10 o'clock nothing remained of the factory but a shaft and smouldering wood. Fortunately no one was injured, as the factory was closed down last night for some repairs to the boiler. The machinery was very valuable and the stock on hand was large. The loss will probably amount to over $100,000. Passengers on the Central Vermont Railway train coming in this morning stated that there was great excitement on board when the fire was sighted, and this was increased when it became doubtful whether the train would be run through, as the blaze and heat were so great. However, a rapid dash was made, but the heat was so intense that even on the cars with the windows closed it had a scorching feeling on the face. The engineer and fireman were compelled to seek shelter under the sides of the cab, and even then they were slightly scorched. About 150 hands will be thrown out of employment.

A FIRE BRIGADE'S MUTINY.

The Bold Letter the Quebec Chief Sent to Sir Adolphe Caron.

QUEBEC, Sept. 3.—La Justice, one of the local National organs, publishes what purports to be a communication from Chief Dorval, of the Fire Brigade, having attached to it a letter to Sir Adolphe Caron, returning to that gentleman a check for $50 he had sent to the Quebec Fire Brigade as a mark of appreciation of their services at the late Citadel fire. The letter is translated as follows:

QUEBEC, Aug. 31.

M. LE MINISTRE,—I acknowledge receipt of a check for $50 which you have sent me as a recompense for services rendered by the fire brigade on the occasion of the conflagration which took place at the Citadel, and I have the honor of returning it herewith. My men are of the opinion, like myself, that if this is the measure of appreciation which you have of our services on that occasion, they are of little account in your esteem. Hence, in future, if similar circumstances offer they will consider it their duty to keep aloof. Evidently this appreciation of their services shows that in your mind they would have done better not to go out of their way and expose their lives. In a previous occasion one of my men lost his life in guarding the Federal property, and this one has left his widow without any means. Evidently if anyone had been killed at the Citadel fire his widow could rely only on the charity of the public for assistance. I do not wish further to have the reproach of having placed a poor family in misery for having rendered services to the Government, which are recognized in this manner. I have the honor to be, etc., PHILIAS DORVAL,

EMPEROR AND CZAR.

The German Monarch Will Not Meet the Russian at Konigsberg.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—Much diverse speculation over the meeting of Emperor William and the Czar will be checked by the announcement that the Emperor has abandoned his intention to go to Konigsberg. It was determined today, after a long consultation of his physicians, that instead of venturing to attend the army manœuvres it was urgent that the Emperor should return to Babelsberg. In accordance with this decision the Emperor and Empress and the Imperial Court will go to Babelsberg on Monday.

The abandonment of the Konigsberg program by the Kaiser has already created exaggerated pessimistic reports in reference to his condition, but the facts are that he is in his usual health, although he was somewhat shaken by his fall of Thursday.

The Hollandish Musical Festival.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 3.—The seventeenth Hollandish music festival was attended by 6000 singers, including societies from Germany and Belgium. Among the soloists was Minnie Hauk, who was the object of great ovations. The festival took the character of a dynastic demonstration for the King and Queen.

Alleged Train Wreckers Arrested.

They will be tried on Tuesday before Justice Town.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A Trip to Ireland.

Mr. John Sullivan's Summer Sanctuary on the "Cold Sod"—Renewing Old Acquaintanceships and Revisiting Old Haunts.

On the 24th May, 1887, Mr. John Sullivan, of Peterborough, after an absence from his native land of 26 years, again set his feet on the "cold sod" of Ireland. He left Peterborough on May 12th, arriving in Liverpool, after an uneventful voyage across the deep, nine days afterwards. Mr. Sullivan says he enjoyed the trip over the ocean immensely. Their passage was favored with excellent weather. He next crossed over to Dublin, reaching the beautiful Capital on May 24th. The Queen's Birthday was being celebrated there with all loyalty. A grand review of troops took place in Phoenix Park, which, Mr. Sullivan said, was the finest sight of the kind he had ever witnessed. He saw also the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland before whom the review took place. Mr. Sullivan then departed for the County of Tipperary, his birthplace, stopping first a short time at Tramore, then driving about the country seeing his many old friends who still lived there. The old house in which he was born still remained as in days of yore—as Mr. Sullivan himself puts it, "as nice a place as you would see between here and there." Among all his old acquaintances, the only one who recognized him was an old lady, with whom he had gone to school in boyhood's days. She knew him at first sight. Mr. Sullivan saw a large meadow which he remembers when he left the country, 26 years ago, was every year sown with hay, was still being raised the same crop, and had been all this time without change. After thoroughly satisfying his longing to re-visit the scenes of his early life, Mr. Sullivan visited a brother in Donegal County, where he stopped three weeks, afterwards going to Derry, from whence he sailed on the 19th of July, reaching Peterborough on the 29th.

Mr. Sullivan says that the summer in Ireland was as dry as in Canada, resulting in very light crops. There is not, however, very much tillage in the old country, the farmers going more into stock raising than grain, of which they raise barely enough to supply themselves. The Irish people were fond of questioning Mr. Sullivan regarding Canada, and he always gave them a favorable account. The farming community in Ireland, Mr. Sullivan says, are in fairly thrift circumstances, though there is great poverty in the cities and larger towns, and so far as he could see they were very much in need of assistance.

Mr. Sullivan reports the country to be very quiet, the Home Rule and other agitations being conducted in an orderly manner. He attended a Home Rule meeting at Ballingerry, under the auspices of Archbishop Croke, and says the whole populace are in favor of Home Rule and are trusting in Gladstone. The "plan of campaign", too, is upheld both by the tenants and landlords, to the great benefit of the former. In the county in which his brother lives it has had the effect of reducing the rents by over 100 per cent. He also visited some of the schools while there, and was much pleased with them.

Mr. Sullivan returned home delighted with his trip to the old country and to the scenes of his early life, the remembrance of which is treasured in his bosom, and cheered with the reflection that the tendency of public opinion in England is in favor of Home Rule, and that the day will soon dawn when a similar measure of self rule enjoyed by Canada will be conceded to Ireland.

Ashburnham Council.

The council met on Monday, the 29th August. Members all present. After routine, a by-law was passed to provide for levying the rates and taxes for county, village and school purposes for the year, viz:—County and village rate, 11½ mills; public school, rate 3½; separate school rate, 4 8/10. Several accounts were passed and ordered to be paid. On motion of Mr. Anderson, seconded by Mr. Wand, the Reeve and Mr. Calcutt were appointed a committee to arrange the account for use of the fire engine between the village and Peterborough.

Finest Sample of Poster Printing.

Lindsay Post:—From the job printing department of the Peterborough EXAMINER has been issued the finest sample of colored poster printing ever turned out in that town, and which would do credit to the specialist in that line of the larger cities. The poster is the announcement of the Peterborough Central fair, and worthily presents the attractions of that institution. Technically speaking, the work on the poster is well done, the colors clear and neatly laid on and the typographical execution excellent. The staff have done themselves credit.

Notice to the Workingmen.

The workingmen of Peterborough are requested to take notice that a meeting will be held in the Knights of Labor Hall, Water street, on Thursday evening, Sept. 8th to discuss matters relating to the working classes of the town. The subjects of discussion are of vital importance, and it is particularly requested that a large attendance of workingmen will be present at 8 o'clock sharp. This notice is issued by order of the committee.

The Tailors' Excursion.

Don't let anybody forget the Tailors' Excursion, per steamer Golden Eye, to Idyl Wild, on Thursday Sept. 8th. This excursion will be a most enjoyable one. Arrangements of the completest kind are completed to make it the best of the summer. The tailors always make a fit when they try—they are trying this time, and this excursion will be no exception. Tickets—ladies, 25 cents; gentlemen, 50 cents.

Gored by a Bull.

On Thursday last Wesley Urquhart, the 17-year-old son of Alex. Urquhart, of Udora, went to lead a bull to the back fields, when in some way the brute attacked and killed him. No one witnessed the dreadful occurrence, and the lad was not missed until late at night, when his body was found shockingly mangled. The animal had never previously shown any vicious tendency.

A Wind-Engine and Dairy Farm.

Johnston's Wind Engine—Why It Works and How it is made—Stothart Bros' Dairy Farm—Cattle Accommodation for 100 Head—A Fine Herd of Thoroughs and Grade Holsteins.

Away we go at a pace of twelve miles an hour, behind a rattling gray roadster! A few minutes among the thronging vehicles of George street and, presto, the corner is turned at the "Methodist Cemetery, and we are in the country—up hill and down dale. After driving about three miles over a hard, smooth highway, which the rain of the previous night had made dustless, the cool fresh breeze crisp in our faces, we reach the beautiful and thriving farmstead, the Dairy farm of the Messrs. Stothart Bros.—Thomas and James—in the township of Smith. But what has dairy farming to do with windmills? More than you think. We—that is a representative of the EXAMINER and Mr. Andrew Johnston—came out to the Stothart farm which Mr. Johnston, had just placed in position and got ready for work, on the summit of the extensive barns serving the premises.

Mr. Johnston's wind engine is a new idea or, rather, a new adaptation of mechanical appliances for the purpose of utilizing wind power for driving machinery, etc. The engine, under consideration, consists of two (driving) wheels twenty feet in diameter placed opposite each other and both geared to the same pinion, which is the medium of transmitting the power as desired. The two wheels are placed at the end of an axle opposite each other; when one wheel receives the force of the wind, it revolves and, the air passing through the interstices of the sails, is slightly deflected from its direct course, but in such a way, that it strikes of the opposite wheel, which revolves in a contrary direction to its fellow) with almost, if not equal force, thus giving double power. One great advantage in this engine is the gain in power secured by the means employed of keeping the sail wheels to the wind, that is, the wheels, (on this engine 9 feet in diameter.) In the single wheel mills, regulated by a vane, this device allows the sails to vary from 1 to 30 degrees from the direct wind line, involving a loss of power of from 1 to 75 per cent. This loss is impossible in Johnston's wind engine; the regulating wheels hold the sails directly in face of the wind line and sensitively respond to every change of direction of the wind. Thus the maximum of power is always gained. Though it requires an

yet a 3 mile breeze will run this ponderous engine for pumping purposes. This wind engine is, besides self-regulating; it is provided with an "automatic cut-off" consisting of a weight operating a lever by which the sails are set full face to the wind, at an angle or on edge according to the speed of the wind. With a moderate wind a certain speed (such as is desired to keep up) is obtained and this speed is not increased by a higher wind, which closes the sails causing them to present a smaller surface. Another good feature of Johnston's Wind Engine is the great strength of its parts. The iron work on the one placed on Messrs. Stothart Bros' barns, weighs 3,600 lbs and the greatest care has been exercised to adapt the actual strength to the possible strain in every instance. A guarantee of the unusual excellence of the iron work is that it is made at the establishment of Mr. Peter Hamilton, and is of the VERY BEST MATERIAL AS WELL AS MAKE.

This engine, with its 20-feet wheels, is of ten horse power in an 18-mile wind—the standard of power of wind mills—a force of wind which is available two-thirds of the year, except during the months of July and August, the least windy of our months.

Last September Mr. Johnston began making the patterns for the iron work, and since that he has completed three engines, one for himself, one for a farmer near Rice Lake, and one for Messrs. Stothart. The latter has stood the test admirably, and answers every recommendation of its maker and every requirement of Messrs. Stothart, who are delighted with its capacity and the excellence of its operation. On Friday last, for the benefit of the "agricultural editor", the wind engine was belted to one of and, though the wind was blowing at from only seven to ten miles per hour, the thresher was driven at full speed and did the work which it previously required the power furnished by eight horses and an ordinary horse-power.

HOW THE WIND MILL AFFECTS THE FARM.

This is an important matter to the Messrs. Stothart to have this power. All their straw is cut to be fed to stock, and all their coarse grain is consumed on the premises. For chopping the grain a grain crusher is also attached to the wind engine. This chopper occupies the story above the granary, and on the same flat is a store house where the grain is elevated and flows by spouts to the hopper of the crusher and then falls to bins below, whence it is conveyed to the lower or basement story, which underlies the whole barns

AND CONTAINS THE CATTLE BYRES.

The cut straw can also be lowered direct into the feed aisle of the byres, where there is stabling for 56 head of stock. There are three rows of stalls, two of which contain 20 stalls and another 16; there are, besides, two box stalls, for cows with young calves. All the stock is tied up, and convenient feeding troughs are placed at the heads of the stock, and arrangements are on foot for having a supply of water in their stalls for winter use. Behind the stall is a wide passage, and in winter a sleigh, with double ends and dump-boxes, passes down this and the manure, as it accumulates, is placed in the boxes, drawn to the fields, and dumped in piles with the minimum of labor. Between the main rows of stalls is the feed aisle, where the cut straw and hay falls from the barn above. In the middle of this aisle is a narrow gauge tramway leading out of the byres across the barn yard to the boiler house, where the mill feed and roots are cooked. A large box, mounted on wheels, conveys the cooked food along this track to the front of the stalls as it is needed. This store house contains a store room above for storing mill feed, bran and middlings (about 25 tons of which is used yearly) and below is the root cellar with a capacity of 4,000 bushels of roots, (the amount consumed yearly by the stock,) principally mangolds. A crate made of slat work, is filled with roots, and raised by windlass, alongside the boiler in the next story, where side doors in the crate open and the roots are deposited in the boiler, cooked and conveyed to the stock. Alongside the boiler is a pump which supplies the water for cooking purposes.

The whole of the product of the farm is used for the stock besides what is bought from the mills. The Messrs. Stothart have and there are few more completely arranged dairy farms than theirs. They have 174 acres under cultivation and 400 acres devoted to grazing. Their farm is well watered, containing enough excellent water for all the cattle in Smith township, which is always accessible to stock. At present there are seventy-one milch cows "in commission." Men do all the milking and a woman is never seen in the byres except as a visitor or spectator. When the milk is drawn it is placed in deep cans surrounded by ice water. Thus the animal heat is all extracted from the milk before it is despatched for delivery in town.

The stock kept for milking purposes is

HIGH GRADE HOLSTEINS.

Besides the grade stock the farm can boast of the thoroughbred bull "Valpandus, L," two thoroughbred cows, a thoroughbred heifer and two thoroughbred spring calves. The stock is kept in good condition. When pastures begin to fail, the flow of milk is kept up by stall feeding.

The Messrs. Stothart's dairy farm is well worth a visit, it is characterized by convenience, cleanliness and a general air of thrift and prosperity.

The equipment of the farm has been vastly improved by the erection of the Johnston Wind Engine, the only one of the kind made in Canada, and which has many points of excellence over American engines somewhat similar, including that of greater strength at over thirty per cent. less cost.

The English Post's Return.

The EXAMINER has great pleasure in re-introducing to the public the great English poet whom it discovered and brought to public notice some time ago. Considering the unusual importance of the following communication, received to-day, no apology is necessary for giving space for its publication. It is very plain, and, as the writer is well known here, needs no explanation:—

WOLVERHAMPTON, England.
August 24th, 1887.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

MY DEAR SIR,—I am the English poet, J. Dickson Morgan, known in the beautiful town of Peterborough as J. Mixon Dorgan.

I have been in my native land, this time, since Jan. 31st last. I came home in the S. S. "Umbria", of the Cunard Line.

I have written a number of new poems.

I am leaving England on the 26th inst., as I purpose returning to Canada to devote myself to agricultural pursuits.

I have some friends at Omemee.

I am sailing by the Allan Line Steamship "Circassian" (4000 tons) from Liverpool to Quebec, on Aug. 26th inst. I go right through to Peterborough.

I wish you would kindly state I express my thanks to the good people of your town for their generous treatment of me up to Jan. 20th last (when I left for England).

Say I am coming again among them.

If I do not find farm employment I hope I may obtain employment in the town.

I have been staying in Dublin since my return.

Please give my compliments to the Editors of the Morning Times and Review.

I was not in London Jubilee Day. We get very little news from your country.

I have spent much time in London and Liverpool. We cannot compare with Canada! for the scenery of your country is truly beautiful.

Mr. J. Dunn Collins can give you any further news of myself.

I am, Sir,

Yours, very truly,

J. DICKSON MORGAN.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs George Ostrom, of St. Paul, Minnesota, are in town visiting relatives.

Prof. Doucet leaves to-day for Toronto, where he goes to attend the Industrial Exhibition and perform on the R. S. William's piano to exhibit its excellent qualities to the visitors.

Father Keilty writes the EXAMINER to say that in mentioning the prominent men present at the Paragon Pic-nic the name was overlooked of Dr. Kincaid, who is an intimate personal friend of Father Keilty, and who is present every year at the Enniamore pic-nics.

A narrow foot, a wide foot, a long foot, a short foot, EVERY foot fitted neatly at KIDD'S with a beautiful boot at a low price.

Police Court.

MONDAY, Sept. 5th.

Inspector Cochrane laid charges of first offences of the Scott Act against Messrs. T. Dunn, J. Clancy, W. Kennealy W. Croft, and T. Cavanagh, who were each fined $50 and costs.

W. Cummings pleaded guilty to a charge of assault, preferred against him by Alex. McDonald, and was fined $5 and costs. Thus endeth for the present the fued existing between the two, arising out of the "horse deal," which has been so largely noticed in the town papers.

Exhibition Notes.

The South Monaghan Agricultural Society have changed the dates of their exhibition at Centreville to Thursday and Friday, October 13 and 14, on account of the previous dates interfering with the show at Cobourg.

The committee in connection with the amusements of the Peterborough Central Exhibition request the EXAMINER to state that five horses will be required to enter and three to start in the match for speed.

The Industrial Exhibition opens at Toronto to-day.

HORROR IN A PLAY HOUSE

ONE HUNDRED LIVES LOST IN AN ENGLISH THEATRE FIRE.

What Happened During the Performance of "The Romany Rye" in the Theatre Royal, Exeter — Lamentable Scenes Around the Burning Building.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—A theatre at Exeter took fire this evening during a performance of "Romany Rye." The occupants of the pit, after an awful struggle, escaped, but many of them were greatly injured. There was only one exit from the gallery and the rush there was terrific. Scores were trodden under foot and suffocated. A fire escape was brought to a window and many inside were rescued. Sixty corpses have been removed. The injured survivors were sent to a hospital. The mortality is estimated at 100.

The structure burned was the Theatre Royal. It was built after the latest designs, and was elaborately fitted, being considered one of the prettiest in the kingdom. There was a full house to-night, and everything was all right until the end of the third act, at 10.30, when a drop scene fell, and in a moment the whole stage was a mass of fire.

A wild panic ensued. The occupants of the stage, pit and dress circle escaped after a dreadful crushing, many being badly bruised. The actors and actresses were in their dressing rooms when the fire began and all escaped.

The fire originated in the flies and spread rapidly, filling the theatre with a dense smoke. The occupants of the upper circle and gallery rushed to windows screaming frantically. Many jumped from the windows and were injured. Others were rescued with the aid of ladders. The fire blazed fiercely, lighting up the whole city. People were soon flocking to the scene in thousands enquiring for friends.

The scene inside the theatre, when the fire broke out, was an awful one. Some men implored the audience to be cool, but it was impossible to stop the frantic rush.

The theatre hose was brought into use in a few minutes, but the water had little effect on the flames. The actors and actresses were taken from the windows with the aid of ladders. They lost everything except what they wore at the time.

Up to the present time—2 a.m.—120 bodies have been recovered. They are almost unrecognizable. Thirty injured survivors have been taken to the hospitals. The fire burned through the night. The search for the bodies proceeds slowly. In many cases every shred of clothing was burned off and the bodies look black and raw.

There are various reports as to the origin of the fire. It is only certain that the flames broke out in the scene-shifters' department. Those who escaped say that the special exit was promptly opened.

THE CZAR AND THE EMPEROR.

It is Affirmed That They Will Not Meet at Stettin or Anywhere Else.

BERLIN, Sept. 5.—To-night's official press confirms the statement made on Saturday that there will be no meeting of the Czar and Emperor William.

The North German Gazette says: "The repeated statements that a meeting is about to take place at Stettin emanated from an Austrian and French source and are based upon pure conjecture. Nothing exists to justify the supposition that the Czar is coming to Stettin. It is idle guess on the part of newspapers to speak of a renewal of the treaty between Russia and Germany expiring this month, seeing that there is no such treaty in existence."

BULGARIA KNOWS RUSSIA.

Therefore She will Not Permit any Interference With Her Affairs.

SOFIA, Sept. 5.—M. Stambuloff, the Prime Minister, in an interview regarding the proposal of Russia to have a joint Russo-Turkish Commission visit Bulgaria and arrange her affairs, said: If Generals Emroth and Arten Effendi came as private persons they would be admitted into Bulgaria, but not otherwise. Bulgaria was alive to Russia's objects, and would repel any interference in her internal affairs by any power whatever. If Russia liked to send Gen. Emroth to Bulgaria as her diplomatic agent that would be different. Both he and Arten Effendi would be courteously received as duly accredited diplomats.

What a Game of Pitch-Penny Led to.

PUTNAM, Conn., Sept. 5.—On Sunday afternoon, while pitching pennies in the woods near North Grosvenordale, a boy of 17 named Anderson detected the other player, a Swede named Nelison, cheating. Hot words ensued, and finally Anderson struck Nelison, who threw his antagonist down and kicked him until he was unconscious. A doctor was sent for, but before he arrived Anderson died. Nelison has fled.

A Farmer Burned to Death.

CENTREVILLE, Ont., Sept. 5.—Mr. Thomas Tait, a highly respected farmer in this vicinity, was burned to death this afternoon. He had started a bush fire which spread rapidly, and being alone, it is thought he was surrounded by the fire in trying to stop its spreading. He was one of the oldest residents in the Township of Camden.

Military Dictatorship at Honolulu.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Private advices from Honolulu state that there is much dissatisfaction among the better class of foreigners at Honolulu on account of the military dictatorship which has grown up since the revolution of June. This has extended to the press, newspapers being even forbidden to publish court proceedings. Business continues dull, owing to a sense of insecurity and unrest. It is tacitly admitted that the new constitution is not a final settlement of the points at issue.

TAYLOR STILL IN PRISON.

THE COURT REFUSES TO DISCHARGE THE CAPIAS.

Mr. Meredith's Complaint on the Ex-President's Reply Thereto—A Letter in Which Taylor is Charged With Fraud—A Meeting of Creditors.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—This afternoon Judge Davis, in Chambers, out short the argument between R. M. Meredith and Henry Taylor's solicitor, Mr. T. H. Purdom, while Mr. Meredith was submitting reasons why the capias on which Mr. Taylor was imprisoned should not be set aside.

Judge Davis refused point blank to grant Mr. Purdom's application to rescind the capias, at the same time saying that argument could not be taken in London and the case would have to go to Toronto for hearing.

Mr. R. M. Meredith filed an affidavit that on July 25, 1887, Henry Taylor agreed to purchase for him 315 shares of Ontario Investment stock at $50 per share. That he (Meredith) had on several occasions demanded the shares or cash, but Henry Taylor declined to pay, and thus $15,000 damages were sustained for which he now sues. That on Aug. 12 Henry Taylor absconded to Alexandria Bay. Action was then taken against him as a fraudulent debtor in the State of New York and the defendant would have been imprisoned in the Watertown jail had he not chosen, in preference, to return to London. That he (Meredith) believed that Henry Taylor was about to again abscond with intent to defraud his creditors. Further, Mr. Meredith said that he had heard Mr. Taylor say that it might be necessary for him to abscond at any time.

Henry Taylor testified and declared that he had purchased the 315 shares for R. M. Meredith and had signed an agreement to buy them all back from Meredith for cash at any time required. Taylor declared that the agreement had been extorted from him by threats of arrest, and that he went to Alexandria to take a much needed rest. That Mrs. Taylor's property was bound to the extent of $30,000 that her husband would not go away within six months.

A letter from R. M. Meredith to Henry Taylor was also filed, in which, after speaking of the refusal to allow the association's books to be examined, says:

"Messrs. Beal, Cronyn, Charles Murray, Samuel Crawford and Henry Taylor did, through the hands of the latter, misappropriate large sums of money that belonged to the company, and after being robbed of hard earnings we are entitled to know the whole truth and so be enabled to adopt means of securing what has been taken from us."

Mr. Taylor said he believed that many thousands of dollars would be lost to the association and its stockholders and to the bank and its stockholders by his arrest.

A meeting of Henry Taylor's creditors was held this afternoon, but as the claims from the Bank of London and the Ontario Investment Association have not yet been submitted, the only business done was the issuing up an order to Thomas Long, the assignee, to realize all Taylor's assets immediately. Daniel McPhee was appointed inspector by the creditors.

POWDERLY'S CHANGE OF FRONT.

He Blames the Board for the Condition of the Order.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A Philadelphia despatch says there has been a marked change of front in the attitude of General Master Workman Powderly toward the trades unions and the opponents of the present administration of the Knights of Labor since the recent elections of delegates to the Minneapolis convention, when anti-administration men were chosen by nearly all of the more powerful district assemblies throughout the country. It is said Powderly is trying to throw the blame for the condition of the order on the members of the board, and has made overtures of peace to the prominent leaders of the opposition.

A STEAMER ASHORE.

The Chief Justice Waite Hard Aground on Ballast Island Reef.

TOLEDO, Sept. 5.—A special to The Bee late last night says: The excursion steamer Chief Justice Waite, running between Toledo and Put-in-Bay, is hard aground on Ballast Island reef. A heavy sea is rolling outside, and, with the wind from the northeast, the steamer is in an ugly position. Two tugs were sent from here early this morning, and will make an effort to release the steamer. There is a large number of passengers on board, but no apprehensions are entertained for their safety.

The Neutralization of the Suez Canal.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—The Temps says that M. Waddington, French Ambassador at London, has delivered to Lord Salisbury France's reply to the latest British proposals regarding the neutralization of the Suez Canal. The reply amounts practically to the acceptance of an agreement with England. Only a few details remain to be settled. The entente includes an understanding relative to the New Hebrides.

A Forger From Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—John H. Stalvenght was to-day arrested on the strength of a cablegram received from Victoria, Australia, for forgeries committed there aggregating $75,000. He has been staying in San Francisco since July 9 last under an assumed name. He will be returned to Australia as soon as extradition papers are received from Washington.

A Reply to Hamilton's Request.

Sir Hector Langevin is understood to have intimated to the Hamilton deputation that he would recommend that the civic authorities be allowed to rent the old postoffice for $1000 per annum for the time they desire to occupy it while the new city hall is being built.

A Permanent Exhibition.

The specimens of this year's Northwest products, which the Department of Agriculture is receiving almost daily, will go to form the nucleus of the permanent exhibition it is proposed to maintain in connection with the Central Experimental Farm. When the new buildings are completed and the collection of products put in order, the experimental farm will be an additional object of interest to visitors to the capital.

The Military Camps.

The military camp of instruction opened at Aldershot, N.S., to-day. After this has closed the 94th Battalion will go into camp in Cape Breton, which will close the record for the current year. All the camps this year have been well attended, but a general complaint is made that the period of instruction is too short.

The Pacific Cable Scheme.

Mr. Sanford Fleming, who has just returned from England, left for Montreal to-day. Speaking about the subjects discussed at the Colonial conference, he said the Pacific cable scheme had made a deep impression on the Australian delegates, who, before the matter had been discussed in the conference, were unacquainted with its true object and apparent result. They left England, however, having every faith in the importance of such a connecting line, and intent on doing what they could to promote its success. His company is now in correspondence with the Australian authorities, and has submitted a proposition for consideration.

TORONTO'S NEW FIRE ALARM.

A Practical Test Made—Everything Proves Satisfactory to the Spectators.

A test was made yesterday afternoon at Leonard-street Station of the new fire alarm system which two weeks ago superseded the old manual apparatus introduced in Toronto in 1871. There were present Ald. Shaw, Chairman; Ald. Dodds, Frankland, and Swait of the Fire and Gas Committee, Ald. Boustead Rogers, Steiner, Hill, Galley, Ritchie, St. Leger and Winkett; President Henderson and other members of the Board of Underwriters, President Ince of the Board of Trade, and a score or more of well known citizens. The test was conducted by Electrician Lewis Gibson and was wholly satisfactory. Alarms were sent in from ten different boxes, in each instance being received clearly without delay.

The new system was decided upon a year ago, when the City Council voted $25,000 for the purpose. The Board of Underwriters was prominently active in securing the new system, which had then been introduced in several large cities. Gamewell & Co. of New York are the manufacturers of the system, which embraces ten circuits, or six more than the one it displaces. The principal improvement claimed for the Gamewell patent is that it is more reliable, inasmuch that it to automatic and no operator can trip an alarm by two or more hands being pulled simultaneously. Only the alarm from the box first pulled is sounded and the others can only be given after the expiration of twenty seconds. The contract price was $17,500, but as there are some expenses to be paid for in the shape of wire, etc., it is expected the whole amount voted by the Council will have to be expended. The apparatus consists of a ten circuit repeater, a like number of standard galvanometers, a large and elaborately worked table, ten electric gongs, with lightning arresters and indicators, and 150 signal boxes. The old wire and apparatus formerly used is to be sold by auction next week. The Fire Chief, Chairman Shaw says, should bring a fair price as it is not old or useless and is only disposed of as it can no longer be of use in connection with the Gamewell system.

After the conclusion of the test Ald. Shaw explained briefly how the new system had come to be adopted. Under the old plan a person was kept in constant attendance to send out the alarms, and as the 115 signal boxes were supplied by different makers there was frequently confusion and delay in sounding the alarms. So unsatisfactory was the old system that the Board of Underwriters demanded the introduction of the Gamewell and the City Council voted about $25,000 for the purpose. He believed Toronto had now the best fire alarm system yet invented and pointed out its principal advantages. With a system that was all that could be desired, a fire brigade composed of eighty experienced men in the prime of life, and a chief with over thirty-five years' knowledge of the department, with thirteen stations, in each of which there was a steam reel, hose, hook and ladder trucks, to which a number another was soon to be added at a cost of $6000, as the ladders on the trucks now in the department were not long enough to reach the top floors of the large buildings which are now being built, he felt that there need be no fear of any large conflagrations. Since Jan. 1 of this year there had been 213 fires, causing a loss of $330,434, on which there was an insurance of $96,336. As the citizens of Toronto had taxed themselves to secure such an efficient department, he trusted the insurance companies would see their way clear to a reduction of their existing rates.

The question now is, should a man, who has enthused over the Queen's Jubilee to the extent of getting full of liquor and keeping full for a month, be longer employed in connection with the Waterworks Department? Mr. Langham has been employed in the department for over fifteen years, and until lately was a steady citizen. But the Queen's Jubilee knocked him off and it took some weeks to reduce his loyalty to its normal senses. In the meantime the papers he should have delivered in connection with the department lay at his boarding house, and the affairs of the office were thrown into confusion. Superintendent Hamilton suspended him and the committee recommended his dismissal, but the Council sent the recommendation back for further consideration. This reference came up at a meeting of the committee yesterday and a strong effort was made to save Langham, Ald. Carlyle (St. Andrew's) and Ald. Ingham being chief among those who pleaded for mercy. The latter asked the committee if they did not know how it was themselves, but the evidence of a prolonged "time" had the greater weight and a motion to reinstate was promptly defeated. It will now rest with the Council to answer the question above propounded.

At midnight there was considerable excitement around the Grand Opera House building, when it was discovered that smoke was issuing from the stage door entrance in Johnston's lane. Nightwatchman Burrows sounded an alarm from box 51, at Yonge and Adelaide streets, and the brigade responded in splendid time.

Before they arrived, however, the fire had been nearly extinguished by the attaches of the theatre, who had not yet left the building, with their own hose. The damage, which was slight, was in a small room on the west side of the stage filled with properties, and in Janitor Erskine's quarters adjoining. It was very fortunate that there were plenty of people still around the theatre to check the flames before they gained any headway. The fire will in no way interfere with the production of "Fantasma" this evening. It is not known how the fire originated.

TORONTO'S BIG FAIR.

Putting on the Finishing Touches at Exhibition Park—Everything in Shipshape.

TORONTO, Sept. 6.

When a reporter tripped out of Exhibition Park last evening he did so with an air of importance. The most important part of the business, however, was what he had left behind him. The clang of 500 hammers had rung out through the immense buildings in the park all through the day, and as the September sun began to sink behind picturesque Parkdale everything had about been completed for the grand opening at 2 o'clock this afternoon. While there was a great hurrying and bustle all over the grounds, it was done in such a systematic way that the reporter came to the conclusion that the men who were engaged in putting the finishing touches on everything understood their business.

Manager Hill had just time to say to the reporter that "Er-wod-be-er-grandest—exhibition—er-world" in a 2.19 gait and skip off.

If Mr. Hill had spoken any slower he could not have told the truth any better.

The fair will be a grand one. And don't you forget it!

TRAPPED BY MONEYMOONERS.

How Several Ontario Editors and Hotel-keepers Were Beautifully Taken In.

The biggest practical joke that has been perpetrated on the public for a long time was that carried out by two dandies who worked the northern country as Scott Act detectives in disguise. The first heard of the pair was from The Globe, some of the members of whose staff were on the press excursion that "did" Muskoka a few weeks ago. On Aug. 2 a writer of that paper described at length a newly married couple that got on the boat at Bracebridge and accompanied the party to Peninsular Point. The bride and groom caused no end of amusement to the lovers of the press party. To them the couple appeared as original and veritable specimens of back township simplicity, making the grand tour on the occasion of their wedding, and enjoying with child-like innocence the happiness of their honeymoon. This is how The Globe man describes them:

The bride has an enormous white veil, has her hair mangled (new), has a dress of an outspoken vine and white check, has a 2nd star of the same material on her breast and also one of the same pattern on each side of her head, and the groom wears another of identical build and dimensions on his coat, just above his heart on the west side from the bride. The profusion of stars is explained by the fact that on the occasion of the ceremony there was one each provided for the bride, bridegroom, best man and bridesmaid. After the hitch in the proceedings the best man and bridesmaid, not progressing a similar enterprise, unreserved their portion of the starry costal in order to add to the bride's decoration for the wedding journey. The groom was not especially noticeable, except that he wore a pair of carpet slippers as his single item of wedding finery and ran with his arm a couple of times around his bride and held her to his right side with a desperate grip, as though on account of escape was considered among the possibilities.

Afterwards the press brethren introduced themselves to the couple and a reception was given the swains, the entertainment terminating by the singing of "They Are Jolly Good Fellows" by the party. It is added that "the interesting couple seemed much pleased with the courtesies extended them by the excursionists."

It now turns out that the worthy editors who were with the press party were hugely hoaxed, for the simple couple were no other than Scott Act detectives arrayed in this unexpected garb. It was not the press party alone, however, that were deceived. A prominent lawyer said to a reporter yesterday that he had seen the couple on the streets of Barrie, and such an amount of "greasiness" did they exhibit in their conduct that he was lost in astonishment for full half an hour.

He thought it was the genuine article, and now that the hoax has been made public, the said Q.C. can hardly keep the tears from flowing, so ludicrously does the situation affect him. Hundreds of people were deceived. But those who experienced the deception worst of all were the hotelkeepers of Barrie, Orillia and several northern resorts at which the festive bridal couple had called and partaken of liquid nurture in the shape of spirits. These were the individuals who experienced the practical part of the joke. They were summoned in large numbers before the local magistrates and fined heavily for selling liquor contrary to the act. They never got over the joke thoroughly till they were asked to settle with the court. The names of the two gay jokers have not reached Toronto, but of the truth of the above recital of their doings there can be no doubt.

A MANIA FOR KIDNAPPING.

A Boston Woman When Drunk Can't Help Stealing Children.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—A rare case of emotional kleptomania is exciting the scientists of this city. The culprit, patient or victim, whichever she deserves to be called, is Minnie Nelson, whose age is put down in the police records as 32. She is a fine-looking woman, whose strange mental condition results entirely from excessive use of liquor. She was arrested recently for kidnapping the 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Donovan of No. 409 Charles-street.

The singular part of her mania is that she never thinks of stealing a child when she is sober. At such times any mother is perfectly safe in letting her children run around where Miss Nelson is without the slightest fear. At such moments she could even be trusted in an orphan asylum without an attendant being present. But when she is in her cups a close watch is necessary over stray children. Ragged or richly dressed, pretty or homely, tidy or soiled, all children are alike to her under these circumstances. The cause of this remarkable mania is a puzzle to the physicians, and she will doubtless be placed in custody soon and closely watched to see if it is possible to solve the mystery.

Mr. DAVIDSON congratulated the Mayor and Council upon the present low rate, which was most satisfactory. He briefly compared the chief points of difference between last year's estimates and this, explaining the reasons for such difference, giving Mr. A. McNeil, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, credit for his successful efforts in behalf of fire insurance, and the Treasurer for his good offices. The rate for public school purposes he considered pretty high for a town of this size. The item for streets and bridges $8,900, he thought the people at large would consider well spent. The town on account of its peculiar position always has a large repair bill, having 13 bridges to keep up, and this is all charged to the street and bridge account. The amount that the council had control of was some $25,310, or about 8 mills. Mr. Davidson presented a statement of the assets and liabilities of the town, the assets being placed at $372,986 liabilities $185,550, leaving a surplus of $187,436. The town's finances were in a most satisfactory condition, of which probably no other town in the province could boast.

THE BY-LAW.

A by-law to levy the rate for the year 1887 was presented, the rate being fixed as the above estimates recommended.

Upon the reading of the first clause, Mr. Moore said before it was adopted the councillors should have a chance to criticize the report. He gave Mr. Davidson ("our finance minister") every credit for the favourable financial aspect of the town's affairs. As to the streets and bridges item, though, the estimates for this were some $1,000 lower than last, the streets were never in a better condition than now, for which thanks were due to the energetic street inspector. Compared with other towns, Peterborough stands ahead of any town in the district as regards low taxes, cheap living and prosperity, and not only Mr. Davidson, but the whole council and citizens were to be congratulated upon the excellent financial condition of the town. Referring to the Nicholl's Hospital, he had no doubt when the new hospital was built and the Government grant, secured as Mr. Davidson had suggested could be done, it would be less of a burden upon the town. Although the school rate was a little larger, he thought that too much could not be spent upon the education of our young. Regarding the assets and liabilities; the former more than off set the latter, so that the town was absolutely free from debt and better. This state of affairs showed careful economy and prudence on the part of the administrators of the town in former years.

Mr. MCNAUGHTON also congratulated the Finance Committee and the council upon the low rate, and referred especially to the valuable services of Street Inspector Pope, whose salary he advocated being increased to $600 per annum.

THE MAYOR'S OPINION.

MAYOR STEVENSON expressed his satisfaction with the low rate this year, which had been secured through a practice of economy, though circumstances over which they had no control had added to the burden. He referred to the arbitration between the town and county, the result of which he regretted. The expenditure was altogether outside the town, but the law compelled them to pay it. Speaking of the Nicholls Hospital, he expressed pleasure with the new arrangements, whereby a new building would be erected, and he thought in the future they need not look for any such large payments as they have been making heretofore. The Hospital he considered a credit to the town and the lady who donated it, and said that it was not appreciated as it should be or would be if the benefits resulting from it were fully considered. One thing, though, he knew about the assessment. It was this—the poor man was assessed for the full value of his property, while the rich man was favored. He did not know anyway of avoiding it, but it was a fact nevertheless. As regards the valuation of town property made by Mr. Davidson, he considered it within the mark, and he thought the commissioners ought to get three or four times the amount of rent for the market square that they now get; and he was pleased to know that as soon as the present leases were expired they would do so. He thought the proper course of the town, in case they could not get their rights by arbitration, was, as soon as the leases expired, to take the property out of the hands of the tenants, and pay them what it is worth. The town, he said, was in a position to do so. Another matter which had caused a great deal of trouble was the filling of Spaulding's Bay; but a step was being made in having the bay filled up, and he hoped it would soon be done. The town, he thought, should be congratulated particularly upon its parks, which were especially beautiful. The speaker referred to the bid of Port Hope for the Lock Works, and expressed his pleasure at its failure. Some of the young men employed in the works absolutely refused to go to Port Hope to live, stating that they would go back to the States if the change was made, and this had a great deal to do with the result. All this pointed to the general desirability of living in Peterborough, which, he considered was largely due to the external beauty of the town. Prices of goods were lower in Peterborough than in Toronto, and anyone that went to the city to save money failed. The Mayor brought up another matter. The Government intended to place a sum, some $4,000, for the erection of a new brick armory in rear of the present drill shed, and he thought it should be considered by the town whether the new building should be placed in that position. Regarding schools, he said the board had done everything in their power to decrease the expenditure, but a number of necessary improvements had to be made. The board could make a demand for $800 per year upon the town to beautify the grounds, but as this was met by the Court House Park, and as the Government had agreed to accept it in lieu the town's grant to the park had thus not been lost. In conclusion he said he felt satisfied that they were on the right road, and hoped they would keep so.

A CHANGE PROPOSED.

The reading of the by-law was continued. Mr. MOORE objected to the levying of 5% straight on taxes not collected by the first day of December. He thought it unfair to the poorer class. He introduced the following motion, which he considered would indemnify the town, which was all that was required:—

Moved by Mr. MOORE, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that twelve per cent. per month be added to the taxes after December 1st, and that no less than one month's interest be charged in any case; and that any broken month be counted as a full month.

Mr. DAVIDSON thought if Mr. Moore's motion carried not ten per cent. of the taxes would be paid by the first of December, and the interest account would be increased. He was supported by Mr. Kendry, who considered the poor man would be better able to pay his taxes early in the season than later, as by Mr. Hartley, who thought it would be to the advantage of a poor man to have his taxes paid by that time, but if no penalty was attached they would let it run on with the usual results. There was considerable discussion, Messrs. Kelly, McNaughton and the majority also speaking against the motion. Mr. McNaughton accusing Mr. Moore of raising the poor man's cry for the rich man's benefit, as he claimed this motion tended to do.

Messrs. Yelland and Douglass supported the motion, Mr. Moore concluding by placing his case in a nutshell. By the 5 per cent. straight penalty, if a man neglected to pay his taxes on time he would not be fool enough to pay it then, but he would keep it in his pocket for months, making the 5 per cent. out of it; while by his motion, Mr. Moore contended, every man would be anxious to save the interest accruing from month to month. Mr. Moore said he felt certain that next year this time the council would see that he was right and they were wrong.

On the motion being put, the third ward representatives, Messrs. Moore, Yelland and Douglass, voted in a body for the motion, the rest of the council opposing, and the motion was declared lost.

Mr. MOORE called for the yeas and nays as follows:—Yeas, Messrs. Moore, Yelland and Douglass; Nays, Messrs. Kendry, Hartley, Menzies, Stenson, Kelly and Davidson. The Mayor declared the motion lost, but Mr. Moore demanded that Mr. McNaughton, who had just re-entered the chamber, having gone out a few minutes previously for a drink of water, record his vote. Mr. McNaughton held that it was not necessary, as the motion had been declared carried, and in this contention he was upheld by the Mayor. Mr. Moore then accused Mr. McNaughton of "shirking" his vote, but this the south ward representative denied.

THE BY-LAW PASSED.

The reading of the by-law was then concluded, and on the motion to finally pass the by-law, Mr. Moore introduced a motion that the by-law be referred back to the committee to consider the motion introduced by Mr. Moore in committee of the whole. The same vote was taken on this as on the first motion, and the by-law was finally adopted.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the town engineer be instructed to strike the grade on Argyll and Sunnyside streets.—Carried.

Mr. DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Mr. McNaughton, that the street inspector be instructed to put a sidewalk on the south side of Sherbrooke street from George street west about 100 feet.—Carried.

Mr. KELLY moved, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that the sidewalk on Aylmer street between Hunter and Brock streets, be repaired.—Carried.

Mr. KELLY moved, seconded by Mr. Yelland, that the street inspector be instructed to have a sidewalk laid down on the south side of Brock street between George and Water streets.—Carried.

Mr. KENDRY moved, seconded by Mr. Menzies, that the street inspector be authorized to put down a sidewalk on George street north, about 150 feet, from Argyll north.—Carried.

Mr. MENZIES moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the street near the Auburn Mills, on which Mr. James Johnston lives, be hereafter called Lisburn street.—Carried.

THE DRINKING FOUNTAIN.

Mr. JAMES STRATTON spoke in favour of the petition, signed by himself, and others presented earlier in the evening, advocating the sinking of a well in a public place, from which really pure water could be always procured. The petition was referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Mr. KENDRY, moved, seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the Town Clerk issue his cheque in favor of Mr. E.B. Edwards for the sum of $500 for services rendered in connection with the Canada Temperance Act for 1886 and 1887.

Mr. STENSON, moved, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the Clerk do issue his cheque in favour of W. Cummings to pay Mrs. Beauvais' taxes, in Mr. McPherson's house, for six dollars.

These two last motions fell before an amendment by Mr. McNaughton, to adjourn for three weeks, which was carried, and they were left over.

When the Thistle Will Carry All Sail.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Capt. Barr of the Thistle says he will not take out the yacht again until the City of Rome comes in on Wednesday, with Mr. Bell, the yacht's owner, aboard. Then he will pack on all sail and give her owner a view of her from the steamship's deck.

THE HAPSBURG KAISER SPEAKS.

Justice Commands Absolute Equality of Rights for all Religions.

VIENNA, Sept. 5.—Emperor Francis Joseph arrived at Neutra, Hungary, yesterday morning. He was enthusiastically received by the populace, who turned out en masse to welcome him. Many addresses were presented to the Emperor. One of them was from the Jewish inhabitants, and in accepting it the Emperor said: "Justice commands absolute equality of rights for all religions." In the evening the Emperor was entertained at a banquet by Archdukes Albrecht, Wilhelm and Joseph. The town was illuminated and the Emperor was serenaded.

THE BEHRING SEA SEIZURES.

The British Authorities in Communication With Washington.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—In the House of Commons this evening Sir James Ferguson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Foreign Office, said the Government had no information concerning the latest reported seizures of British vessels in Behring Straits, but they had received advices regarding seizures made by American revenue cutters on Aug. 2, 12 and 17. The Government was in communication with the United States Government in reference to the matter.

Burglary at Fisherton.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health & happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Very Valuable.

"Having used B.B.B. for biliousness and torpid liver, with the very best results I would recommend it to all thus troubled. The medicine is worth its weight in gold." Tillie White, Manitowaning, Ont. 2w34d

DISTINGUISHED TRAVELERS.

The Commander of the Atlantic Squadron's Northern Division Returns From H.C.

TORONTO, Sept. 6.

ADMIRAL VIGNES, Commander-in-Chief de la Station de l'Atlantique Nord.
M. G. DUBAIL, Consul-General de France, Quebec.
M. AUSTIN WURTELE, Montreal.
ROBERT JOSEPH, Montreal.
Mr. W. C. O'Brien, Montreal.
LA BONNOIT DE VILLENEUVE, A.D.C.

These were among the names registered at the Queen's Hotel at 4.30 yesterday, shortly after the arrival of the steamboat express from Owen Sound, and as will be seen, they are those of a rather distinguished party, all but one of them French. They are on their way back to Montreal, after a three weeks' trip around the continent by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and intend spending a couple of days in this city, for the purpose of seeing the sights of Toronto, to which the Admiral and his aide are entire strangers.

Admiral Vignes is a very tall, stout, broad-shouldered gentleman of about 60, with gray mutton-chop whiskers. By his face one would take him for an Englishman, and in his civilian status, in which he reached here yesterday, no one would suppose that he was a French naval functionary. Lieut. Ducrest de Villeneuve is handsome-featured, black whiskered and mustached, and with a pair of piercing black eyes. The Consul-General of France is short and he wore a tight-fitting abbreviated coat, a low Derby and a brown, full beard that made him look like an English tourist. M. Henri Jones is a sharp-featured, black mustached Frenchman. Mr. Justice Wurtele is a pleasant-looking old gentleman with spectacles and a white ping, and Mr. W. C. O'Brien is a young man who calls the Judge stepfather.

It was on Aug. 12, and in the private car "Vancouver," that the party left Montreal, where Le Minerve, the Admiral's flagship, has been lying for the past few weeks. Two days were spent in Winnipeg, and then on through the grand Rocky Mountain scenery to Vancouver and Victoria, where a halt of four days was made and where they paid visits, received them and were shown the sights. Coming back Westminster was taken in and a stop was made at the Glacier Mountain. Two days were spent at Banff Springs, where the baths were pronounced most invigorating, the scenery grand beyond compare, and the big hotel that is going up something enormous.

The party left the car at Port Arthur on Saturday and boarded the steamship Alberta, which reached Owen Sound at 10 o'clock yesterday. The lake trip was delightful and the Admiral was especially pleased with the work at the Sault. The "steamboat expresses" on the Northern was thought to be pretty slow.

Admiral Vignes and his traveling companions dined at the Queen's last evening and spent the night quietly. This morning they will be shown the city under the guidance of Ald. Piper, chairman of the Reception Committee of the City Council; in the afternoon they will attend the opening of the Exhibition, and to-night the Admiral and his staff will dine with Sir Alexander Campbell at Government House. They will go east to-morrow. Thursday night the Governor-General will give a ball at the Citadel, Quebec, in honor of the Admiral and the officers of La Minerve.

The Dead.

Hon. William Hamilton, M.L.C., of Dalhousie, who has been a sufferer from Bright's disease for two years past, died at his home yesterday morning. Dr. Bayard of St. John has been in attendance. The more immediate cause of his death was congestion of the lungs. Mr. Hamilton having taken cold on a recent trip to Gaspe. Deceased was one of the most wealthy men in Restigouche. He leaves three sons—John, William and Alexander—and one daughter, Grace. The sons are in Liverpool, Glasgow and San Francisco respectively, and the daughter is here.—St. John, N.B., Telegraph, Sept. 2.

Arrested for Forgery.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—Wm. H. Parker of the firm of Logan & Parker, painters, was to-day arrested and placed under $3,000 bail to answer to a charge of having forged the names of various parties to seven promissory notes which were deposited with and discounted by the National Bank of the Republic.

Politics Drove Him Mad.

GALESBURG, Ill., Sept. 5.—Dr. Lewis Sheldon, the mayor of Knoxville, has been adjudged insane. His insanity is of a violent type, hastened, it is thought, by election excitement. He will be taken to Jacksonville to-morrow.

Abandoned at Sea.

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The steamer State of Indiana, which arrived at Glasgow to-day from New York, brought the crew of the American ship Triumphant, from Liverpool for New York, which was abandoned at sea.

Noblesse Oblige.

What is diviner than the peace of foes!
He conquers not who does not conquer hate,
Or thinks the shining wheels of heaven wait
On his forgiving. Dimmer the laurel shows
On brows that darken; and war-worn repose
Is but a truce when heroes abdicate
To Huns—unfabling those of elder date
Whose every curse a fiercer warrior rose.

O ye that saved the land! Ah, you, and ye
That bless the saving! Neither need forget
The price our destiny did of both demand—
Toil, want, wounds, prison, and the lonely sea,
Of tears at home. Oh, look on these. And yet—
Before the human fail you—quick, your hand!
—Robert Underwood Johnson in The Century.

A Valuable Discovery.

F. P. Tanner of Neebing, Ont., says he has not only found B.B.B. a sure cure for Dyspepsia, but he also found it to be the best medicine for regulating and invigorating the system he has ever taken. B.B.B. is the great system regulator. 2w34d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

HEATING

By Hot Water and Steam.

We desire to call special attention to their splendid Hot Water and Steam Boilers which are acknowledged to have no superior on the Continent of America. We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

The Poet Arrives.

Mr. J. Dixon Morgan, the great English poet, whose letter was published in yesterday's EXAMINER, arrived in town this morning. His many friends "among the boys" were glad to see him. They are all anticipating a repitition of the "death scene" for which Dergan is so famous.

Poor George Street.

George street is again in a state of upheaval. This time repairs are being made to the drain leading into Mr. A. Hall's store. A new crossing is also being put down at the corner of Hunter and George streets. Scarcely a week passes without some extensive excavations being made on our main thoroughfare.

A New Citizen.

Orillia Packet:—Mr. Wm. Kane, who has been with Mr. Mulcahy six years, is about leaving to engage in business at Peterborough. On Wednesday evening, Mr. Mulcahy and the employees of the California Store, presented Mr. Kane with a gold watch chain and seal. He is a punctual and capable business man, retiring but friendly, and has been very popular here. Mr. Kane will doubtless prove a useful citizen of the Plate Glass city, and add one more to the successful Orillians abroad. This is the third in succession who has left the California Store to begin business on their own account.

The race for the hotel-keepers' purse of $200, to take place at the Central Exhibition, is open to both trotters and pacers. The purse is divided into $100 for first prize, $60 for second, and $40 for third. Entries must be made with the Secretary by October 1st. An entrance fee of ten per cent. will be charged.

Visitors to the Exhibition.

The railway ticket offices are beginning to reap a harvest consequent upon the large number of visitors to the Toronto exhibition, which is now in operation. A few left town this morning for the city, and it is expected the number will be increased every succeeding day for a week yet.

Personal

Miss Gilchrist, superintendent of the dressmaking and ordered mantle departments of the Golden Lion, has returned home from her holidays spent in the east. Miss White head of the millinery department has also returned from a holiday trip to western Ontario.

Horse Shipments.

A car-load of horses and shanty apparatus were shipped this morning by the G.T.R. to Midland, for Mr. Irwin's lumbering camp.

Saturday evening Mr. T. Cavanagh shipped to Montreal, via C.P.R., another carload of horses. He sends a consignment this week also.

Removing the Lights.

The seven-electric light pole which was erected by the Electric Light Company, on the corner of Hunter and George streets in June last, in honor of the Queen's Jubilee, and has remained ever since, is being removed. While in position, the lights were a great boon and pleasure to the citizens, and the Electric Light Company deserve public thanks for their generosity.

Commercial Union.

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Imperial Federation League will be held in the Forester's Hall, George St., opposite the Golden Lion, on Thursday evening, the chair to be taken at 8 o'clock. The subject for discussion will be Commercial Union. All who sympathize with the objects of the League are invited to attend.

Remarkably Attractive.

Fenelon Falls Gazette:—"We have received from the EXAMINER office a remarkably attractive and well printed three-sheet poster, announcing that the Peterborough Central Exhibition (open to all the Province) will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th, when the sum of $3,000 will be awarded in prizes. It is claimed that this will be the best Exhibition held this year outside the cities."

A Great Bicycle Race.

Messrs. W. R. Greatrix and Alex. Gibson left this morning for Belleville, where the former competes in a five mile bicycle race, to-morrow, against the wheelmen of Hastings county for the Corby Challenge Cup, valued at $60. Mr. Greatrix formerly lived in Belleville, and is still a member of that club, and has already won the cup twice. If he succeeds in winning this race the cup will become his own property. Will intends putting forth his best effort, and the Belleville men will have to hustle if they beat him. The other day on the Peterborough driving park he made the five miles in 17½ minutes.

Notice to the Workingmen.

The workingmen of Peterborough are requested to take notice that a meeting will be held in the Knights of Labor Hall, Water street, on Thursday evening, Sept. 8th to discuss matters relating to the working classes of the town. The subjects of discussion are of vital importance, and it is particularly requested that a large attendance of workingmen will be present at 8 o'clock sharp. This notice is issued by order of the committee.

The Tailors' Excursion.

Don't let anybody forget the Tailors' Excursion, per steamer Golden Eye, to Idyl Wild, on Thursday Sept. 8th. This excursion will be a most enjoyable one. Arrangements of the completest kind are completed to make it the best of the summer. The tailors always make a fit when they try—they are trying this time, and this excursion will be no exception. Tickets—ladies, 25 cents; gentlemen, 50 cents.

The Peter Hamilton Riding Plough.

Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, deputy reeve of the township of Smith, wishes the EXAMINER to state that he has had great satisfaction in using one of Mr. P. Hamilton's excellent riding ploughs. He plowed with it 16 acres of rolling, rough, stony land and with greater ease and rapidity than it could have been done with the ordinary plough, without breaking a single point in plowing the whole 16 acres. This was a severe test for such a plough, but it stood it admirably. Part of the time he used three horses and at other times two. Two good horses in fair sod will plough two acres per day. He says that the plough gave him every satisfaction and that too much cannot be said in its favour.

A Peculiar Accident.

A Centenarian.

Mrs. Beatty, relict of the late Rev. John Beatty, aged one hundred and five years and three months, died at Cobourg on Tuesday last. The aged veteran retained all her faculties until the last.

On a Visit to Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Fitzgerald are leaving town on a four weeks' trip to Sioux Rapids, Kansas. All orders for wood, cutters or livery will be taken at the livery stables by John Beresford, who is in charge.

Almost a Fire.

A lamp explosion in the hallway of the Protestant Home, last evening, caused a commotion among the inmates. The matron, Mrs. Dillon, with great presence of mind, promptly smothered out the flames with a blanket and threw the burning lamp outside, thus probably averting a serious fire.

The September Fair.

This institution is a thing of the past. Indubitable evidence of death has been furnished. Mr. John Doherty, market clerk, had forgotten that to-day was the day, there was not a single animal or article offered for sale and above all the absence of Mr. "Jimm-" Brown declares the September fair is dead as a—mummy.

The Bishop's First Visit.

The Daily Sentinel, of Port Arthur, dated Friday, September 2nd, has the following:—"Right Rev. Thos. Joseph Dowling, D.D., Bishop of Peterborough, accompanied by his secretary, Rev. P. Rudkins, arrived in Port Arthur this morning on the Alberta, and will remain a few days. This is his lordship's first visit to this part of the diocese since his appointment some eight months ago."

Mineral Deposit.

Mr. George E. Henderson, Q.C., has found, says the Belleville Intelligencer, a brown ochre deposit on property owned by him in Elzevir, Hastings county. The property in question is the W. ½ of lot 12, in the 9th concession of the township. Prof. Bell examined the sample and pronounced it of good quality. Mr. Henderson is endeavouring to ascertain the quantity. The mineral is worth about $30 per ton. Mr. Mussell is making the examination to the extent of the deposit.

Foot Ball.

Judging from the amount of interest and vim displayed at the large and enthusiastic meeting of the foot ball club last evening, the boys intends to make things hum this fall. Mr. Geo. A. Schofield was appointed Secretary, Mr. J. Morris, Captain of the Rugby team, and Dr. Brennan, Captain of the Association team. Practice commences the beginning of next week, and it is altogether likely that an Association match will be arranged with Norwood for some evenidg next week, by electric light. All wishing to take part in the game this season will kindly hand in their names to the secretary at once.

Missions of Souls.

A novel feature in the services at the Jarvis street Baptist Church, Toronto, of which Dr. Thomas, who has preached several times in Peterborough, is pastor, on Sunday was a chart hung up in full view of the congregation bearing the following legend: "Actual and realistic numbers of mankind according to their religious beliefs: Protestants, 146 millions; Greek, 81 millions; Roman Catholic, 190; Jews, 10 millions; Mohommedan, 170 millions; Heathen, 850 millions." Each square on the chart represented a million souls, and the pointed inquiry was made. "What effort are you making to give these souls the bread of life?"

Exhibition Notes.

The South Monaghan Agricultural Society have changed the dates of their exhibition at Centreville to Thursday and Friday, October 13 and 14, on account of the previous dates interfering with the show at Cobourg.

The committee in connection with the amusements of the Peterborough Central Exhibition request the EXAMINER to state that five horses will be required to enter and three to start in the match for speed.

The Industrial Exhibition opens at Toronto to-day.

THE CALAMITY AT EXETER

IT IS BELIEVED THE DEATH LIST WILL REACH AT LEAST 140.

The Search for the Bodies—In Nearly Every Case the Clothing Had Been Torn Off the Victims—A Stable Partly Filled With Unrecognizable Remains.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The fire brigade arrived five minutes after the breaking out of the flames, but the efforts of the firemen were without effect. There were several thrilling rescues. The majority of the victims were men and boys. About thirty women were burned. When the fire started the drop scene was lowered to prevent a draught. Some of the actors opened a door to escape, causing the fire to burst through the drop scene and to ignite the gallery. The flames overtook the people who were wedged in an immovable mass and roasted them to death. Many who were rescued alive died soon after being brought out of the burning building. The occupants of the dress circle escaped without serious harm. A telegram from Exeter at 5 o'clock this morning says the fire is under control. Only the walls of the structure are standing. People distracted with anxiety are wandering about the streets in the neighborhood of the theatre in search of friends who attended last night's performance. The hospitals are besieged by anxious enquiries for friends. Twenty badly burned persons who were admitted to the hospitals died in a few moments after they were received. The sheriff states that he has counted 129 dead bodies. The scene in the streets and where the bodies are lying is pitiful. Women are looking for missing husbands, husbands for wives and daughters, and mothers for their sons. The victims by the burning of the theatre were mostly working people.

The Stairway Packed With Bodies.

As soon as the flames were extinguished a large force of men began searching for the bodies. The stairway leading to the gallery was literally packed with bodies, while at the head of the stairs there were scores of others piled one on top of the other. The unfortunate victims had rushed to the door when the alarm was given, but found the stairway blocked and all means of escape cut off. In a short time the fastest had reached them and they suffered a terrible death. There were pitiful scenes in the vicinity of the burned theater this morning, as the friends and relatives of the supposed victims awaited the recovery of the bodies. In many cases fathers and mothers both perished, and numerous children are thus left without means of support. Several of the bodies were burned so that only a small cinder remained. The number of persons severely injured is sixty. It is feared that the death list will reach 140.

Remains that Cannot be Identified.

It has been ascertained that there were 200 persons occupying seats in the gallery, and of these over 100 lost their lives. The search for bodies still goes on. It is very probable that the total number of deaths will never be ascertained, owing to the fact that many of the bodies were completely calcined. Two stalls of a stable belonging to a hotel adjacent to the theatre are filled with remains that it is impossible to identify. Most of the killed were adults and chiefly men, but few children perished.

The Fatal Angle in the Passage Way.

In nearly every case the clothing had been torn off the victims. From many of the bodies limbs were missing and the remains shewed evidence that they had been wrenched off. Several whole families, numbering from two to five persons, lost their lives. The construction of the gallery staircase accounts for the great loss of life among the gallery people. Half-way down the flight there was a sharp angle. The first persons who left the gallery got past this safely, but several of those who followed were thrown down and jammed into the angle and were unable to extricate themselves, owing to the pressure from behind. The staircase at this point was thus effectually blocked and there was no other means of escape.

A scene-shifter says the fire originated among some gauze, which in some way became ignited. The flames spread to the scenery, of which the stage was unusually full, owing to the preparations in progress for the production of a pantomime. The audience numbered 800 persons. More bodies have been taken from the ruins. The charred remains of twenty persons were discovered in one heap, and a mother, father and child were found clasped in one embrace. All three had been burned to death.

The Inquest.

The inquest over the victims was begun to-day. Crowds of mourning relatives were present. The coroner intimated that it was desirable for sanitary reasons that a general order for burial be immediately issued. It was impossible to identify many of the bodies. The jury simply viewed the remains. A public funeral will be held to-morrow. A relief fund has been opened.

Opinion of the London Brigade's Chief.

Capt. Shaw, who is visiting Exeter, says that the fire spread with such rapidity, owing to the abundance of inflammable material, that no help from the outside would have done any good. The fire brigade spared no effort, but it would be better if they were placed under one control. The Queen has sent messages of sympathy to the sufferers.

Brought up in the House.

Replying to questions in the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Matthews, the Home Secretary, said that no official survey of the Theatre Royal at Exeter had been made by the Home Office. The Home Office had no authority to survey theatres in the provinces. That duty devolved upon the magistrates, who had power to refuse licenses if their demands respecting construction were not complied with. In the case of London the Board of Works had power to inspect buildings and to insist upon the necessary alterations. The calamity at Exeter showed the necessity of legislation in the matter and the Government intended to deal with the subject.

TORONTO'S HUGE FAIR.

OPENED YESTERDAY BY HIS EXCELLENCY, LORD LANSDOWNE.

Clouds and Sunshine by Turns—The Movement at Fort Toronto Favored by the Governor General—His Excellency Thinks the Lot of the Ontario Farmer is a Happy one.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.

PRESIDENT J. J. WITHROW

MANAGER H. J. HILL

addition he had to "receive" the many distinguished visitors to his city. This year's show has attached to it the "Dominion Exhibition," which probably means little more than utilizing the $10,000 granted by the Federal Government. An effort was made to have Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture, from whose department the $10,000 comes, present at the opening yesterday, but Mr. Carling had other engagements. However, it is expected he will be in town before the fair is over and deliver an address to the farmers.

If President Withrow was a busy man, what would be said of Manager H. J. Hill, who has to be a "Jack-be-nimble, Jack-be-quick" from early morn till night. Mr. Hill, to whose management as much as anything else, the Toronto Industrial Exhibition owes so much of its success, is determined not to take his seat until his show is in fact as well as in name the greatest fair on the American continent. Mr. Hill is a firm believer in the theory that a fair should be something more than a show of fat bullocks and an emporium for the handicraft of the artizan. He thinks the people who go to fairs should have amusements: good lively fun to keep them in good humor and make them think they have not paid an admission fee for nothing. Manager Hill is about right. The more amusement you can give the people the better for the fair and the turn-stiles.

Wait Till the Clouds Roll By.

A cloudy morning, with rain in the early hours, kept the crowd away from Exhibition Park in the forenoon, and gave the exhibitors a chance to get their goods into position, and much they needed it, for despite the hard work of Monday the exhibits were in a very backward state yesterday morning. One cause of this was undoubtedly their immense number, which made it a tremendous job for the railways and other agencies to deliver in a short time.

All day the exhibitors and exhibition officials worked like beavers, and great was the change made before night. But even then much remained to be done, and work went on far into the night, and it will take a good part of to-day yet to get some of the departments in order.

The Main Building is practically in shape. There are a few exhibits still to be placed, but at the time the doors closed there were very few, and an hour's work this morning will complete everything. The Main Building looks much better than ever before. Although it is filled from entrance to ceiling, the new structure and the removal of the Natural History section has reduced the pressure and taken away that appearance of being crowded which in former years detracted from the general effect. The annex to the Main Building is also filled to its utmost capacity and is one of the most interesting spots of the exhibition.

THE FORMAL OPENING.

Address to the Governor-General and His Excellency's Reply Thereto.

Towards 2 o'clock a good many notables began to gather in. Carriages rolled swiftly along the graveled drives, the occasional toot of a horn showed that the Royal Grenadiers' band was gathering, while the red coats of a guard of honor from "C" Company, under command of Lieut. and Acting Captain Wadmore, cast a sunset glow over the vista as they marched into the park from the New Fort near by. Everybody assembled in the horse ring, filling the Grand Stand and fringing the picket fence for 100 yards. The soldiers took up ground immediately in front of the stand on the race track, and the band took the right of the line.

Chairman of Board of Trade Secretary A. Willis, while Postmaster Patteson, Surveyor Douglass, Dr. A. Smith and a dozen reporters helped to swell the crowd.

It was a few minutes after 2 o'clock when the Governor-General's party drove up, the first carriage containing Aid. Ritchie, Hon. Judge Wurtele and Mr. W. C. O'Brien of Montreal; the second Aid. Piper, Admiral Vignes and Consul-General Dubail; the third His Excellency, Col. Gzowski, A.D.C., and Capt. Anson, A.D.C., both in undress uniform. Lord Lansdowne wore a kid-glove-fitting steel gray Prince Albert coat, with nails facings, buttoned high up, a silk hat and a black satin tie in a bow, while a plain black stud set off the front of his "boiled shirt." The only decoration he wore was the star of his order, St. Michael and St. George, on his left breast. The appearance of the party on the platform was the signal for a grand cheer, which caused His Excellency to smile and bow. It is plainly evident that Lord Lansdowne is in high favor with Toronto people and appreciates the compliment. When a general handshaking was concluded President Withrow read the following address, which was bound in Russian leather and elaborately embossed and engraved:

May it please Your Excellency:

On behalf of the industrial exhibition Association we beg to welcome Your Excellency to these Exhibition grounds. On a former occasion we had the pleasure of being attended a similar opportunity, on which occasion we were favored with a visit from Lady Lansdowne.

We are aware of the fact that in accepting the Presidentation of our association to be present on this occasion it has been at great personal inconvenience, but we feel that an inspection of the varied exhibits now on exhibition will recompense Your Excellency for the trouble taken.

We have this year been favored for the first time with the handsome grant for exhibition purposes which we are administering in accordance with the views of Your Excellency's constitutional advisers.

The Exhibition this year is far in advance, in every department, of any exhibition ever held in this country and which, we believe, will reflect credit on the Dominion.

As the representative of Her Most Gracious Majesty it affords us pleasure to assure Your Excellency of our loyalty to her throne and person and in common with our subjects in the Mother Land, in their jubilee year, we are observing through this Dominion and Provincial Exhibition an opportunity to commence the celebration in suitable and appropriate manner.

JAS. MCGEE, President.
JOHN J. WITHROW, Vice-President.
H. J. HILL, Manager and Secretary.

TORONTO, Sept. 6, 1887.

His Excellency's Reply.

His Excellency replied as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT, GENTLEMEN OF THE ASSOCIATION, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I have brought with the greatest pleasure to the request you have just made, and I hope the very friendly terms in which you have welcomed me on my return to the city of Toronto. I admit, Mr. President, that when some months ago you invited me to be present upon this occasion I made readily and cheerfully assured you that if it were in my power to be here nothing should prevent my doing so.

You have been quite enough to mention that I come [illegible] which had [illegible] other on[illegible] Canada. [illegible] to say that when [illegible] to me to meet them [illegible] Let me say also, and I must say it in common honesty, that I cannot lay claim to credit for having exercised any very great selfish denial in coming here upon the present occasion, because I must confess that these great annual exhibitions of yours are to me the most interesting and instructive events in the whole of the Canadian year. There are no occasions upon which it is possible in the same degree and with the same facility to arrive at a correct estimate of the resources and the progress of the Dominion and also results of the energy and enterprise of its inhabitants. Mr. President, I have been a member of this House of Commons for [illegible] years, and I have been a representative, not only of the city and of the province, but also of the whole Dominion, when I state that the attendance at these exhibitions, Sir, I know that we all want to go round the exhibition and see the many interesting objects there visible, and I will not therefore detain you by commenting upon the many features of these exhibitions or upon the attention which they afford to the industry of the people or the additions which they give to the stores of knowledge to our common fund of knowledge of the country. Sir, I have heard with great pleasure from you that this particular exhibition promises to be distinctly in advance of any other which you have been able to hold in the City of Toronto. [illegible] ment does not surprise me at all. I saw something of the manner in which your industries and manufactures were represented last year in the Old Country at the great Colonial Exhibition held in London, and I feel no doubt whatever that your manufacturers have not been standing still in the meanwhile, and that the credit which they earned at that exhibition will be amply sustained upon the present occasion.

But, Mr. President, it is perhaps scarcely too much to say that the agricultural side of this exhibition is of special interest to the whole Canadian community. In the first place the agricultural class in this country is, unless I am mistaken, numerically the most important in it. With its prosperity the prosperity of all the other classes is mixed and interwoven, and the mere fact of the agriculturalists being, as they are, scattered throughout the whole country, makes it more important that they probably should reap the benefits offered by these exhibitions more than any other industrial class in the community. And, sir, besides this we cannot forget that the Canadian agriculturalists, as indeed the agriculturalists of the whole world, are at this moment passing through a period of very great trial and difficulty, and I am glad to have this opportunity of expressing my sympathy with them in their [illegible] and their trials. It is a period from which we cannot expect to escape [illegible] except by paying the closest possible attention to every improvement concerning the industry which they pursue, by having recourse to every device which human ingenuity can provide for the improvement of their products and of all the resources which they use in developing the resources of the land which they cultivate.

I am very glad to see that the Canadian farmers have every intention of holding their own in this struggle, and I must say that, although I realize the extent of their difficulties, I am one of those who look with rather sanguine eyes to the prospects of their ultimate success. (Applause). This is my view I firmly believe, that if the countrymen of the old in any part of the world are to hold their own, the cultivators of the soil of the country stand a fair prospect of doing so. Time is on their side. The difficulties will, I believe, prove to be passing and transitory and I cannot sum up my thoughts better than by saying that I am convinced that within the life of this generation the owner of a freehold of, say 100 acres of good cultivable soil in the Province of Ontario, will live to say that he has not a very bad bargain upon his hands. Well, sir, I don't wish to detain you another moment except for the purpose of thanking you very cordially for the renewed assurances of loyalty and good-will towards the throne and person of Her Majesty, with which your address concludes.

I will venture to say that no representative of the Queen has had better opportunities than I have had of gauging the loyalty of the citizens of Toronto—(applause)—and I feel persuaded that the sturdy yeomen of the Province of Ontario share with their brethren of the city this loyal sentiment which you have expressed with so much authority in behalf of this province. Sir, I will now conclude by cordially wishing every possible success to the exhibition and by declaring it formally open to the public. (Applause).

His Excellency then, at the request of President Withrow, pressed his finger on an electric button on the corner of the stand, which brought forth a response from the big steam whistle in Machinery Hall. This was the signal that the big engine had started. Three cheers were given and the party left the ring to take part in the second ceremony of the day.

It was expected that Lady Lansdowne would accompany His Excellency, and there was a ripple of disappointment among the ladies in the Grand Stand when it became known that the Marchioness was not of the party. It was merely a matter of time with Her Excellency, the hurried journey to Toronto and then back to Quebec was not considered advisable for her to take.

FORT TORONTO MONUMENT.

The Pedestal Formally Unveiled by His Excellency the Governor-General.

Immediately after the opening of the exhibition the crowd of spectators wended its way to the western carriage way, down past the York Pioneers' cottage and the canvas city of Pekin, to the bank overlooking the Lake, where a tall upright shaft, carefully covered with cotton, marked the exact spot where the first stake was driven in what is now the city of Toronto, the spot where the feet of De La Salle and Henri Tonti of the iron hand, and the Jesuit Father Hennepin have trod. Back of the covered figure stood a body of over 100 York pioneers, old gray-headed, gray-whiskered settlers, the frontiersmen who carved out of the forest wilderness the happy homes and great city that are now Toronto and York. Foremost among these stood the venerable president,

REV. DR. SCADDING.

Rev. Dr. Scadding, and near him John McRae Ross, whose whitened locks have been sprinkled with the snows of eighty-nine winters. There too was the aged Andrew Herron, 85 years of age, and John Playter, nearly as old, to say nothing of such aged fathers as Wm. Lee, Francis Thompson, W. H. Dnel, Colin Skinner, E. A. Mercer, James Bitt, William Iredale, William Rennie, William Holloway, Sidney Hamilton, William Hill, Richard Defries, Squire Maughan, John Smith, John Bishop, J. E. Pells, John Linton, Thomas Anderson and scores of others who are grandfathers to the people. The old gentlemen cheered Lord Lansdowne when he came up, and Dr. Scadding at once read the address of the body as follows:

May it please Your Excellency:

I have been requested by the committee of gentlemen who of late have charge of the creation of this monument to ask Your Excellency to have the great kindness, during your welcome presence here amongst us, to perform the ceremony of its unveiling. It is fervently desired that Your Excellency would graciously allow your name to be associated in this manner with the completion of a memorial structure which in all the stages of its progress has been regarded with peculiar interest by the inhabitants of Toronto, for it marks the spot at which [illegible] years ago, a royal post was founded which proved in the event to be the seed germ of the [illegible]. The others of that group when [illegible] in 1813 by command of Louis XV. of France, at the instance of one of Your Excellency's predecessors in Canada, the Count de la Galissonière, was not military but commercial. It was considered important at this point that position of the Indian trade which passed down by the route from the north and northwest, and which was beginning to be drawn pedestal of the same material, the whole being thirty-four feet in height. The stone is roughly cut and unpolished and bears only the simple inscription:

FORT TORONTO.
An Indian Trading Post, for some time known as Fort Rouille,
Was established here A.D. MDCCXLIX
By order of Louis XV.

In reply to the address Lord Lansdowne said:

MR. PRESIDENT, DR. SCADDING, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: The ceremony which has recently been concluded in another part of the ground was one which had reference to the affairs of to-day and to the material interests, present and future, of this city and its neighborhood. I am glad that you have asked me to take a part in another ceremony which will for a moment carry our minds back from the present to the past.

We are met this afternoon in order to preserve from obliteration the traces of the first beginnings of the city of which you are so justly proud to-day. In doing this you are, I think, showing a very proper and laudable feeling. A community is wanting in self-respect which does not take an interest in its own history and seek to preserve those records by which that history can be traced and authenticated. I have frequently noticed with pleasure that the people of Toronto are fond of dwelling upon the memories which hive around the city and this portion of the province of which it is the capital. Nor is there any one person to whom the public is more indebted in this connection than it is to the learned Doctor who read the address to-day, and whose industry in research and facility of description have enabled him to contribute so much to the annals of this neighborhood. (Applause).

There is certainly no part of Canada in which the men of the present day have a better right to refer with pride to the achievements of their forefathers or to the courage with which the earliest settlers in the land, when they were as yet a mere handful of men, held their own in the face of difficulties and fought for the country of their adoption and preserving for [illegible] works.

The monument which you have asked me to unveil carries us back however to a past even more remote than that upon which you are fondest of dwelling; it takes us back to a period earlier than [illegible] of the U. E. [illegible], earlier than the [illegible] and even than the [illegible] it is erected on the site of the old French trading post built more nearly a century and a half ago by the French Government; a post which was in fact the earliest civilized settlement established in this neighborhood; that settlement you have very appropriately described in your address as the germ of the Toronto with which we are now acquainted. I think the greatest credit is due to the Public Bodies, the Corporation, the Exhibition Association and the Provincial Government, as well as to the private friends and supporters of the project, who have combined for the purpose of securing the identification of so interesting a spot, and of commemorating it by the erection of a suitable monument.

Standing as that monument does in the midst of these Exhibition Grounds it will serve, I hope, year after year to remind the thousands who frequent them of the debt of gratitude due to those who built up the fortunes of the city of Toronto upon a spot where a comparatively short time ago the rough trading post of a foreign country was the only sign of approaching civilization, and to whose efforts, spread over successive generations, you owe it that the shingle, the desolation, the dangers, the rude existence of the first settlers on this spot have been replaced by the teeming population, the plenty, and the prosperity which we see around us on every side to-day.

I esteem myself fortunate in having been called upon to undertake this task, and I have now much pleasure in dedicating this monument to the public of the city and province.

After the unveiling of the monument His Excellency, accompanied by the officers of the Exhibition, drove through the park and visited the principal [illegible], leaving for the city about 5 o'clock. He was exceedingly pleased with what he had seen.

THAT SWEET COMBINATION.

The combination between the wholesale grocers of Montreal and the refiners to force up the price of sugar is getting severely shaken. Lightbound, Ralston & Co. gave it a severe blow, and now another firm is importing a consignment of Scotch sugar which will be sold at 7 cents, as against the ring price of 7½ cents. What the combination, which the National Policy has made possible, has been doing in making the people pay higher prices for sugars than they otherwise would have done, is shown by the following letter, published by the Galt Reformer :—

SIR,—At the time of the last general election it appeared to me that gross ignorance prevailed in this district in regard to the effect that the N.P. had upon the price of sugar. Many people seemed to imagine that because that commodity had been cheaper in Canada for a number of years than it had been formerly, that therefore the protective system had not enhanced its price to the consumers; forgetting, or ignorant of the fact that sugar has been much cheapened the world over. On a recent visit to the Old Country, I observed that beautiful crystallised Demarara was ticketed in London at 3c. per lb., and good light brown at 2½c., or 40 lbs. for a dollar. In order to convince the most sceptical, I brought with me from Glasgow three price lists, taken at random from as many retail grocery stores, all selling about the same rate. From one one of these I purchased three varities of sugar, viz., loaf, crystallised and granulated, each costing 4c. per lb., or 25 lbs for a dollar. Compared with what I have bought since returning, costing 8½c per lb., or 12 lbs. for a dollar, the Glasgow granulated is superior. I also purchased some half-dozen varities of candles, at the rate of 6c. per lb., or 7 lbs. for 40c. I don't know what the price is here, except of one variety, white candles, for which I have been always charged 40c. per lb. in Ontario. In Glasgow I got exactly 7 lbs for that amount.

Immediately on putting foot in Canada, our paternal Government (as I expected) called on me to "stand and deliver," and their Customs' officer very blandly examined my box and invoice, charging at the rate of 35 per cent. and 1½c. per lb., or exactly two-thirds the cost of the sugar, for which, of course, I hold a receipt.

The Canadian consumer can thus see that they are contributing an undue amount to the Dominion revenue, or to the combination—the refineries and wholesale grocers. Further proof can be adduced that the Canadians pay largely in excess of what they would pay but for the existence of a protective duty, which does not protect, as the Tory organs claim. Granulated sugar can be purchased at retail in New York at six cents per pound, and good brown sugar for less than five cents per pound, or more properly 21c. and 16c. per 3½ pounds respectively. Now every household knows what is paid here for sugar.

The consumer in Peterborough does well if he gets granulated sugar at 8 cents per pound, an advance of 2 cents per pound on the New York price and of 3½ cents per pound on the retail price in London, England. It comes to this that the consumer of Canadian sugar is paying 3½ cents for the fun of raising a revenue for the Government to squander. If it is desired to tax the people to raise a revenue, take the duty off sugar, which is a necessary of life, and put it on whiskey or something else which the people can manage to do without. The present flurry in the sugar market is a fight between the people and the monopolists. We well know which the Government favours, and we also well know which will triumph—it the people are true to themselves and their interests.

WHATEVER obstructions the government and the C. P. R. have thrown in the way of the building of the Red River Railway, these have not prevented the construction of the line, nor prevented the obtaining of funds. The latest information is to the effect that Premier Norquay has succeeded in raising a loan of a million dollars for railway purposes on the bonds of the Province of Manitoba. The money will be applied to the completion of the Red River Valley road, the rails for which are now lying at Montreal. The Government has plunged itself into no end of impopularity on account of its obstructive hostility to this line. On Monday a Conservative "Workingmen's" pic-nic was held at Morris, Man. By the way, "workingmen", according to the Tory definition, means a party hack, a contractor, office seeker, timber-limit grabber, or any person who is willing, for a quid pro quo, to do dirty party work, or "shell out" for the benefit of the party corruption funds. At the Morris pic-nic, Hon. Sparrow Thompson, Minister of Justice, Hon. Mr. McLelan, Postmaster-General, Dr. Orton, the defeated of Centre Wellington, Mr. Scarth, M.P., Mr. Royal, M.P., all the members of the local government and many others were expected. But Dr. Orton was the only one who had the courage to put in an appearance. A significant feature of the gathering was the presence of several prominent Manitoban Conservatives, who denounced the Dominion government in no stinted terms. Manitoba is solid in support of her rights to build railways. In one sense, she deserves little sympathy for the trouble in which she finds herself at present. When Sir John made his onslaught upon Ontario's territorial rights, Premier Norquay aided and abetted him to the fullest extent of his ability. This encouraged Sir John, and he thought Mr. Norquay would be as acquiescent and subservient in the present matter. Perhaps he would be if he were permitted, but popular opinion is solid against and he dare not run counter to it, no matter how personally desirous he may be of assisting Sir John in his game.

A HAMILTON MAN'S FORGERIES.

The Case of Mr. Peter Ryan v. the Bank of Montreal Decided for the Former.

TORONTO, Sept. 7.

A case of considerable interest to business men, and particularly to the banks, was decided yesterday when the Court of Appeal gave judgment in the case of Ryan v. the Bank of Montreal. The plaintiffs Mr. Peter Ryan, but the bank people were the appellants. It is an interesting case, arising out of forgeries to the extent of $60,000 by Hamilton Young, once manager of, and before that a partner in the Hamilton Cotton Company, not a joint stock company but only a partnership concern.

In 1885 Young asked Mr. Ryan to discount some paper, to which the latter agreed and accepted a sight draft of the Hamilton Cotton Company, which was discounted through the Hamilton branch of the Bank of Montreal. The draft was honored. It bore the name of the cotton company as signature and was made payable to their order. The discovery was made that both signature and endorsement were forgeries and Mr. Hamilton Young was the forger. By means of other drafts he struck Mr. Ryan to the extent of $12,500 and Mr. H. Osler, Q.C., for $10,000. Altogether about $60,000 worth of this business had been shipped. He is now supposed to be in the United States or in Mexico.

When the forgeries were discovered, Mr. Ryan protested the drafts and gave notice. For a while efforts were made to effect a settlement outside of the courts, but they came to nought, and finally Mr. Ryan sued the Bank of Montreal. The case in which judgment was given yesterday was on the $4850 draft, and this now involves the amount of $5000, including costs and interest. The case was first tried in the Assizes before Mr. Justice Gwynne, who gave judgment for the defendants. Mr. Ryan carried the case to the full court and there Chief Justice Wilson and Justices Armour and O'Connor unanimously reversed the judgment of Mr. Justice Galt and decided for the plaintiff. Then the Bank of Montreal applied to the Court of Queen's Bench, whose judgment was given yesterday when Mr. James Maclennan, Q.C., and Mr. James Haverson appeared for Mr. Ryan, and Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., and Mr. John Bruce for the bank. Chief Justice Meagarty and Mr. Justice Burton decided for the defendants, while Mr. Justice Patterson and Mr. Justice Osler went with the plaintiff. This amounts to a dismissal of the case and consequently a victory for Mr. Ryan. The Chief Justice, in voicing his judgment, stated that the cases seemed so evenly divided that he was forced to confess that he never had given a decision with so little satisfaction to himself.

The Bank of Montreal will probably carry the case to the Supreme Court, and it is just possible that it may not be settled until it reaches the Privy Council of England. In the meantime Mr. Ryan is satisfied, and believes that he will get back every cent with interest.

STILL IN A DEBTORS' PRISON.

Henry Taylor's Friends Unable to Release Him.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The movements made by Henry Taylor and his friends to-day were necessarily limited by reason of Judge Davis' abrupt refusal to hear argument. All efforts made by the Ontario Investment Association and the Bank of London to secure his release have been abandoned. This afternoon it was publicly admitted by a director of the Ontario Investment Association that it was known before Mr. Taylor's return that he would be arrested in London, and further that R. M. Meredith is resorting to other obstructive legal measures for the purpose of protecting the interests of other parties.

This morning one of the auditors of the Ontario Investment Association submitted to the directors an estimate of the late losses of the association that shows the assets are worth 50 cents on the dollar of paid-up stock. The last loss sustained was by the failure of a stock-broking firm in England and lost the association over $100,000, which was further supplemented by loans on its own stock.

Henry Taylor's cell in the county jail is visited hourly by some of his creditors, and he has numerous lengthy conferences with the directors. The general dissatisfaction and want of harmony between the directors have given rise to ugly rumors, and an exposure of several shady transactions in which the late manager, Chas. Murray, Henry Taylor and several directors are implicated, is hourly looked for.

A Scare at Aylmer.

OTTAWA, Sept. 6.—There was quite a scare in Aylmer to-day caused by bush fires getting unpleasantly near the village, and bucket brigades were organized and preparations made to fight the flames. Fortunately it commenced to rain shortly after midday and all danger is over for the present.

To Fight for $1000 a Side.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 6.—Articles were signed by Peter J. Nolan of Cincinnati and by Marsh Byers for James Full of Grand Rapids, Mich., for a prize fight for $1000 a side. The fight is to be to a finish with skin-tight gloves, and to take place on Dec. 4, within 100 miles of New Orleans.

The Prince of Wales at Copenhagen.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 6.—The Prince of Wales, accompanied by his son, Prince Albert Victor, arrived at Helsingoer to-day and was saluted by the men-of-war in the harbor. On landing the Princes were received by the Danish royal family and the Czar and Czarina of Russia. They were afterwards escorted to Fredensborg by a guard of honor.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

A BIG FIRE AT OTTAWA.

Nine Buildings Burned or Less Destroyed Including Five Factories Burned.

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—About 4 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the upper flat of the Ottawa grocery store at the corner of Preston and Hideau streets and spread with great rapidity to the adjoining houses, which were mostly of wood. It took a hard fight of two hours before the fire was under control, by which time nine buildings were more or less damaged and five families burned out, and almost destitute, most of their belongings being burnt and those being so injured.

The fire is about 2½ miles from the water works. During the fire one of the two 8-inch main water mains burst under the heavy pressure put on, and in order to repair it the water had to be turned off about 7 o'clock, and for two hours the city was without water, very much to the consternation of the citizens, especially those in Centre Town, who did not know of the fire or the bursting of the main.

A DISABLED BEAVER LINER.

The Steamship Lake Winnipeg Encounters Rough Weather.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 6.—The steamship Lake Winnipeg of the Beaver Line, from Montreal to Liverpool, has put into Belfast disabled. The vessel encountered very bad weather, and during the storm her top deck, loaded with cattle and sheep, was swept clean.

The Lake Winnipeg cleared from Montreal with over 800 head of cattle and a small number of sheep on board, all belonging to Canadian shippers. Of the shipment 117 head belonged to Mr. Beaner of this city. If his cattle lay among the lost he is protected by insurance.]

MURDERED BY A TRAMP.

The Mystery Surrounding the Death of a Woman Solved.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Sept. 6.—The mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Ada Stone has been solved. Edward Sheldon, a 19-year-old tramp, arrested at Canandaigua, has confessed having murdered the woman. She had refused to give him victuals and struck him when he attempted to compel her to stay in the house to prevent her giving the alarm. He then felled her with a club and dragged her into the cellar and choked her to death.

Work on the Guelph Junction Railway.

The remainder of the right of way to Campbellville, which has not been purchased, and which is not very much, is being negotiated for.

Killed by a Bull.

PETERBORO, Sept. 6.—Wesley Urquhart, the 17-year-old son of Alex. Urquhart of Udora, went to lead a bull to the back fields, when the brute attacked and killed him. No one witnessed the dreadful occurrence, and the lad was not missed until late at night, when the body was found shockingly mangled. The animal had never previously shown any vicious tendency.

Fired by an Engine.

GUELPH, Sept. 6.—Yesterday a fire, started by a spark from a G. T. engine, consumed between 3000 and 4000 cedar rails used as fencing on the farm of Donald Gillis, and also swept over about fifty acres of meadow and stubble, all in the space of about fifteen minutes. Mr. Gillis' loss will be about $130.

Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d Domestic Infelicity.

Christopher Todd, a lumberman from the rear townships, was charged before Police Magistrate Dumble this morning with neglecting to support his wife and family. The wife said he had left her, two years ago, with seven children, and had not since that time either returned home or given her a cent of money. There appeared to be some misunderstanding between them, and they accepted the Magistrate's advice to live together more harmoniously in the future.

Peterborough's Parks.

A correspondent in the Orillia Times describing the trip from that town to Stony Lake, thus gives vent to his feelings:—"At length Peterborough is reached, where the traveller is obliged to wait eight hours for a train to pursue his journey eastward. Thus he is enabled to take a view of this large and commodious town, which repays him for his trouble. As the streets are well laid out and the buildings are large and tastefully erected, the gardens and parks would remind the visitor of some fairy vision that he had read about. The flowers were simply magnificent, the grass, over which pure and sparkling water was thrown from crystal fountains, was a beautiful fresh green. Standing on a high mountain, whose base is laved by the waters of the Otonabee River, a fine view of the surroundings can be taken in, but might come o'er the town has been half inspected, and the traveller is obliged to again embark.

Respecting Town Taxes.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—Permit me rectify and error in your report of the debate, in the Council, on the question of levying a per centage for non-payment of taxes on or before the first of December.

I objected to the addition of five per cent., straight, for neglect to pay on that day, because such neglect was always either in consequence of inability in the poor ratepayer or of oversight on the part of the ratepayer in better circumstances.

I urged that the only sum in addition to the proper tax that should be levied for default, was a sum that would indemnify the town for non-payment on the day fixed; the five per cent. as provided in the by-law being a penalty that was alike unjust to the the poor man and the rich, though it bore more hardly on the former.

The more strongly did I feel on this matter from the fact that these penalties, which during the past year amounted to more than $300, are paid into the general funds of the town and applied for the benefit of all, so that the unfortunate ratepayers assists to pay the taxes of his more wealthy neighbor.

My resolution in amendment was in writing, and proposed in substitution for the hard and fast five per cent. on the unpaid tax, that one per cent. per month (not twelve per cent. per month, as reported) should be levied for non-payment by the first day of December; that not less than one month should be charged for, if default were made, and that a broken month should be counted as a full month. This exaction, I am aware, would more than save the town from loss, as it pays the bank only six per cent. per annum for any money temporarily needed, but it was a sum very readily ascertainable by the collector and ratepayer, and for the first month was but one-fifth of that now imposed. And it was the vote on this question that a certain Councillor—erstwhile the poor man's friend—shirked. Although my resolution was opposed and defeated by a majority of the Council, yet I am so satisfied of its fairness, that I am convinced the unjust and harsh provision now in the by-law, will be removed from it within twelve months, and one similar to that I advocated take its place.

I am Sir, your obedient servant,

W. H. MOORE.

Vexed Questions.

We have several topics of public excitement at present. There is the question of Commercial Union, the Fisheries question, and the Sugar question. All these are of general interest and create a good deal of discussion and conjecture. The first is yet in an embryonic state, the second is in danger of provoking a war, and the third has raised a row in the kitchen and among the preserving kettles and fruit jars. There is, however, one local question, which, however much difference of opinion it has aroused in the past, is now settled forever. Everybody agrees that for superior and high class furniture the shop of D. Belleghem, Hunter street, is the very best place to go in the Midland district. Whatever a householder needs, he or she will find there at the most modest prices. No rings or combinations to keep up the price, but everything on the square. First-class furniture, guaranteed as to make and material, is offered in unlimited variety, at unusually reasonable prices. When you want furniture of the best and cheapest, don't neglect to call on Belleghem, at the furniture shop furthest west on Hunter street, Peterborough.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons.

It is an especial pleasure to present the name of this distinguished and brilliant artiste, the most beautiful woman who has ever graced the platform, and the acknowledged head of her profession, who is soon to appear in Peterborough under the auspices of the P.A.A.A. and Cricket Club. It is several years since Mrs. Scott-Siddons last appeared in this country, since when she has been giving recitals in England and on the continent, to crowded and enthusiastic audiences, eliciting the most favorable comments of well-known critics, all of whom agree that she has gained greatly in power, while retaining in the highest degree that charm of person and manner which has made her name a household word on both sides of the Atlantic. Mrs. Scott-Siddons will bring with her a magnificent wardrobe of the latest Parisian costumes. She will arrive in October, and her tour will begin about November 1st, reaching Peterborough about the middle of November.

Miss Tully, Mantle Cutter at Turnbull's, is now prepared to show all the new styles in Mantles. Orders executed promptly.

Died in Gaol.

Wm. Hoosick, a vagrant who has for a long time lived in the gaol here as a vagrant, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon. A coroner's inquest in the evening resulted in a verdict, "died from natural causes." Deceased, though not an old man, his age being 45, was always "poorly," and succumbed to the ravages of time upon a weak constitution.

Commercial Union.

The regular monthly meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Imperial Federation League will be held in the Forester's Hall, George St., opposite the Golden Lion, on Thursday evening, the chair to be taken at 8 o'clock. The subject for discussion will be Commercial Union. All who sympathize with the objects of the League are invited to attend.

Overcrowding the Schools.

Great Overcrowding in the South West School—Efforts to Overcome the Difficulty—The Inspector's Report, and Other Business.

Chairman Stevenson, Messrs. Birrell, Wrighton, A. Rutherford, Dumble, Deane, English, Benham, Kendry, Weir and T. Rutherford attended the meeting of the Board of Education Tuesday evening.

Mr. DUMBLE enquired why the Collegiate Institute had not been supplied with a water service as had been ordered.

Mr. WRIGHTON, chairman of the Property Committee, replied that the work had not yet been done on account of press of other repairs, but he promised that it would be done at once.

Mr. RUTHERFORD wanted to know how it was that promotion examinations were being held in the Collegiate Institute now, instead of at the end of the term. Mr. Earle who was present, stated that it had been found that a great many of the pupils dropped off just before the close of the term, so that the examinations were not satisfactory, and it had been thought best to hold them at the beginning.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Mr. R. Z. Rogers, of Grafton, asked that his son be admitted to full school privileges in Peterborough, as, though not at present a resident of the town, he had for years lived here and still paid taxes on property in the town.

There was a deal of discussion on this communication, a number of the board, while wishing to recognize Mr. Roger's claims, still could not see how the rule could be departed from. It was decided to send a letter to Mr. Rogers explaining the impossibility of the board meeting his wishes.

Miss Annie M. Fair, of Midland, applied for the first vacant position in the public school staff of teachers. Her application was referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. T. A. Rowan, teacher of Modern Languages, applied to have his salary of $1,000 a year, as per arrangement with the Board, confirmed.—Received.

A number of printed circulars as to school desks, books, etc., were received.

An account of Mr. J. H. Long, principal of the Collegiate Institute, for expenses of trip to Belleville to report upon a teacher, amounting to $1.80, was paid.

A letter from Mrs. W. A. Morrow, acknowledging receipt of the motion of condolence passed by the school board.—Received.

THE INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

The report of Inspector Stratton was read, as follows:—

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:—

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to report that at the close of the examinations at the end of the last school term, I found the schools in a fairly healthy and progressive state. More than the usual numbers were promoted, and the fact that of those who attended the entrance examination from Mr. Smith's room, over 90 per cent. were successful, speaks well for his careful teaching.

The schools opened with full rooms especially in the central buildings, and in the south ward school. The west ward school is reported as having a moderate attendance, but this will, no doubt, increase. The primary division of the south ward school is overcrowded, requiring immediate attention. I intend to consult with the head master concerning proper remedies for the present time.

Miss Hall complains of the dilapidated state of the blackboards in her rooms; and I must say that they are in a very bad state.

It gives me much pleasure to report that I consider the public schools of the town in a very favorable state.

I regret to have to state that at present Miss Graham and Miss Jenkins are unable to take their places, but all, I am sure, sincerely wish that their illness may be of short duration. J. STRATTON.

The report was received.

OVERCROWDING THE SCHOOLS.

Mr. John Stirling, Headmaster of the South Ward school, was heard in reference to the crowding in his school. In one room (Miss Martin's) the average attendance being 90. There was a total attendance of 236 for 4 teachers. He could not see any way of avoiding the trouble except by the half-day system. There were no boundaries laid down, so he could not tell whether children from other sections were attending his school or not.

Mr. RUTHERFORD thought the Inspector had power to define the boundaries and overcome the difficulty.

The Inspector stated that he intended consulting Mr. Stirling in regard thereto, and had no doubt the matter would be settled.

Mr. Dumble presented the report of th Committee on Appointments, stating that Mr. Fife had been appointed to the vacant position of teacher in the Central School, re Miss Greenwood resigned. The report was adopted.

The Board then adjourned.

Peterborough's Prime Cheese.

Last Meeting of the Board—Some Factories Suspended.

Mr. Claxton opened the bidding with 12c. for Northumberland, which was not accepted. No other offers were made for these factories. Mr. Wrighton bid 12c. for the last half of August, and Mr. Claxton 11½c. for the whole of Victoria section. Mr. Spence offered 11½, 12 and 13 for August, September and October makes, respectively, of Peterborough section, followed by Mr. Claxton with one of 12½c. for September and October makes of Peterborough, which was accepted. Mr. Wrighton's bid of 12c., last half of August was taken. Subsequently an offer of 11½, 12½ and 12½ for Victoria section by Mr. Claxton, was also taken. Thus the whole offer, except Northumberland, was satisfactorily disposed of.

Mr. J. C. Leary, of Downerville, expressed the thanks of the Victoria representatives to the Board for their kindness and square dealing, which had been better than the treatment received from the beyard. He hoped to see them again next year.

SUSPENDING DELINQUENTS.

Mr. Taylor, Secretary, arraigned the representatives of Westwood, Norwood, Malone, Abbey and South Dummer, for directly disobeying the agreement entered into by all the factories, of not sell off the Board without permission. He had strong reasons for suspecting these factories of selling off the Board, and moved that they be suspended from the Board until they pay a fine of $25 each, or during the pleasure of the Board.

The motion was seconded by Mr. Galvin, and carried unanimously.

Mr. Robertson, of Victoria, accused some Victoria men of the same fault, alleging that two weeks ago the representatives of Mariposa, West Ops, Bobcaygeon and Cambray had sold off the Board before permission had been granted them, to the loss of those who had stuck to the agreement. These factories were added to the other motion, and come in for the same punishment.

These cases seemed to be well known to the Board, very little explanation being given, but as the votes were unanimous they had evidently been well discussed and a decision arrived at by the members previous to the meeting.

VOTES OF THANKS.

On motion of Mr. TAYLOR, seconded by Mr. Stewart, a resolution of thanks was passed to the Commissioners and Mayor for the use of the old music hall for the purpose of holding the meetings of the Board, and to the press for its interest in dairy matters.

Several members of the Board spoke of the kindness of the Peterborough papers in giving full reports of the meetings of the Board, by which the dairy interests were served, and the people kept posted as to the market. The motion was carried by a standing vote.

Mr. J. C. Rosevear, of Northumberland, thanked the Board for its kindness to him, a stranger, and Mr. Cluxton for his good offer, which, however, he could not accept.

The President, Mr. Drummond, congratulated the Board upon the successful termination of this season's business, in spite of the efforts made by outside parties to break up the Cheese Board. He was glad, he said, to see some members sticking to the Board, if all of them didn't, though they lost by it. He hoped for another successful season next year.

The Board adjourned sine die.

My Wife's Old Marriage Ring.

The following lines were suggested to my mind while looking at my wife's hand, when I beheld he marriage ring worn to a mere thread:—

Dear wife, does sight deceive me thus, or is it really so?
Is that the ring I gave you six and thirty years ago?
When youth's fresh bloom was on our cheeks,
no furrows on our brow!
Like that gold ring we too have changed, we are old and wrinkled now.
My locks were then a raven black, but yours were fair and bright;
Now yours are mixed with silvery gray, and mine are nearly white.
Our change in looks don't touch my heart with half a sharp a sting
As when I look at your left hand and worn out marriage ring.

That day I placed that marriage ring upon your youthful hand,
It was not slender, weak nor light, but heavy, strong and grand;
I little thought that pledge of love would wear so quick away,
Till I beheld that golden thread upon your hand to-day.
It never could have worn so slim with idleness or ease,
In turning over music leaves or on piano keys;
Nor sitting with your folded hands in easy chair to swing.
The assidious work as farmer's wife has worn that marriage ring.

Don't fret about that old ring, wife, though it should break in two,
The hand that wears it toiled enough to buy one more for you.
If it keeps whole until you die, friends weeping round you stand,
Its value will not tempt them much to take it from your hand.
Since first you wore that marriage ring long years have come and gone,
Hardships and toil you daily shared, both joy and sorrows known;
United love, the source from whence true happiness can spring,
Shed sunshine round your life while you have worn that marriage ring.

That ring was but the product of the rock, earth, skill and art,
Had I been false to you it would no joy or peace impart,
For faithless, disappointed love you would find no relief,
Each time you looked at it would but intensify your grief.
A ring more precious formed of love, not weak or worn away,
Entwines around our hearts as strong as on our wedding day.
It cheers our hearts and bears our thoughts fresh back on fancy's wing,
To that blessed hour I gave to you that new, now worn out, ring.

While wearing out that ring your trials were neither few nor small,
Contentment, love and health combined, you triumphed over all.
At work or pleasure, joy or grief, supreme affection reigned,
Meanwhile that good, health-giving God our union hath sustained.
Creator and Preserver kind, thou Giver of life and breath,
United Thou hast spared us long, divide us not at death.
If but Thy will, instead of one, let death two summons bring,
And lay us quietly side by side, with her old marriage ring.

WILLIAM TELFORD.

Fox Hunting.

Yesterday morning about 8 o'clock the steamer "Golden Eye" left the wharf here for Cow Island, containing about 75 acres, situated near Jubilee Point, having on board a number of sports and their friends, bound for the fox hunt there. There were Messrs. H. Calcutt, E. Tivey, J. Clancy, A. C. Corcoran, H. W. Kent and a number of ladies. The hunters took along 16 dogs. Arriving at Cow Island they were met by "Bob" Jackson, and a few minutes' walk brought the party to fresh tracks. The dogs were let loose and in a short time Mr. Clancy killed a fine fox. The hounds were put on another trail and two more "sly Reynards" were captured by Messrs Kent and Corcoran. As the party were re-assembling in response to the whistle of the steamer, whose captain thought it time to return home, though the sports were still "eager for the fray", Commodore Calcutt was seen hurrying down with a fine fox in his hand, which he displayed with great pride and explained to the ladies what excellent sport he had in bagging it. He presented the brush to one of the ladies. Mr. Tivey, not caring for fox hunting, looked for other game and secured some fine partridge, and a nice brace of woodcock. The genial "Bob" Jackson was delighted to see the party, and was in specially good humor when a fox was being killed. These foxes have stolen a number of his turkeys. The homeward trip was a very pleasant one, the ladies enjoying themselves with music, while the eager shots, perched upon the prow of the boat, fired away at kingfishers and cranes, which supplied any amount of sport. Arriving at the wharf, the happy hunters, with their dogs and foxes (minus their brushes, which were presented to the ladies as mementoes of the first fox hunt from Peterborough), went home much pleased with their day's sport, speaking in the highest terms of Mr. Jackson's hospitality to them, and hoping again, at an early date, to have the opportunity of slaughtering some of the foxes which abound on Cow Island.

School Building Improvements.

During the summer holidays Mr. Tighe, caretaker of the Central School and Collegiate Institute buildings, has been improving the shining hour by painting all the desks, the stairs and steps outside, the wainscotting of one room, and the pillars in the various rooms. The boiler also has been repaired, and the tops of the chimneys and closets have undergone the same. Altogether a great improvement is noticeable in the appearance of the buildings.

Cocaine, Iodform or Mercurials in any form in the treatment of catarrh or hay fever should be avoided as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is easily detected by its offensive odor. TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.

Yesterday morning His Excellency received visitors and busied himself with correspondence at the Queen's. He had a prolonged interview with Sir John Macdonald, lasting nearly two hours.

After luncheon His Excellency and Captain Anson, A.D.C., drove to the postoffice, and after inspecting that institution, accompanied by Mr. T. C. Patteson, he went to Exhibition Park. Here he spent three hours among the horses and cattle, under the guidance of Mr. John Loye, M.P.P., and the Postmaster. His Excellency was an interested visitor to the Art Gallery. He dined at the Queen's in the evening, and left by the G.T.R. train at 7 last evening for Quebec. Sir Alexander Campbell was among those who were present to see him off.

Sir John A. Macdonald arrived in the city yesterday morning from the Capital, went straight to the Queen's and is quartered in the Red Parlor. The Old Man received many callers during the day, among them being Mr. J. B. Carlile of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, of which Sir John is president.

But the most important visitor to the Premier was the Governor-General. It is understood that Sir John came specially to Toronto to see His Excellency. As stated above they had a lengthy conference, the matter in discussion being the fisheries question.

Sir John will return to the Capital this evening and will be in Toronto again next Tuesday or Wednesday.

The Ontario Society of Photographers began the business part of its second day's meeting yesterday morning in the rooms of the Ontario Society of Artists, King-street west. President A. T. Barrand of Barrie occupied the chair. The morning's session was devoted to the discussion and answering of questions affecting the trade.

At the evening meeting there was a fair audience, and the proceedings were of an interesting character. A paper read by Mr. Landy of Cincinnati on the present condition of photography created a lively discussion on the cutting of rates. The meeting discussed the present duty on foreign dry plates and adopted a memorial to the Dominion Government praying for such a modification of the tariff in that line as will make it profitable to import English and American plates. The convention will elect their officers this morning.

Lord Eustace Cecil, brother of the Marquis of Salisbury, is expected at the Queen's this morning. He is accompanied by his son and will stay in the city for two or three days.

The French Admiral and his party went East last night on the same train as the Governor-General.

An exciting scene occurred on Malloy's Wharf last night at 11 o'clock. The Chicora had just arrived, and among the freight were several horses, including Chandos, Viola, Toronto, Cyclone and Rutland. The animals were ordered by the customs officer to be taken to Bond's livery stable. Jockey Grover, who was riding Toronto, started to leave the the wharf when James Conley of the Custom House, grabbed the horse by the bridle, to which Grover remonstrated. Conley still held on and said if he (Grover) did not keep quiet he would pull him off the horse. Words passed and the customs official struck Grover. Mr. Doane, the owner of Toronto, then thought it time to interfere and Conley went at him, striking him with a lighted lantern, which broke in pieces over Mr. Doane. The latter then gave Conley a trouncing. Conley is said to be too officious.

Danford Roche & Co., the Yonge-street retail grocery firm, made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors last evening. The liabilities are said to be $110,000. The failure was not unexpected. A large percentage of the creditors, it is said, are Toronto wholesale men. A meeting of the creditors is to be held shortly.

Mr. James E. Knox, bowman of the senior crew of the Toronto Rowing Club, and one of the victors at the Chautauqua and Ottawa regattas, has started a crew of his own, in other words he was married yesterday to Miss Ada M. Reid of Thornhill.

LOST OFF LORNE PARK.

Two Toronto Young Ladies Probably Perish in Yesterday's Gale.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—Miss Agnes McCormack and Miss Bella Lauder were driven out from shore off Lorne Park in a small boat by the strong gale of yesterday. It is feared they have perished.

Miss McCormick is a member of the Jarvis-street Baptist Church. Her widowed mother lives in Chicago, to which city the family some years since removed. She was noted for a brave venturesome disposition, a fondness for the water and an ability to handle a boat. Miss Lauder is a bright, handsome girl, and her objection to boating was so pronounced that her friends cannot account for her joining her friend in such an outing.

THE CORINTHIAN ASHORE.

While Trying to Make a Landing at Lachine She Runs on the Pier.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—As the steamer Corinthian of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company was late to-night, she proceeded to land at Lachine to allow her passengers to come to Montreal by train. There were, however, no lights on the pier, and owing to the high winds and the darkness she ran right on to the break water at the end of the pier. Efforts were made to get her off, but to no purpose. The passengers were got off by means of a small steamer after about two hours' delay. The passengers arrived here to-night, but the Corinthian is still on the pier.

Blessed Are the Merciful.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 6.—Mrs. Janette Greville, 45 years of age, and mother of ten children, eloped from Montreal on June 27 with Louis Brenoot. The woman's husband traced her to this city, and yesterday Truant Officers Breault and Wolf found the guilty pair living together on Atwater-street. Brenoot fled, and Greville forgave his wife and took her home with him.

Ferdinand Going to Hungary.

BUCHAREST, Sept. 7.—It is reported that Prince Ferdinand will shortly make a visit of several weeks duration to his estate in Hungary. The report is received with much surprise, as it was thought it was all arranged that the Princess Clementine, mother of Prince Ferdinand, would go to Sofia, where a brilliant court would be established.

HELP FROM OVER THE SEA

BRITISH MEN-OF-WAR WILL PROBABLY PATROL THE COAST.

A Meeting of the Privy Council—To Enquire into the Working of the Inter-State Commerce Act—The Inspection of Colonization Companies.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—In conversation to-day with reference to the statement that H.M. ships Canada and Tourmaline would not visit Montreal because they had been ordered to proceed to the fishing grounds and assist the Canadian cruisers in the protection service, a prominent official of the Fisheries Department stated that he believed the statement was correct, as the Department was some time ago furnished with a copy of the instructions issued by the Admiralty Office to the Admiral of the North American Squadron with reference to her Majesty's ships on the station co-operating with the Canadian cruisers in protecting the fisheries. The Department has no means of knowing what action had been taken by the admiral on the instructions received by him, but it was considered most probable that the statement now made was correct.

This is just the beginning of the season when the American fishermen, after going home in August, return to the fishing grounds, and the department has already been advised of the return of some of them. The number this year will probably be smaller than usual, as many were discouraged at their want of success this year, and announced when going home that they did not intend to return for the fall fishing. But still there will be a considerable fleet, and the addition of two Imperial vessels to the protective service will be very acceptable.

Affairs in Anticosti.

Mr. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, has just returned from a trip to the Island of Anticosti. He says there are about 320 people now resident on the island and that Mr. Stockwell, the owner, intends to put up a fine house next year, to reside there. A number of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, fishermen and curers have settled there this year. Their intention is to go into the fish curing business on a large scale.

In Search of Information.

Messrs. E. R. Bespoe and G. W. Moberley, members of the Railway Commission, left to-day for Chicago, St. Louis and other Western cities. Their object is to enquire into the working of the Inter-State Commerce Act and the various railway commissions appointed by different States. They will be absent about a fortnight.

The Mattawamakey Short Line.

The section of the short line railway between the international boundary and Mattawamakey is being pushed forward as vigorously as possible. Some little difficulty has been experienced by contractors in securing a sufficiently large number of navvies, but notwithstanding this the hope is held out that the grading will be completed this fall.

The Murderers of McLeish.

The extradition papers in the cases of Moses Rozette and J. Goddy, arrested in Montana charged with the murder of McLeish near Quappelle, have not made any further progress. The Department of Justice have sent their agent at Regina, Mr. D. L. Scott, Q.C., to Helena to secure a commitment, after which the writ of extradition will be executed and the prisoners brought to the Northwest Territories for trial.

Ottawa County Nomination.

The nomination for Ottawa County took place in Hull to-day, Mr. Cormier, Conservative, and Mr. Rochon, Liberal, being nominated. A meeting was organized after the nomination, which lasted nearly six hours and was addressed by Hon. Messrs. Lynch, Taillon and others for Cormier, and Hon. Messrs. Gagnon, Mosbane and others for Rochon. Hon. Mr. Mercier was expected and a deputation, headed by a brass band, went to the midday train to receive him, but he did not come and wired an excuse that he could not leave the Capital because a lieutenant-governor had not been appointed.

Meeting of Privy Council.

A meeting of Council was held this afternoon at which Sir Hector Langevin presided, and Hon. Messrs. Carling, Foster, Pope and Costigan were present. It is understood that Sir Andrew Stuart, Chief Justice of Quebec, has been appointed Administrator of the province during the absence of Lieutenant-Governor Masson, and that he will be sworn in before His Excellency to-morrow on the latter's return to Quebec, for which place Mr. J. J. McGee, Clerk of the Privy Council, left this afternoon.

A gentleman from Mattawa states that the gold mine business of that locality is by no means a myth, as was reported lately. He states that a Mr. Childs, representative of a millionaire English company, has been up there for the last few weeks investigating the work of the find, and has offered to buy out one claim of a local company for $1,000,000. The mine upon which he made the offer is situated upon the Quebec side of the Ottawa River, immediately opposite the Village of Mattawa. Mr. Childs left for England a few days ago, taking with him a few hundred pounds of the quartz for inspection by the company of which he is a representative.

A TRAMP'S FRIGHTFUL MISHAP.

Probably Fatally Injured at York Station by a Shunting Engine.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.

Two tramps, considerably under the influence of liquor, got on the blind end of the postoffice car of the Grand Trunk express which left Union Station at 8 o'clock last night for Montreal. While the train was slacking up at York Station they jumped off on the south side, intending to walk between the rows of freight cars which are always sidetracked there to the east end of the yard, and thus evade the vigilant eye of Constable Cox, the company's policeman at York, who always keeps a lookout for free passengers on the steps of express trains. It was very dark and one of the men could not see his way through the yard. He was walking on one of the tracks, and before he had gone far was knocked down by a shunting engine. The unfortunate fellow was frightfully mangled and bruised. Dr. Britton was called and did what he could for him. Constable Cox found his companion and locked him up on a charge of drunkenness and trespass. The injured man was brought to the Toronto Hospital by the officer on the Midland train.

At 2 o'clock this morning he was alive, but his recovery is said to be impossible. He was conscious enough at one time to say that he is Roser Colter, aged about 35, late of Buffalo but now of Rochester. He only has one arm, and he seems to be a kind of podlar.

A SOCIAL EVENT IN HAMILTON.

Marriage of Rev. Charles J. James to Miss Edith Stuart Birkett.

HAMILTON, Sept. 7.—An interesting social event occurred this morning at Christ Church Cathedral, being the marriage of Rev. Charles J. James, formerly curate of the Church of the Ascension and now rector of St. James' Church, St. John, N.B., and Miss Edith Stuart Birkett, youngest daughter of Mr. Wm. Birkett, Secretary of the Dundas cotton mills. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hartley Carmichael, assisted by Rev. W. H. Clark of Ancaster. The groomsmen were Rev. Thomas O'Mara and Mr. William Miller, Toronto. The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Birkett and Miss Carrie Birkett. There was a large crowd at the church. The presents to the bride were elegant and costly, and included a handsome silver tea service from the congregation of the Church of the Ascension. The bride was also the recipient of several congratulatory cablegrams from friends of the family residing in England. Mr. and Mrs. James left by the 1.55 train this afternoon for New York and Boston.

JOSEPH PRIESTMAN'S WILL.

The Dead Man Estimates that He was Worth $32,000—His Last Wishes.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.

The will of Mr. Joseph Priestman of Parkdale, whose tragic death on Aug. 26 excited great interest, was made only eight days previously. It was admitted for probate yesterday. The value of the real and personal estate is put down at $32,000. His property is as follows: Homestead at Parkdale, valued at $9000; household goods and furniture, $700; money secured by life insurance, $19,300.

The property is left to his wife and daughters, with a reservation of rights and privileges to his adopted daughter so long as she remains unmarried. Also to the latter $1000 on policy in Dominion Safety Fund Company of New Brunswick, and benefit money on three policies in the North-western Masonic Aid Association of Chicago to the extent of $2125. To his wife and daughters is left their share in these policies to the extent of $2875, also $4000 under the Dominion Company's policies, and $4000 on three policies in the Canada Life Assurance Company. To his daughter Florence he leaves the pianoforte, and the remainder of his effects to the other members of the family.

There are a number of special bequests: To his two brothers between them, $1000; to his sister, Mrs. Kay, $500; Mrs. Pettman $100; to an afflicted friend, W. E. Farr, $100; to Ernest Page, the "baby boy" of his neighbor, James Page, $50.

The will then proceeds:

To the following named individuals I give the amount of their indebtedness to me and direct my executors to return their promissory notes, duly cancelled, to their respective addresses, as follows: Wm. H. Carter, Grand Forks, Dakota; Isaac S. Haney, Rock Valley, Iowa; S. G. Anderson, Wilcox, N.Y.; Rina Cook, St. John's West, Que.; Matthew P. Haney, (estate), Dunnville, Ont.; Wilson A. Schooley, Rumbertoue, Que.; Henry B. Zavits, Forks Road, Ont. It must be added, however, as to these debtors, I still hope to receive payment in persons, though having decided not to prosecute, owing to apparent straitened circumstances of the parties.

The closing paragraph of the will is as follows:

With regard to funeral rites, the ritual of Freemasonry is preferred, and that alone, my obsequies in any case to be without ostentation, and no mourning badges or costumes being used, not even by my own household. As to place of interment I have no instructions, but would request as to time that it be not hurried, relatives and friends being quite widely scattered, and the ordinary embalming process rendering undue haste quite unnecessary.

AN EXPLOSION OF NAPHTHA.

Four Lives Lost and a Schooner Burned to the Water's Edge.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 7.—About 10 o'clock this morning a schooner loaded with naptha was lying near the wharf opposite Cunningham's oil storehouse. Four men were on deck and one below. Suddenly there was a tremendous explosion and a man on the bridge saw the deck of the vessel rise into the air. In the midst of flame and smoke were the bodies of four men. They were hurled high above the schooner and fell back into the flames that filled the boat. The fifth man jumped overboard and was drowned. The flames quickly spread to Cunningham's storehouse, which was soon destroyed. Meanwhile the burning hulk drifted around against the drawbridge and burned away the draw. The storehouse was filled with oil.

A HORRIBLE OCCURRENCE.

A Buffalo Man Fatally Wounds His Wife With an Axe.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—Alvin Proell delivered himself to the police this morning, stating he had killed his wife with an axe. When the officers arrived at Proell's house a horrible sight presented itself. On the bed lay Mrs. Proell in a pool of blood with her head split open and the brains oozing out. There were three cuts on the right side. One was made with the sharp side of an axe and was quite deep, while the other two were made with the blunt side of the same instrument. Near the bed lay the axe with which the deed was done. At noon to-day Mrs Proell, who was at the General Hospital, was still alive. She has not lived happily with her husband for years, and both were jealous of each other.

THE CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY.

A Meeting of Prelates in Baltimore Discusses the Scheme.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 7.—A number of Catholic prelates, including Archbishop Corrigan of New York, met here to-day to discuss the plans for the Catholic University. Cardinal Gibbons presided. A discussion arose on the location of the university, and while Washington is preferred by some, Philadelphia was named and some point in the west was thought by others most desirable in view of the growth of the country in that direction. It is said $6,000,000 will be required to build and place the university on a solid basis. About $700,000 has been secured. The theological department will be the first opened and that will be under the charge of the Order of St. Sulpice.

A WINDY DAY AT THE FAIR

THE BREEZE INTERFERES SOMEWHAT WITH THE AMUSEMENTS.

The Attendance up to Other Years—A Day Among the Athletes—Speeding in the Ring—His Excellency One of the Visitors—Visitors From the Fair.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.

The wind swept through Exhibition Park during the whole of yesterday, at times almost reaching a gale. She blew in straight from old Lake Ontario and was mean enough to interfere in a measure with the sports of the day. For instance the barrel man could not balance his barrel on his toes, as is his wont and is the delight of the Grand Stand, because the blow was against his unique act. All the rest of the performers, however, appeared.

The painted city of Pekin was rattled in lively style by the breeze, but this colossal town of the flowery east withstood the puffs from the lake with defiance, and there she stood in all her magnificence.

The attendance yesterday was encouraging considering that it is what has been in other years the opening day. Strangers have not yet begun to arrive in large numbers, but for the balance of the fair the turnstiles are expected to give a good account of themselves. To-morrow and Saturday, with good weather, will be big days as to attendance.

The Board of Directors held a meeting yesterday and the finale that the "illumination" of King and Yonge streets proved to be was roundly denounced. The board washed their hands of the whole business, canceled the contract with Mr. Payne, and all the people who paid in money will have it returned.

His Excellency the Governor-General made the rounds of the fair, but devoted the most of his time to the horses and cattle, which are arriving in considerable numbers.

The band of the Royal Grenadiers furnished the music.

The Athletes' Day.

The event of the day was the games under the auspices of the Toronto Athletic Club. The prizes were gold medals to the winners and silver medals to the second men, the gift of the Industrial Exhibition Association. In the team race the first man gets a gold medal and the winners of the winning team silver medals.

The wind blew so hard that the hurdle race had to be cancelled. Besides the track was so "tough" that the bicyclers had a hard time of it and made poor time. However, with those drawbacks the games were fairly interesting, but the program was too long. There was altogether too much pork for a shilling and the occupants of the Grand Stand were given a surfeit for their money. This is a failing with all amateur sportsmen. They put too much on their cards.

Speeding in the Ring.

The only event of speed in the horse ring was the Farmers' Premium for driving horses, the property of exhibitors solely engaged in farming. The association added $50 to a sweepstake of $5 each, the first money 75 per cent. and the second 25. The distance was twice round the ring, 2 in 5, to 250 lb. wagons. Summary:

HEAVY LOSS AT NEWBURGH.

The Business Portion of the Town Destroyed by Fire.

NAPANEE, Sept. 7.—Dr. Duff's residence, over Granger's drug store at Newburgh, was discovered to be on fire about 9 o'clock this morning. The wind blew a gale from the west and before the fire could be checked the business portion of the village was destroyed. The Napanee steam fire engine and brigade were sent out by train and succeeded in saving a large amount of property.

The following were burned out: Main-street, west side: Thomas Johnson, dry goods; W. Grange, druggist; Davis, house and shoe shop; Dr. Duff, residence; J. D. Ilow, residence; Lanfear, harness shop; Welbanks, tin shop and telegraph office; A. Catons, residence and drug store. East side of street: Rook, watchmaker; Burdett's Buildings, occupied by J. Wells, harness shop; Mechanics' Institute and club rooms; C. Thompson, dwelling; Mr. Martin's residence; Hooper and Paul's general store, D. Hope's residence and postoffice, Hope's hotel, Rakin's house and cabinet factory, Burdett's carriage factory, N. T. & Q. R. R. station and freight shed, also Rathburn's lumber yard and about thirty residences. The amount of insurance is not known. J. Wells was seriously injured and may not recover.

HE CONFESSED HIS CRIME.

The Story of a Deed Committed in Bothwell Twenty-Three Years Ago.

From The Chatham Planet.

A peculiar case has come the way of the Chatham, Ont., police authorities. In 1864, the time of the Bothwell oil excitement, Nelson Ross was invited by his brother to go to the village of Bothwell to assist him in the boot and shoe business. Excitement being high prospects for business were good, and he went. Soon, however, the boom died away, and many a man was left high and dry with only a sand hill to realise upon. Napoleon Ross, Nelson's brother, was one of those who felt the change, but he did not despair. The frame building in which his stock was, and probably his stock too, was insured. One day his brother said to him, pointing significantly to a pile of rubbish under the stairway, "something might happen shortly. You see that my wife and family are saved." Nothing more was said, but Nelson guessed that arson was meant. A night or two after the building was burned down. He looked after the women and children, and got $188 as his share of the insurance money. He knew nothing of the whole transaction, as his brother was manager and owner of the business. They all left; subsequently his brother died, and now, after twenty-three years, Nelson comes to Chatham to unburden his mind of his share in the crime by confessing. He tells his story to a friend in Chatham, who tells the Chief of Police. He is arrested and on Saturday morning in the Police Court pleads guilty before the Magistrate, making his statement as above. Not the least strange part of the story is the reason for his peculiar confession. He had been converted recently and joined the M. E. Church. He has a brother an atheist, and he felt it his duty to confess his crime and show to the world the genuineness of his faith. It is his intention, after suffering the penalty of his crime, to return to New York State. Efforts have been made to discover ulterior testimony of the facts related by Ross. But evidence of the fire, or insurance company issuing the policy and paying the loss, is not forthcoming. The magistrate is of the opinion that he cannot convict on the simple confession of the prisoner, who is now in jail. The probability is that he will go free, and his conscience will be satisfied at the same time.

THE STORY OF A LOST RING.

What Prof. Baker of Toronto Found in Lake Muskoka.

A year ago J. Greig Johnson of Rochester was fishing in Lake Muskoka. Leaning over the side of the skiff a gold ring on a finger of his left hand dropped off and fell into the lake. The other day Mr. Johnson received the following letter which, while speaking for itself reveals a concurrence of events which border on the marvelous:

PORT CARLING, Muskoka, Aug. 24, 1887.

J. Greig Johnson, Esq., Rochester N. Y.:

DEAR SIR—Last Sunday morning, being out for a row, I happened to land on a small island owned by a friend of mine—Capt. Manley. I walked over the place and, before getting into my boat, went to the west end of the island. By the merest chance my eye fell on a bright object near the shore; it lay in about six inches of water, about two feet from the shore. Picking it up I found it was a ring with your name engraved inside and the legend "Prima mutus what death cannot separate." I shall be very happy to forward it to you if you send me your accurate address; also any other characteristic of the ring, as there might be two J. Greig Johnsons in Rochester. I am sure the article will have lost none of its interest from having been for a year in Lake Muskoka. ALFRED BAKER.

P.S.—My address will, for a week from date, be at Port Carling; afterwards University College, Toronto.

The Daily Examiner.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1887.

A DAY or two since the EXAMINER pointed out incidentally, the gigantic importance of our maritime fisheries, involving a sum of twenty million dollers per year. One would think that a Canadian trade of such magnitude in some slight way affected and interested Canada. It does not seem so, however. While a fishery commission is being arranged, Canadian ministers are sky-larking and holidaying over the country, at the people's expense—making the people pay the expense which enables ministers to pleasantly neglect their duty and the public interest—burning the candle at both ends with a vengeance. Here our ministers are absent on their holidays, blissfully ignorant of what is going on in reference to a matter which tends to momentously affect one of our most momentous interests. Our quarrel is not, however, with our ministers or with the personel of the commission, so much as with the studied ignoring of Canada in the matter. This would be less unfortunate if Canadians were in a position to trust the British authorities implicitly, with the adjustment of matters affecting Canadian interests. But this, unfortunately, they are unable to do. The history of the past bids us beware of the outcropping of the same spirit of indifference to colonial interests, as that which has characterized settlements of international questions affecting this country. Who would say, judging by the peculiarity of the boundary line, as now constituted, that, in agreeing to the settlement of the Maine boundary which he did do, Lord Ashburton had a just conception of, or a just regard for Canadian territorial interests? The same disregard of our rights placed the international boundary from Sault Ste. Marie westward, two degrees or about 140 miles, further north than it should be. If this question had been settled by men who knew something about Canada, what is now the states of Minnesota and other western states, would have been a part of Canadian territory to-day. These blunders of British diplomats may not have been intentionally made, but they show the incompetence of men, ignorant of the local conditions, to arrive at a just appreciation of local rights. Canada has the chief interest in the questions to be settled by the recently appointed commission, yet she is not even consulted and her representative, when named, will be only one among five, and whatever he may advance will receive little attention if it conflicts with the interests of the United States commissioners or with the strained conciliatory spirit which will animate the Imperial arbitrators. In a matter where Canada's interest is paramount, her representative is compelled "to take a back seat". Only Canadians may think that the United States has no rights in our fisheries except what she enjoyed under the treaty of 1818, in addition to whatever Canada may choose to concede her, but it is a fact, and a settlement on any other basis will be both unjust and displeasing to the people of Canada. The Dominion government should be heard from; and public opinion will uphold them in speaking emphatically upon the subject of the settlement of the Fisheries question.

THE Tory government which complain that the sugar refiners have not sufficient protection, cannot say the same of the cotton lords. Their business pays them pretty well. The Montreal cotton company has just declared a dividend of two per cent., the third dividend declared since February. This amounts to a handsome yearly profit. The Hochelaga cotton company makes a quarterly profit of 2½ per. cent, and a yearly profit of ten per cent. This is not bad for these dull times. Dull time are nothing, however, to the cotton lords. When the profits threaten to be diminished they have the matter in their own hands. They either form a ring and put up the price or they shut down, throwing their hands out of employment. This produces a shortage in cotton and up go the prices. And the government, which is popularly supposed to exist for the public good, helps a ring of monopolists to make gigantic profits out of the people. The government shuts out English and American cotton and puts the people at the mercy of the Canadian cotton lords.

EXPERIMENTAL tests made at Montreal show that Scotch sugar, which retails at 3½ cents in Glasgow, has more sweetening power than Redpath's, for which the Canadian consumer pays 8 cents or 8½ cents.

Gossip of the Turf.

Mr. A. Shields purchased from W. H. Timmons at Niagara Falls race track the brown gelding Rutland, 4 years, by Virgil, dam Finance.

The Buffalo Jockey Club have decided to give a five days' running meeting, commencing Tuesday, Sept. 13.

A special trotting race has been arranged between the stallion Patron and Clingstone, record 2.16, owned by W. J. Gordon of Cleveland. It will be trotted at the fall meeting of the Cleveland Driving Park, Sept. 15, and will be for a purse of $5000, offered by the association.

W. W. Bair, on behalf of the owner, offers to match his horse Johnson to wagon for $1000 to $10,000, over any national track in the United States, against any pacer or trotter in the country to harness, barring Maud S. and Jay Eye See, and would be very glad to go against either or both of the latter on equal terms (either to harness or wagon) for a purse, cup or fun.

Jay Eye See and Patron are matched to trot at Washington Park, Chicago, for $3000 a side. The race will take place Sept. 27 or Oct. 2.

To Elevate Racing.

To guard against the injury which might be caused the turf by the excessive growth of small race tracks, the Executive Committee of the Coney Island Jockey Club on Monday passed the following rule, which was concurred in by the Brooklyn Jockey Club, and will also probably be endorsed by the American Jockey Club:

1. No horse shall be eligible to be entered which shall have started for a race on any race course situated in King's, Queen's, New York or Richmond County of less than a mile, or when the value of the purse or prize to go to the winner shall be less than $500.

2. The owner, trainer and jockey of such horse shall be respectively disqualified from all privileges of these associations to which he or they would be otherwise entitled, such as making entries, training and stabling horses on the grounds and riding in races thereon.

3. This rule shall not apply in regard to races at agricultural fairs or of recognized hunt clubs.

Ayoub Khan on the Afghan Frontier.

TEHERAN, Sept. 7.—Ayoub Khan reached the frontier of Afghanistan some days ago. He entered the country, but was recognised and immediately driven back into Persia. He is now in the Ghayn district. It is expected he will be recaptured shortly.

The Nursing of a Deadly Design.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—The newspapers a agree that the mobilising experiment is a success. They say that if France had been in such a condition for war in 1870 as she is now Germany would have found her match.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

THE MEDICAL CONGRESS.

The Proceedings of the International Gathering at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—President Davis called the International Medical Congress to order at 11 o'clock this morning, and introduced Dr. Austin Flint, LL.D., of New York, who proceeded to read his paper on fever, its causes, mechanism and rational treatment. His paper was largely of a technical character, and was listened to with profound interest by the large audience of doctors present. Briefly summarized, he said that fevers, especially those limited to the class of acute diseases, are self-limited in their duration, and are due each one to a special cause, a micro organism, the operation of which ceases after the lapse of a certain time. We are as yet unable to destroy directly the zoetidic organisms which give rise to continued fevers, and we must be content for the present to moderate their action and to sustain the powers of resistance of patients.

Papers by Canadians.

Dr. Robinson of Toronto University, president of the section on dermatology and syphilography, gave an excellent address.

Prof. Tremblaine of Montreal read a paper on internal uterine hemorrhage, the result of overdistension of the uterus from hydramnes, and one on the extirpation of the uterus for bleeding myoma.

Dr. Temple of Toronto read a paper on the treatment of the posterior position of the occiput, with special reference to manual rectification.

Dr. Daniel Clark of Toronto read a paper on basal ganglia of the brain as pyæmic centres, and also a paper on the revisions and intermissions of insanity.

President Cleveland held a reception to-night, which was attended by a large number of the visitors.

The conversaziones given in Pension Hall was also well attended, the hall, which was beautifully decorated, being crowded.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Four thousand persons attended the President's reception.

At to-day's session of the International Medical Congress Dr. Geikie of Toronto read a paper on ammonia as it exists in various parts of the Dominion of Canada.

Dr. Buller of Montreal read a paper on antipyrine in opthalmic practice.

In the other sections papers were read by Dr. Bantock, Grailey and Hewitt.

A "Humiliating Experience."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—When the International Medical Congress met this morning Dr. Garnett, chairman of the Executive Committee, said it had been learned that tickets to the banquet for Thursday night had been surreptitiously or improperly obtained by many persons who do not belong to the medical profession, and that the "humiliating experience" at the conversaziones on Monday evening had convinced the committee that more rigid arrangements for the banquet were necessary than had at first been contemplated. It had been determined, therefore, to cancel all outstanding invitations. Invitations to members of the congress would, he said, be issued at the box office of the theatre, where delegates were invited to call. They were requested to wear their badges and when practicable exhibit their membership certificates.

The "humiliating experience" referred to was the presence of people whose appearance was not such as to give a flattering opinion to foreigners of American society customs. By some failure to comprehend the instructions given to those in immediate charge, gamins from the sidewalks and laborers in their working clothes made their way in with those invited to greet and honor the visitors. A few creatures stalked about the great hall wearing straw or slouch hats and smoking cheap cigars, as at a country fair. The unwashed were few in number in comparison with the better bred, but were all the more conspicuous.

GERMANY DESIRES PEACE.

It is Determined That War Shall Not Be Forced by Ambitious Bulgarian Princes.

BERLIN, Sept. 7.—The North German Gazette, in an inspired article on the relations between Germany and Russia, says: "The duty imposed by Germany's policy in the interest of the Empire and its dignity is to maintain peace so long as it is compatible with honor. The starting point of an endeavor in this direction is found only on ground covered by treaties. The circumstance that the otherwise successful peace policy of the German Government has for three summers past been disturbed by Bulgaria and its princes is not calculated to attract the good will of German politicians towards that principality. It accords with the interests of the peace-loving and no less straightforward German nation that Germany should, in the councils of Europe, throw her whole weight into the scale in order to have Europe command peace to ambitious Bulgarian princes and ministers, who are inclined to set the Continent in a blaze. Germany holds firmly to the treaties which have been broken by the princes of Coburg and Battenburg, not for the sake of pleasing other powers, but out of regard for her own signature. For frivolity the peace of Europe was placed at the stake through the Coburg-Orleans enterprise. There is not even the semblance of an excuse for that enterprise, and it is only to be explained on the understanding that the Coburger is the executor of an exclusively Orleanist policy."

The New Afghan Terror.

CABUL, Sept. 6.—It is reported that Ayoub Khan has reached Kushak, where he will meet the fatherly Sierda of the Jamshedis, and solicit the aid of his tribe to overrun Afghanistan.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

"What is McGregor's Speedy Cure for"?

It is for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Biliousness, and it is the finest blood purifier in the known world to-day.

"Does it give satisfaction ?"

We cannot point to one instance where it did not.

"Where does it have the largest sale?"

Right in the city of Hamilton, where it is manufactured, there has been over one thousand dollars' worth sold in the last year retail, and the great majority of the sales are by one recommending it to another. For sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by John McKee, Druggist eodw35

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Borton, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medecine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid results—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. Sold at 25c. a bottle by John McKee, Druggist. eodw35

A Radical Change.

"I had got so bad with dyspepsia that I hardly cared whether I lived or not," says Frank A. Swain, of the Toronto Globe Office. Three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him, and he says, "it now seems a pleasure to live." 2w36d

We have received orders from Ottawa and other places to replace other boilers with ours. This speaks for itself. McAndrew & Noble are prepared to back their own boilers against these or any other maker either in or out of Peterborough, and if not superior in every respect they will be removed without one cent of expense. We claim, and it has been acknowledged, that we have the best boiler for heating purposes in the world to-day; all we want is a fair test.

Keeping up With the Procession.

The Peterborough exhibitions deserve the success they have met with, and in fact they can not well result otherwise than successfully with so judicious an expenditure of printer's ink."

Several young men appeared before Police Magistrate Dumble, this morning, to answer to a charge preferred against them by Collector Cummings, for non-payment of statute labor tax. Collector Cummings has a big batch of delinquents on his books, whom he intends to bring to time.

Rev. Wm. McWilliams, L.L.B., has received a call from the congregation of the Mill street Presbyterian church, Port Hope. Messrs. The Guide says:—"Should Mr. McWilliams accept the call, it will afford matter of congratulation to the Mill Street church that they have secured the services of a minister of such fine abilities, ripe scholarship, large experience and high Christian character."

Mr. McNaughton's Rejoinder.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

In looking over Mr. Moore's letter in last night's EXAMINER I find that Mr. Moore accuses me of shirking the vote on his amendment. Now I wish to say, Mr. Editor, that such is not the case. After the committee rose I went down to the Clerk's office for a drink of water, and on my return Mr. Moore insisted that I should record my vote, which is entirely against the rules of the council, and was so ruled by the Mayor.

If Mr. Moore had a little more brains he would study up the rules of order. I do not pretend to have the education of my colleague, Mr. Moore, not having the advantage of being born in a country of free schools where such gentlemen as Mr. Moore are almost educated at the expense of the public, who, I understand, walked in from the country in the morning to school and returned at night, not even giving the town the benefit of his board. I will be able in a few days, say the 19th, to show Mr. Moore that his amendment was entirely in favor of the rich man and not the poor or working class, of which Mr. Moore pretended to be the champion (?) on that occasion, as, if he looks at the collector's roll, he will find that the bulk of the working men's taxes are paid before the 1st of December.

JOHN MCNAUGHTON.

Who Is He?

An Unfilial Son.—Earning a Good Salary, yet Allows his Aged and Invalid Father to Subsist on Charity, and his Wife on $5 a Year.

The following is from the report of the Port Hope council meeting. It is hardly possible that the young man referred to is in Peterborough, but if he is he should be brought to a sense of his duty:—

On motion, the sum of $35 was appropriated to settle the indebtedness incurred by the Benevolent Society in the maintenance of Mr. A. Campbell, and at the request of Mrs. Wm. Hall, she was allowed to pay back taxes due the town, by boarding Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Skitch asked if the law would not compell young Mr. Campbell, who is earning $3 per day, to support his aged father.

The Mayor said that no law other than the moral law would compel him, unless public opinion and his sense of shame would prompt him to his filial duty. The case is hopeless.

Mr. Ross said that Mr. Campbell was sent down to the counties jail because he had no home or means of support, and his term having expired in May, the jail authorities brought him and left him in front of the Town Hall. Rather than have him again sent down to jail, the Finance Committee had him taken care of in town for the summer at least, and now Mrs. Wm. Hall, who has been boarding him offers to take care of him if her back taxes are allowed to go in payment. Before the old gentleman was sent down application was made to young Campbell for something towards his father's support but was refused.

Mr. McMullen said that young A. Campbell is now living in Peterborough, earning $3 per day and that he has only given $5 during the past year towards the support of his wife and children who reside in town with her father, and refuses to contribute at all to his father's maintenance.

The Mayor suggested that the Peterborough papers should be authorized to advertise for information of Arch. Campbell, whose father is living in a destitute condition, and possibly at the point of death.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.
Abbey's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company will exhibit in the Opera House here next Tuesday evening, Sept. 13th. A Rutland, Vermont, paper, of August 26th, says:—"A large audience assembled at the Opera House last evening to witness "Uncle Tom's Cabin" by Abbey's double company. The old but ever popular play was never better presented in Rutland than it was last night by this most excellent troupe. The new attractions and scenes that have been introduced by Mr. Abbey to the famous drama have added materially to its effect upon the stage and to its force and character as a reminder of slavery in former times. The Hyer sister's singing and their personification of the Topsys in the tragic representations was simply wonderful as the latter being a whole entertainment in themselves, The different scenes—consisting of the sale of slaves, the death of Eva, and of her father and Uncle Tom—were certainly the most thrilling and natural presentation of events thirty years ago that it has been our lot to see. In short, every character was admirably taken, and the orchestral music was all that could be desired. Those who failed in seeing Abbey's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" last night lost a treat seldom enjoyed, and all who paid their money to see it came away more than satisfied.

A Creditable Journalistic Enterprise.
On Saturday the St Thomas Evening Journal issued a splendid special edition, consisting of sixteen 7-column pages It is intended as a boom for the city, and if the theory is accepted that its newspapers are a type of the city which supports them, then St. Thomas, judging by the number of the Journal to hand, is a live, thrifty, growing and promising city. This inference is borne out by the elaborate and exhaustive description of the city, its natural railway and manufacturing advantages, set forth in the above mentioned edition. The Evening Journal has completed its sixth year of daily publication and on the head of this does an entire new dress. It presents an exceedingly neat and artistic typographical appearance, such as would do credit to a metropolitan newspaper. The EXAMINER has much pleasure in congratulating the Journal upon its thrift push and success, and also congratulates the city on the possession of a live, wide-awake newspapers whose loyalty to the city's interest deserve, and will doubtless receive, liberal, practical recognition.

Bigamistic Bridals.

A Brace of Double-Barrelled Bigamists.—A Husband and Wife Team with Life-Time Mates, Respectively.—Pair Skedaddle with Superfluous Fore-Better and Companion.—Recaptured at Lakefield.—Lady Tours Lone Night.

Mr. Harry Prax, an Englishman with a wife and three little pledges of connubial love, who has for some time been cook at the Oriental Hotel, is the second to fall a victim to the charms of a pretty waiter girl, Maggie Revia, who stood behind the chairs and ministered to the wants of the guests and habitues of the dining room of the Oriental. Some two or three years ago, Mr. W. VanAllan, who performed the duties of office clerk at the same hostelrie, became smitten with Miss Maggie's attractions so badly that he secured—or fancied at the time that he secured—a monopoly of the maiden's person and affections by marrying her.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs VanAllen accompained Mrs. J. E. McIntyre to Plum Hollow, Minnesota, where they secured employment till December. Van Allen then went to Chicago while near Hastings. Van Allen getting out of employment was unable to provide his wife with the means of living, which by no means suited her ambition and mode of life. Leaving at her home an infant born to her first husband, fourteen months old, with her father, the false wife, desiring not to be a burden on her parents, or desiring a wider field for amatory conquest, came to Peterborough and sought and again gained employment in her old capacity at the Oriental hotel. Mr. Prax, the cook was

and apparently fell an easy victim; either this, or wooed so successfully that she became his victim. However that may be, both evidently were agreed in thinking that they could not have too much of a good thing—that if one wife and one husband were good, two each were better, and they decided to take the step that would provide them respectively with husband and wife in duplicate. Recently, it is asserted, they went to Lakefield where they were married, or at least went through the marriage ceremony, for as both parties were at the moment married they, of course, could not enter into a second set of benedictine bonds. Last night the pair went to Port Hope en route to the land of lax marriage relations, but it is not probable they reached their alleged intended destination, for the wind was so high that the steamer Norseman would not venture from port. Before their departure some of the friends of the lady endeavoured to frighten her from leaving in company with her duplicate husband, but she was loyal to her newest love and persisted in her infatuation. There is on the girl's part, at least. Her real husband is still in Chicago, for only last Monday a letter from him arrived for his faithless wife. She and VanAllan were legally married at St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, on July 16th, 1885, by Rev. Father Guay, French priest. Mrs McIntyre, taking an interest in the deluded woman, this morning drove to Lakefield to verify the assertion of the second presumed marriage. She discovered that, on August 29th.

MR. J. C. SHERIN ISSUED A LICENSE

for the marriage of Henry Prax and Maggie Revia (or, properly, Maggie VanAllan), and it is supposed that they were married the same day, though the Methodist minister at Lakefield, who admits having performed the ceremony of marriage, declined to give the date. Prax is known in Toronto, and those who know him assert that he has a wife and three children. It is not often that a double bigamy similar to this is committed. It is difficult to understand why two persons who have not apparently proven marriage to be a brilliant success, should agree to jointly commit a serious crime to run a similar risk. The poor girl may have secured an excellent cook, for such he was, but in a short time she will find that her cake is dough.

The Corby Cup.
The Corby Challenge Cup, presented for competition in a five-mile bicycle race, has been brought to Peterborough, Mr. W. R. Greatrix winning it for the third and last time yesterday. The race was run at Belleville, Cooper and Lingham, of that place, competing against Greatrix. The Peterborough representative took the lead from the start and finished a quarter of a mile ahead of Lingham, Cooper dropping out before the race was finished. Greatrix lapped Cooper on the seventh round. A high wind was blowing, which interfered greatly with the contestants. The time was slow, 'a little better than 19 minutes. The cup, which is now the permanent property of Mr. Greatrix, will be placed on exhibition in the show window of the Golden Lion.

A TORY journal, referring to Commercial Union, ingenuously advises the Canadian people not to be in a hurry in closing out the mother country "entirely from our markets." "Entirely"; exactly. The Tory party has almost closed the mother country out of Canadian markets, and even boasts, if that exclusion endangers British connection, —"so much the worse for British connection". The Tory papers would oppose reciprocity with England as much as with the United States. It would mean the death of monopolists as one result, and that would mean a cessation of contributions to the government's corruption fund.

The Masonic New Hall.
The New Masonic Hall in the Dunford block will, when completed, equal anything of the kind in this portion of Ontario. The rooms, of ample size, are most conveniently arranged. There are a dining room and kitchen, sitting room, wash room, three ante rooms, the "Blue" room, 50 x 24 feet and the "Red" room, 40 x 22 feet, in which the Scarlet Chapter and other higher orders meet. The two latter rooms are connected by folding doors. The whole place is well supplied with daylight, and will be nearly equally brilliant at night by gaslight. The suite of rooms occupies the whole of the third flat of the block. Mr. D. Bellingham has been given the order for the furniture and Mr. James Alexander will furnish the carpets, which will be of superb quality and masonic design. The ceiling ornamentation will be magnificent, representing the heavens. A background of pale blue paper will effect to advantage miniature heavenly bodies, stars, comets, etc., in gold. Then the walls will be calcimined a terra cotta color, and the space between the woodwork and cornice also terra cotta. The woodwork will be painted white throughout. The large canopy over the master's chair at the south end will be a telling accessory to the general beauty of the apartments. It is expected the new hall will be opened about the second week of October, when the ceremony of dedication will be performed by grand officers in the afternoon, followed by a conversazione in the evening. At a meeting of the general committee last evening, sub-committees were appointed to prepare for the opening.

Otonabee Bush Fires.
Mr. E. E. Bowie, dealer in agricultural implements returned, to town this morning from Otonabee, and reports the prevalence of destructive bush fires near Zion's Corners. The fire is said to have started on the farm of Mr. John Haslett and spread from there to the farm of Mr. Charles Kindred, therefrom to near Zion's Corners. A large amount of bush was burned over and a good deal of fencing. Even the dry manure heaps in the fields were burned. Mrs. Swan's barns were seriously in danger, her barn yard and stacks having taken fire several times, but by the help of about twenty neighbours who gathered, they were saved. So threatening was the danger that it was at one time feared that the English Church and the Methodist Church at the Corners would be burned as well as the houses. The furniture was removed from the latter and piled in the highway. The horses of Mr. Walter Renwick attached to a Democrat wagon, took fright at a heap of furniture and upset the vehicle throwing out Mr. Renwick and three ladies, but, fortunately, without injuring any of them. Information received this morning shows that none of the buildings were burned.

Kinmount Pic-nic.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The annual picnic of the congregation of Rev. Father McEvay, Fenelon Falls, was held on Tuesday in Mansfield's grove. There were about four or 500 persons present, the threatening weather rendering the attendance smaller than it otherwise would have been. After a most excellent dinner, addresses were delivered by Mr. J. A. Barron, M.P. North Victoria, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., West Peterborough, Mr. W. Campbell, and Rev. Father McEvay. Mr. Stewart, Crown Lands agent at Haliburton, formerly of the Bobcaygeon Independent, occupied the chair, and introduced the speakers in his characteristic happy manner. The usual sports and games contributed their quota to a most pleasant day.

Lakehurst.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CHURCH OPENING.

The new Methodist Church at Lakehurst (South Harvey) will (D. V.,) be opened on Thursday the 15th instant. The dedicatory service will commence at 10.30 a. m., to be conducted by Rev. I. Tovell of Peterborough. A grand dinner will be served at 1 p. m., after which a platform meetieg will be held, when addresses will be delivered by Revs. I. Tovell, Chairman of District, Rev J. McFarlane, Lakefield A. Wilson, B.A., Bobcaygeon; and Rev. Mr. Fitzpatrick of Harvey. The brass band and choir of Chemong Lake will be in attendance to render choir music. A large crowd and a good time is expected.

Young's Point.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

While fishing at the locks one day last week, a young son of Mr. P. P. Young hooked a bass, and in his efforts to pull it up lost his balance and fell into the locks. Mrs. Godfrey saw the fall and alarmed his father, who was but a short distance away. Mr. Young immediately jumped in and rescued him just in the nick of time.

A NEW MAGISTRATE.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

On Saturday evening a six-year-old son of Mr. R. Anglesey was severely kicked by a colt. A span of horses were being fed in the field, and the little fellow attempted to drive the colt away from the feed, when the colt wheeled and kicked him on the side of the head, cutting the ear almost in two and laying the skull bare. He was at once taken to a doctor and had the wounds dressed.

Anxious to Meet McGarigle.
ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 7.—There are no less than four detectives at present in this city, amongst whom, it is said, is Robert Pinkerton. They appear to be keeping a close watch on the office and residence of Mr. F. St. John, whom they evidently think knows where to find McGarigle.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 7.—At the Iowa State Fair, now being held at Des Moines, Iowa, the Brantford Bow Park herd of short horns has won the first prize of $500 for a grand beef herd. This was in competition against all classes of beef animals.

Customs Seizure of Jewelry.
MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—Customs Officer Ambrose to-day seized a consignment of jewelry and precious stones imported by Henry Pearce from Birmingham, Eng., on the ground of alleged undervaluation. Experts say that the goods have been undervalued to the extent of 50 to 75 per cent. Pearce's agent denies that any undervaluation had been made, which they are prepared to prove. The matter has been referred to the customs authorities at Ottawa for final decision.

CROWDS AT THE FAIR.

SOME IMPORTANT PERSONAGES PAY IT A VISIT YESTERDAY.

The Different Buildings Well Filled with Visitors Throughout the Day—The Sports in the Horse Ring—Sir John Takes in the Show—Siege of Pekin.

TORONTO, Sept. 9.

The furious wind which swept through Exhibition Park on Wednesday was an absent element yesterday. Whatever breeze was stirring was tempered by the genial rays of the sun, and everybody wandered contentedly around the extensive grounds, taking in all the sights which have made the present exhibition so successful. There was a big crowd in attendance but not so big as to prove an annoyance. It was a representative gathering of Ontario's sturdy yeomanry and their equally interested friends from the cities. There was lots to see, and everyone went at the work in hand in a business-like manner, accomplishing the task without great exertion or inconvenience.

The main feature of amusement was found in the horse ring, where various contests of speed were decided during the afternoon. Between heats the dancing barrel man and the female slack wire performer aroused the enthusiasm of the crowds, whilst the gaily uniformed band "tooted" suitable accompaniments. The speed exhibitions were keenly contested, and it was not until a later hour than usual that the last event was disposed of.

The "Siege of Pekin" at night was witnessed by thousands of visitors. It was a grand triumph of pyrotechnic art, bewildering and gorgeous.

Distinguished Visitors at the Fair.

There were a number of distinguished persons upon the grounds during the afternoon. Sir John Macdonald was punctual to the minute, arriving at 2.30 o'clock, the hour set for his arrival. He was accompanied by Mr. Frederic Nicholls and Mr. J. H. Pope, jr., his private secretary. He was received by President Withrow and Directors Gray, Crocker, Lee, Close and Booth. Sir John looked exceedingly well and seemed buoyant in spirits. He had discarded his famous red tie, which was replaced by a maroon-colored one. Under the guidance of the Exhibition officers he visited the Main Building, to which he devoted nearly two hours, and then hurriedly went through the Annex, the Floral Hall, Machinery Hall and the Press Building. He was unable to visit the other departments, which, however, he intends viewing on his return to the city on Tuesday next.

Lord Cecil and his son did the show under the guidance of Mr. E. B. Osler and Mr. T. C. Patteson, the party devoting most of the afternoon to the horse ring. Lord Cecil was greatly pleased with the contests of speed and the animals shown on the ring.

Hon. J. H. Pope, Minister of Railways and Canals, was also an interested sight-seer. He was chaperoned by City Solicitor McWilliams and Capt. J. Herbert Beatty.

Ex-Mayor Wheaton of Detroit went everywhere with ex-Mayor James E. Smith.

Speeding in the Horse Ring.

The majority of the visitors at the fair yesterday afternoon were gathered around the horse ring to witness the contests of speed. The programme opened with the gentleman's road horse class, which had three entries and was won in two straight heats by A. E. Brown's bay gelding Pulp. Mr. S. J. Dixon's black geldings Photographer and Hero carried off the next event, for pair of roadsters, in straight heats. The feature of the afternoon was the stallion race, which brought out six starters, and a better contest was never witnessed on the Exhibition track. Henry Crozier's brown stallion Crown Imperial, from Owen Sound, was the winner, having captured the third, fourth and fifth heats.

Judging of Stallions.

The judging in the horse ring commenced yesterday, and was confined to the roadster, carriage horse, heavy draught (imported) and Canadian heavy draught stallions, for special prizes. The following were the prize winners:

Roadsters—For the best stallion of any age, with five of his progeny, of any sex or age. Booth & Vogan, Orangeville, chesnut stallion Thos. Jefferson, 11 years, by Clear Grit, first; H. Crozier, Owen Sound, brown stallion Crown Imperial, second.

It was the progeny of the winner that went in his favor, and not the horse himself, as Crown Imperial is far the superior.

Carriage Horses—For the best stallion of any age, with five of his progeny, of any sex or age. Orr & McClelland, Halton County, brown stallion Ryshack, first; D. Campbell, Bradford, bay stallion Derby, second.

The winner stands 16 hands with black points and had six of his progeny, all bays.

Heavy Draughts (Imported)—For the best imported heavy draught stallion of any age, with five of his progeny, any sex or age. James Gardhouse, Etobicoke, Ont., bay shire stallion King of the Castle, by Honest Tom, first; Mr. Manfred's brown Clydesdale stallion second.

Heavy Draughts—For the best Canadian draught or Suffolk punch stallion, of any age, with five of his progeny, any sex or age. James J. Davidson, Balsaam, Ont., bay stallion Darling Prince, first.

Mr. Davidson's stallion was the only entry in this class.

The Siege of Pekin.

The great attraction of the evening was a magnificent pyrotechnic display—the Siege of Pekin—the details of which were arranged and carried out under the management of Messrs. Pains & Son of New York and London, England. The mimic Oriental town was represented in all its antique peculiarities, and looked quite attractive with its narrow streets, picturesque old verandas, and hilly beech-wood which appeared to reach to an immense altitude. The whole was erected near the lake shore and in front of the Main Building. On the waters of a miniature pond floated the indispensable gondola, while a busy throng of Orientals passed the programme in the easy, if haphazard, costumes peculiarly their own. A force of Chinese soldiers next appeared on the scene, and a lively guard to the Emperor, who appeared in all his native splendor. After some manœuvring in front of the city, a party of British troops enter (made up of members of the Infantry School, whose services for the occasion Col. Otter sanctioned). The Britishers having proved their superiority in drill over their Oriental brethren-in-arms, a party of French soldiers appeared on the scene (members of the 10th Royals), and to complete the spectacle a band of English men-of-war put in an appearance, just in time to witness a variety of acrobatic feats. The sons of Neptune were attired in regulation garb. Their cutlass drill was very fine, thanks to the careful tutoring they have been receiving at the hands of Mr. Tyler, a staunch old naval "tar." The Army and Navy retire, and a British officer appears with a flag of truce. He presents a despatch to the Emperor, who becomes infuriated, tears the document to pieces, orders the arrest of the officer, and has him confined in a fort. The sailors return to their boats and row off to report the indignity, and the officer jumps from the fortress and takes to the water beside for his ship, which he reaches in safety. The shrill sound of a bugle is heard, followed by firing of guns and general commotion on the part of the natives, who prepare for a resolute defence of their city against the British by whom it is being attacked. An exciting battle rages, in which the British are almost routed, when the French come to their aid. The reinforcement terrifies the Orientals, who flee in confusion, and the capture of the Chinese junks. During the siege French and English soldiers appear on the walls of the city waving the flags of their nationalities. All the science of pyrotechnics was brought into requisition to give the scene a realistic effect. The success which attended the effort needs to be witnessed to be fully appreciated. It was unquestionably one of the best displays of its class ever witnessed in Toronto. During its enactment a choice and appropriate selection of music was performed by the band of the Royal Grenadiers. The siege of Pekin is to be presented next week.

THE BURIED HATCHET.

What Was Found in the Middle of a Sawlog at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—A very peculiar circumstance occurred in the new saw mill of Messrs. Grier & Co. yesterday afternoon. While a log was being put through one of the edgers the man in charge heard the saws strike against some hard obstacle, when he immediately had the gang stopped to find out the cause. The log was drawn back, but before anything could be found it had to be cut into, when it was discovered that near the centre there was embedded an old Indian hatchet which, judging from the quaint shape and the depth it was buried in the log, must have been stuck there quite a number of years ago. The hatchet, though very well preserved, must have been left sticking in the tree while the latter was very small, as it had completely grown over it, leaving no trace whatever.

THE HAVOC OF THE GALE.

Great Loss in Life and Shipping on the Newfoundland Banks.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Sept. 8.—Reports daily arriving from all parts of the country show that the gale of Aug. 26 was one that will long be remembered for the loss of life and the extent of damage sustained from it. At and around the Island of St. Pierre the gale raged with great fury. Several large vessels went ashore on Dog Island and in many cases became total wrecks. One hundred thousand dollars will not cover the extent of damage to property sustained by Newfoundland vessels that were on the banks during the storm. A number of men who were out in dories are missing, and will probably never be heard of. The French banker Acedience lost two of her crew on the banks in this gale. The Joseph Amatie also had two of her crew swept overboard. The French banker Chevrenel reports having passed a large vessel bottom up on the banks. The captain of the barker Ruby M. of Fortune, Nfld., was knocked overboard by a stroke from a cable. Five banking schooners are missing from Bury, five from Grand Bank, and one from Burge. From places so far heard from in Labrador ten schooners were lost, but the crews were all saved. The French schooner Cordelia, fishing on the Grand Banks, with a crew of sixteen men, capsized. It is supposed all were lost. There are no disasters to report from the American fishing fleet.

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL.

A Party of Icelanders, Numbering Three Hundred, on the Way to Canada.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—The Montreal City Passenger Railway Company is understood to have submitted a proposal to the postoffice authorities to transport all uniformed mail carriers within the city and suburbs for a fixed sum per annum, the idea being that this service will not only expedite the delivery of letters, but may enable the department to reduce the number of letter carriers.

The Department of Agriculture has been advised that another party of Icelanders, numbering 300, left Glasgow for Canada on Friday last by the Allan Steamer Grecian.

Bishop Lewis is hopeful that inside of three years a sufficient sum will be raised to warrant the division of the Anglican Diocese of Ontario and the establishment of two dioceses. The sum required is $50,000 and of this he has been promised $2000 by the colonial bishopric fund and $5000 by the Society for the Promotion of Christian Knowledge.

The Citizen has not only got over its recent trouble but is said to have taken a new lease of life. Some $10,000 worth of stock has been taken by local Conservatives, and it will come out next week in a new dress, and other improvements are to follow. It is said that Mr. C. H. Mackintosh will resume active editorial control of the paper.

MR. WIMAN AT PICTON.

Hon. Robert Reed Opposes the Commercial Union Scheme.

PICTON, Sept. 8.—The meeting here to-day to hear Mr. Wiman's address on commercial union was attended by about 1500 residents of the county. A large number of ladies were present. Mr. Wiman arrived about 2 o'clock, and was met at the wharf by Mr. McFaul, Warden of the county, and Mr. W. H. Reynolds, Mayor of the town, and escorted to the rink, where the Warden presented an address on behalf of the County Council, and the Mayor presented an address on behalf of the Town Council. Mr. William Anderson, ex-M.P.P., occupied the chair. Mr. Wiman spoke for three hours and was attentively listened to.

Mr. E. W. Rathbun of Deseronto, Hon. Robt. Reed, of Belleville, Dr. Mallory and others made short speeches.

Hon. Robt. Reed, in his speech, opposed commercial union as opposed to Canadian interests.

Mr. Wiman leaves here at 8 o'clock by steamer for Deseronto to catch the midnight train.

Listowel Cheese Market.

LISTOWEL, Sept. 8.—At the cheese fair held to-day twenty-one factories registered 7255 boxes of August make. The sales were 170 at 12¼c., 3729 at 12½c. and 400 at 12 5-16c.; one lot of 600, balance of season, sold at 12½c. Seven buyers were present, and the market was active. Balance held at from 12¾c. to 13c., which buyers refused to give.

MR. GLADSTONE DECLINES.

HE IS UNABLE TO VISIT AMERICA AT PRESENT.

The Irish Champion's Reply to the Invitation to Attend the Centennial Celebration of the Adoption of the American Constitution.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The letter containing the invitation to Mr. Gladstone to attend the centennial celebration of the adoption of the American constitution at Philadelphia, invited him as the guest of the committee, and he was informed by the gentlemen who conveyed the invitation that it was the only one sent to any person not an American citizen or an accredited diplomat, the exception in his case being intended as an express recognition of the historical ties which bound Great Britain and America before the declaration of independence. He was also assured that he would be allowed to make whatever arrangements he pleased and would be entertained in America as no other man has since the visit of Gen. Lafayette. Mr. Gladstone on July 20 made reply to the letter and assured the committee of the great honor he felt in receiving an invitation to the celebration of the centenary of the American constitution.

His letter continues:

The attractions of the invitation are enhanced to me by the circumstance that I have always regarded that constitution as the most remarkable known to modern times to have been produced by human intellect at a single stroke, so to speak, in its application to political affairs. The invitation is accompanied by every necessary that even American hospitality could devise. Had I a real option in the case I could not but accept, but the limitation of my strength and time and the incessant pressure of engagements make me too well aware that I have none. So far as I can see the whole small residue of activity at my command will be dedicated to the great work at home. I regard the Irish question as the most urgent and most full of promises of beneficial results to my country that I have ever been engaged in.

I ought, perhaps, to add that viewing the jealousies prevalent in England it is doubtful whether they might not be stimulated were I to accept the distinction you offer me, which is not less signal than undeserved. The first of these reasons, however, compels me to decline the most flattering proposal I have ever received. I shall watch with profound interest the proceedings of your celebration, when you will look upon a century of national advancement that is without a parallel in history and look forward to its probable continuance upon a still larger scale. That you and your children may be enabled by the help of the Almighty to worthily meet the accumulation of duties and responsibilities proportioned to ever growing power will be, I am confident, the prayer of your kinsmen here, who hope, nay believe, that the moral relations between the several portions of one race are wisely destined to acquire increasing harmony and closeness.

Your obliged and faithful servant,
W. E. GLADSTONE.

THE LORNE PARK ACCIDENT.

Nothing Heard as Yet of the Two Unfortunate Young Ladies.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.

Mr. Frederic Roper, secretary of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, who has a summer residence at Lorne Park, states that on Wednesday afternoon while he and some friends were walking on the beach between the Park and Mr. Morse's home, which is three-quarters of a mile to the west, they met Miss Parker who was on her way back from the Park for the second time that day in search of her friends. It appears that about ten in the morning the three started for the Park. Miss Lauder being not strong could not walk the distance and Miss McCormick volunteered to row her there and back. As stated yesterday Miss McCormick was a brave and venturesome girl, who would undertake many a thing that other girls would be afraid to do. Although the water was rough and a high wind blowing they started out. Miss Parker preferred to walk. On reaching the Park she waited for the others but they could not even be seen. She returned to Morse's and made another trip in the afternoon.

Mr. Roper states that on Wednesday morning at about 10.30 he was scanning the water through a telescope, and the only boat he could see was the Hastings, which was rolling heavily. The water was so rough that no one at the Park dared to venture on it. The Lorne Park caretaker says he saw a boat on Wednesday morning near the Park, but took it to be that of a fisherman named Reid, who lives next door west of Morse's. Mrs. Lauder, the mother, and Mr. Lauder, the brother of one of the unfortunate young ladies, drove out to the scene of the accident on Wednesday night, arriving at the place about 1 o'clock Thursday morning. They returned to the city after daylight and made arrangements to institute a search for the missing girls.

Considering the strong wind that prevailed Wednesday afternoon and night, there does not appear to be much hope of finding them alive.

Later last night it was learned that an upturned boat was seen by some passengers on their way from Whitby to Toronto yesterday morning. The wind at the time the young ladies went out was blowing in a direction that would carry the boat to this quarter. It would be well if search were made for this boat, as it might be the means of solving the fate of the young women.

Miss Parker arrived in town yesterday. She feels very bad over the accident. Mrs Lauder is much prostrated, indeed she is said to be quite ill from the nervous shock she received in learning the news of her daughter's sad fate. During the day, and before it had been learned that an upturned boat had been seen, Capt. Jackman was consulted about going out with his tug. He was of opinion that a search on his part would be useless, as the wind was so strong it would have carried the boat out in the middle of the lake within a very short time. He communicated with all the captains of the lake boats but from them he could learn nothing. Capt. Nealon of St. Catharines was telegraphed to search along the south shore of the lake.

It was learned last night that two Port Credit fishermen left Lorne Park Wednesday morning but were unable to make the shore and were driven to this city. Their boat was nearly swamped. They express a like opinion as to the probable fate of the young ladies.

NEWBURGH A RUIN.

Nearly Fifty Families Burned Out of House and Home.

KINGSTON, Sept. 8.—It is difficult to ascertain the loss involved by the fire at Newburgh yesterday, but it is certainly irreparable. Nearly fifty families have not where to lay their head. Not a business man escaped the conflagration and but two or three carried any insurance, and then but for small amounts. The village will not be what it was for many a day, if it ever recovers from the accident.

Powderly Will Resign.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—It is stated on reliable authority that Grand Master Workman Powderly of the Knights of Labor will hand in his resignation at the Minneapolis session of the General Assembly. It is said Mr. Powderly is tired of the abuse and calumny which are being heaped upon him.

M'GARIGLE'S WICKED PAL.

ED. M'DONALD ATTEMPTS ESCAPE FROM CHICAGO JAIL.

He Makes His Way from His Cell Until Within Sight of the Street Door and Liberty When an Unsympathetic Detective Shoots Him.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—For a good many days back mysterious whisperings have been floating around the stone walls of the County Jail concerning an affair, the knowledge of which has, until now, been confined to only a few individuals. Ed. McDonald, the partner of McGarigle in boodleism, and who was sentenced along with him, made a daring break for his liberty about two weeks ago which, had it proved successful, would have more than rivaled in its sensational features the celebrated episode of the bath tub and the flight to Canada.

One evening about two weeks ago a friend of the prisoner, a woman, was admitted to see him. This woman had a long coil of rope concealed about her person which she left in the possession of McDonald. The apartment in which he is confined is on the third floor and a ventilator runs from the cell to the roof. Through this aperture McDonald managed to climb till he reached the roof. He then fastened one end of the rope to some projection on the roof and let the other end down.

Once landed in the yard he pursued his way stealthily till he reached the stairs where visitors pass down into the jail. As he came up to the turn of the stairway he ran against one of the guards, but the latter, supposing him to be a visitor who had obtained permission to some there, passed and did not challenge him. Halfway between the stairs and the entrance is another hall leading to another entrance. Through this hall McDonald was proceeding, the street entrance in view and liberty all but within his grasp, when he was confronted by three men. These were a lawyer, a detective and a deputy sheriff. This was the critical moment for McDonald. Had he quietly passed along the probability is no notice would have been taken of him by any one of the party. But he was taken with a timid fit and drew back into the shadow, a movement that at once excited the suspicion of the detective, who promptly seized him by the arm and drew him forward into the light. McDonald in sheer desperation struck the detective a powerful blow on the head with his fist, which sent the latter reeling to the floor, and then made a break for the door. At this moment the deputy sheriff recognised the prisoner and with the help of the lawyer succeeded in overpowering him after a fierce resistance.

Then an alarm was given and the would-be fugitive was secured, but not until he had uttered a shrill whistle, which could be heard for a considerable distance and which was evidently a preconcerted signal for a carriage which was standing in the vicinity of the jail, which suddenly dashed down the street. McDonald was taken back and confined in a common cell where he could be under more careful surveillance. Since then he has been subjected to the full rigor of the discipline of the jail.

The Liar Told His Story Well.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—It is now authoritatively stated that the Chicago story about McDonald's attempt to escape is without foundation.

THE IRISH PRIVY COUNCIL.

O'Brien to be Arrested if he Does not Appear for Trial at Mitchelstown To-day.

DUBLIN, Sept. 8.—A special meeting of the Irish Privy Council was held in Dublin Castle to-day. There were present the Lord Lieutenant, Baron Ashbourne, Justice Fitzgibbon and the Earl of Meath. It is reported that the council decided to have Mr. O'Brien arrested if he does not appear before the court at Mitchellstown to-morrow in answer to the summons served upon him. Also to institute actions against the leaders of the recent meeting at Ennis.

Messrs. Labouchere, Dillon and other members of Parliament will proceed to Mitchelltown to-morrow.

Another Struggle Impending.

The Parnellite whips have issued an urgent summons for a full attendance of members in the Commons on Monday, when the debate begins on the Government's action in proclaiming the Ennis and other meetings. The Conservative members have also been recalled to take part in the debate.

Mr. John O'Connor, Nationalist, is about to resign his seat in Parliament for business reasons.

Gen. Buller has resigned his post in Ireland, and will return to the War Office in October. He insists that the Government appoint his successor without delay.

THE EXETER CALAMITY.

Relief for the Sufferers Being Solicited in France.

EXETER, Sept. 8.—The public funeral of the victims of the Theatre Royal fire took place yesterday. There were fifty-two caskets containing identified bodies, and fourteen caskets containing remains which it was impossible to identify. The streets through which the funeral procession passed were lined by silent crowds.

French Aid Asked For.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Lord Mayor of London in The Paris Gaulois invites subscriptions for the relief of the sufferers by the burning of the Theatre Royal at Exeter.

The Elections in Holland.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 8.—The elections for members of the first Chamber of the States-General have resulted in the return of all the former members excepting the member for Utrecht, who is succeeded by an opponent of the Constitutional Revision Bill

The Rage of the Long Haired Men.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Four score of Socialists of the 17th Assembly District met in a saloon last night, and, mid waving of, red flags and shouts and cheers, were addressed by supporters of Herr Most, who sounded as their war cry: "Down with the United States Government and to h—— with Henry George." The meeting broke up in confusion.

Blackfeet Don Their War Paint.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 8.—The latest reports from the seat of the Blackfeet troubles in the Northwest Territories indicates that about three hundred warriors have donned their war paint. Serious trouble is anticipated.

Indicted for Libel.

MONTREAL, Sept. 8.—In the Court of Queen's Bench this afternoon the Grand Jury found a true bill against Vanasse and Lessard, editors of Le Monde, for libeling Hon. Mr. Mercier, Premier of Quebec.

Local Option in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. Sept. 8.—Voting on the question of local option was held in nine counties of this state yesterday, seven of which voted in favor of it. This makes thirty prohibition counties in the state, and eighteen others will vote on the question soon.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S SYMPATHIES.

Mr. Smalley, the London representative of the New York Tribune, thus writes to that journal:

"Mr. Chamberlain is not going to Washington as the attorney for Canada. Canada may send her own attorney, and doubtless will, but an Englishman of the first rank in English public life is not likely to act in that capacity. Mr. Chamberlain goes out in the hope that the Commission will be able to agree on terms honorable to both countries and beneficial to both. It is perfectly obvious that he stakes some part of his great reputation on the success of his mission. He is not going in order to drive a sharp bargain. He starts in a spirit of great friendliness to America. I have said often that English feeling on this subject is not identical with Canadian feeling. The Foreign Office is obliged to argue with more or less zeal the Canadian case, but what it really wants is to arrive at a rational understanding. Mr. Chamberlain is not a Foreign Office man, but is the impersonation of the spirit which aims at friendly relation between England and America. There is no public man in England who has stronger sympathy with Americans or greater admiration for American institutions. He goes, of course, as the English representative, and will uphold English interests, but he expresses no opinion on the points at issue between America and Canada. The issue is a new one to him, but he would not have undertaken this mission unless with the conviction that a settlement was practicable and probable. What I say on this subject is the result of a conversation with Mr. Chamberlain. I quote nothing, and he is in no way responsible. It is the impression left by the general tenor of his talk that I give."

We hope that this gentleman takes a wrong view of Mr. Chamberlain's position. Mr. Chamberlain may be friendly to the Yankees, but as a British statesman, he should be more friendly to Canadians. He is unfit for his position, if a mawkish desire on his part to toady to American interests leads him to attempt to sacrifice them to the prejudice of those of this country. The duty of the commissioners with respect to our fisheries is plain. We have certain rights which Americans wish to share without giving an equivalent. We have the good fortune to possess certain fishing grounds over which the Americans have been breaking the tenth commandment for years. If they are not allowed to take our fish peaceably they are well disposed to steal them as they have been doing. It is not to be supposed that a commissioner of Her Majesty, a British statesman, will agree to compound petty larceny of this description, the "general tenor of his talk" to the contrary notwithstanding. But the Americans find they can't successfully steal our fish unless they are allowed to steal our bait, and its bait first and fish after, that the Yankees are anxious to get at. The bait, however, is found only in Canadian waters and it is an advantage Canadians are bound to keep. If it sounds little, it is time that the whole question narrows down to bait. Crabs and crawfish may not constitute a very dignified basis of a great international pow-wow, but crabs and crawfish are our hold and by them we stand. The grip of these coveted crustacea is no bad type of the grip Canada means to maintain on her special fishing advantages, and Sir Lionel Sackville West and Sir Joseph Chamberlain will not constitute themselves the champions of piscatorial poachers in order to weaken our grip of our rights

Proposed Meeting of Freight Agents.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 8.—A general meeting of freight agents will be held at Niagara Falls next Tuesday, at which representatives from all sections of the country are expected to be present. The meeting has been called for the purpose of considering the advisability of agreeing upon general classification of freight rates from New York across the continent to San Francisco.

Where Rebellion is Chronic.

PANAMA, Sept. 8.—The revolutionary force, under Bahona, surprised and took possession of Port La Union last night. The fighting is reported to have been very severe. A thousand Government troops have left the capital under Gen. Amaya, but it will take them two days to reach their destination. A general commotion is feared in Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras.

It Pleases His Grace.

DUBLIN, Sept. 8.—Archbishop Walsh, in a letter published here to-day, says the Irish land question is a commercial and not a political matter. He declares Lord Ashbourne's purchase scheme to be the most suitable one that has yet been passed.

A Visitor for Lord Lansdowne.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., Sept. 8.—To-day the Indian prince, His Highness Thakire Saheb of Timboli, arrived at West Point. He spent a few hours as the guest of Gen. Butterfield and left Coldspring on an evening train for Canada to visit Lord Lansdowne.

UNITED STATES NEWS.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

THE MEDICAL CONGRESS.

The Value of Inoculation as a Safeguard Against Yellow Fever.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—In the International Medical Congress to-day, Secretary Atkinson read the following abstract of the proceedings of the section of public and international hygiene: After the reading by Dr. Domingo Freve of Rio Janeiro, the representative in the Congress of the Brazilian Government, of a paper entitled "Vaccination with the Attenuated Culature of the Microbe of Yellow Fever," with demonstration of the microbe under the microscope, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted by the section:

WHEREAS, Inoculation against yellow fever, if it proves successful after further examination, is calculated to benefit the human race throughout the world; and

WHEREAS, the fact presented by the experiments of Dr. Domingo Freve offered a reasonable assurance of its protective influence in Rio de Janeiro; therefore

RESOLVED, that this section recommends the co-operative investigation of the results obtained by yellow fever inoculations as a protection against that disease, and that adequate appropriations by the governments represented in this congress be made for that purpose.

Prof. Anna of Hamburg delivered an address in German. It embodied a plan for the more thorough study of skin diseases, and set forth with great force the importance of a wider spread of knowledge on this subject. He recommended the establishment of a central institute where noted scientists may work together and where all means and methods of study may be considered. He expressed the hope that the United States, always so liberal for the promotion of science, would be the first to develop this idea.

Dr. Sir James Grant of Canada, in a highly complimentary speech, moved a vote of thanks to Prof. Anna, and the motion was adopted by acclamation.

Dr. Hamilton, Secretary-General of the Congress, said to-night that the speech of Sir James Grant of Canada, proposing a vote of thanks to Dr. Anna, was a sufficient answer to the criticisms of those medical men who allege that the congress is not a success.

The reading and discussion of papers was continued by the various sections to-day, most of them holding two sessions.

FILIBUSTERS AFOOT.

An Expedition of Armed Men to Cuba Said to Have Left Key West.

KEY WEST, Fla., Sept. 8.—An expedition, consisting of sixteen armed men, under command of Beriben, a Spaniard, left here several days ago for Cuba. They carried dynamite and a number of bombs. They expect to meet a band of 250 men in Cuba who will join other bands and wage a system of guerilla warfare against the Spanish rulers. Other detachments are expected to join them soon from here and elsewhere, for which arrangements are already made. Ample funds are said to be in the hands of recruiting agents. Beriben's party carried with them to aid the cause in the interior $30,000 in gold. The dynamite will be used to blow up the houses and quarters of the Spanish officials. The boat which took the party has returned and reports a successful voyage.

The state of siege has been raised at Sofia. Prince Ferdinand has conferred upon the Ex-Regents M. Stamtuloff, M. Zitkoff and Colonel Mutkuroff the decoration of the Order of Bravery.

The Political Correspondence of Vienna says it is semi-officially stated in St. Petersburg that Russia is determined unless Prince Ferdinand departs from Bulgaria to declare the Berlin treaty void.

The Russian railroad depot at Wassar, the gate to Bokhara and the bridge over the Amalduray at Chardjui are almost completed. Five thousand laborers have begun work on the branch line of railway from Chardjui to Kilif near Kohja Salah.

There was a riot at a tobacco factory in Pressburg, Austria, yesterday, growing out of the strike of 300 female employes. The strikers expelled the police from the factory and fortified the building, and troops were summoned to dislodge them.

Ayoub Khan with sixteen adherents crossed the Afghanistan frontier half way between Herat and Lashwayan. The Ameer's troops surprised him on Aug. 31 at Rabatk when he fled but was overtaken. A skirmish ensued, and he again escaped. He then made his way back to Persian territory.

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

"What is McGregor's Speedy Cure for"?

It is for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Indigestion, Biliousness, and it is the finest blood purifier in the known world to-day.

"Does it give satisfaction?"

We cannot point to one instance where it did not.

Right in the city of Hamilton, where it is manufactured, there has been over one thousand dollars' worth sold in the last year retail, and the great majority of the sales are by one recommending it to another. For sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by John McKee, Druggist eodw35

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Borton, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medecine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

A Radical Change.

"I had got so bad with dyspepsia that I hardly cared whether I lived or not," says Frank A. Swain, of the Toronto Globe Office. Three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him, and he says, "it now seems a pleasure to live." 2w36d

The Tailors' Pic-nic.
The excursion and pic-nic to Idyl Wyld yesterday, held by the "knights of the shears," was one of the most successful affairs of the kind this season. About 100 couples boarded the "Golden Eye" in the morning, and, though the air was rather cool, by ten o'clock old Sol began to assert his warming powers, and the day became delightful. On the return trip in the evening, the Peterborough orchestra supplied music for dancing, which was kept up unremittingly until the wharf was reached about 10 p.m. The Sailors are to be congratulated on the success of their first annual excursion. The playing was good all round, a fine double play by M. Hickey, the tailor's pitcher, calling for special mention. He caught a hot liner straight from the bat and threw to third in time to cut off a man there. Mr. Harry Long, the efficient umpire, says it was as nice a play as he ever saw.

Protecting the Fish.
The Ontario Government has appointed Mr. F. J. Moore, of Lakefield, fishing overseer under the Ontario Fisheries Act of 1885 for the county of Peterborough, the provisional county of Haliburton, and that part of the county of Victoria south of the district of Muskoka. Permits to angle are issued under this Act to persons who have no domicile in the province upon payment of a fee of $5. No charge is to be made for a permit to angle to settlers and actual residents of the above district or to transient visitors, and permits renewable at the beginning of each month are granted for the angling session. There is no doubt that Mr Moore will prove himself to be a good man for the position, and as fish are becoming more scarce every year the Government are doing a wise thing in seeing that those who are not legitimately entitled to angle in this district are prevented from doing so without paying the proper fee. All persons requiring permits should communicate with Mr. Moore, at Lakefield, who will be glad to do all in his power to meet their wishes, while at the same time seeing that the Act is strictly enforced.

Won the Medal.
The last of the regular monthly matches of the Peterborough Rifle Association, was held yesterday afternoon. This match decided who should be the winner of the Ontario Rifle Association's Medal, which goes to the member making the highest aggregate score in any three out of the four regular monthly matches, and the lucky man was Mr. G Fitzgerald, with a total of 186 points, closely followed by F. Hall with 183 and D. Cameron with 178. At yesterday's match the following won prizes and made fair scores, considering the high and unsteady wind which blew:—

Red River Valley Railway Stock.
Last night there arrived at the G. T. R. station from Crosson & Sons' car works, Cobourg, ten box cars for the Red River Valley Railway, and this morning there arrived eleven more. They are evidently intended as grain cars. Along with these were eleven flat cars, from the same works at Cobourg, loaded with coal dumps for a Northwest mining company. These cars will be transferred to the C. P. R. and by that line be conveyed to the scene of their future use. They will make excellent field hospitals in case persistence in their use leads to the hostilities which appear to be imminent on account of the Dominion government insisting in preventing the Manitobans from exercising their right to build railways, and perpetuating the railway monopoly which is so heavily handicapping that province.

Runaway Accident.
At noon to-day a horse belonging to Thomas Howden, which was tied on the market square, slipped its bridle and dashed across to George street. Mr. Ed. Connors was crossing the street, and did not see the runaway in time to avoid it. He was struck in the right side and knocked down, an examination afterwards revealing the fact that a couple of ribs were broken. The unfortunate man was carried into the City Hotel and Dr. Kincaid summoned, under whose care his injuries, though serious, are being repaired. The horse continued up Charlotte street to White's livery stable, where it fell and was caught. Neither the horse nor buggy were damaged.

Buried To-day.
The remains of the late Mary Henderson, who died at Newcastle on Wednesday, were brought to town this morning and interred in Little Lake Cemetery. Mr. Wm. Hallowell accompanied the corpse. Deceased was a young lady well known in Peterborough, having lived here until a few years ago, when she removed to Toronto. Only two weeks ago she was visiting friends in town, and on her way home stopped at Newcastle, where she was attacked by her fatal illness.

Against Commercial Union.

A Meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Imperial Federation League Unanimously Against Commercial Union.

A meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Imperial Federation League was held in the Foresters' Hall last night. Mr. J. H. Long occupied the chair. Mr. Long, who had been appointed at a previous meeting to make a digest of a pamphlet by Mr. A. McGoun, of Montreal, on the subject of Commercial Union, before doing so referred to two or three points which had come under his observation.

It had been argued that the United States offered a much larger field for labour than could be procured in Canada, and the fact that so many Canadians emigrated to the States was used in its support. But it was not because there was a larger field of labor or that living was better there that so many Canadian professional men, artisans, clerks and others from towns were induced to leave their native land; it was simply because in the United States Canadian labor was at a premium. The American employers preferred Canadians, who were, as a rule, steadier and better workmen, to their own countrymen. A parallel case was found among the bankers of London, England, who preferred to employ the hardy, industrious Scotchmen to the luxuriously bred Englishmen. Then Mr. White has said that commercial union could be carried on without the use of custom houses. The Americans, he says, could have their tariff, and the Canadians theirs. That was all nonsense. The Canadians would either have to conform to American ideas or vice-versa. That was an important point. There would, at least on the Canadian side, have to be a set of officials to examine certain manufactured articles and literary productions, which freely circulate there but are forbidden here. Examiners would have to be established to reject these, and when it is said that we would gain by abolishing all the custom houses along the line, the statement was untrue. If examiners were appointed at all, it must be a perfect line. Therefore, if we have commercial union the two countries must have uniform tariffs and ideas.

The German Zollverein resulted in the political consolidation of all the members of the Zollverein except Austria; and, Austria refusing to be absorbed, the result was the war of 1866, which threw Austria out of the German Confederation. Therefore, the case of the German Zollverein proves what anti-Commercial Unionists say, viz., that the result would be political union. No instance in history could be mentioned of a commercial union not resulting, if persevered in, in political union.

THE PAMPHLET.

Mr. LONG then entered upon a digest of the pamphlet. The first point touched upon was that the deficit of revenue consequent upon the adoption of commercial union would have to be made up by direct taxation or by excise, but as the cost of collection of excise to the cost of collection of customs was as 4½ to 3½ the people were not likely to look with favor upon it. The pamphlet also showed that the export trade from Canada to the United States was more than the American export trade into Canada. The Canadian exports to the United States was 44½ per cent., and to the rest of the world 55½ per cent. The Canadian exports to the British Empire, too, were far larger than to the United States. Our trade with Great Britain alone was much greater than with the United States, and when other parts of the Empire are added the difference is still greater. Then the Canadian tariff of duty was 50 per cent lower than the American tariff. It was said that the Americans would lower their tariff to meet ours, but that was a gratuitous assumption. The argument was used that if we we get the American market as well as the British market it would be all the better for us; but if the American market was gained, it would be at the expense of the other. The Canadian export trade was greater than the American export trade, and this was accounted for only by reason of the high tariff wall raised by the United States. Another argument against commercial union was that trade between contiguous countries, which must necessarily raise similar products, could never amount to much; and as to dissimilar products, the freight from the Southern States is greater than the ocean freight from other foreign countries producing the same articles as the southern States. The great Canadian market for grain was necessarily Europe, and not the States, where it is raised in exporting quantities. The writer showed that the import market of goods we send to the United States had almost reached its limit, while the same trade with the United Kingdom only represented 1-20 of the whole import trade of the United Kingdom in such products. Was it worth while then, to lose this great British market in order to gain the trade of the United States? Then the pamphlet showed that the shipping of Canada would suffer under commercial union, as it had done in the States, simply because of the latter's high tariff wall. The shipping tonage of Canada was 2-7 per head, while in the United States it was only 1-13. And not only the shipping would suffer but the railway lines. The trade would naturally be north and south, and trade that benefitted New York must injure Montreal. The farmers of Canada would be injured, too, but as this has been fully dealt with before, it was not gone into. Then another thing that was lost sight of was the fact that all statements to the contrary, Canada was wealthier than the United States, for if the population of Canada was divided into the aggregate wealth, and the same done with the United States, the percentage would be higher in Canada. All things considered, the writer of the pamphlet thought Canada was best as she was. Our cold winters and frozen St. Lawrence could not be remedied by Commercial Union.

A QUESTION OF ORDER.

Mr. J. H. BURNHAM enquired if all this discussion was not out of order. The purposes of the Imperial Federation League were to preserve the British Empire, and if, as he thought, this commercial union agitation led to annexation, it certainly should not be discussed here.

The chairman replied that any member of the league was at liberty to maintain his own views as the tendency of commercial union towards annexation, and if anyone believed, as many did, that it would not lead to severance with the mother country, he had the privilege of supporting his belief.

Mr. TOKER agreed with Mr. Burnham that not only could they not support annexation, but commercial union also. He read some extracts from Mr. Wiman's speeches in the States, which showed that he was aiming at annexation, and from a letter by Mr. Goldwin Smith, in which that gentleman declared "it was impossible for two countries so closely allied to remain long apart." Speaking of the visit of Mr. Wiman and Mr. Butterworth, he said they were trying to inculcate principles of disloyalty and treason. He could not see how they could draw the line between commercial union and annexation after all their utterances. He read also some press opinions, clipped from American papers, all inclining towards commercial union as a step to annexation. He objected to the tour of Messrs. Wiman and Butterworth because of their dishonesty. They came over here and said they were working for our good, but at home they declare their efforts are towards annexation. That was their platform, and if it was not treason to Canada, as well as to the rest of the empire, he didn't know what it was. He next entered upon a discussion of several points in connection with the question, and concluded by moving the following resolution:—

Moved by E.J. TOKER, (seconded by Hon. R. Hamilton) that the Peterborough Branch of the Imperial Federation League, while firmly maintaining the right of Canada to frame her tariff to suit her own circumstances, would gladly welcome any agreement which, without abandoning that right, would promote closer commercial relations between the various parts of the British empire by discriminating against foreign countries, utterly repudiates any proposal to grant more favorable terms to a foreign nation than to her mother country or our sister colonies.

The motion was seconded by Hon. R. Hamilton.

Mr. CARNEGIE, while himself thinking that commercial union would lead to annexation, said the fact should not be disguised that a reciprocity treaty or other measure would be of certain benefit to Canada, but the question of commercial union was dishonestly discussed. If fairly put before the people the thing would of itself. Under commercial union, he said, everything in Canada would have to conform to the standard of the States, and the next step would be to wipe out the Dominion parliament. Then another point was that if commercial union was adopted all provincial institutions would have to be supported by direct taxation. He concluded his remarks with a peroration upon the future of Canada, which he hoped would, when the country was as old as the United States, be not a whit behind its neighbor. And if we wanted reciprocity, he said, it should be with a country not having the same products as our own, as had the United States, but with one of different natural resources.

Mr. E. B. EDWARDS said he did not pretend to know much about the feeling in England regarding the commercial union question, but he could say when he was here, this summer he found that a Canadian was treated with more deference than even an Englishman. He spent, he said, a few days in the county of Berkshire and saw something which showed a tendency existing there which he thought might lead to closer union of the empire, and may perhaps be the best answer to commercial union. There seemed to be a great deal of distress in some parts of the country, for outside competion had greatly reduced the prices of grain and meat, thereby rendering it difficult for the tenant farmers to make ends meet. These tenant farmers seemed to feel that they were on the verge of bankruptcy and wanted to shut out importations of grain and meat to give better prices. The agricultural implement manufacturers also complained of American competition. It seemed to the speaker that if the feeling largely grew the mother country would have to put a tariff upon imported goods, and as she would naturally first discriminate against foreign countries, this would lead to closer commercial connection with the colonies. If carried out it seemed to him that this plan would meet the principles and aims of the Imperial Federation League to strengthen the Empire.

Mr. LONG said that was the scheme that many Imperial Federationists believe in, not that there should be free trade in the Empire, but that a tariff discriminating against foreign countries should be adopted.

Mr. HILLIARD was of opinion that commercial union would be antagonistic to this scheme of Imperial Federation, and he was opposed to it. As to the lumbering interests it might be an advantage to a few, but to the province at large it would be decidedly injurious. Canada he said needed, or in a few years would need, all her own lumber. As an instance of the depletion of our forests, he mentioned that on the route from 30 miles beyond Port Arthur to Selkirk he could not see a single pine tree or even a stump. He also upheld the argument that the United States high tariff would necessarily have to be shouldered by Canada. All Canada's overtures in former years towards reciprocity, has been by the United States, and the result was the National Policy. It seemed to him that this commercial union agitation was humiliating. The leading American statesmen pooh-poohed the idea, and he thought the Canadian people were premature in taking up the question.

Mr. LONG incidentally made a few remarks about the unfair treatment Canada had always received at the hands of the United States. Mexico, Central America and Spain too had suffered from the wrongs inflicted by the United States government. And in remembrance of all these things it was, he thought, derogatory to the dignity of Canada to discuss the subject.

Mayor STEVENSON said that from the first inception of commercial union he had deemed the principle impracticable and unworthy of notice, and had never since seen or heard anything that would lead him to alter his opinion. He fully concurred in Mr. Edward's remarks, and believed that there was a feeling abroad in England tending to closer colonial alliance. He thought that if commercial union was adopted and our markets opened to the States, our manufactories would be flooded out. He also stated that articles manufactured in the American penitentiaries, which were not allowed to be sold there, were sent to Canada, and, as American manufacturers' goods, sold at prices that allowed of no competition. That was an instance of how they did things over there. As sure as this principle of commercial union was adopted, he said, if it was afterwards found unsatisfactory by the Americans, they would throw us overboard, and then our country would have to begin over again and win back all the prosperity that it now possesses. Were the American people, who were famous for their shrewdness, going to take Canada into partnership unless something could be made out of it? Rather not, judging from their past conduct. They wanted to annex Canada. They wanted to cry out, "the whole continent is ours."

Mr. J. O'MEARA was called upon by the chairman to make a few remarks, but declined, as he had come unprepared to make any statements, but rather to gain information.

Mr. EDWARDS added that the only grumbling he heard against Canada while in England, was about the duty on iron, which discriminated against England, and if commercial union was adopted, with its wholesale discriminations, they would BECOME ENTIRELY ALIENATED.

Any man who advocated imperial federation, he thought, should not tolerate the idea of commercial union.

Mr. POUSETTE was of opinion that the policy of commercial union, which tended to annexation, should be scouted by all loyal men. He referred to the tour of Messrs. Wiman and Butterworth, who went about preaching to the people and having no one to answer them. He suggested that this league and other branch leagues unite a have an able pamphlet distributed among the farmers of Canada, and thought that it would be a nail in the coffin of the commercial union doctrine. It was universally admitted that the manufacturing industries of Canada would suffer from commercial union. Then he thought the people of Canada and the United States could not assimilate. Though speaking the same language, and very distantly descended from the same forefathers, yet there was only a limited likeness between them. There was very little Anglo-Saxon about the Americans. The population of the United States was largely composed of Germans, negroes and other foreigners, while we in Canada were true Britons.

After a little further desultory discussion, the motion was put and carried unanimously.

Another meeting of the league will be held in the course of a month or so.

THE BLACKFEET INDIANS.

THEREPORT OF THEIR DONNING WAR PAINT NOT CONFIRMED.

The Financial Statement for August—The Migration of the Metlakahtla Indians—The Return of Ministers Thompson and McLelan From the Pacific Coast.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9.—Mr. Fred White, Comptroller of the Northwest Mounted Police, received a telegram to-day that everything was quiet on the Blackfeet reserve. Deerfoot had not been recaptured, and is believed to have made his way out to the Blood reserve. Mr. White said that the statement that the corporal of the guard of police in charge of Deerfoot at the time of his escape had been sentenced to six months' imprisonment, because he did not order his men to fire on the prisoner when he was escaping, is incorrect. The corporal was punished because he had not handcuffed his prisoner, as he should have done, and taken proper precautions for securing him. As for firing on the prisoner when he was making his escape, that he had no right to do, the orders to the force being that they are not to fire on the Indians unless fired on. It is sometimes questioned whether this is good policy, as the Indians know the police will not fire on them and sometimes take advantage of the knowledge, but it is considered best not to invest such power in the police as to give them orders to fire on Indians escaping from custody or evading arrest. Should a policeman fire on an Indian under such circumstances it would be entirely on his personal responsibility.

Receipts and Expenditures.

The revenue still continues to show a satisfactory rate of increase over last year. The receipts on account of consolidated fund for the month of August were: Customs $3,091,581, excise $483,388, postoffice $126,612, public works, including railways, $51,055; miscellaneous $63,764. Revenue for the month of August, 1887, $3,815,401; revenue to July 31, 1887, $3,207,079. Total $5,022,480. Expenditure for the month of August, 1887, $2,254,944; expenditure to July 31, 1887, $2,776,584. Total $5,031,528. This shows an increase of $24,211 over the same month last year. The customs show an increase of $230,353, excise $107,235, miscellaneous $15,090. There is a decrease in the postoffice of $12,075, and in public works of $316,313. The statement of the public debt on Aug. 31 is: Gross debt $277,023,502, assets $44,536,100, net debt $229,494,462; increase since June 30, $3,467,700. Expenditure on capital account, public works, railways and canals, $4,519,501.64; Dominion lands, $168,149.16; subsidies to railways, $1,558,180; Northwest rebellion losses, $793,323.45; total $7,039,244.25. It will thus be seen that the expenditure on capital accounts has been more than double the increase of the duty, the difference being paid out of the Consolidated Fund.

The Explorers of the Yukon.

The Department of the Interior has received advices from the Yukon River exploring party in charge of D. L. S. Ogilvie. All the members of the party were in good health and would remain in the country another year. The Dawson party will be met at the close of the season at Fort Selkirk, at the junction of the two great branches of the Yukon.

The Metlakahtla Indians.

The Department of Indian Affairs has no official information in regard to the emigration of a number of Metlakahtla Indians to Alaska. The impression prevails that it is only a temporary "flitting" of some of the members of this tribe, as from private sources it is learned quite a large number refused to follow Mr. Duncan, the recalcitrant missionary. It is beginning to be clearly understood that the Government has nothing to do with the trouble existing among these Indians, the origin of it being due solely to a conflict of jurisdiction on the part of the Church authorities.

Demands an Investigation.

The Department of Fisheries has ordered an investigation into the charges made against First Officer Hall of the cruiser Vigilant, and on which he was dismissed from the service. The investigation was demanded by Hall, who says he has been unjustly treated.

Back From the Pacific Coast.

Hon. Messrs. Thompson and McLelan returned this morning from their visit to the Northwest and British Columbia, looking all the better for their trip. Speaking of his visit Hon. Mr. McLelan said: The matter which had chiefly occupied his attention referred to the establishment of greater postal facilities between different points along the British Columbia coast. Before leaving Ottawa negotiations had been opened up with Washington relative to sending the United States mails via the Canadian Pacific route to Japan and China, but according to last advices the matter was still pending. Regarding the extension of the present mail system to Australia, he said the matter of a subsidy had yet to be arranged between the British and Colonial Governments interested. During his tour a great many subjects had been brought under his notice relating to the postal service and the wants of the people. From personal observation he was in a much better position to deal with the various questions than he would otherwise have been. The greater number of questions would require some consideration and only a few minor ones were settled on the spot. Most of the questions related to the extension of the postal system. Among the places the two ministers visited were Victoria, New Westminster, Vancouver, Nanaimo and intermediate points. Vancouver, the Postmaster-General said, was building up rapidly and making wonderful progress. The small towns in the Northwest also appeared to him to be in a more healthy condition than they were at the time of his previous visit, some three years ago. There seemed to be an impression among the settlers that they were bound to succeed, while at the time of his previous trip settlement was regarded more in the light of an experiment. Mr. McLelan says he has greatly enjoyed his tour, the scenery through the mountains being sublime.

THE DOMINION AND INDUSTRIAL.

Thousands of Children Overrun Everything and Enjoy Themselves—The Races.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.

It is difficult to estimate the number of children on the grounds yesterday, but your reporter made careful inquiry and believes it is not far astray in placing it at 15,000. To more than this number were sent tickets of admission to the Zoo and it is safe to presume that the youngsters with very few exceptions availed themselves of the opportunity to do the Exhibition at a five-cent rate of admission. They arrived early and remained till the gates closed. First they went through the Zoo, which to youth is the embodiment of all that is worth seeing, stirred up the animals with long and short sticks whilst the vigilant keepers for the nonce were otherwise engaged than in looking after the protection of their charges, chatted as only school children can, and finally offered to kiss Ald. Piper as a token of their appreciation of his kindness.

Having done the Zoo they invaded the different halls, soliciting business cards and accepting everything that was offered. There was a general sigh of relief when the children eventually disappeared to congregate at the Grand Stand from which they chorused their delight at the various amusement features.

Up to 4 o'clock nothing had occurred to mar the afternoon's sport, but at that hour rain began to fall, compelling everyone to seek shelter, and it continued almost uninterruptedly till the day's program was disposed of. The principal features of amusement were the speeding exhibitions and the drill exercises of the school children. They were keenly appreciated not only by the children but by their elders as well.

Very few of the children were unaccompanied by chaperones, but those of the latter who were there were entirely unable to control their charges, and in the moving, restless crowd some were separated, to become reunited, however, at the Police Station, whither the lost were taken. At one time there were thirty youngsters under the protection of the police awaiting identification by their friends. The children as a rule were not put out by their unusual surroundings, but quietly submitted to their enforced detention.

The only accident reported was that which befel Arthur Lake, a boy living at 578 Queen-street east, who was run over by a team of horses, whose driver, Isaac H. Burwell, a Brant county farmer, was arrested by Detective Black. Burwell is charged with drunkenness and criminal neglect.

Racing in the Horse Ring.

Among the attractions in the horse ring yesterday were the running races, which, as usual, drew a large crowd to that part of the grounds. The heavy rain storm that came on just after the first heat of the opening event and continued throughout the afternoon went somewhat against the proceedings, but nevertheless the sport was enjoyed immensely by the spectators.

The open race was the first put down for decision, but furnished little or no excitement, as every heat was one-sided. It had three starters. Golden Arrow captured the first heat without a struggle, the veteran Williams showing his temper by sulking, and the other contestant, Rory O'More, bolting. In the second heat Rory O'More was withdrawn, leaving Golden Arrow and Williams to fight it out. This time Golden Arrow acted badly and refused to leave the post, and at last Williams had to be sent away alone. After he had gone some distance the chestnut gelding decided to go, but could not overhaul the old horse. The third heat was a repetition of the second, Williams going it alone.

The hack race was next called and proved an excellent contest. Six horses faced the starter, among them being little Blanton, who is well-known among the racing fraternity, and was put down as the winner, but fortune failed him. Though the little Bonnie Scotland was capable of the task, his rider got a bad position nearing the finish and the game little fellow was crowded on to the grass, which no doubt lost him the race. It was an excellent contest from start to finish, and was won after a most exciting finish by Pawnbroker, ridden by Dr. Campbell, who beat Toronto by a length, with Blanton one half a length away, third, Sallie Scobbs fourth, Yorkville Maid fifth, and Lady Danger last.

The program was brought to a close with the Farmers' race, which offered great amusement for the public and still greater for the sporting fraternity. After considerable trouble the five contestants were got on to the track, and no sooner did they hit the turf than off they went, but were speedily called back and notified that there was a starter. After a little delay they were sent away with Rob Roy in front and the others strung out from two to a dozen lengths apart. The Scotchman was never headed, and came in an easy winner by six lengths. Sallie Scobbs stumbled and fell at the lower turn, but neither horse nor rider was hurt. The judges were C. T. Mead and R. Bond. J. McFarlane acted as starter.

SHOT DOWN BY POLICE

A FATAL ENCOUNTER WITH THE MOB AT MITCHELLSTOWN.

A Great Crowd Gathers There to Make a Demonstration in Favor of O'Brien at His Trial and a Fight Ensues in Which Two Men are Killed.

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—Mitchellstown, where the case of the Government against William O'Brien, under the Coercion Act, was to have been heard to-day, was crowded all day with civilians, police and soldiers. Mr. O'Brien did not appear to answer the summons. The service of the summons was proved, and the judge granted a warrant for O'Brien's arrest.

An open air indignation meeting was subsequently held. Henry Labouchere and others made speeches denouncing the Government for its course in regard to Ireland.

An Irish Editor Jailed.

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—The Glasgow magistrates have sentenced Mr. Hayden, editor of The Westmeath Examiner, to three months' imprisonment for obstructing the police during a recent eviction. Mr. Hayden appeals from the sentence and has been admitted to bail.

Shot by the Police.

MITCHELLSTOWN, Sept. 9.—A conflict occurred at the meeting which was held on Market Square. The police were attempting to protect a Government stenographer, when a fight took place and the crowd repulsed the police, sixty in number, several of whom were struck with sticks and stones and severely injured. The police obtained reinforcements and returned to the scene. They fired six shots and two men were instantly killed. Several other persons were wounded. The rioters dispersed.

Mr. Gladstone's Answer.

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—Dr. C. Kane, Grand Master of the Order of Orangemen, recently wrote to Mr. Gladstone asking him to state whether, in his future proposals for home rule, representatives of Ireland, an integral part of the United Kingdom, would be retained in the Imperial Parliament. Mr. Gladstone has replied that the subject of the exclusion of Irish members from the Imperial Parliament is not involved in the question of home rule for Ireland.

LOST IN LAKE SUPERIOR.

The Schooner Niagara of Cleveland Foundered in the Gale.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 9.—A special from Marquette, Mich., says the schooner Niagara foundered near Whitefish Point, Lake Superior, in yesterday's gale. She was commanded by Capt. Clements, and was laden from Ashland to Ashtabula. Her crew of ten men was lost, and the captain's family is also reported to have been aboard. The Niagara was owned by Mr. Corrigan of Cleveland.

No Traces of the Crew.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 9.—Capt. Waite of the steamer Idaho, just arrived, reports passing the wreck of the Niagara at 11.30 a.m. yesterday. She lies in one fathom of water, ten miles this side of Whitefish Point and five miles from shore. Her mizzenmast just reaches above the water. Capt. Waite saw no traces of her ill-fated crew, and states no small boat could have lived in the terrible sea which was running there on Wednesday. The captain thinks that in addition to the crew of the Niagara there were a number of ladies aboard of her, as he met her as she was coming up and noticed them. All must have perished, between thirteen and fifteen souls. The Niagara was in tow of the Amsterdam. The gale was one of the worst on the lakes for years, the wind reaching a velocity of sixty miles an hour.

The Captain's Family Safe.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—Anxiety for the safety of the family of Capt. Clemens of the lost schooner Niagara has been relieved by the discovery that they were not on board the illfated vessel. They are at home in this city. The name of the first mate of the Niagara was John Macbeth and the second mate William Quinn. As the Niagara left Ashtabula on her last trip the crew is believed to have been shipped from that port. It is probable ten persons lost their lives, viz: Capt. Clemens, two mates, the cook and six sailors.

Died Under Chloroform.

MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—A young lady named Beauvais, aged 19 years, came from Laprairie to Notre Dame Hospital here last night to have a tumor removed from her mouth. She was also suffering from heart disease, and upon the doctors giving her chloroform while she was undergoing the operation she never recovered consciousness.

TAYLOR SIGHS FOR BAIL.

THE MATTER TO BE ARGUED AT OSGOODE HALL ON TUESDAY.

Harsh Epithets Applied to the Defaulting Ex-President—The Editor of The London Free Press Accused of Attempting to Shield the Offender.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—There have been interesting times at the monetary institutions in London during the last few days. The failure of the Ontario Investment Association and suspension of the Bank of London have shaken public faith so badly that depositors are drawing their money from London societies with remarkable rapidity. The manufacturing interest has suffered severely, and several business embarrassments have occurred, among them being the North American Manufacturing Company, and John Elliott & Son of the Phœnix Foundry.

The affairs of Henry Taylor and his associates form the leading topic of discussion in business and financial circles. This afternoon Mr. Marsh, of the law firm of Lount & Marsh of Toronto, was in London and was closeted with Henry Taylor for a long time in the latter's cell in the jail. Henry Taylor prepared three additional affidavits, reiterating his previous statements in regard to the extention of the agreement, for breach of which he was arrested. He now claims that the agreement is invalid. The papers of the case were completed this afternoon and handed over to Messrs. Lount & Marsh, as Mr. T. H. Purdom wished to be relieved of the responsibility.

On Tuesday morning at Osgoode Hall a motion will be made to secure the imprisoned financier's release. The jail physician reports Henry Taylor as suffering from chronic disease of the heart and as being liable to die at any moment. The physician says he would stake nothing on Henry Taylor's life for twenty-four hours. Taylor's main plea for liberty is that Judge Davis issued the capias unwillingly, without knowledge of the circumstances, and then a plea of ill health.

Mr. R. M. Meredith, Secretary of the Ontario Investment, charges Taylor with being a man who has by gigantic frauds and robberies brought misery and want upon many helpless people. He states that for the past ten days he has received many heartrending letters from those who have been brought to poverty and desperation by Taylor's crookedness.

A. O. Graydon, a director and largely interested shareholder of the Ontario Investment, charges Henry Taylor as being a scoundrel, defaulter and a criminal guilty of fraud and embezzlement.

R. M. Meredith and A. O. Graydon, in letters to J. Blackburn, editor of The London Free Press, charge the latter with attempts to shield Mr. Taylor. A bitter controversy has ensued and many harsh personalities have been exchanged. The editor of The Free Press owns 113 Ontario Investment shares all paid up.

Henry Taylor is responsible to the Ontario Investment for $200,000, for which the institution holds security worth 33 cents on the dollar.

TORONTO TOPICS.

A Jewelry Swindle and Its Victims—Two Verdant Young Men.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.

Two men giving their names as Jacob Levy and George Cain were yesterday morning arrested on a charge of having palmed off Brummagem watches and chains as real articles. They appeared to have worked the confidence trick with a success worthy of a better cause. On Wednesday morning a young man named William Clubb from Parry Sound, while admiring the beauties of Toronto, was met near the Union Station by Levy and asked if he could direct him to a pawn shop. Levy stated that he was financially embarrassed and wished to raise some money on a watch and chain. The watch, he stated, was worth $25, and the chain he valued at $40. Clubb sympathized with the inquirer, but had to plead ignorance as to the whereabouts of an establishment with the three golden balls. While the pair were in conversation Cain appeared on the scene, and as a solution of the difficulty suggested that Clubb should exchange his watch with Levy and give a trifle "boot" so as to enable him to tide over his difficulties. The suggestion was adopted, and a sum of $10 and a watch handed over to Levy in exchange for his timepiece and massive "gold" chain. The confiding stranger was not long in discovering that he had been taken in, and promptly reported the matter to the police. In the afternoon another visitor—a young man named John McManus, from Peterboro—was similarly victimized under precisely similar circumstances, by the same worthy pair. The only difference in this case was that the "boot" was limited to $1. Levy and Cain were subsequently arrested by Detective Spence, and having been brought before the Police Magistrate, were remanded until Monday morning, pending further inquiries. They have been fully identified, and when arrested had a number of watches in their possession.

Edward Graham, the man who is alleged to have thrown vitriol into the face of young Louis Sievert a few weeks ago, appeared in the Police Court yesterday and was remanded for a week. Sievert not being able to appear. Messrs. Bigelow and Murphy will defend Graham, who, it may be said, acted so unconcerned yesterday as to appear to some as being a little off. One of Sievert's eyes will undoubtedly be saved and there are strong hopes of saving the other.

A farmer named William Jackson, living on the fourth concession of West York, was accidentally killed on Wednesday afternoon, while working a roller on his farm. One of the strings broke, and the team swinging round suddenly, the man was thrown under the roller and crushed to death.

ALL ALONE IN THE WORLD

SERMON BY LAYMAN.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

People who have wealth, who have friends and good homes, know nothing, and can know nothing of the hardships and privations and trials of the destitute and lonely. They may generalize upon the subject, and they may profess to think that their hardships are not so very great. But from their proud position of independance and plenty they cannot possibly judge truly, nor do they care to do so. Their home life and comforts unfit them to sympathise with the poor and the needy, and sitting round the warm fire they do not look out upon the storm with other feelings than those imparted to them by their own surroundings. And to tell them that some poor woman or sick child was suffering from the cold, and from want of nourishment, would scarcely excite a moment's pity or a desire to help. They are too apt to say that they have nothing to spare, and when appealed to by the cries of hunger and cold they too often turn a deaf ear and tell them to be gone. How few persons can realise what it is to be alone in the world. Without actual experience it cannot be done. Tell a man of someone whose friends are all gone. Tell him of parents whose children have grown up and left home and who, in their old age, have no one to keep them company. Tell him that wealth will not drive away loneliness or bring comfort to the solitude of a father who has seen the last of his once busy household laid in they grave, whose companion in a long life is no more, and he will not believe you, for he cannot enter into feelings which he knows nothing of, and he thinks everyone else must be content because he is content. Now let us see. Here is a poor woman who has no friends, who once was well off but now is poor. She sits in solitude in her room thinking of the past, of the time when she once had home and friends. She looks at herself as she now is, all alone, and wonders what is to become of her, and how she is to live. The people, intent upon the busy world, pass her by unnoticed. She realizes that there is no one to whom she can go for help and comfort. Her days and nights are full of trouble and fear. And so she lives on in her solitude until the time comes when it shall please God to take her away, away up to His heavenly home, where all her troubles will be ended and she knows solitude no more.

Beyond these chilling winds and gloomy skies,
Beyond deaths solemn portal,
There is a land where beauty never dies,
And love becomes immortal.

A land whose light is never dimmed by shade,
Whose fields are ever vernal,
Where nothing beautiful can fade,
But blooms for aye eternal.

We may not know how sweet the balmy air,
How bright and fair its flowers,
We may not hear the songs that echo there,
Through the se enchanted bowers.

That city's shining towers we may not see,
With our dim earthly vision,
For death, the silent warder, keeps the key
That opens these gates elysian.

But sometimes when adown the western sky,
The fiery sunset lingers,
The golden gates swing inward noiselessly,
Unlocked by silent fingers.

Oh, land unknown, oh, land of love divine,
Father all wise, eternal,
Guide, guide these wandering feet of mine
Into those pastures vernal.

I have heard fathers and mothers, in their old age, say that they never were so happy as when their children were with them, needing their care and protection. Thus then they had something to stimulate their exertion, and it was pleasant to work and see their children around them. But when they had grown up and gone away, gone out into the wide world to look out for themselves, and they, the parents, were left all alone, no longer hearing the noise and the laughter, they felt all alone in the world, and they felt that their days of happiness were over. Their days were lonely and their nights were dark and gloomy. They wandered over the old ground but they wandered alone. They could see many of the old places where their children used to play, but they could hear their loud laughter no more. It is bad enough during the day, but when the night comes, and darkness settles down over the earth, it is hard indeed to bear. Again: Here is an old man whose sands of life have nearly run out. He begs from door to door for bread. And at night he goes back to his desolate cabin and lays himself down upon his humble bed of straw with scarcely rags enough cover to him. No one to speak kindly to him and no word of encouragement and hope. He knows he must soon die, and he will welcome the hour of death's coming, for he feels that he has a home above, where all his troubles will be ended. And yet this poor man was once better off. He had home and friends. But his home was taken from him and his friends left him, and he became a beggar and a wanderer in his old age. He is now looking across the river where there is plenty, and there is darkness no longer. It is a terrible thing to feel the loneliness of old age. But worse still to feel that your friends are not near. And worse still if you are poor and helpless. Who can tell what such feelings really are save those who experience them? And it makes them feel worse when they look back upon the far off past, and think of their happy childhood and the many times when they played around the door. But the old home is gone now. New people and new scenes are only to be met with there now, and so the place that knew them once knows them no more. Again, look at the poor woman and her three little children, in a great city, in a small dark room under the stairs, shivering and crying with cold and hunger. They had a home once, but they have a home no longer. They are literally and truly all alone in the world. They have now exhausted their last resource and they have felt the storm, borne along by the cold night wind, and as a last resource they have fled to this place for temporary safety, knowing that if relief does not soon come they must die, and then all their troubles will be ended. Fortunately at the last moment relief came and their lives were spared to live a little longer. All alone in the world. What a dismal sound and what black images of despair do these words convey? Come with me into one of the wards of a hospital of a great city and I will show you something which will move your pity, if any pity you have. It does one good sometimes to see such sights. It stirs up our better nature and makes us wish that we were better and had more human feelings of charity and goodness. There you will see a poor little boy lying on his bed racked with pain. His little body is a mere shadow and his face white and thin. Poor little fellow, he never knew a mother's care. The little time he has been in the world has been full of hardships and troubles. It would take a long while to tell all his sufferings, and all the tears which he has shed. His cries and tears were never ended. At last he is in a hospital in kind hands. But kindness will not save him now! Young as he is, he knows that he is going to a better home. He feels happier than he ever did before. Look in his hand and you will see evidence of a kind heart. All the plaything he ever had was a little toy, and this he kept through all the changes of his life. He never complained. He knew he had to die and he said he had a kind Friend above who would bear him away to the happy land. Poor little Tommy, how sad it is to see you thus. But how many countless thousands there are as bad off as you!

"The child is dying," so the doctor said.
As with the nurse he left a bright eyed boy,
Who, scarcely conscious, to and upon his bed,
But closely clasped, the while, a broken toy.

For ten weary months that toy has been
His joy in health, the solace of his pain,
And still he prized it with affection keen,
Though now too weak to play with it again.

The nurse came back, and, stooping with a sigh,
Smoothed his fair curls and pressed his toying hand.
As she softly whisper, Tom! you're going to die,
You'll leave us soon, Tom, do you understand?

His thin lips quivered, but his strength was spent,
Though still the toy was held against his breast,
But the kind nurse, as o'er the child she bent,
Knew he had heard her for her hand he pressed.

And in some minute's space, still standing by,
She caught the whisper as he tried anew.
Nursey, do you promise me that when I die
You'll put my toy into my coffin too.

And as she reassured the dying boy
Upon his face she saw a glad smile creep,
As clasping closer yet his broken toy,
He kissed it and fell peacefully asleep.

And he was buried where the flowers bloom and the soft winds sigh and the little birds sing sweetly over his grave. And nursey sometimes comes and sheds a tear and speaks his name but he hears her not, his happy spirit is now on high. And at the great day spirit and body will unite once more and be forever with the Lord.

You will LOOSE YOUR SOLE or your HEEL on the first wet day, if you buy shoddy boots. But go to KIDD and get a pair of SOLID LEATHER boots.—Same price!

LATEST SPORTING NEWS.

The Owner of the Thistle—Other Events

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The Thistle, with Mr. Henderson on board, met the City of Rome at Lower Quarantine this morning. The steamer had aboard James Bell and G. W. Watson, the owner and designer, respectively, of the Scotch trotter. Mr. Henderson went on board the big steamer as soon as she came to anchor. The City of Rome then proceeded up the bay to her pier.

The Thistle returned to Tompkinsville, where she was inspected by Mr. Watson. Mr. Bell is a tall, spare man with sandy complexion and reddish beard and thoroughly sunburned. Mrs. Bell is a tall, slight young lady of charming appearance, with dark brown hair and eyes and even features. She was dressed in a light fitting traveling dress and wore a sailor hat. Mr. Watson is tall and spare with a reddish brown beard.

Mr. Bell met with an accident when helping some ladies up a gangway while aboard the steamer. He struck his elbow and made a slight abrasion of the skin and erysipelas set in. He has been quite ill for several days. Acting on the advice of the steamship's physician he went directly to the Fifth-avenue Hotel to remain quiet for a few days. He hopes to be able to take up quarters on the Thistle on Monday.

In conversation with a reporter Mr. Bell said there was no secrecy in building the Thistle. He said afterward that she was built under a shed, as most yachts are, and she was launched with a cover around her, and he added with a smile, "We did not intend to give her lines and model to our rival yacht builders." "The Thistle," said Mr. Bell, "has a bottom just like any other cutter. She is of the cutter model, pure and simple. She is built according to the rules followed prior to 1880. For the last eight years we have been measuring the length and breadth for speed, and yachts have deteriorated. Previous to that we measured length and sail area. We pursued this method with the Thistle. When the Volunteer wins the cup you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have beaten the fastest yacht ever built on our side of the water."

"I suppose you are sanguine of carrying the cup back to Scotland?" queried the reporter. "By no means," answered Mr. Bell, smilingly. "It is no man's race until the finish gun is fired. Give us a breeze and keep the excursion steamers out of the way and we'll have a pretty race. Your Volunteer is a splendid boat. I have a great respect for Gen. Payne, although I never saw him, and I also have a great respect for his boat."

Mr. Bell put in the English claim of safety for the cutter as against the sloop and was asked: What is the Thistle's area? "Well, it is as nearly as possible the same as that of the Mayflower. We wished the sail area and allurement to be the same as the Mayflower. You see we don't challenge your second class yachts, and we built the Thistle to beat the best boat you had or none."

Mr. Bell said that as soon as he was well enough he should take active control of the yacht. When told that it was believed here that a light wind was the Thistle's favorite, and that in rough weather she might shove her nose under the water, he replied: "Oh, she'll work all right in any kind of weather. We've never yet seen her nose under water and we've had her out in some pretty strong weather." Mr. Watson avoided the interviewers.

To Replace The International League.

BUFFALO, Sept. 9.—With this season the International Baseball League as at present constituted will come to an end. The state clubs are convinced that they have had pretty near enough of the Jersey additions, and the return meet of the Hamilton aggregation at the end of the season is almost a certainty. What shall be done next year remains a matter of speculation.

If Detroit could be induced to retire from the league after winning the championship, an event now regarded as almost a certainty, and Cleveland drop out of the association the way for a third important organization would be clear. Detroit, Toronto, London (possibly), Buffalo, Cleveland, Syracuse, Rochester and Troy—or some intermediate state city—would make a firm organization, compact in form and with but comparatively light traveling expenses. It is pointed out that Detroit could possibly make a deal with Mr. Wiman of Staten Island to let Brouthers, Dunlap, Richardson, Rowe, White, Thompson and a couple of batteries go to the Metropolitans at a fancy figure and retain a first-class team to do battle in a new International league. Buffalo has been sadly handicapped this season, only Syracuse and Toronto and Rochester in the early part giving any fair return for the percentage received here. If this scheme could be carried through Buffalo would stick to the International, but failing it, Buffalo must seek entrance to the Association. The 50 cent rate of the league would prove unpopular here, and Buffalo does not care much for the older association as has been proved by a former experiment.

Rain prevented several games in the different leagues yesterday.

Canadians in Front at Ogdensburg.

OGDENSBURG, N.Y., Sept. 9.—Racing was continued at the Fair Grounds here to-day and again the Canadians were successful. J. E. Segram's Felix winning the mile heats, R. Bond's Bonnie Duke capturing the steeplechase and J. Storey's Dan O'Connell the 2.30 trot.

The Eight Hour Movement.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—The Trades' Union Congress has passed a resolution pledging the various unions to begin an agitation in favor of decreasing the hours of labor to eight per day and to make every Saturday a full holiday. It was contended by the delegates that the 700,000 men now out of work would be able to obtain employment if this rule were put into force.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

THE BEHRING SEA SEIZURES.

No More Vessels to be Seized Pending Judicial Proceedings.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Sir James Fergusson, replying to Mr. Gourley in the House of Commons to-day, said that the Government had no information with reference to the seizure of the Pathfinder by the American Government, but unless she was engaged in fishing within three miles of the coast of Alaska she was not liable to lawful seizure. A report had been received that seven vessels in all had been seized. The American Government had ordered that no more vessels be seized pending judicial proceedings, and that the vessels and persons already seized be discharged, reserving all the questions involved for the negotiations at Washington. He was not prepared to state what course the Government would take in dealing with the Alaska fishery question.

GIBBONS AND M'GLYNN.

It is Charged That the Cardinal Did Not Present the Case Properly at Rome.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The Brooklyn Standard-Union this evening publishes a story to the effect that before Cardinal Gibbons left for Rome last year he was a friend of Dr. McGlynn and was friendly to his position towards the laboring man. The McGlynn case had already been agitated and a full defence of him was entrusted to Cardinal Gibbons to present at Rome, which, it is supposed, would have resulted in McGlynn being retained as pastor of St. Stephens, but the cardinal neglected to so present the case, and Dr. McGlynn was therefore excommunicated without a hearing. Dr. McGlynn vouches that the story is correct.

WESTERN UNION TAKES A JUMP.

A Report that Gould has Bought the Baltimore and Ohio Wires.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—It was reported on the Stock Exchange to-day that Jay Gould had bought the Baltimore and Ohio telegraph lines, the consideration given being $3,500,000 in Western Union stock. The announcement was followed by a wild scene in the Western Union crowd, fully 200 brokers gathering around the spot allotted to it in the Exchange, and their purchases, which were enormous, forced the price up from 77⅞ to 79¾ in less than fifteen minutes. Mr. Gould was on Wall-street for a good part of the day and in conference with members of the Baltimore and Ohio syndicate for over an hour and a half. At 3 o'clock he left for Irvington.

THE EASTERN MAIL ROUTE.

The British Government Vote £45,000 a Year to the C.P.R.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—The Government has assented to the granting of a subsidy of £45,000 yearly to the Canadian Pacific Railway for carrying the mails to and from the East.

His Head Was Crushed Between Two Cars.

DETROIT, Sept. 9.—A shocking accident occurred yesterday in the Grand Trunk Railway Company's yard at Windsor, the victim being John Plimmer, who attempted to hook safety chains on two coaches of the east-bound express. The cars came together, crushing Plimmer's head between the deadwood, and he sank to the ground unconscious, with blood gushing from his mouth, nose and ears. The injured man was carried to his home, where at a late hour he was still unconscious. Plimmer is well known in Windsor, where he has always resided. He is 39 years of age and has a wife.

The Storm on Lake Huron.

CHEBOYGAN, Mich., Sept. 9.—Incoming vessels report that the storm on Lake Huron was terrible. A heavy fleet of steamers and sail vessels weathered the gale at Treque Isle, and notwithstanding the fact that most of the vessels had both anchors down, they dragged into each other, inflicting heavy damage. The tug Waldo A. Avery, towing a raft, sprung a leak outside and had a narrow escape from foundering.

The Mayer Foundered at Port Credit.

PORT CREDIT, Sept. 9.—The schooner Rover of Oakville while attempting to make the harbor here to-day foundered on account of the bad state of the harbor. She now lays inside of the outer pier, full of water. The crew are all right.

An Unlucky Insurance Company.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 9.—The North Star Mutual Fire Insurance Company has recently met with severe losses, and has decided to go out of business. It has a surplus of $150,000 to pay losses and refund premiums amounting to $50,000.

On The Verge Of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w36d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Borton, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medecine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A Radical Change.

"I had got so bad with dyspepsia that I hardly cared whether I lived or not," says Frank A. Swain, of the Toronto Globe Office. Three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him, and he says, "it now seems a pleasure to live." 2w36d

Fine Printing.
Bowmanville News:—As fine a piece of coloured printing as we have seen for a long time is the poster for the Peterborough Central Exhibition, printed at the EXAMINER office. It is equal to work turned out of the Toronto and other large city offices.

The Kabo Corset, warranted to wear a year without breaking, is sold only at Turnbull's, the headquarters for all new and improved Corsets.

A Good Showing.
The Lindsay Post says:—"The rate of taxation at Peterborough this year is 12½ mills on the dollar for Protestant, and 13½ mills for Catholic ratepayer. A very favorable showing, indeed. At Lindsay the rate is 23 mills on the dollar."

Miss Tully, Mantle Cutter at Turnbull's, is now prepared to show all the new styles in Mantles. Orders executed promptly.

A Wrong Conclusion.
Lindsay Post:—"Barnum's circus gave Peterborough the go-by because the town and district could not afford an audience sufficiently large to pay expenses." Nothing of the sort. Barnum says people like to be fooled, and it was no doubt because Lindsay could afford a bigger audience of this sort at a lower license fee that he "gave Peterborough the go-by."

The Simcoe Street Bridge.
The stonework for the new Simcoe street bridge was completed by the contractor, Mr. H. Sherwood, ready for the iron work, this morning, and the walls seem to be safely and substantially built. The iron-work, however, is not ready and it will be several days, at least, before it is done. This of course means more delay and more inconvenience to the public and the residents in the vicinity.

Very Mildly Put.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR:—The reporter or paragraphist of the EXAMINER is, if I may be permitted the familiarity, a sarcastic "cuss." In your edition of yesterday he ingenuously asserts that "Mr. John Irwin has been offered and accepted the position of caretaker for the new post office." This is rich—"offered" and "accepted." One might as well say that the foot-pad was "offered and accepted" the purse which he demanded at the muzzle of a pistol. There was not the slightest difficulty in inducing Mr. Irwin to "accept" the position. The trouble was rather to prevent him taking it by force. And not Mr. Irwin only, but from one hundred to one hundred and fifty other faithful Tories who were after the position, each individually being armed with a promise, made last February, that he should have the position if he worked hard and voted hard for the Tory candidate in the Commons election. This formidable phalanx of place-hunters made a dead set for the office of caretaker. Each one was sure of it, and the government representative doubtless owes his election to the vigorous work of the parties, who put forth every nerve, each believing, as he had been solemnly assured, that he was the man who should have the place. I do not say that a good man has not been selected, but I do say that there are one hundred and forty-nine disappointed parties, each as much entitled, as far as solemn promises go, to the position, and I do not blame them if they are mightily disgruntled and disgusted because they should have been so grossly deceived and betrayed. No doubt, each man who received a promise was led to believe, if he was not specifically promised, that he was sure of the place. These promises, repeated ten or fifteen score times to as many persons, secured as many zealous election workers. The Street and Bridge Inspectorship was worked in a similar manner, though not to so large an extent, although that place was promised to scores of persons from Ennismore to South Monaghan. If people will put their confidence in Tory politicians, they must accept the results with the best possible grace.

Yours, etc.,
ONLOOKER.

Peterborough, Sept. 10th, 1887.

P.S.—Wouldn't our member laugh in his sleeve when he read that "Mr. Irwin had been offered and accepted", etc.?"

Uncle Tom's Cabin.
Speaking of Abbey's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company, which appears in Bradburn's Opera House next Monday evening, the Cornwall Standard says:—

"There was a large audiance at Town Hall Wednesday evening to hear the rendering of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The drama though old, still has a hold upon the people that is wonderful. While the main features of the dramatization are retained, there are many new features added by the management and, as rendered by Abbey's double mammoth company, one does not see the old and familiar version, but a new and sparkling drama, retaining the familiar story One of the most pleasing features of the evening was the singing of the celebrated Hyer sisters who are acknowledged artists, besides rendering many vocal selections. They are the two Topsys. The two Marks keep the audience good natured when in sight, and when either say a word there is applause. The part of Little Eva is taken by Genie Furaman, who is but four years old, and acts her part in a remarkably truthful manner. The entire company took their parts well, and presented a most pleasing performance. If the same company appears in town again, it may be assured of a crowded house."

Instantaneous Photographs.
Notice the fine irony and withering sarcasm conveyed in the following item from the Belleville Intelligencer:—"Our former townsman Mr. R.M. Roy, of Peterborough, has been astonishing the natives of that backwoods town with some specimens of his work as a "knight of the dark room." Several of the leading stores are exhibiting instantaneous photographs taken by him. The success attained by Mr. Roy may be imagined when in one photograph, he has taken a bicycle race, at the second when three competitors were within two or three yards of the judges stand, and were neck and neck going at their greatest speed. The figures of the bicyclists are as sharp as if they had "stood" for their photographs. Another is of a celebrated cricket match, and the photograph actually has caught the ball in its rapid transit."

Lindsay High School.
By request of the board of education, Mr. Seath, high school inspector, visited Lindsay on Tuesday and spent the afternoon in looking over the plans for the new high school building, the school grounds, and other matters, with several members of the school board. Mr. Seath spoke very highly of the plans and of the grounds. The question of locating the new building was discussed, and the weight of opinion was in favor of the western end of the grounds and not the eastern end. Tenders will be called for and the contract let as soon as possible, so that a great deal of preliminary work may be done this fall, and the building be finished in time for the fall opening a year hence.—Post. It is expected the building will cost $20,000, a by-law for that amount having been passed.

Prolific Plums
Mr. Wm. McAllister, of South Monaghan, has left with the EXAMINER a branch of a blue damson plum tree about three feet long, broken by the wind, which is laden with hundreds of plums, clustered along the stem like grapes. If this is a sample of the annual behavior of Mr. McAllister's plum trees, it would pay him to plant his whole farm to plums.

The Coal Field.
Campbellford Herald:—Nothing is being done at present at the coal mine in Rawdon township, which we noticed some weeks ago. We believe that further investigation is to be made to learn whether the deposit is worth mining. An experienced gentleman, of Pennsylvania, will visit the place during this month, when, perhaps, the question of the existence or non-existence of coal will be set at rest.

Market Items.

Peterborough vs. Campbellford.

The return match between these two clubs was played on the P. A. A. A. Grounds, yesterday, and resulted in an easy win for the home-team, although they were were without the services of Messrs. W. A. Stratton, R. B. Rogers and H. Ray—all sure run getters.

Peterborough batted first, and from the stand made by the first three men it was thought that a much longer score would have been made than was the result. Max Hamilton, who has been singularly unfortunate this year, when playing for Peterborough came off in quite his old form, his 26 being got without a mistake. Thomas showed his pummelling powers by getting 21 in as many minutes, and "Baker", who in all his twenty years' playing never played in finer form than he is doing this year, played a fine steady innings for 15. The third wicket fell for 60, but before the score had reached 84, seven wickets had fallen; at that juncture, however, Edwy Stratton and Sabine made a most useful stand, the score being 116 when Sabine was bowled for a well played 15. Only ten men batted and the score amounted to 129. Stratton, who had well kept up the family repetation as cricketers, being not out with an excellent 23. Horkins was the most successfully bowler, his share being six wickets for 62 runs; but the fielding, with the exception of Platt's "pointing", was not nearly so good as Campbellford fielding generally is.

Campbellford's first innings was a procession, no one seeming able to play Sabine's bowling. In the first innings he performed the "hat" trick, bowling out Tate, Ferris and Horkins in three consecutive balls. All the Peterborough players at once rushed forward to offer congratulations—and their hats, except the bald-headed ones. His analysis in this inningsis something wonderful, viz: 6¼ overs, 3 maidens, for 6 runs and 8 wickets—a truly remarkable performance. Hamilton had bad luck, three or four catches being missed from his bowling, although the innings amounted to only 21.

Following on, the visitors did better, scoring 49, of which Tait got 15 and Daley 11 in good style. Sabine and Hamilton again started to bowl well, 5 wickets going for 16 runs; they were then changed to give some of the other bowlers a trial, and Stratton Jr. followed up his batting by getting 3 wickets for 7 runs. The Peterborough fielding was only fair, the only noticeable item being a fine catch by Stirling from a lofty hit to the on. Score:

A Double Runaway.
About noon to-day Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald's horse, with wagon attached, ran away from near Hazlett's mill, down Water street to Fitzgerald & Stanger's carriage works, where it collided with a horse and wagon standing in front of the shop while its owner, Mr. "Ned" Conroy, was inside, and started it off also. Fitzgerald's horse fell just there, and was captured. The wagon was badly damaged. Mr. Conroy's horse whirled around the Kennealy house corner upon George street, took the sidewalk at Butcher's variety store and dashed down through the crowds of pedestrians who thronged the way without injuring anyone. At Ostrom's fruit store where there is scarce room for three people to pass between the benches of fruit in front of the store and on the edge of the sidewalk, this clever animal steered its way accurately, only touching one basket and spilling a few peaches. At the corner of Hunter street the runaway "circled to the left," and was stopped in front of Hutchinson's, the wagon and harness considerably damaged and the horse just a little winded. Everyone admired the cleverness of the brute in so successfully guiding its course through the hundreds of people among which it passed and scattered right and left. Only one man was knocked down, and he was not injured.

Another Appointment.
Mr. E. E. Henderson has received in addition to the many other insurance offices he represents, the appointment of Agent for this District of the "Atlas" Fire Insurance Company 'of England, founded in 1808, Capital $6,000,000.00. This is one of the oldest, most substantial and best managed Fire offices in Great Britain. One of its chief features being the promptness with which it settles its losses. In extending its business to this country, with its splendid reputation, there is scarcely a doubt but the "Atlas" will at once rank among the first of the large British Fire offices established in Canada, and its selection of an agent for Peterborough, in the person of Mr. Henderson, is a guarantee that as far as the district he represents, is concerned, the prediction will be borne out by results satisfactory to both the insuring public and the company. The "Atlas" makes the fifth leading Fire Insurance office he now represents, besides the "British Empire," Mutual Life and the Accident Insurance Company of North America.

Inland Revenue Change.
An Order in Council has issued, changing the inland revenue divisions and districts. According to this the new Peterborough district with headquarters in this town, comprises the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham, Victoria and Haliburton. This is the largest division in the province, except that of Toronto.

Examiner Bindery.
Merchants and business men, now is the time to call at the EXAMINER bindery and leave your orders for journals, day books, ledgers, invoice books, cheque books, and all blank books used in business. Don't wait till the moment you want to use them. All blank books last longer for not being used immediately after being finished.

Hazel Bros Tomatoes.
The EXAMINER'S thanks are due to the gardener of the Hazel Bros Barnardo Home, for a dozen of magnificent tomatoes.

News Nuggets.

—Wild ducks are not nearly so plentiful as they were years ago.

—Rochester Fruit and Confectionery Store, George street, north. E. G. STONE.

—The farmers are busily engaged seeding and a large area of fall wheat is being sown.

—Call at the Rochester Fruit Store for confectionery, if you want the choicest kind.

—Bear stories are beginning to arrive from the grand district. Almost every township has its "scare."

—The gas arch on George street is about the only remaining landmark of the Queen's Jubilee celebration.

—The gravel train is getting ballast from the pit west of Campbellford, and filling up the "sinks" along the Grand Junction.

—Mr. George D. Raisle, of Campbellford, died rather suddenly Monday evening, presumably from blood poisoning.

—Twenty-five men are at work pushing along the erection of the big engine house at the Grand Trunk railway works at Lindsay.

—The water company are making good progress with their work on Aylmer street north. They expect to have the pipe line laid to Smith street by this evening.

—The autumnal tints in nature's great garden are beginning to appear in all their beauty. Like the plants and herbs, the trees have been affected by the drouth, and are putting on their fall dress nearly a month earlier than they usually do.

—An automatic mechanical device, representing the tipsy attempts of an inebriated man, who has "just been down to the club", to unlock the door of his house, while his angry spouse lectures him from the window above, is on exhibition in the show window of Habiliment Hall. It always attracts a crowd.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Father Laurent, V.G., of Lindsay, called at the EXAMINER office yesterday.

Mr. G. H. Malins, of King-ton, will conduct the services in the Baptist church to-morrow.

Rev. I. Tovell will preach to-morrow in Charlotte Street Methodist church, both forenoon and evening.

La Minerve mentions the name of Rev. Abbe Laurent as the new bishop of Sault Ste. Marie, which is to be formed out of the Diocese of Toronto.

The London Advertiser says:—"The Rev. R. Macknight, B.A., of Peterborough, has accepted a unanimous call by the congregation of Dunnville, and it is probable that the ordination and induction will take place on Sept. 27."

Brotherly Oddfellowship.

The Ottawa Uniformed Canton to Their Peterborough Friends.

Capt. McNeil, of Canton, Peterborough, No. 10, I.O.O.F., has received a handsome group picture of the Ottawa Canton, 30x24 inches, and a fine specimen of the photographic art. It is on exhibition in the window of Habiliment Hall. The gift is accompanied by an address, engrossed in the highest style of caligraphy, recognizing the kindly treatment accorded the local canton by the Peterborough lodge during the former's recent pleasant visit to that western town. The address has not yet arrived, but is expected every day. The Free Press publishes a copy of it, as follows:—

Canton Outaouais, No. 9, I.O.O.F.
OTTAWA, August 27th, 1887.

DEAR BROTHERS AND CHEVALIERS,—The officers and chevaliers of Canton Outaouais No. 9, do hereby endeavor to show their appreciation of the many kindnesses and courtesies extended to us by you, the ladies in waiting, and the people generally during our visit to your beautiful town, by presenting to you a group picture of our Canton, which we trust you will receive with as much pleasure and brotherly love as we feel in presenting it.

We would indeed consider that we were wanting in common courtesy, to say nothing of the brotherly bearing that we owe one another, were we not in some way to express our appreciation of the enjoyable time afforded us while in Peterborough, and it is with the greatest pleasure that we present to you this memorial of friendship. Our greatest desire is to see new Cantons instituted, our membership increased, and our forces grow to that strength that will make our representation, as a portion of the great and good Independent Order of Oddfellows, equal, if not surpassing, that of any other organization.

With these aims in view, with the desire that you should keep us in remembrance, that you will accept this mere token of gratitude and to allow it to decorate the walls of your lodge, we wish your Canton every success.

Signed on behalf of Canton Outaouais, No. 9: Capt. Grant, Lieut. Hooper, Ensign Daniels, Clerk Johns, Accountant Cameron, Staff Sergt. Parnell.

AMERICA'S BIG PRISONS.

THE KEEPERS OF GREAT LOCKUPS OF TWO NATIONS IN SESSION.

Opening of an Interesting International Congress—Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes and Other Distinguished Reformers Among the Delegates.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.

"I was in prison and ye came unto me."—Matthew xxv., 36. A pleased lot of Americans are those delegates to the National Prison Congress and their ladies who attended the public meeting of welcome in the Pavilion on Saturday night. They are delighted with their reception, and well they may be, for the welcome meeting was a success from every point of view. The notables surrounded Mayor Howland, the chairman, on the platform, while many others occupied seats on the floor and in the gallery. There was a good turnout of citizens and the indications are that the sessions of the Congress, which open to-day, will be largely attended by those people of Toronto who are interested in prison work.

Over the platform was a scroll bearing the words: "Those above you need not your help, but those below you," while at the other end of the Pavilion was the Scriptural quotation: "I was in prison and ye came unto me." The Union Jack, flanked on both sides by the Stars and Stripes, occupied a central position.

Sir Alexander Campbell Makes a Speech.

The Mayor, in a few felicitous words, introduced Sir Alexander Campbell, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. He made an admirable speech, in which, on behalf of those present and the entire Province of Ontario, he gave a hearty welcome to the members of the Congress. He eulogized their beneficent work, and pointed out as an important matter for their consideration the difficulty in Canada of providing for the adequate distribution of prisoners. Many of the jails were not large enough for the systematic classification of prisoners. This was highly desirable, and light would doubtless be thrown on this question during the Congress.

Sir Alexander next referred to the recently-published statements as to the alleged lamentable state of the Toronto jail, and said that his sympathies were with the jailer, who seemed to have done all that was in his power, considering the limited facilities of the prison. The prisoners ought to be separated into classes, so that young and first offenders would not be associated with the habitual criminal. Their object was to repress crime without cruelty and unnecessary severity. This was one of the points which the Prison Congress wished to inculcate—"merciful severity." The Lieutenant-Governor then expatiated on the necessity of an extradition treaty between the United States and Canada. He corrected the misapprehensions on this subject, which had led to Canada being held up to ridicule as a place of refuge for parties guilty of breach of trust and other crimes.

"Don't suppose," said Sir Alexander, "that we want such refugees. God knows that we would rather not have them." At length he narrated the steps which had been taken to secure an extradition treaty. The Governments of Great Britain had tried again and again to negotiate such a treaty with the United States, and it was matter of regret that a treaty which the speaker had himself once had not yet been signed. This, he assured the meeting, was not the fault of England. As showing the public feeling in the States on extradition, he narrated two instances in which the Americans willingly handed criminals back to the Canadian authorities, who duly visited them with condign punishment. The first case was that of the forced return of an escaped murderer from Kingston, who was ultimately hanged, and the other a case of bringing Manitoba horse-stealers back to the frontier, where the Mounted Police were glad to see them. [Laughter]. These actions showed a proper sentiment, good sense and kindly feeling, and he felt confident that the Congress of the United States will be prepared to give legal sanction to such extradition. The Lieut.-Governor closed his able speech amid a round of applause.

The Minister of Education Heard From.

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, gave an admirable address, which was highly appreciated. He praised the earnestness with which the Province of Ontario had addressed itself to the work of curing for the criminal population, and said it was a matter of satisfaction that in Ontario there had been a decline in the number of criminals. In the last ten years the population had increased 20 per cent., and in the same period the criminal portion of it had been reduced 10 per cent. [Applause.] He trusted this gratifying state of things would continue, and that there would be less work for the police and magistrates than during the last few decades. An ounce of prevention was better than a pound of cure, and the honorable gentleman hoped much good would result from the various remedial and educational measures.

There were 10,000 persons in the Ontario jails in 1886, and, deducting 4000 "drunks and disorderlies" and 3000 "vagrants," there was a very small criminal population for this large and populous province. How were they to be relieved from maintaining 3000 tramps! They would be glad to hear from the Congress on that point. [Applause.] Another important consideration was that out of the 10,000 prisoners 7775 were reported "of intemperate habits," and 2000 were unable to read and write. This was a large proportion of illiteracy, and they were driven to the conclusion that there was a connection between illiteracy and crime. In Ontario there were also 10,000 children who did not attend school, and he was afraid they would supply a large proportion of the criminal population hereafter. School inspectors were cheaper than jail wardens, school-houses than prisons. [Applause.]

An Ovation to Ex-President Hayes.

His Worship then introduced Hon. Rutherford B. Hayes, who had been the "Citizen King" of America.

The ex-President received an ovation, and gave an interesting address. The extempore portion of it was humorous and very effective, but the strictly "business" part had not such an effect, as it was read by the hon. gentleman. After returning thanks for the cordial reception, he gave an account of the origin and progress of the Prison Association. Its objects, as stated in its charter and constitution, are:

1. The amelioration of the laws in relation to public offences and offenders, and the mode of proceedure by which such laws are enforced.

2. The improvement of the penal, correctional and reformatory institutions throughout the country, and the management, government and discipline thereof, including the appointment of boards of control and other officers.

3. The care of and procuring suitable and remunerative employment for discharged prisoners, and especially for such as may or shall have given evidence of a reformation of life.

Continuing, the ex-President said:

The National Prison Association has held successful and instructive general meetings in Cincinnati, Baltimore, Saratoga, St. Louis, Detroit, and Atlanta, Ga., and special meetings in New York, Chicago and other cities. Persons taking part in all the proceedings of its meetings have been the most distinguished practical experts who have the control and management of the leading penal and reformatory institutions of America. If you name the famous prisons and reformatories and the eminent specialists at their head you will find that you have named prominent and influential members of this society. In like manner the eminent students and writers—those who have investigated at home and abroad the whole subject of prisons and prison discipline are active participants in the work of this association.

Among the questions which have been discussed the following are some of those which may be considered settled in the judgment of the Association:

1. As to jails, prison reform declares that the county jail system as administered in the United States is a disgrace to civilization and that the administration of justice cannot be freed from the charge of maintaining training schools of crime until the construction and management of these places are radically changed so that their inmates shall be separately confined and all contamination of intercourse rendered impossible. The county jail should secure such separation that no prisoner shall be allowed to associate with any other prisoner.

2. Prison reform requires that wherever it is practicable there shall be separate prisons for women with officers of their own sex, and that in no prison in which women are held under charge of a male warden matrons or female officers ought to be in constant attendance.

3. Prison reform urges the adoption of indefinite rules under which the habitual criminal—the more formal convict shall always be held within prison walls. Is it not a reproach to the administration of criminal justice that well-known professional criminals, after repeated convictions, are still at large preying upon the community and requiring the constant and vigilant efforts of the police to protect life and property?

4. The friends of prison reform hold that promptness and certainty in the detection and punishment of crime are the chief agencies by which the society can protect itself against the criminal class; and that the deterrent forces of the law now lose a part of their value through the needless delays, uncertainties and irregularities of criminal jurisprudence; they therefore earnestly recommend such changes in the laws and their administration that judgment against crime shall be executed with certainty and speedily.

5. Prison reform would abolish in all prisons vindictive personal punishments. It aims to find the best discipline in prisons we must appeal to something better than the lash, the thumb screw, or other forms of physical torture. There may be exceptional cases, but certainly they are very rare.

6. Prison reform encourages organized Christian effort to aid and care for prisoners after their discharge. In most cases now society does not give the discharged convict a chance to avoid his old haunts and his old companions in crime. The brand of Cain is upon him and every man's hand is against him.

7. Prison reform recommends the general education of the youth of both sexes in industrial pursuits, employing and training the faculties of both mind and body in productive labor, as an efficient means of preventing crime.

In conclusion the hon. gentleman said: All peoples are within the scope of the comprehensive benevolence of John Howard. All civilized peoples have in some measure shared in the blessings conferred by his philanthropic labors. All who have caught the spirit of his reform, whether on this side or on that of a national boundary line, are not merely at one with each other, but among the intelligent and the good their work is always in order, and they find themselves in the best sense of the phrase altogether and always at home. [Loud applause, during which the speaker resumed his seat.]

The proceedings terminated with the playing of "God Save the Queen."

UNABLE TO RAISE A LOAN.

The Rails for the Red River Road Held at Montreal for Cost and Freight.

MONTREAL, Sept. 12.—Hon. A. C. Lariviere, Provincial Treasurer of Manitoba, has been in Montreal for several days attempting to raise a temporary loan on Manitoba bonds to release the rails for the Red River Valley Railway, which have been lying on the docks at Montreal for a month, having been consigned to a bank in Montreal subject to cost and freight.

It is understood that the wealthy Seminary of St. Sulpice had the matter under consideration for a day or two, but finally declined to make the loan. It is reported that an attempt is now to be made in Boston to raise the money, New York having been tried without success.

The securities offered by the Manitoba Government are looked upon with great distrust by financial men here. It is neither believed that the bonds have been legally issued nor that the Manitoba Government has any means for paying obligations incurred for railway purposes, especially such as are incurred in contravention of the authority of the Dominion Government, since Manitoba depends upon its subsidy from the Dominion Government for its funds.

Seventy Persons Injured.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 11.—While a revival was in progress in the upper part of a brick building at Needmore, a small inland village to-day, the floor gave way. Sixty or seventy persons were precipitated to the ground. Every person in the county had been summoned to the place.

THE EFFECTS OF SALISBURY'S POLICY.

The Victims of the Encounter Will be Given a Public Funeral, Which Will be Made the Occasion of Another Demonstration—O'Brien Arrested.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The killing of two men at Mitchelstown, Ireland, yesterday by the police has caused a great sensation here and will give an entirely new turn to Monday's debate. It may even prolong the session a day or so. The whole country is excited, and it will be hardly possible to avoid further disturbances.

The Daily News correspondent describes everything as passing off joyously until a Government reporter tried to get within hearing of Mr. Dillon, who was speaking from a waggonette. Twenty police escorted him. The crowd obstructed the way. Stones were thrown at the police—first a few and then a shower. The police fled, hundreds of angry men pursuing with shouts and yells. It was impossible to resist the crowd. The constables fled for their lives, and the square in less than a minute was in possession of a mob. The police, reinforced, return to the charge. The mob breaks and rushes away into the side streets. A crowd of fugitives at the upper end of the square are bludgeoned unresisting. It looks as if the police would be swallowed up like drops in the ocean. It is a fearful scene of maddened humanity. Then come dreadful sounds. Firing has begun. It lasts a minute or two. Two men are killed and one wounded. Then the police take possession of the square. Then the infantry arrive, the excitement calms down, and the procession moves off again, bands playing and banners streaming.

Mr. Balfour Defends the Police.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Sexton appealed to the Government to give such justification as they could for the murderous acts of the police at Mitchelstown yesterday. It was beyond doubt, he said, that the bloodshed resulted from a wanton attack of armed forces upon a body of citizens engaged in the exercise of their undoubted constitutional right of public meeting. On every previous occasion application had been made for the accommodation of a Government reporter and had never been refused. This time no application was made, but another course adopted whose apparent object was to excite the passions of the people and provoke them to violence. [Parnellite cheers]. Who ordered the firing? What steps have been taken to identify the men who committed the murders? The catastrophe was the inevitable result of the language and acts of the Government, who had found it easier to begin than to end the conflict. [Cheers.]

Mr. Balfour replied that Sexton had given an account of the affair some minute and detailed than any he could lay before the House, but which differed in every vital and substantial particular from the accounts the Government had received. A Government reporter, said Balfour, under escort of police, attempted to approach the vehicle from which the speakers were going to address the people. Condos shouted to the people to close up against the police. That was the signal for an assault on the police, utterly unprovoked and of the most violent and brutal character. They were pelted with stones and blackthorn sticks, thrown out of formation, ridden down by men on horseback and driven back inside the barracks. The doors and windows of the barracks were broken, and it was then, in self-defence, that the shots were fired. [Cheers.] If this account were true, as he believed it was, there never had been a more wanton or brutal attack upon the police. [Renewed cheers.]

Sexton asked: "Do you deny that the space around the barracks was entirely free when the shots were fired?"

Balfour, in reply, said that he had given the substance of reports telegraphed to him. Fifty-four police were struck, twenty severely injured. The men did no more than their duty in supporting to their means of defence in last necessity. The responsibility rested with the band of politicians calling themselves the leaders of the Irish people, who spoke of the Government reporters as spies. All those persons, instead of talking about constitutional agitation, had exercised their influence to keep the people within the law, the country would not have to deplore these scenes.

J. O'Connor justified Condon's advice to the people to close their ranks. The Irish members, he said, were doing their best to restrain the people, while the Irish officials were doing their utmost to provoke them.

Sir Edward Reed warned the Government that the English electors would resent interference with public meetings. The people of Great Britain would not allow their fellow-subjects in Ireland to be treated as the people of Mitchelstown had been treated.

O'Brien Arrested.

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—Mr. O'Brien was arrested to-day while seeing Mr. Labouchere off on the steamer.

A Public Funeral for the Victims.

MITCHELLSTOWN, Sept. 11.—The town has been quiet to-day. The victims of the fight on Friday will be given a public funeral on Monday, which will be made the occasion of a great demonstration. The mass Shanly and the boy Casey are dying from the effects of the wounds they received on Friday. Casey's antemortem deposition has been taken. He states that he was standing near Shanly at one corner of the square when Head Constable O'Sullivan came to a window of the barracks and fired at him. Four witnesses confirm this statement. The Nationalists say they have evidence to establish the identity of the policeman who shot Riordan.

DOINGS AT THE CAPITAL.

The Engines for the New Niagara Steamer to Come in Duty Free.

OTTAWA, Sept. 11.—Hon. C. F. Cornwall, ex-Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, has been appointed by the Dominion Government a commissioner, to act with a commissioner to be appointed by the British Columbia Government, to visit the Naas River and enquire into the trouble which has arisen between the two tribes of Indians there with regard to certain fishing rights which both tribes claim.

An order-in-council has been passed authorizing the admission into Canada duty free of the marine engines manufactured in England for the new steel steamer, twin to the Chicora, now being built at Deseronto for the Niagara Navigation Company. The class of engines required cannot be obtained in Canada, and as the whole vessel, engines and all, if built in England, would be entitled to register in Canada free of duty, it was considered only equitable that inasmuch as the hull, boilers, etc., had been made in Canada and had given employment to a large amount of skilled labor the engines should be admitted duty free.

Prof. Saunders left for British Columbia last night to examine sites for an experimental farm there.

The experimental farm authorities continue to receive encouraging letters from Manitoba touching the success of the Russian wheat there. All point to the fact that it ripens several weeks earlier than the red fyfe. The Manitobans feel that they have stolen a march on the early frosts, and that they will make good use of the knowledge in the future.

Advices received from Hon. Mr. Chapleau show that his health continues to improve. He will sail for Canada on Oct. 6.

An address and petition from the electors of the County of Huron, praying that an election may be held in that county to revoke the order-in-council bringing the Scott Act into force, has been filed with the Secretary of State.

A High School Re-Union at Port Perry.

PORT PERRY, Sept. 10.—The High School reunion took place last night. The performers were Miss McGrory, Miss Ross and Miss Shaw, and Messrs. McMurtry, Halliday and Agar.

The School Glee Club sang a selection from "The Little Tycoon;" some of the boys sang "Johnny Schmoker," and the girls' calisthenic brigade calisthenicked.

Chinese lanterns, etc., made the grounds look attractive.

A Heavy Gale on Lake Huron.

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 10.—The steam barge Chamberlain and her consort Victor of Windsor arrived here last evening, loaded with grain from Chicago to Midland. While going through Saginaw Bay she encountered a fearful gale, having to throw over her coal and part of her cargo to save the vessel from foundering. She lost her lines, blocks, tackle and some canvas. She is in a bad shape, leaking and some of the cargo is damaged.

KNIGHTS AT THE FAIR.

PLUMES, SWORDS AND UNIFORMS IN DRILL AND ON PARADE.

The Receipts of the First Week Exceed Those of Last Year by $2115—Amusements in the Horse Ring.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.

Saturday night at 10 o'clock the turnstiles at Exhibition Park closed on 26,410 paid admissions since the opening of the fair on Tuesday. The receipts at the gates, at 25 cents per head, for these five days amounted to $6602. This is $2115 in excess of the first week of last year, although it must be remembered that in 1886 the opening was a day later, on Wednesday. The weather of the past week has not been any too favorable for drawing a large crowd; there was too much wind and too strong a suspicion of rain during most of the time. However, if the present week proves favorable as to weather the turnstiles will no doubt give an excellent account of themselves by Friday night. Last year the total receipts were about $10,000; this year they ought to be $20,000, with plenty of sunshine and no rain.

By days the comparison between the first week of 1886 and 1887 is:

	1887.	1886	Inc.
Tuesday	$ 414		....
Wednesday	791	$ 600	....
Thursday	2233	444	....
Friday	1972	1233	....
Saturday	2200	2000	....
	$6610	$4705	$2115

To-day will begin the first day of the second week with every department open. Saturday and yesterday the live stock pens and stalls were rapidly filling up, and it may be now said that the great fair is really in full blast.

The Uniformed Societies.

The great event of Saturday was the parade of several uniformed societies of the city to the exhibition. The rendezvous was in the Queen-street-avenue at 1.30, from whence the different orders marched to the park via Queen, Yonge, King, Simcoe, Queen and Brock to the wharf at the foot of this thoroughfare, where they embarked for the park. The Grenadier Band headed the procession.

Racing in the Horse Ring.

Among the attractions in the horse ring were the pacing, trotting and running contests. The races in every instance were easy victories for the winners. The pacers were the first called out and six responded to the bell. The heat and race was easily won by Nettie C, who captured three heats in succession. The other contest to harness was a special purse given for the trotters that were late arriving for the previous day's trottingevents. This event brought out four starters and was won in three straight heats by Hog Spur Girl. The hunt race over hurdles furnished the most excitement of the afternoon, and although it was a runaway victory for Pawnbroker it aroused great enthusiasm among the spectators and to many was quite a novelty. The route led off at the start, but as soon as Pawnbroker warmed up to his work he had no trouble in overhauling the brown gelding, who was outclassed by the thoroughbred. Located, the other candidate was beaten off, after stopped at several of the jumps. George Hugabeem and F. Hodgson were the judges of the harness contests and T. B. Taylor timer. C. T. Mead and R. Bond acting as judges for the runners.

PRISON WARDENS MEET.

How to Spot Criminals—The New Method for Their Identification.

The annual congress of the United States Wardens' Association for the Registration of Criminals was held on Saturday in the theatre of the Normal School. There was a numerous attendance of wardens, the principal prisons of the States having representatives present. Mr. Joseph Nicholson of the Detroit House of Correction presided.

The wardens' association is a distinct body from the National Prison Association of the United States, though they are members of that organization. Hence the wardens meet annually during the week of the Prison Congress, their place of assembly last year being Detroit. They are increasing in numbers, and their deliberations have proved of great service in reference to the best means of registering habitual criminals.

The chairman, in his opening address, said the originators of the association had endeavored to keep the managers of all penal institutions posted on their efforts and aims. The association was satisfied that the organization was very much needed, and would prove to be in the right direction. They trusted that no theories would prevent the hearty co-operation of every penal institution in the land. The association sought to make known the real desert of every criminal by knowing his percentage, moral perceptibilities, physical structure, habits of life and the temptations under which he fell into criminal pursuits. With these facts easily obtained, there would be no difficulty in discriminating the first offenders from one of the criminal class. These records would work no injury to those imprisoned for the first time as long as they kept from criminal practices, but failing in this they would be dealt with as criminals. The time was not far distant when society would be forced to demand less indifference and less sentimentality on the question how to deal with criminals. The deterrent power of fear had its place in reformatories, but fear of brutal punishments had proved a failure, and the association was now seeking to make the deterrent power of fear more potent by practically wise and humane treatment. They recognized the necessity for intermediate prisons with such laws as would give a reasonable opportunity, by suitable education to eradicate criminal desires and fan into greater strength the spark of manhood that lingered in every human being. The records of the association would be of immeasurable benefit. To make the association a success they asked the co-operation of every prison manager, and they would soon have an accurate register of every criminal in the country.

M'GARIGLE'S ESCAPE.

Dr. St. John and the Captains of the Blake and the Marsh Indicted.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Nine indictments were returned by the grand jury to-day against four persons alleged to have been abettors in the McGarigle escape. Dr. Leonard St. John of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Levi Dell, janitor of the same college, Capt. John Irving, commander of the schooner Edward Blake, and Capt. John Freer, commander of the George A. Marsh. There were two indictments brought against each for conspiracy to effect the escape of a prisoner and assisting the escape of a prisoner and for assisting the escape of a prisoner after conviction. The indictment charges St. John with perjury and doubtless refers to his testimony before the July grand jury, which is represented as denying any connection with the escape. Assistant State's Attorney Longnecker says a very strong circumstantial case has been made against the four men.

St. John and Dell were arrested to-night and spent an hour in jail before securing bondsmen. Security to the amount of $10,000 was exacted from the doctor and $500,000 from the janitor.

The Montreal Warrant.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—A bench warrant for the arrest of McGarigle, the Chicago "boodler," will be placed in the hands of a detective for execution. The date of the officer's departure for the west is kept secret, in fact it is not known in whose hands the warrant has been placed.

McGarigle Expelled From the Masonic Body.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—A special meeting of Lincoln Park Lodge No. 651 was held last night for the purpose of taking action on the charges of un-Masonic conduct preferred against William J. McGarigle, a member of that lodge. Every precaution was taken to prevent the decision arrived at being made public, even visiting brethren being informed that only members of the lodge would be admitted. The lodge unanimously voted to expel the accused member.

THE DAY OF DECADENCE.

There are not wanting indications from time to time, that Sir John Macdonald will eventually "come to the end of his tether"—that his "run of luck" in the game of politics will take a turn. His political career, has been one huge game. He has never been influenced by principle, but by policy. He has always, therefore, been shifty and insincere, appealing for support to Canadians—not to their higher natures, but to the base principle of self interest. Like a skilful general he has played off one enemy against another, one interest against another, and with remarkable cunning and success. He has been wonderously lucky in holding winning cards, and to his credit as political sharp, he has played them well. But his time-honored tricks are getting more transparent, and his victims are getting weary of being victimized and fed on empty promises. It is difficult to understand how Sir John can make a promise—he has made so many and redeemed so few, that, one would think, the supply was getting exhausted. He has been used to nauseating adulation all his life, but within a recent period he is hearing more plain language than he has been accustomed to do. The Manitoba Conservatives have drawn the line at which they will submit to unjust treatment, even for the "old man's" sake, and some of his old time journalistic supporters are giving him some wholesome advice in a strain far different from the honeyed harangues of the past. The Montreal Star, which, as a government organ, has been primus inter pares, as a subservient, not to say sycophantic, supporter, has taken to talking in the following significant manner. The Star says:—

"When will Sir John Macdonald give the more thoughtful portion of the public the satisfaction of hearing from him something elevating in tone, something adapted to awaken in the minds of Canadians generally a sense of duty to their country, and not a mere greed for local advantages at the general expense? We grieve to have to record the fact that in his tour last year through the Ontario constituencies, hardly anything was heard from our veteran statesman, but a continuous appeal for support for his Government on the ground that it had done such and such things for the several constituencies, and had put money into people's pockets through the National Policy. And we grieve further to notice the same tone again in the Premier's New Brunswick speeches. He drops a hint to the people of St. Stephen that they had better "press on the Government the necessity for some practical return to the town from the large expenditure made upon the railways of the country." Ever the old note—support me and it will be money in your pocket! Really, is this the highest lesson in public duty and political principle that the man who has reached the very summit of honor in this country can teach? There is no mistake about it; the public opinion of Canada is terribly apathetic."

WEATHER NOTES.—August of 1887 will be handed down to rising generations as being one of the hottest and driest on record. It commenced at 88° in the shade at 3 p.m., gradually increasing and on the 4th at 97° and 5th at 98°, which is a very rare occurance in this part of Canada. The lowest during the month was on the 27th, standing at 55°, leaving the mean temperature at 62° 97/31. We had 4 thunder storms during the month, but with the exception of that on the 5th, when, in 7 hours, there fell 2¾ inches of water, we had little; rain falling in 10 days to the depth of 2 inches and 97/100 of an inch. We had white frost on 5 mornings, the first being on the morning of the 13th

Ploughing is progressing very slowly owing to the continued dry weather, but the horse and steam threshers are now doing their best.

The following is the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, respectively, namely: north 7 days, north-east 2 days, east 3 days, south-west 2 days, north-west 3 day, south-east 2 days, south 4 days, and west 3 days.

THE monopolist newspaper organs say that the farmers of Canada are, thanks to the high tariff, a prosperous, happy and contented class. On the other hand they say that the American farmer is in an "unhappy condition"—presumably all on account of high tariff also.

THE QUEEN OF PERFUMES—"Lotus of the Nile." midw

We hear from the annexationist press a great deal about the Canadian sugar ring, from which we get at least cheaper sugar than we did prior to the N.P. period, but from that press we hear little or nothing against the United States coal ring, because "it is American, you know."—Toronto World.

The erratic orb should possess its soul in patience. People in general pay attention to the sins when it pinches. When the public are in the midst of the preserving season they find that the sugar shoe pinches, and that accounts for the newspapers denouncing the sugar rings. When they begin to buy and pay for their coal they will be in a position to feelingly animadvert upon the sins of the Yankee coal combination. A legitimate desire for closer commercial relations with the American people leads to the dubbing of the newspapers advocating more intimate trade relations, as "annexationist press". Comparatively, they are, however, sentimental sinners. The Tory party, as represented by the Dominion Government, are practical annexationists. They buy dredges from the Yankees, which can be made better and more cheaply in Canada. They buy Yankee printing presses for the Government Printing Bureau offices, ignoring completely Canadian agents and British manufacturers. When the Tory Government framed a discriminating tariff against Great Britain the Tory declaration was, that if Great Britain did not like it, it could go—"so much the worse for British connection." The Tory party which poses as the pink of patriotism, furnishes the only instance on record of a party willing to mob Her Majesty in the person of her viceroy—the only party capable of committing the crime of arson by burning Her Majesty's parliament buildings. After these things and others which could be mentioned, one cannot doubt the correctness of the saying that "patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel." Let a Tory suck the sweets of office and he is a patriot to the—pockets; turn him out of office and he is a rampant, roaring, reckless, riotous rebel.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw37

GOUGH'S CHALLENGE.

"Use your own judgment, have your wits about you," and, in this age of delusion, take no man's word unless he is prepared to prove what he asserts and is willing to back it: then you will see that a Shepherd may sometimes be one of the black sheep in disguise.

MY CHALLENGE:

I hereby Challenge the Self-styled Cheap-Side-Store, for $500 or $1000, that the following is Correct:—

1st.—That I carry Ten Times more Clothing; that I sell Twenty Times more Clothing and in many instances sell them Cheaper than Cheapsides buy them, and yet I always sell with a profit.

2nd.—That I do sell to other dealers who sell Twice the Amount of Clothing Cheapsides does, and that I can sell him, also Cheaper than he Buys in his present market, and yet I will make a profit.

3rd.—That when Cheapsides sell Grain Bags for $1.75 per dozen he makes no money out of them, and hence his reason for refusing to wholesale them at that price.

4th.—That anything the "Big Clothier" advertises to sell he makes no Stipulation as to the Amount. You may take one or you may take all he has. This is not so with Cheapsides, and consequently advertising to sell Grain Bags a $1.75 per dozen is only a decoy to catch trade.

5th.—That when Cheapsides states in his advertisement that he sold bags to the BIG CLOTHIER, he deliberately states what he knows to be false; for when the "BIG CLOTHIER" sent to buy bags he sent him back word that he did not wholesale them and refused to do so.

6th.—That not One Single Article in Cheapsides Clothing Advertisement in Weekly Review of 9th inst., is worth the money he represents them to be, and yet he warns the public to beware of Designing Dealers.

Now, Mr. Cheapside's, as you have courted a Notice from the BIG CLOTHIER, and as you are too small fry for the Wonderful Cheap Man to again notice, don't come out next week with another delusive advertisement, but either shut up or put up. Every word I herein state is true, and if you accept my Challenge I will make you swallow it or I loose my $1000.

In the meantime, I will sell Grain Bags for $1.50 per dozen (there is no money in it to me at this price,) but if you have the Backbone you profess to have, then just follow the BIG CLOTHIER—he will keep you hustling—for, remember, that the man who always Leads and never follows, is

BASEBALL SATURDAY.

All the Scores—The Standing of the Three Leagues.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.

As the present series of games with Syracuse will largely determine the relative positions of these clubs for the pennant, the game on Saturday attracted about 4000 spectators, who expected to see a close and exciting game, but were rather disappointed, as the visitors were outplayed from start to finish. Crane occupied the box for the home team, and never appeared to better advantage, only nine hits, six of which were bases on balls, being charged against him, while Oldfield caught in fine style. Dundon, the mute pitcher, was put in the box for the Stars, but was batted so hard in the first inning that he was replaced in the second by Marr, right fielder, who pitched the remainder of the game, and proved to be very wild, hitting Fnats twice and Kearns once, besides being batted all over the field.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

O'CONNOR DEFEATS HAMM.

An Aquatic Event Which Did Not Attract a Very Large Audience.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.

It was not till Tuesday last that James Hamm of Boston, the backer of Albert Hamm, consented to have that oarsman meet Wm. O'Connor of this city upon the Island course in their previously engaged three-mile race for $200 a side. Several aquatic towns were desirous of having the race rowed on their water, but were not prepared to put up sufficient funds to justify the selection of either. Consequently the race was decided on the Bay Saturday afternoon, Doty Bros. offering a large percentage of the ferry receipts, which it was thought would amount to a big figure. In this the parties interested were woefully mistaken, as not more than 200 spectators witnessed the race, and nearly all of this number viewed it from the Island docks. Very few boats fringed either side of the course, which was the same as that over which Hanlan and Teemer rowed recently, with the exception that it was duly measured. The steamers Rescue, carrying the referee and other race officials and the press representatives, the Rosamond and the Vivid were the only vessels which followed the contestants.

Owing to the declination of Mr. David Ward to act as referee, J. S. Scholes was selected for the position; Joseph Rogers, who furnished O'Connor's stake money, was judge for that oarsman, and James Keenan, Hamm's backer, filled that office for his man. H. J. P. Good was the official timekeeper. The referee went over the course several times and shortly after 4 o'clock ordered the men out. The water was in splendid condition, a slight wind which, however, did not ruffle it, blowing from the south. Both oarsmen shortly afterwards put in an appearance, O'Connor rowing in the new Warin boat, and Hamm in a Biaffie shell, and their condition seemed to be all that could be desired, each having undergone a careful preparation. O'Connor wore a blue and white guernsey and Hamm a dark blue one. In the toss for positions the Torontonian won and selected the south shore from the fact that it was better sheltered. Referee Scholes gave the word at 4.54. O'Connor getting away quickly and soon having an advantage of fully a length. He pulled a steady, strong stroke of about thirty to the minute, enabling him to increase his lead to two lengths off Mead's, but when he went by the R.C.Y.C. Hamm, who was rowing vigorously and determinedly, had reduced the lead to a length. From this point to the turning buoys there was no material change in the position of the men. O'Connor was the first to get around in 9 min. 39 sec. He made a splendid turn, an example which Hamm failed to imitate, as he steered wide in going to his buoy, and thus lost a length or more. On the return journey Hamm made a desperate spurt and off the R.C.Y.C. he had rounded up to within a half length of his opponent, who had been rowing easily. A moment later O'Connor's oars came in contact with the bow of Hamm's boat, and instantly O'Connor claimed a foul, but as both men immediately started off the referee gave no decision, which, if it had been rendered, would have been in O'Connor's favor, as Hamm was in his water. The remainder of the race needs no description, as O'Connor literally outrowed Hamm, whose spurt apparently completely played him out. O'Connor crossed the finish line in 20.16, a winner by eight lengths.

A $200,000 FIRE IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10.—The eastern section of the Fire Brigade were called out this morning for a fire in Porter & Savage's tannery and boot and shoe factory. There was a stiff wind blowing and the fire soon had the upper hand, and a full alarm was sent out. Water was scarce and it was but a short time before the whole premises were in flames. The entire tannery was destroyed besides X. Gauthier's tenement house in the rear, George Peard's grocery and Mr. Porter's establishment, which formed a quadrangle fronting on Visition, Sherbrooke and Beaudry streets. The tannery was situated on Sherbrooke-street. Between the office and shoe factory is Mr. George Peard's grocery store and tenement house, a four-story brick building. On the Beaudry-street side was a three-story belting factory. The factory and four-story tenement house belonged to Mr. Porter and was occupied by twelve families. The flames spread with lightning rapidity.

At 5.15 o'clock the front wall of the shoe factory fell outward and shortly after the upper part of the side wall fell in. Owing to this unexpected circumstance the progress of the fire was effectually checked, as the flames were thus more confined and smothered. As the engines now had a sufficient supply of water, the flames were soon under control. On the south side sparks were so thick and the heat so intense that other buildings were in danger, but were kept so well deluged with water that they were saved. The fire originated from the igniting of a shaft which had been running all night. Over 200 persons will be thrown out of employment and the total loss will be over $200,000. During the progress of the fire August Cherrier was injured by the falling of a wall of the shoe factory, but not seriously. Over $40,000 worth of stock has been destroyed in the shoe factory alone, and the loss on the stock in the tannery, belt factory and storerooms will probably not be less than $100,000. Mr. Gauthier's losses will amount to about $1500, and that of the tenants in the two other tenement houses is estimated at $6000. Hardly one of the tenants is insured. Mr. Porter is insured for $55,000. The damage to buildings is something over $65,000.

Fought to a Draw.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.—Martin Dempsey, brother to America's middle-weight champion pugilist, and James Rowan of Pittsburg fought twenty-five rounds to a draw at daybreak this morning for a purse of $300.

On The Verge Of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w36d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Borton, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medecine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. Sold at 25c. a bottle by John McKee, Druggist. eodw33

A Heavy Affair.

A Blaze at Cobourg.

A telegraphic despatch states that about half-past ten Saturday evening a fire was discovered in the sheds surrounding the Agricultural Fair grounds and about two hundred yards of them, with a dwelling, were quickly consumed. Thirteen horses, valued at $2,000, purchased by the British Government, awaiting shipment from that town, were also burned. The loss on the buildings is about $3,000, insurance not yet known.

Ambiguous Brain.

Bear stories are coming in thick and fast—in fact so thick that one must regard the most of them as being "too thin." The latest comes from Hamilton township, Northumberland county, where two men last Tuesday, the Guide says, treed and shot a large bear. Brain is gradually creeping closer on all sides, according to the "yarns." He was first heard of this season away back in Haliburton, then in Belmont township, now near Rice Lake.

Frustrated.

Some members of a family living in the south ward, who had not yet gone to bed, about 12:30 Saturday night, heard a noise outside as of some persons moving about the premises. The man of the house sallied forth and reconnoitred, but caught only a glimpse of a couple of men, who at once decamped. The men were evidently up to no good, and would likely have succeeded in their burglarious intentions but for the most timely though unusual occurrence of a late retirement by the inmates of the house.

Hon. Mr. Mowat's Return.

The Attorney-General of Ontario sailed from Liverpool on the 2nd on the Servia, and will, therefore, arrive home early this week. He has been greatly benefitted by his trip and will return to his arduous duties during with increased strength and good health. His recently purchased home on St. George street has been thoroughly overhauled and renovated during his absence.

Death of Publisher Nelson.

By cable the news comes of the death, at Edinburgh, of Mr. William Nelson, the senior member of the great publishing house there. In the old Scottish capital his loss will be keenly felt as the removal of one of its most highly esteemed citizens. His name is widely known by reason of the enterprise of the great publishing house, which has its branches in London and New York, and has long been valued for the attractive form in which it furnished pure literature to a wide class of readers, as well as for its ably-edited educational series of publications.

Manufacturing Public Opinion.

THE Toronto World vigorously jumps at conclusions when it asserts that the little coterie which talked over Commercial Union, under the auspices of the local branch of the "Imperial Federation" League, were representative of public opinion, inasmuch as the speakers were, with an exception or two, all Conservatives, and the audience numbered only about two score. It would be obviously unfair to construe the prejudged opinions of the speakers and audience into an expression of public opinion of the people of this town and county. The World also states that the local league is intending to disseminate literature giving the Canadian side of the case. We have the authority of the president of the league to state, that the local league has no such literature and no such intentions. Whatever the merits or demerits of Commercial Union, the little clique of last Thursday night in no way represented public opinion. They simply represented themselves. The enterprise of the local reporters anxious to get matter at a dull season, solely accounts for the prominence given the meeting. It attracted otherwise little or no public attention.

Sweet Singers.

The Ottawa Free Press, of the 2nd instant, says:—"The name of Uncle Tom's Cabin requires, like good wine, no bush, and the crowd which filled the Opera House this afternoon where Abbey's company gave their matinee, only serves further to illustrate this. The acting throughout is good and the play clean and well staged. A great attraction found in this company at present in the city is the Hyer sisters' vocalism. Possessed of good, pure and strong voices, they sing with great artistic taste and much cultivation. This afternoon they received an encore. Their voices are well trained, sweet and musical, possessing more than ordinary powers of expression. In the glee Sweet and Low, their pianissimos were given with perfect clearness and striking effect, drawing down the house. It is not often that Ottawaites have a chance of hearing such sweet singers as the Hyer sisters. The concluding performance will be given this evening." Abbey's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company shows in the Opera House here to-morrow (Tuesday) evening.

A Letter of Thanks.

Secretary Clarke, of the Peterborough baseball club, has received the following letter, which explains itself:—

LINDSAY, Sept. 9th, 1887.

DEAR SIR:—The Committee desire me to thank you heartily for your kindness in furnishing a team to play at our pic-nic on the 29th ult. A great deal of interest is taken in baseball here, and the game contributed very materially to the success of the pic-nic. Thanking you again and wishing prosperity to you club, I remain

Yours very respectfully,
M. O'BRIEN, Sec. for com.

G. C. Clarke, Esq.,
Sec. P.B.B.C., Peterborough, Ont.

Light Weight.

"Complaints are being made," says the Intelligencer, "of people selling light weight on the Belleville market. They bring a quarter of lamb or other piece of meat to market, to which is attached a small ticket giving the weight. The price per pound generally strikes the purchaser favorably, but the meat, if weighed, will frequently be found short in weight. Sellers should be compelled either to produce standard scales on the market and weigh the meat at the time of the sale, or have it weighed on the market scales. It is understood that the matter is being investigated. Forestalling is also complained of." It would appear that Peterborough market 'requenters are more honest than those of the "Bay City". There are no complaints here of popular delight in false balances.

Broke its Neck.

Saturday afternoon Mr. J. J. Howden lost a valuable horse in a strange way. The animal, a high-spirited one, was being driven along near the Nassau Mills, when it took fright at a little dog which rushed out from behind a lumber pile, shied violently to the left, then back to the right again. It tripped and fell, and its own forward impetus, assisted by the weight of a wagon-load of meat, drove it ten feet along the road on its breast, when its head came in contact with a large stone. The poor brute fell over on its back stone dead, with its position in the shafts reversed. Its neck was broken. Mr. Howden feels his loss severely. He valued the horse at about $175.

YOU will LOOSE YOUR SOLE OF YOUR HEEL on the first wet day, if you buy shoddy boots. But go to KIDD and get a pair of SOLID LEATHER boots.—Same price!

College Federation.

Result of Mr. Potts' Tour in the Guelph Conference.

Dr. Potts, Methodist Secretary of Education, has returned to Toronto, after holding a number of district conventions at Guelph, Galt, Clinton, Mitchell and St. Mary's, in the interest of the College Federation scheme. He was accompanied by an able delegation to these representative towns of the Guelph Conference. The result has been most gratifying, and the Doctor was quite jubilant when a reporter interrogated him on the subject on Saturday evening. He said:

"The allotments distributed by the Guelph Conference to the districts have all been accepted, and the sums levied will be forthcoming. Guelph has tripled the amount originally expected to be raised there, and the Galt people doubled theirs!"

"Between $22,000 and $60,000 will be raised during this conference year."

The Doctor will next visit the towns of Kincardine, Listowel, Palmerston and other points. The work is progressing, and he intends to reach the goal at no distant day.

An Interesting Book.

The result of the united literary efforts of G. Mercer Adams and Miss Wetherald has appeared in the shape of a Canadian historic novel of merit, entitled "An Algonquin Maiden", published in neat form by Wm. Bryce, of Toronto. The novel deals with Canadian life of sixty years ago, the scenes being laid at Little York (now Toronto) and the shores of Lake Simcoe, near Orillia. It deals of the time when the early Reformers were beginning their struggle against the oppression of the Tory government; when the country was only sparsely settled and the Indians were coming under the influence of the whites. History, sentiment, and nature are closely interwoven, all uniting in forming, under the talented pens of the authors, a highly interesting and instructive story, giving a true version of the condition at that time of Young Canada.

A Telephone Joke.

Monday morning, 9 a.m. A call at the telephone in a George street office, from a village not far from Peterborough.

"Say, I hear a man got shot in Peterborough Saturday?"

"Yes; its true."

"Where did it happen?"

"At the hardware store."

"Well, how did he get shot?"

"He paid for it. Bought 2½ pounds of small shot; said he was going duck shooting."

"Chestnut! Thanks."

The conversation closes.

For Neat and Cheap Millinery in all the new shapes and shades, go direct to Turnbull's.

Benafort.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Sunday School authorities are arranging for a tea and entertainment on the 21st instant, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the purchase of an organ.

The magnetism of Jubilee Point extends even beyond Benafort. Two anglers, who live quite a distance from us, last week narrowly escaped being suddenly transformed into stiff, cold water men.

Some time ago the captain of the Silver Star Lacrosse Club, of this place, received a challenge from the captain of the Hustlers of Millbrook to play them a friendly game there. Accordingly the clubs crossed sticks on the 2nd instant. Four of the players were Hustlers, the remaining eight were Victorias, an older team. The ball was drawn off at 4 p.m. and before an hour's play J. Thorn had put the ball through twice for Benafort. Millbrook's slugging up to this had been pretty hard to take with "modest stillness and humility." When the third game commenced their abuse became so intolerable and the "Duncan Acts" came so thick that the captain of the visiting club recommended his men to stop playing, lest their victory might not be continued with clean-handed honor. A fee of 10c. was charged to pay the expenses of the visiting club, but when the playing ceased the young exquisites of Millbrook made a sneak with their sticks at half mast, and nothing more was seen of them that evening.

We must leave them here. Their manliness goes against our weak stomachs and therefore we must cast it up.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1887.

IRELAND AT FEVER HEAT.

THE MITCHELLSTOWN OCCURRENCE THE THEME OF MANY TONGUES.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—In the House of Commons this afternoon, on a motion that the House go into committee on the Appropriation Bill, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Liberal, called attention to the general policy of the Government in Ireland, especially to the invasion of the rights of the people respecting the holding of public meetings. He demanded that the House be informed of the nature of the instructions given to the police in Ireland regarding the line of action they are to pursue with respect to public meetings; also whether the report was true that Gen. Sir Redvers Buller had resigned his post of Under Secretary for Ireland, and what were the reasons for his resignation. He claimed that the Irish people possessed, in common with English people, the right to meet and denounce the action of the legislative branch of the Government, and declared that attempts to prevent the holding of such meetings violated the common law and the constitution, and were a flagrant breach and denial of the fundamental principles of both, and were wholly incompatible with the existence of free government or the rights of a free people. Some Tory journals had suggested that machine guns ought to be used against the Irish people.

Cries of "What paper?"

"The St. James Gazette," answered the speaker, adding, "a typical Tory organ."

"The most detestable and scandalous language has been used by The Times," Sir William continued, "for the express purpose of driving the Irish to revolt, language which never before degraded the press of a free country. If the advice of the Unionist press had been followed what between machine guns, evictions and Tory landlords soon very few Irish people would be left!"

He was confident, he said, that the Irish people would persist in the prudence and calmness they had already exhibited. If anything was dear to the English it was the right of public meeting, which the Government was now trampling upon. Did the Government try the experiment of the new doctrine on the people of England, the country would make short work of them. The heart of England was with the Irish in vindicating the right of public meeting and would support them until justice was done. Meetings must continue to be held in all parts of Ireland. [Parnellite cheers. If there was one lesson in the history of politics which was taught more than another it was that a cause which could not bear open discussion was already lost. [Cheers.] The Government's dread of public meetings would seal the doom of their Irish policy.

Mr. Balfour, replying to Sir W. Vernon Harcourt, said that the instructions the police were now acting under were the same as they had received when Sir William was a member of the Gladstone Government. [Cheers.] With regard to Gen. Buller, Mr. Balfour said he had always acted in perfect harmony with the present Government. His appointment as Under Secretary for Ireland was only temporary, and he resigned now simply because he desired not to delay his return to the war office. [Cries of "Oh!" "Oh!" from the Parnellites.] If anyone supposed that General Buller's retirement was due in the slightest degree to a difference of opinion with him, Mr. Balfour, the supposition was absolutely false.

Referring to Sir William's contention that the suppression of public meetings was illegal, Mr. Balfour said he did not know at what period Sir William lost his knowledge of law, but it was a matter of history that under the common law of Ireland Sir William himself acted with Gladstone and Forster in proclaiming one hundred and thirty meetings. [Cheers.] It was again and again stated when these meetings were proclaimed that the Act of 1882 did not contain any new powers. The question really was not whether the Government's action was legal, but whether it was politic. An important element to consider was the condition of the district of Ennis, a notorious centre of agrarian crimes. It was absurd to describe such meetings as being for free discussion. They were heralded by placards of an inflammatory nature, and it was obviously their object to defeat the law and foster outrages and intimidation.

Regarding the Mitchellstown affair, Mr. Balfour said it had been clearly ascertained that the action of the police was in the face of extreme provocation. [Cries of "Oh! oh!"] The police were assaulted with stones and black thorn sticks before they drew their batons. [Cries of "No, no," and "Hear, hear."] It was not until they were thrown into disorder by the charge of the horsemen, who knocked down and wounded a number and forced the rest to fly for their lives, that the police fired. It was absolutely necessary for them to fire to protect the barracks and the unfortunate police stragglers outside. [Cries of "Oh! Oh!" and cheers.] The firing was not the random firing of men in a panic, but a deliberate act under the order of the commanding officer. He maintained that the final act of the police was amply justified, and that they were in no way to blame. The sole responsibility rested upon those who convoked the meeting. [Cheers.] Sir William had on his lips the words liberty, justice and free speech, but the actual weapons he and his friends used in the Irish contest were obstruction in Parliament and resistance to the law outside—violence and intimidation worse than violence. [Cheers.] Did the Opposition mean to further inflame the passions of the Irish, driving them into resistance to the law of liberty, founded upon order, that was once dear to both parties in the state? He appealed to them to have regard for the community whose lives and properties were counters with which Sir William was playing a political game. [Cheers.] The Government did not waver in their policy. They believed that a firm administration of the law, and a determination to do their utmost to relieve the evils fomenting discontent would bring to Ireland a united people. They knew that they must expect little assistance from the Opposition, but undismayed by criticism and with unshaken courage they would persevere in the course that must end in the conciliation of Ireland. [Loud cheers.]

The Funeral of the Victims.

MITCHELLSTOWN, Sept. 12.—Contingents of Nationalists from all the surrounding towns promise to attend the funeral to-morrow. The procession will be an enormous one. The police refuse to allow the cortege to traverse the regular route to the cemetery, which passes the barracks. The Nationalists consider this a great indignity, as they will be compelled to go through the Protestant part of the town. They claim that they have a right to take the usual route, promising in return to use no violence. The coffin of the old man shot dead on Friday, whose name is Lonergan, not Riordan, is inscribed as follows: "Michael Lonergan, murdered September 9, 1887. Requiescat in Pace." The funeral will begin at 2 p.m. Lonergan has three sons in America and five children at home. The magistrate promises to keep the police out of sight to-day if the funeral procession avoids the barracks.

Mr. Balfour Orders an Enquiry.

Capt. Plunkett, in obedience to orders from Chief Secretary Balfour, and assisted by detectives and by Magistrates Eaton and Seagrave, held an inquiry, inspected the barracks and visited the wounded. Less than twenty police were actually injured, and only one seriously. Mr. Brunner says he saw a dozen constables attack one man with their batons. He also saw a policeman pierce a horse with his bayonet, while another constable thrust his bayonet into the rider.

An independent eye-witness relates that when the first blow was struck it was impossible to control the Tipperary men, who attacked the police like fury. The air was thick with sticks, but before the police reached the barracks their anger had cooled. The people made no attempt to reach the barracks. Six panes of glass in the barracks were broken from the inside. The walls bear evidence of a fusillade of stones. The lower half of the door was broken in. There are many bullet marks on the walls opposite.

What Labouchere Saw.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Mr. Labouchere, in a long letter describing the affair at Mitchellstown, says when he entered the barracks he found that the police had dragged two men inside and were beating them with bludgeons as they lay face downwards. Mr. Dillon had the greatest difficulty in preventing the chief constable from rushing out of the barracks with his men and shooting right and left. All were in a state of the greatest excitement. There were but few people around the barracks. The police were perfectly safe. It is remarkable that the carman killed had the previous day refused his vehicle to the police. Mr. Labouchere says that never in his life did he come across so offensive a specimen of an official with brute force at his back as Head Constable Brownrigg. Two men, more unfit for delicate duties, could not be found on the globe than Seagrave, a weak creature who loses his head, and Brownrigg, a bully, in whose eyes all resturing to look askance at him ought to be shot. They are responsible for the deaths that occurred.

Davitt's Strong Language.

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—Michael Davitt spoke at a meeting here yesterday. He declared that he would adopt every word and meaning of Mr. O'Brien's speech at Mitchellstown. Irishmen would deserve the contempt of the world if they allowed themselves to be hunted from their cabins like beasts. He complained bitterly against the constabulary for slaying their own kith and kin in cold blood, even without a word of command from their officers. If the slumbering embers of retaliatory vengeance were fired, as in 1881, he hoped they would not bear the blame for any evil wrought upon Ireland, but would fall upon the instigators of the Mitchellstown massacre.

THE ARREST OF O'BRIEN.

He is Remanded to Cork Jail After a Formal Charge is Made Against Him.

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—Mr. O'Brien was conveyed to Mitchellstown this morning in custody of an officer. He was accompanied by Timothy Harrington and his counsel. Mr. O'Brien emphatically denies that he boarded the steamer at Kingston to avoid arrest, his object being simply to see Mr. Labouchere.

Mr. O'Brien was enthusiastically received by a large crowd on his arrival at Limerick. In his address O'Brien said that he never went on a journey which promised better for the cause of Ireland than the one he was now making. The Government might close his lips, but there was a spirit left in Ireland to-day that all the bayonets at their command could not silence.

The Mayor, members of the municipality and many prominent citizens met O'Brien at the Cork Depot, 200 policemen and a strong force of military escorted O'Brien to the Court House, where a formal charge was made against him and he was remanded to jail. The streets were crowded with people. The Mayor complained to Magistrate Gardener of the presence of the military and police, which, he said, were not needed and were calculated to irritate the populace.

The streets through which O'Brien was taken to the jail were lined with troops. Stones were thrown at the police escorting Mr. O'Brien, and several of them were wounded. The police then charged the crowd, using their batons freely and injuring many of the spectators.

A STRUGGLE IN THE DARK.

How a Constable Met His Death at the Hands of Moonlighters.

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—Moonlighters last night murdered Constable Whalen and mortally wounded another officer named Ellis in County Clare. Whalen was killed with a bludgeon. Eight arrests have been made of suspected parties.

The assault occurred at Lisdoonvarna. A constable who was present when Whalen was killed stated that twelve policemen had waited in concealment in a house where they had learned from an anonymous source that a number of moonlighters would gather. When the moonlighters came they were admitted and the door closed and locked after them. Then a fierce fight took place in a small room. There was no firing. Five moonlighters were arrested. Two others escaped.

THE EX-PRESIDENT'S CASE.

If Liberated on Bail, Tailor Will be Criminally Prosecuted.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 11.—Mr. H. E. Nelles of London, who is Henry Taylor's agent, and Thos. Long of Collingwood, Taylor's assignee, are busy arranging the claims against the ex-president. Their present aim is to arrive at a settlement of his onerous obligations which, owing to the complicated nature of the accounts, cannot possibly be completed before Oct. 1.

It is publicly said and practically admitted that if Taylor is released criminal proceedings will be taken against him for fraud and embezzlement. His life in jail is now growing monotonous. Callers are very few, he eats comparatively nothing, he smokes incessantly, exercises in the corridors of the jail and is inaccessible to reporters.

Several directors of the Ontario Investment Association admit being borrowers from the association. The bylaws of the company provide that no director should be a borrower from it either directly or indirectly. This irregularity is one reason at the bottom of such disastrous loss to the shareholders. It is said, without contradiction, that several others had a hand in the transactions that brought ruin on the association. These deny the charge and say they will remain in London and see the business to a finish.

Mr. Taylor may be all that A. O. Graydon and Mr. R. M. Meredith allege, but it is not believed that he is the only one deserving to be jailed.

Josiah Blackburn, editor of The London Free Press, in answer to the charge of obtaining Henry Taylor made by R. M. Meredith, says that the intrusion of Mr. Meredith has been uncalled for, that his statements are impertinent and unwarranted and in future he will not be noticed.

BAYARD IN MASSACHUSETTS.

It is Said He is in Quest of Men to Meet the British Commissioners.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Secretary Bayard did not return to Washington to-day, but is expected to-morrow. After leaving Pittsfield, where he went to attend the funeral [illegible] the Secretary went to Massachusetts. Rumor has it that the object of this trip was to confer personally with certain New England persons with a view to finding and enlisting the services of men who will meet the British Fishery Commissioners and assist the Government in the effort to settle the questions arising out of the fishery troubles.

THE GREATEST CROWD YET

NEARLY 50,000 PEOPLE AT THE EXHIBITION YESTERDAY.

All of the Departments Now Open—How Thos. White and Other Prominent Persons on the Grounds—The Gate Receipts Reach $21,197.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.

Yesterday was "Citizens' Day" at the fair, and some 44,000 people passed through the turnstiles during the day and last night. The ticket-holders would probably swell this number up to nearly 50,000. The gate receipts were $21,197, against $20[illegible] on the corresponding day last year. The comparative receipts to date are:

	1886.	1887.	Inc.
Tuesday	$ 414	[illegible]	.....
Wednesday	780	[illegible]	.....
Thursday	5,[illegible]	[illegible]	.....
Friday	4,[illegible]	[illegible]	.....
Saturday	7,[illegible]	4,[illegible]	.....
Monday	11,827	9,[illegible]	.....
	$[illegible]	$21,[illegible]	$[illegible]

The park, as might be expected, was crowded almost beyond comfort. They were for the most part all citizens. The outsiders have not begun to arrive in thousands as yet, but they will be here to-day and during the balance of the week.

Everything on the amusement program passed off satisfactorily except the balloon ascension. The balloons did not arrive in time to have them filled, but they will go up to-day.

Music was as plentiful as municipal candidates. Half a dozen of bands held forth in different parts of the park, the Queen's Own and Grenadiers' bands being in the horse-ring.

Every department of the fair was in full blast. All the live stock that is expected had reached the park last evening.

There were several prominent visitors on the grounds during the day:

Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior, was hustled around in care of President Withrow and Directors W. R. Lee, Elliot and Crocker. Mr. White declared that Toronto certainly had the greatest fair in the Dominion. He returned to Ottawa last evening.

Prof. Goldwin Smith elbowed his way through the surging crowd on foot.

Hon. Wm. Macdonald was delighted with the Fair, and particularly with the Press Bureau.

Alex. Jessop (the "Old Man") of Ottawa had never dreamt of anything like it.

Mr. George Kidd did the show on horseback.

Harold Gilson and his Tally Ho (coach) had for passengers a large party of ladies and gentlemen.

Many of the best private carriages in the city were in the throng. Miss Beasley sent her pair of prancers through all the level roads of the park.

Among the curiosities were two carriage loads of Chinamen.

All of which goes to show that on Citizens' Day the citizens know how to enjoy themselves.

An unfortunate accident happened in the Zoo during the afternoon. The elevated promenade at the west end of the Main Building gave away while it was filled with people. Half a dozen were more or less injured. Mr. Alex. Cole of Ottawa sustained a fracture of the bones of the instep. A young girl living in Simcoe street had her leg broken. Ald. Piper did all he could for the sufferers, and sent them home in carriages. The structure will be repaired beyond a possibility of a recurrence of the accident.

The City of Pekin was again bombarded last night, to the great delight of a vast concourse of spectators. From the banks of the artificial lake to the grand stand in front of the Main Building the onlookers were one solid phalanx. The siege was announced to commence at 8.30 o'clock, but the crowd was so large long before that hour that the curtain was rung up at 8 o'clock. The only difference between last evening's display and that of Thursday night was that everything was condensed last night, so as to present an uninterrupted succession of brilliant pyrotechnic manipulations, as well as gymnastic feats of almost wonderful character in the shortest possible time. The people were delighted.

No sooner did the last rocket spend itself on the walls of Pekin than the spectators moved on to the other attractions on the grounds. Some hurried away to the different avenues of transit to the city, while others paid a visit to the brilliantly illuminated buildings. The chief attractions was the Main Building, and up to 10.30 o'clock it was crowded. It was after 11 o'clock before the park was emptied.

In the Horse Ring.

The sport in the horse ring was confined to the Roman standing race and a football match. Miss Masterman and her pair of bays, Frank Gallatin and Bayview, and Will Furey on the chestnut pair, Kitty Dassie and Belle Planet, were the contestants in the Roman race. The distance was twice round the ring, and three heats were run, the first two being in favor of Frank Gallatin and Bayview, the third going to Kitty Dassie and Belle Planet after an exciting finish. Miss Masterman also rode Golden Arrow a mile under side-saddle in 1.54½, which was fairly good time on that track.

The football match between the Wellingtons and Marlboroughs resulted in favor of the latter by two goals to one.

TORONTO TOPICS.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.

Inspector Stephen found Antonio Silon, aged 48, sitting outside the City Hall last evening weeping. The man, who is evidently deranged, was taken to Police Headquarters. He had a first-class ticket for Montreal on the mail boat and said he was afraid to take passage because he thought she might go to the bottom. The man had no money. He says he was formerly a merchant in Drummondville, Que. He is held for insanity.

Three conventions of very considerable importance will be in session in the city to-day. The National Prison Congress will continue its meetings at the Normal School.

The Prohibition convention will meet at Temperance Hall at 10 a.m., and will last two days.

The Young Conservatives will also convene in the same building at the same hour. This meeting will last for two days, with a banquet to-morrow night at the Pavilion.

THE AMERICAN BEEF POOL.

Armour & Co. of Chicago Sign a Contract to Kill for the Combination.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 12.—A meeting of representatives of the cattle men of the range country was held here yesterday to form the American beef pool, the purpose of which is to bring the prices of beef cattle in the West, west of the feeding districts, nearer to the level of the prices of dressed beef in the East; to increase the profits to the producers and to do away with middlemen.

Armour & Co have signed a contract with the pool to kill their cattle and give them all there is on them, less a reasonable commission, and to aid in extending their market facilities. Armour further agreed to slaughter their cattle for $2.20 per head, giving the shipper the entire proceeds of the animal, less freight and selling commission on dressed beef in the East.

THE M'GARIGLE CASE.

The Offence Charged Does Not Come Within the Extradition Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The application of the Government of Illinois for the extradition of McGarigle, the fugitive Chicago ex-Warden, which has been received at the Department of State, will be reserved for the personal consideration of Secretary Bayard. As a rule action upon applications for extradition papers are purely formal, the preliminaries to granting the request consisting merely in an examination of extradition treaties to ascertain if the offence charged falls within their terms. But it is understood that in the present case the application is based upon a charge of conspiracy, for which no provision is made in the existing treaty with Canada. A legal point of gravity is involved in the application and its consideration may, therefore, occupy some time.

The Tenders for the Carriage of the Ocean Mails.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—It is understood that a change has been made in the terms of the tenders for the ocean mail service, so that tenders will be received for other routes than by way of Moville or Londonderry.

A BUSY DAY AT THE CONGRESS.

The Wardens Elect their Officers—The Chaplains of the Great Prisons.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.

The National Prison Association yesterday had an interesting and profitable, if not very busy and eventful, day. Ex-President Hayes, as in duty bound, was to the fore, and with courtesy and ability deliberated three meetings to a successful issue. The morning session was occupied with a pertinent consideration of the moral and religious status of prisons, and being under the auspices of the Chaplains' Association, a sub-division of the larger organization, the cloth had the pre-eminence. The anthropometric advocates again aired their views in the afternoon, and a resolution adopting Alphonse Bertillon's method was adopted, but not till it had undergone considerable criticism from both American and Canadian wardens. Like a "jack-in-the-box," it popped up again at the evening session, but much of the interest in it had evaporated, for the recital of its virtues had become an oft-told tale. Prison management and reform, the warden's duties and responsibilities, received their quota of consideration, the comparison of notes from various districts all tending to a more humanizing treatment of those in "durance vile."

Of notable incidents there were a few. Bishop Baldwin was an interested occupant of the platform during the "serious" debate. Invitations were sundry and diverse. Springfield, Nashville, Pittsburg and Boston coveted the honor of the association's company at their next merry meeting. Nearer home the same feeling prevailed. Warden Massie gave an invite to the critical visitors to have ocular demonstration of the "abominations and horrors" of the well-abused Central Prison and the Mercer Reformatory. Reception Committee Ald. Piper and the exhibition managers will duly be honored by a visit of the Congress to the great fair, and with equal spontaneity the proffer of an inspection of the celebrated Vienna clock and its musical chimes was accepted, to be supplemented by an organ recital and vocal melody in St. James' Cathedral. Other invitations to places of interest were received, and an agreeable finale of the day's proceedings was a parlor reception by Hon. R. B. Hayes at the Rossin House last night.

The Wardens Meet.

In the afternoon the Wardens' Association met under the presidency of Warden Joseph Nicholson of Detroit.

Warden R. G. Coffin of the Ohio Penitentiary submitted the treasurer's statement, which showed that the receipts had been $[illegible] and the expenditure $145, leaving a balance in hand of $70.

Supt. C. E. Felton of the Chicago House of Correction moved that the annual meeting of the Wardens' Association be held next year at the place chosen by the National Prison Association. This was adopted.

These officers were elected:

President—Mr. Joseph Nicholson, Detroit.
Vice-Presidents—Frisk & Dodge, Concord, N.H.; James Massie, Toronto; J. H. Rand, Lansing, Mich.; E. C. Watkins, Iosia, Mich.
Secretary—T. W. McCaughry, Joliet, Ill.
Treasurer—R. G. Coffin, Columbus, O.

Warden Felton proposed a motion that the Warden's Association approve of and adopt the Bertillon system of identification of criminals. An animated discussion followed. Questions were asked and answered by several members as to matters of detail, after which the resolution was put and carried.

NEWS OF STANLEY.

On July 12 the Explorer was Continuing His March.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—A despatch from St. Paul De Loanda, under date Sept. 9, states that Major Bartellot, commander of the camp on the Uruwimi had sent advices to Leopoldville that he had received news from Henry M. Stanley, dated July 12. Stanley was then ten days' march in the interior and was still proceeding up the Uruwimi, which he had found navigable above the rapids. He had launched the six whale boat and rafts. The members of the expedition were in good health, and provisions were easily procured at the large villages. The country showed a gradual rise towards high table lands.

A caravan of 180 men followed the expedition on the left bank of the river, and an advance guard of forty natives of Zanzibar, led by Lieut. Stairs, foraged for supplies. Stanley expected to arrive on July 22 at the centre of the Mahoor district, and to reach Wadelai by the middle of August. The advance had been peacefully accomplished that Stanley had instructed Bartellot that he would shortly send him orders to follow the expedition by the same route.

THE CUBAN RAID.

The Filibusters Have an Encounter With Spanish Soldiery.

KEY WEST, Fla., Sept. 10.—While in ambush some miles from Matanzas, on Thursday afternoon, just after landing, the band of Cuban filibusters which recently left here were attacked by three hundred Spanish soldiers. The latter were repulsed, leaving three dead and carrying away five wounded. Dynamite bombs were thrown by the filibusters. Four of the Cubans were wounded, but not seriously.

CARDINAL GIBBONS' REPLY.

Why He Did Not Hand a Letter in the McGlynn Case to the Propaganda.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10.—Cardinal Gibbons authorizes the following statement in reference to his connection with the McGlynn case. Shortly after his arrival in Rome in February last Cardinal Gibbons, in an audience with the Holy Father, was requested by His Holiness to ask Dr. McGlynn to come to Rome. The next day the cardinal complied with the instructions of the Holy Father, but as he did not know Dr. McGlynn's address he wrote the letter to Dr. Burtsell because he regarded him a friend of Dr. McGlynn. Some weeks later Cardinal Gibbons received a reply from Dr. Burtsell giving reasons and causes why Dr. McGlynn did not go to Rome. As the answer from Dr. Burtsell was addressed, not to Cardinal Simeoni, but to Cardinal Gibbons himself, the latter saw no reason for handing the letter to the propaganda. Far, however, from "suppressing" his contents, he was very careful to communicate them to the Cardinal Prefect of the Propaganda. It may be added that Cardinal Gibbons was in no way authorized to act as an intermediary between Dr. McGlynn and his Archbishop, and therefore scrupulously avoided interfering in a matter in which he had no direct concern, and when on his visit to Rome had in view a different purpose.

FIVE SAW MILLS DESTROYED.

Property to the Value of $[illegible] at Minneapolis Destroyed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 10.—Five saw mills burned here to-night. The fire broke out at 7.40, and was soon beyond the control of the department. The mills are located on an island near the east side of the Mississippi River, and the fire quickly spread from McMullen & Co.'s mill, where it originated, to the other four, all of which were consumed.

Following is a statement of losses and insurance: Merriman, Barrows & Co., loss $[illegible], insurance $31,000; McMullen & Co., loss $[illegible], insurance $[illegible]; Eastman, Bovey & Co., loss $45,000, insurance $30,000; C. A. Smith & Co., loss $35,000, insurance $17,000; W. W. Eastman, owner of the mill operated by Cole & Weeks, loss $30,000, insurance $21,500. The cause of the fire is unknown. Only two of the mills were running.

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE.

The Observations Taken in China Very Unsatisfactory.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Advices by the steamer San Pablo from China are to the effect that at most of the scientific stations where the totality of the eclipse of the sun on August 19 could be viewed, the result was very unsatisfactory, more especially at Shirakawa, where the States expedition, under the direction of Prof. Todd, was located. Twenty minutes after the eclipse began the sun was hidden by the clouds, and remained hidden during the total eclipse. It was like a dark night, and the face of a man, standing at a distance of three or four feet, could not be seen.

CLOSING IN TO THE CRISIS.

The Manitoba railway difficulty has taken another step, not towards settlement, but towards a crisis. Last Saturday Chief Justice Wallbridge foreshadowed the judgment he will probably deliver in the Browning case, when he expressed the opinion that Browning was a mere puppet in the hands of the C. P. R. Browning, it will be remembered, is the party who bought certain lots in the line of the Red River Valley Railway, at Morris, and applied for an injunction to restrain the contractor crossing his (?) property with the line. Chief Wallbridge's attitude furnished the cue to the Dominion Government. They had previously contented themselves with bluster and patting Browning and the C. P. R. on the back in an encouraging way. But on Saturday action was taken, and solicitors on behalf of the Dominion Government filed two bills of complaint, alleging trespass, by the Red River Valley contractors, on certain Crown lots at St. Agatha, 24 miles from Winnipeg. In consequence the hostile feeling of all classes of Manitobans against the Dominion Government has become greatly intensified. The provincials are in earnest as to the building of the line. They are determined to escape from the oppressive monopoly of the C P.R. and this new road seems to furnish their only way. Mr. Norquey, premier of Manitoba, who has all along been the staunch ally of Sir John Macdonald, has now become his enemy, and is fighting against the Federal Government, the friend and ally (in this as all other matters) of the C.P. R., as they are of all monopolies that will pay for their good offices. Mr. Norquay has raised sufficient money on the credit of his province to complete the road, and we are assured, on the authority of the Mail, that it is the "determination of the Manitoba Government to complete, equip and operate the road, no matter what legal or other obstacles may be set up; and that, if deemed necessary, the government will appeal to the people for a fresh mandate to that effect." And the probabilities are that he will not have to appeal in vain, for the people of Manitoba are terribly in earnest. The Dominion Government, barring the disallowance of the Act granting a charter, first actually, overtly, interfered last Saturday, and this fact, taken in conjunction with the determined attitude of the Manitobans, indicates the imminence of a serious crisis, of which the outcome will be await-d with impatience and more or less of alarm. The people in this vicinity who hailed the building of a competing line of railway as a relief from the oppressive rates which they considered a railway, enjoying a monopoly, was willing to exact, will be able to sympathise with Manitoba, under the power of a corporation, which exercises a monopoly, involving many more times rigorous exactions than ever were exercised in any other part of Canada. The province is acting within its rights. The monopoly clauses of the C.P.R. compact do not apply to Manitoba—Sir John said the Government "could not check Manitoba," and it is no wonder that the people warmly resent Federal interference with their rights and the pursuit of their best interests. We expect a corporation, enjoying a monopoly, to be faithful to its cupidity, but, on the other hand, we expect a government to be faithful to its trust and to protect, instead of assailing, the rights of the people.

THE MOST CRIPPLED OF ALL.

The Mail has the following:—"The Ministerial organs, with one accord, have begun "to make excuses for their change of front "on the question of competitive lines in Manitoba. Some of these excuses are so lame "they should be in the hospital. The most "crippled of all explanations comes from the "Peterborough Review. That journal explains that it certainly did hold the view "some years ago that Manitoba should be "allowed a competitive line; but—and here "comes the halting excuse—it had in its "mind competition by the Grand Trunk "alone. A competitive Grand Trunk line it "could tolerate to-day; but it says it can- "not consent to the Red River Valley line, "the disloyal object of which is to carry "Manitoba freight over foreign lines to for- "eign ports. Here is a species of extreme "loyalty of which there are few examples. "The Canadian Pacific branch to Emerson, "which conveys Canadian freight to a for- "eign road and to foreign ports, is loyal "enough. The short line across the State of "Maine is loyal enough. A Canadian Pacific terminus in Boston is loyal enough. "Independent lines in Ontario are loyal "enough. But a competitive road from "Winnipeg to the frontier, unless under the "control of the company whose rails termi- "nate at Chicago, is so disloyal a project "that our contemporary waxes indignant at "thought of it. The loyalty which approves "of competition and of business with foreign "roads everywhere except in Manitoba, "where the competition is sadly required, "may be sincere; but it is neither logical "nor just." Our urban contemporary will find abundant employment if it tries to follow the local Tory organ through all its sinuous twistings and turnings. It thrives on eating its own words. Why, only a few short years ago it was a rabid non-protective sheet. Now it is so bitterly monopolistic and protective that the very suggestion to put sunlight on the free list would bring on an apoplectic seizure.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I had lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for Catarrh.—Mrs. R. E. Grimes, Rendrill, Ohio. eodw37

"Where does it have the largest sale?"
Right in the city of Hamilton, where it is manufactured, there has been over one thousand dollars' worth sold in the last year retail, and the great majority of the sales are by one recommending it to another. For sale at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle by John McKee, Druggist eod&s 35

GOUGH'S CHALLENGE.

"Use your own judgment, have your wits about you," and, in this age of delusion, take no man's word unless he is prepared to prove what he asserts and is willing to back it: then you will see that a Shepherd may sometimes be one of the black sheep in disguise.

MY CHALLENGE:

I hereby Challenge the Self-styled Cheap-Side-Store, for $500 or $1000, that the following is Correct:—

1st.—That I carry Ten Times more Clothing; that I sell Twenty Times more Clothing and in many instances sell them Cheaper than Cheapsides buy them, and yet I always sell with a profit.

2nd.—That I do sell to other dealers who sell Twice the Amount of Clothing Cheapsides does, and that I can sell him, also Cheaper than he Buys in his present market, and yet I will make a profit.

3rd.—That when Cheapsides sell Grain Bags for $1.75 per dozen he makes no money out of them, and hence his reason for refusing to wholesale them at that price.

4th.—That anything the "Big Clothier" advertises to sell he makes no Stipulation as to the Amount. You may take one or you may take all he has. This is not so with Cheapsides, and consequently advertising to sell Grain Bags at $1.75 per dozen is only a decoy to catch trade.

5th.—That when Cheapsides states in his advertisement that he sold bags to the BIG CLOTHIER, he deliberately states what he knows to be false; for when the "BIG CLOTHIER" sent to buy bags he sent him back word that he did not wholesale them and refused to do so.

6th.—That not One Single Article in Cheapsides Clothing Advertisement in Weekly Review of 9th inst., is worth the money he represents them to be, and yet he warns the public to beware of Designing Dealers.

Now, Mr. Cheapside's, as you have courted a Notice from the BIG CLOTHIER, and as you are too small fry for the Wonderful Cheap Man to again notice, don't come out next week with another delusive advertisement, but either shut up or put up. Every word I herein state is true, and if you accept my Challenge I will make you swallow it or I loose my $1000.

In the meantime, I will sell Grain Bags for $1.50 per dozen (there is no money in it to me at this price,) but if you have the Backb one you profess to have, then just follow the BIG CLOTHIER—he will keep you hustling—for, remember, that the man who always Leads and never follows, is

TORONTO, Sept. 12.

Crane pitched a wonderful game against the Stars yesterday afternoon, and the visitors were consequently shut out. There were a few of the 1200 spectators present who failed to appreciate the artistic beauty of the whites' washing process, but the remainder of the crowd fairly went wild at the result. Two actual hits, and they were scattered at that, with a like number of bases on balls, were all the visitors could secure, whilst Jacoby, who is noted for his "great eye for the ball," struck out twice, and Marr, Dundon, Simon, Battin, Bittman and Shellhame once each. The team's support was fairly good, four errors being charged to them, but they were in each instance excusable, and luckily were not costly. Score:

Should the boys want to cover any let them send word to Wilson Soule and he will do it for me. * * * Should any of the boys want to send me money or letter of credit I will get it on at the best odds and cable them."

LONDON'S BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.

Fair as Lilies and Dark as Southern Beauty—Indelible Variety.

English women are justly and deservedly distinguished for beauty. According to a writer in London Society there is hardly another nation in Europe whose capital can boast of so many beautiful women as can London. Their beauty is of so many varied kinds, of so many shades and gradations, that each one only enhances the other, and that no one type is repeated sufficiently often to become wearisome. This is perhaps the chiefest charm of English women. They are all so different to one another. In our own country the mixed race, Saxon, Norman and Dane, intermingled with countless other strains from every nationality under the sun, has produced so varied a program that the eyes are never satiated and the mind is never oppressed by the sameness which in other countries is apt to pall so fatally upon the taste.

English women are as fair as lilies or dark as Southern houris; they are slender and graceful as the grasses of the field or they are massive and Juno-like in their proportions; they have eyes and hair of every shade under the sun, and there is no similarity either in their features or their figures. The consequence is that, as a rule, a pretty English woman is not wont to consider herself and her appearance as anything out of the ordinary way. If she is conscious of her beauty she knows also that there are hundreds of other women who not only are as beautiful as herself, but whose style of beauty may very possibly be preferred to her own; she is seldom jealous of the good looks of her fellow-women and she is scarcely ever overweeningly vain of her own; she knows that the men who flatter her to-day will pay court to another to-morrow, and the homage she may have gained in one ball-room last night will be transferred to somebody else who may outshine her to-night in another.

This is why our London beauties are seldom ungenerous to each other; they understand that the mind of man is fickle and prone to change above all created things, and the raven tresses are frequently preferred to gold. Because her own dark eyes are paramount to-day she does not forget that forget-me-not blue ones may steal away her adorer's fancy to-morrow, so that she is perpetually on her probation, as it were, and ever ready to acknowledge the superior claims that her friends may possess to admiration.

RUGH ON TURKISH FLIRTATION.

The Strange Laws and Customs of a Very Delightful Country.

The afternoon drive is an imaginary contact with the world; for, as a matter of fact, the ladies might almost as well be at home. At 4 o'clock or thereabouts a natty little brougham drawn by a pair of long-tailed Russian horses drives up to the door, and the ladies—for they almost invariably drive two and two, a great lady accompanied by a friend or a slave girl—are assisted into the carriage with as much care as if they were made of snow, says The Saturday Review. The more scrupulous ones will even hold a parasol between their faces and the coachman to prevent contamination from side glances.

Most of them, however, start with full intent to be seen as much as possible, and after settling themselves down on the satin cushions and assuring themselves that the mirror is well dusted, the cigarettes and matches in their places, the chocolate creams or nougat fresh from the bakery and the bouquet sweet and properly arranged, slip off the habarah and are ready to front the gaze of the curious. The thinnest of yashmaks covers the reddest of lips and the chin, and well-kohled eyes keep a smart lookout for exchange of compliments by passers-by. The wives of the pashas do not wear the Turkish transparent yashmak, but cover their mouths and the lower part of the face with a cambric or cotton burghoo tied round the back of the head.

The Shoobra and Gezireh drives are to Cairo much what the Row is to London, and all the Beys and Pashas don their best and either caracole forth on prancing steeds or, more luxuriously, are driven in the train of the harems. If the lady is inclined to exchange flowers, notes, cigarettes or even conversation no hindrance is likely to be offered by the black janitor on the box-seat of the driver. But talking must be done in private, and some sidewalk or otherwise secluded spot must be chosen for anything more than a flying passing compliment, for in the east every man is the guardian not only of his own harem, but also of everybody else's. A man may thrash his own wife to death with very doubtful chances of anybody intervening, but he may not look at his neighbor's harem.

Disease in Nova Scotia Cattle.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A report from the U. S. consul at Pictou, N.S., says that there is a dangerous and contagious disease existing in Nova Scotia among cattle, horses and sheep, which threatens the whole of Canada and may spread to the United States. Telegrams have been sent to the collectors of customs on the northeastern frontier notifying them of the existence of the disease and instructing them until further notice to refuse to allow landing in the United States of animals and hides from Nova Scotia.

On The Verge Of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w36d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Borton, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medecine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Reasons why you should purchase Field Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. Sold at 25c. a bottle by John McKee, Druggist. eodw35

The Ashburnham bridge is being re-painted and repaired. Since the woolen mills at each end of it were burned, the bridge has worn a "dirty" look, but this is rapidly disappearing under the brightening influences of the painter's brush.

The Date Fixed.
The new Masonic hall in the Dunsford block will be opened October 8th. As before stated, the Grand Lodge will meet in the afternoon, when the ceremony of dedication will be performed by the Grand Officers. In the evening a conversazione will be held.

New Drilling Quarters.
The old music hall having been found too small for drilling purposes for Peterborough Canton No. 10, I.O.O.F., the Charlotte street skating rink has been engaged for weekly drill. The rink will furnish a sufficiently large area and excellent floor. Members of the Canton will meet for drill in their new quarters Wednesday evenings.

For Neat and Cheap Millinery in all the new shapes and shades, go direct to Turnbull's.

At the Opera House To night.
Abbey's Uncle Tom's Cabin troupe are stopping at the Grand Central hotel. They show in the opera house to-night. To-day at noon a grand free street parade was held, in which two bands, little Eva, Marks and his donkey, and the blood hounds took part. The company is highly recommended by the provincial press, and will doubtless attract a full house.

Fruit by Mail.
The EXAMINER acknowledges with thanks the receipt by mail of a sample packet of sun-dried apricots from Mr. Andrew Finnie, Wight County, California. Mr. Finnie, who was once a resident of this county, writes that the fruit crop in California has never been so abundant nor so excellent in quality as it has been this season, but owing to the scarcity of help to gather it, a great deal of it has gone to waste.

Cigar Makers at It.
The cigar makers in Quirk's factory held a pic-nic at Crawford's grove the other day, and had a right jolly time. "Eat, drink and be merry" was the motto of the hour, and they followed out the Scriptural injunction to the letter. To make it interesting, a few races and tests of strength, etc., were held. These annual "trades' pic-nics" are becoming yearly more popular.

W. W. McLellan, Lyn P. O., writes:—"I was afflicted with rheumatism, and had given up all hopes of a cure. By chance I saw Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil recommended. I immediately sent (fifty miles) and purchased four bottles, and with only two applications I was able to get around, and although I have not used one bottle, I am nearly well. The other three bottles I gave around to my neighbors, and I have had so many calls for more, that I feel bound to relieve the afflicted by writing to you for a supply." w37

Fruit Thieves.
The stealers of fruit, especially of grapes, which are now in season, are in an active state. They are pretty bold, too. On Saturday afternoon, in daylight—about 5 o'clock—some boys entered the garden of Mr. James T. Stenson, Reid street, and stripped a well filled vine of its grapes. Persons who wish to enjoy the fruits of their toil had better keep a sharp lookout. A dose of snipe shot administered with a shot gun would not kill nor cripple, but would have a wholesome deterrent effect.

The Marriage Crop.
Dry weather may affect the potato crop, but it seems to exercise a stimulating effect on the matrimonial crop. A vigilant bachelor, trembling in his boots for fear of his turn of immolation coming next, supplies the information that two or three happy couples were turned off to-day, and to-morrow will witness four more marriages—eight souls with but a single thought, eight hearts that beat as four. A maiden of the antique variety supplements this information with the statement that three other weddings are to follow during this week. An average of 1¼ weddings per day is a pretty good showing and will probably produce a corner in rice and old slippers.

That Challenge.
At the close of the recent five mile race at Belleville for the Corby Challenge cup, Mr. W. R. Greatrix, of Peterborough, the winner, offered to ride any wheelman between Toronto and Montreal for a $50 gold medal, only asking three weeks' notice. This challenge was published in the Intelligencer at the time. Now Mr. L. B. Cooper, a defeated Belleville wheelman, who feels that he lost the race, the Intelligencer says, not for lack of riding ability, publishes the following card:

As Mr. W. R. Greatrix is anxious to ride any wheelman between Toronto and Montreal, I challenge Mr. Greatrix to ride me any distance from one to five miles on the Belleville Driving Park on the 7th Oct., 1887, or as near after that date as the weather will permit, for a gold medal valued at $50, the defeated party to provide the medal.

Yours respectfully,
L. B. COOPER.

For answer the EXAMINER is authorized to say that the challenge originally made by Mr. Greatrix is still open, and if Mr. Cooper chooses to accept it, very well. The Intelligencer says he "accepts the challenge in a formal manner by publishing the card." He does not do so, however, but formulates a distinct challenge of his own. If Mr. Cooper is anxious to race he will accept the terms originally offered by Mr. Greatrix and come to Peterborough, where a track unexcelled in this district can be procured for the race.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The "Poor Man's" Friend.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

MR. MOORE in his letter to the Daily EXAMINER, of the 9th inst., says that instead of the five per cent. duty after the first of December, a 10th per cent. per month duty, and he claims that this 10 per cent. duty is better for the interests of the town and people and better for the "poor man". I wish Mr. Moore had defined what class of the ratepayers he meant by the words "poor man". I am aware that some persons are very fond of speaking of the "poor man", for reasons best known to themselves, but I fail to understand whom they mean by the use of that term, that offensive term, I ought better to say. If Mr. Moore, by those words means the mechanics and laboring classes, then I take leave to tell him that the mechanics and laboring classes will not and do not thank him for his pretended sympathy in their behalf. They are just as well able to take care of themselves and to pay their taxes too, as Mr. Moore or any other high-toned gentleman is. And they don't want Mr. Moore, or any one else, to patronize their assumed poverty nor to make speeches or write electioneering letters in their behalf. They feel that they live in a free country and that they are free men and that they are able to look after their own business and to paddle their own canoe. In my opinion the mechanics and laborers are about the most independent people we have got amongst us. They are industrious and, as a rule, saving, and, as a rule, own their own homes and it would be a libel upon them to speak of them as "poor men". The only people whom I shall call poor are those who live on the charity of the town. As there are not very many of them, it is hardly worth while to talk and write about the "poor man." Mr. Moore is mistaken if he really thinks that the five per cent. tax bears especially hard upon the "poor man." And he is mistaken if he thinks it bears heavily upon the small ratepayer. Five per cent. on a tax of three or five dollars would only be fifteen or twenty-five cents. But five per cent. on the man who pays from three to five hundred dollars, means fifteen or twenty-five dollars. And if Mr. Moore's scheme were in operation the rich taxpayer would be able to keep his money and use it, and then he would only have to pay three or five dollars a month, which would be a great advantage to him, while the small taxpayer, or the "poor man", would only save three cents or five cents a month. This would be a wonderful saving to him, surely, and I don't think he would thank Mr. Moore for it. If Mr. Moore wants to help the "poor man", or the small property holder, why has he, as chairman of the Court of Revision for the last two years, set his face against granting him any relief from his appeal for over-assessment. If he were really the friend of the "poor man", he had an opportunity, as such chairman, to show it. But he refused his appeal in nearly every case, if not in every case, and I suppose he calls this "helping the poor." But the vote of the "poor man" is as good to him as the vote of the rich man, and no doubt Mr. Moore thinks that a little flattery and empty pretense on his part will so please the "poor man" and the small property owner that he will throw up his hat at the next municipal election and hurrah for Mr. Moore as Mayor for the town of Peterborough. But Mr. Moore apparently forgets how he showed his respect for the poor man when he declared last spring that if Mr. John McNaughton was placed on the court of revision he would not sit upon it. I suppose he thought Mr. McNaughton was not respectable enough to be a member of any court of which he was a member. But Mr. McNaughton sits in the council by means of the largest vote cast in his ward, and if Mr. Moore considers him not to be a gentleman, the people believe him to be an honest man. When another election comes round perhaps the electors will give their sentiments in reference to this matter, and perhaps they will select some other man than aristocratic Mr. Moore to represent them in the council for the next year. And then when Mr. Moore is left at home we shall hear no more soft sawdering of the "poor man" or the wonderful saving which he is going to secure him by his scheme of one per cent. a month on his taxes.

"A POOR MAN."

Peterborough, Sept. 12th 1887.

A New Factory.
Last week work was begun by the Dickson Company on the new factory in course of erection on "Rogers' race," in Ashburnham, for the Lindsay-Seldon Furniture Manufacturing Company. The Lindsay-Seldon Company's business has increased so rapidly within the past year that they have far outgrown their present premises, in which they could not expand as they desired. The new building will be 40x80 feet, four stories high, a wooden structure sheeted with corrugated iron. Already the foundations are about finished, and in a few days the frame will be erected. The enterprising managers will place in their new factory the latest and best machinery, and with increased accommodation and facilities they expect to more than double their volume of business. The new factory will have a capacity of employing 75 men; thirty is about their average staff at present. A bridge will be run from the top story of the building to the high bank above, to connect with the spur of the Grand Junction R.R. running to the Otonabee Mills, thus giving first-class shipping facilities. It is expected the new factory will be ready for occupation early in January, when the company will begin business with their present staff, increasing it as opportunity or business demands. The premises now occupied by them will when vacated be added to the Peterborough Roller Mills.

A Flowing Well at Lindsay.
A Lindsay despatch says that for some weeks past Mr. R. Sylvester, of Sylvester & Bros. agricultural works, has been trying to obtain a good well on property where his new mansion is being erected. A small spring prevented digging, so drilling was attempted. After reaching about thirty feet, the drill being in hard spar, suddenly dropped two feet, and instantly water burst out, rising to the height of twenty feet. The water continues flowing at the rate of 2,000 gallons daily from a two-inch pipe. Other wells are running at various places in the town, and there is great rejoicing at the prospect of a public water supply.

The Late Mrs. James Yule.

In the death of Mrs. James Yule, one of the oldest, most respected and best known residents of this vicinity passed away. Mrs. Yule's maiden name was Mary Lillico, daughter of the late Richard Lillico, one of the early settlers of Cavan township. She was a native of Northumberland, England, and left that country for America with her father's family at the age of nine weeks. The family first settled near New York, where they remained for five years. They then came to Canada, and at that time the journey was a most formidable undertaking. It took one week to make the distance from Port Hope to Cavan, near Springville. It was necessary to make the otherwise impassable forest passable with an axe, trees having to be cut down to bridge the streams, many of which have disappeared with the disappearance of the original forest. When Mrs. Yule's father arrived in Cavan he had money enough to buy up the whole concession, but he wouldn't, at that time, take as a gift what is now one of the most thriving and valuable farming concessions in Canada. On the 9th of October 1845 she was married to Mr. James Yule, the ceremony having been performed by Rev. G. M. Roger—42 years ago. Of this marriage were born two girls, both of whom are living. One is Mrs. J.G. Muirhead, wife of the postmaster at Rosseneath, Alnwick township, and the other is Mrs. Hugh Devitney, Haldimand. Mr. Yule was also a well known citizen, honored and respected. He has been for 26 years a justice of the peace, being a member of the first commission appointed. He and his wife wrought industriously and secured an abundant competence, after which they removed to Peterborough. They built a comfortable residence in the south part of the town, where they dwelt happily. They were both worthy members of the Presbyterian church. In the death of Mrs. Yule, the church loses one of its most exemplary adherents, society a respected, kindly, and obliging member, and Mr Yule a helpmate whose affectionate companionship has cheered his life, whose help and encouragement have strengthened his hands for the battle of life, whose love and thoughtfulness brightened his home and smoothed his pathway. In losing her he meets with an irreparable loss, but in the winter of his life he can ponder on the happy past and the sweet associations linked with a thousand pleasant memories, and look forward hopefully to a reunion in the bright world above. Mr. Yule, who is spending a few days in town, will make his home with his daughter at Rosseneath.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics. But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy. Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Ladies troubled with Pimples, Blotches, Rough Hands or Face, or Sores of any description, should use McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. THE TROUBLE IN IRELAND

LONDON, Sept. 13.—William Henry Smith, replying to a question, said the attention of the Government had been called to a statement contained in The Dublin Weekly News to the effect that it would continue to publish reports of the meetings of such branches of the Irish National League as the Government might order suppressed to show the futility of the Government's attack on the league. This paper, Mr. Smith said, belonged to the Lord Mayor of Dublin, T. D. Sullivan, who was also a member of the House of Commons and a justice of the peace for Dublin. Nevertheless, if any of the threatened publishing actually took place the Government would take steps to vindicate the law. [Cries of hear, hear.] Mr. Nolan, Home Ruler, asked if it was true that William O'Brien was confined in a cell 9x4 feet in area and if Mr. Balfour meant to order reasonable accommodation for the prisoner.

Mr. Balfour said he had no knowledge respecting the nature of the cell occupied by O'Brien. Of course, he added, it was his (Mr. Balfour's) desire that Mr. O'Brien should be comfortably confined, and the prison rules provided that untried prisoners should have reasonable accommodations.

John Dillon said it was manifest that the Government had the power to inflict personal punishment upon their political opponents, especially upon members of the Irish party, who, therefore, had the right to demand security that they would not be treated like pickpockets. His own experience as a political prisoner in Ireland was that food was meted out on a starvation system in Irish jails. If O'Brien was confined in an ordinary cell it was cruel, seeing that he was in delicate health.

Mr. Balfour said he was unable to see that the offence of persons arrested under the Crimes Act differed from offences under the ordinary law. All prisoners should be treated alike regarding prison discipline. He was unable to conceive how the Irish members could make any distinction between the prison treatment of persons under arrest for inciting people to crime and outrages and that given to those under arrest for committing crime and outrages. Mr. O'Brien had only himself to blame for being now in custody. If he had appeared in court as Mitchellstown to answer the summons commanding his appearance there and answer the charges against him, even if convicted he might have remained at large prior to the adjudication of an appeal.

Mr. Parnell said that nothing reflected more discredit on the Government than the present treatment of political prisoners. The late Mr. Forster treated his prisoners with distinguished humanity. Now the Government tried to strike terror into the hearts of their opponents by treating political prisoners like criminals of the basest type. Referring to the Mitchellstown affair Mr. Parnell declared that no Government reporters were ever molested at any of the thousands of meetings which had been held by the Irish National League in Ireland. The meeting at Mitchellstown was equally open to these reporters. The police acted like cowards and were a part of the system which was a reign of terror within the prison and one of murder outside. Instead of conceding to Ireland the right to manage her own affairs the Government had taken her by the throat and was trying to strangle her. In conclusion, Mr. Parnell said he wished Mr. Balfour well outside of his job. [Loud Irish cheers.] "If only fear is," added the Irish leader, "lest some men become so exasperated as to commit wild acts of revenge. I will continue, however, to urge my countrymen to patient endurance of wrong and suffering until they get Home Rule." [Cheers.]

Messrs. Morley and Labouchere also spoke in denunciation of the Government's policy.

The Appropriation Bill passed its third reading and the House adjourned till Friday when Parliament will be prorogued.

O'Brien in Cramped Quarters.

DUBLIN, Sept. 13.—The Freeman's Journal says the cell in which Wm. O'Brien is confined at Cork is but nine feet long and four broad. It is badly lighted and little better than a black hole. Mr. O'Brien is in excellent spirits.

A great demonstration is being organized at Mitchellstown, to be made to-morrow during the funeral of Shennick, one of the men shot by the police. The Coolabbey branch of the National League and all the local branches in the country for many miles around Mitchellstown will participate.

Lonergan's Funeral.

MITCHELLSTOWN, Sept. 14.—The funeral of Michael Lonergan, who was shot dead by the police last Friday, took place yesterday afternoon. The body was followed to the cemetery by thousands of people, the procession being over half a mile long. At the grave Father Macarthy made an address in which he exclaimed, "God have mercy on his soul; may he receive more mercy in Heaven than he received on earth."

A Riot in Tipperary.

DUBLIN, Sept. 13.—At Ballyporeen, Tipperary, last evening a riot broke out in a public house, and the police used their batons freely on the rioters. The latter, after a tussle, compelled the police to retire to their barracks, from which a few shots were fired at the crowd. No one was injured, however. Several rioters were arrested.

Why the Belgians Won't Come.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 13.—On hearing that the committee having in charge the preparations for the approaching military encampment at Chicago intended to transport the foreign troops as second and third class passengers the Civic Guards here decided not to accept the invitation to attend.

NOT SO BAD AS REPORTED.

MINISTER WHITE'S OPINION OF THE RED RIVER RAILWAY TROUBLE.

He Joins Macdonald Thubbs to Attend the Young Conservatives' Convention—Confirms Release of Two Hundred Horses in the Northwest.

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—Hon. Thomas White returned from the Northwest this morning and was busily engaged until lunch time with his deputy, getting through arrears of work which have accumulated during his two month's absence. In a brief interview he stated that although he had had some few complaints made to him he found the settlers in the Northwest well satisfied with the land regulations and apparently happy and contented. The crop this year had been a magnificent one and that had, of course, been gratifying to the settlers. With regard to the Red River Railway trouble he said there was a good deal of exaggeration about the feeling in the matter, the excitement being to a large extent confined to Winnipeg. The whole trouble had originated there in a desire on the part of the merchants to make Winnipeg the distributing centre for the whole Northwest, and for that purpose they were anxious that the Canadian Pacific Railway should discriminate in their freight rates in favor of Winnipeg and, failing in this, they were clamorous for a civil railway to the boundary. He did not think the excitement could be kept up much longer even in Winnipeg. The matters had now got before the courts and would be settled there. Any talk about rebellion and armed resistance was simply rubbish. There was undoubtedly some strong feeling in Winnipeg, but he did not for a moment believe the people had the slightest idea of adopting extreme measures.

On the Associated Press despatch from Washington with reference to the existence of disease amongst cattle, horses and sheep in Nova Scotia being shown to the Minister of Agriculture he at once pronounced the story a gross exaggeration. There was no contagious disease prevalent in Nova Scotia or any other part of Canada to the knowledge of the department, nothing in the way of pleuro-pneumonia, foot and mouth disease or anything of that kind. Some time ago a peculiar disease broke out amongst the cattle in Pictou County, N.S., which was known as the "Pictou cattle disease," for the extermination of which Parliament appropriated $500, and efforts in that direction, under the superintendence of Chief Veterinary Surgeon McEachran were successful. One or two isolated cases have occurred since, but have not been considered of sufficient importance for any action to be taken. The disease, even when at its worst, never partook of the nature of an epidemic.

The Department of Railways have called for tenders for the construction of another section of the short line railway between Mango Road and Pictou, N.S., a distance of about twenty-eight miles. Plans and specifications can be seen at the department on Oct. 1, and the time for receiving tenders expires on Oct. 10.

The seizure of a band of horses numbering 300 has been made under the direction of Customs Inspector Maagy from a man named Legare, who has leased a cattle ranch in Manitoba somewhere in the neighborhood of Regina. The cause of the seizure was the neglect of the owner of the animals to pay duty. The question is as yet only in its incipient stages, and the department will await further developments before giving any decision.

The Customs Department has received information that the fishing schooner W. A. Young of Ellsworth, N.S., had been detained at Shelburne, N.S., by the sub-collector of customs on charges of shipping men and landing part of the crew without reporting. The captain, however, thought leg bail the best he could give and stole his vessel away at night without consulting the sub-collector and is now beyond Canadian jurisdiction.

The American propeller Lycoming has been grounded at a place called Staggs Island, off the port of Sarnia, and application has been made to the Customs Department for permission to use Canadian tugs and barges for the purpose of relieving her. Norman Green, engineer of the passenger train, was instantly killed and his fireman had both arms broken. John Haley, engineer of the single locomotive, was fatally injured.

Should the Assembly approve these measures the bills will be introduced in Congress if backed by the full strength of the Knights of Labor.

FERRY BOATS COLLIDE.

THREE EXHIBITION FERRY BOATS RUN FOUL OF EACH OTHER.

How the Gertrude, Queen City and Sadie Rattled Against Each Other—One Life Supposed to Have Been Lost—Statements as to How the Mishap Occurred.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.

At 8.30 o'clock last night the ferry boats Sadie and Gertrude collided about a quarter of a mile off the Waterworks Wharf. One life is supposed to have been lost, but the reports are so conflicting that it is impossible to state positively that this is the only fatality. The accident was one that should never have occurred, endangering as it did the lives of many persons, and which when known upon the streets created intense alarm.

The Gertrude had called at the Brock-street slip and was nearly abreast of the Waterworks Wharf on her way to the York-street slip. The Sadie was approaching from the east, and behind the Gertrude, in close proximity, was the Queen City, also eastbound. Two whistles from the latter were answered by the Sadie, and then the Gertrude whistled once for the Sadie to go to port, and to this the Sadie answered with three, meaning to check down, as it was evident that a collision was unavoidable. A moment later the Sadie struck the Gertrude on the port side, nearly amidships, and the shock resulting from the collision knocked overboard four men who were sitting on the railings aft. Life-preservers were thrown to them and three were rescued. The fourth is supposed to have been lost, as he was seen to sink by Mr. C. B. Russell, route agent of the Dominion Express Company, and others. Engineer Carroll of the Sadie describes the man as about 35 years of age and of stout build, and declares that several life-preservers were thrown to him, but that he seemed utterly helpless. No clue could be obtained as to the identity of the man. One lady was reported to have had an arm broken, but this could not be verified. Two small boats were at the scene of the collision shortly after its occurrence, and assisted in the rescue of the three men.

A terrible confusion followed among the passengers on the Gertrude and the scare or more on the Sadie. To add to the excitement the Queen City ran into the stern of the Gertrude, and while the three boats were practically locked together the passengers on the Gertrude were transferred safely to the others.

After the collision the Gertrude was towed to the York-street slip by the Queen City, and she immediately sank. The Sadie was towed to the Brock-street slip by the Macotta, having been but slightly injured. The Gertrude is owned by Fleming & Murphy, and is valued at 6000. She had been chartered by Mr. Thomas Davies in connection with his ferry line to the Exhibition. The Sadie and Queen City belongs to the Dotys, and were also chartered by Mr. Davies.

What a Passenger Said.

Mr. W. S. Kerman, a young man employed by W. A. Geddes, wharf owner, gives the following account of the accident: The collision occurred just at the Brock-street slip. I was on board the Gertrude which had called at that wharf and was going out again towards York-street. The Queen City was coming east and the Sadie going west towards the Exhibition, and intending to call at Brock-street. All three boats were quite near each other at the time. I was watching the Queen City which I thought was in danger of running into our boat. All of a sudden I turned around and saw the Sadie some twelve yards from the Gertrude. There was no time for the men running the boats to stop them and immediately the Sadie came into contact with the Gertrude on her port side with a great crash, and literally smashed the timbers of our boat. The two boats were wedged together and the passengers of the Gertrude went on board the Sadie. As soon as it was evident there was to be a collision everyone rushed to the stern, and it was fortunate there were so few people on board either boat, as otherwise many would have been unable to retreat from the part of the boat where she was run into. The Queen City came alongside and took the passengers from the Sadie and towed the Gertrude to the York-street wharf, where she sank to the bottom immediately on her arrival there. I don't know anything about the man that was drowned. Everyone was very much excited. I lost my hat but can't say at what time.

Mr. J. S. Hamilton of Brantford, who was also on the Gertrude, corroborated Mr. Kerman's version of the collision.

THE RED RIVER RAILWAY.

The Charges on the Rails Paid and They Will be Forwarded at Once.

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—Provincial Treasurer Larivière of Manitoba, states that he has the money for the rails lying at the wharf here. He says he got $50,000 from Swiny of St. Sulpice, on the credit of the province on very satisfactory terms. He denies that Norquay is trying to raise money in New York or is in correspondence with Boston capitalists, and says they will obtain whatever they want without any difficulty. Forty-seven thousand dollars out of the $50,000 was paid to the Bank of British North America before the rails were delivered. The rails are now being loaded on Canadian Pacific railway freight cars, and will be forwarded at once to Winnipeg.

There is also another consignment not yet paid for. It appears that some trouble arose between the Bank of Montreal and James Hutton & Co., from whom the rails were purchased, so that they remained on the wharf until they were paid for. Larivière says they will take the injunction case to the highest court in the realm if necessary, and in the meantime go on with the Red River Railway. They will use every constitutional means, but says there is no ground for the sensational reports of a probable rebellion.

Referred to in the British House.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—Sir Henry Holland, Secretary of State for the Colonies, stated in the House of Commons this evening that the Government had received advices from the Governor-General of Canada regarding the dispute in Manitoba over the Red River Railway matter, but that as the whole case was sub judice it would not be proper for him to disclose the nature of the advices nor to offer an opinion on the subject. The Government hoped all parties to the controversy would abide by the final decision in the case.

Amusements in the Horse Ring—The Receipts Keeping Up.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.

There were about 25,000 people at Exhibition Park yesterday and last night. This is about the same number as was there on the corresponding day of last year. The receipts yesterday were $6533 and on the same day in 1886 $131 less. The weather was simply superb, although a little warm at times; in fact it was suggestive of iced lemonade, the festive and cool lager being out of the question at the park. Speaking of beer and lager, it may be mentioned that the "growler" is a prominent visitor at the Fair. No one is permitted to sell anything stronger than tea on the grounds and so the thirsty ones bring it in bottles. But withal a more orderly or better behaved set of people never patronized an exhibition than are on hand this year. Out of 50,000 visitors on Monday the police made but three arrests for drunkenness. This triplet of unfortunates had worked the "growler" to an overflowing extent.

The live stock and poultry were the great features yesterday. The show of horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry this year is a grand one, and their pens and stalls were the admired of all admirers.

The program of music and amusement continues good, but great disappointment was expressed because Prof. Hunt and his balloons again made default. It is said the ascension will be made to-day. Half a dozen bands furnished music throughout the day.

The comparative statement of receipts up to last night is:

	1887.	1886.	Dec.
Monday	$ 6,533
Tuesday	11,197	$ 11,328	$131
Wednesday	9,153	9,153
Thursday	7,553	7,553
Friday	7,553	7,553
Saturday	11,197	11,197
Monday	6,533	6,533
	$57,722	$53,317	$131

With a continuance of fine weather up to Friday evening, Treasurer McGee estimates the total gate receipts at $45,000.

Speeding in the Horse Ring.

The consolation race for beaten stallions was the only trial of speed in the horse ring. Although it had but three competitors it proved an excellent contest and aroused much enthusiasm among the spectators. Five heats were trotted and every one resulted in a close finish between Dufferin and Waldorf, the former winning the first, second and fifth, Waldorf capturing the third and fourth. Summary:

Consolation Purse—For beaten stallions in the 2.40 class (trotting conditions the same); entrance fee $5, which will be added the special prize of $100, presented by Mr. Clarkson; 15 to receive 40 per cent, 10 30 per cent, 5 20 per cent.

T. & W. Phillips's (Parkdale) br. h. Dufferin.....
E. W. & C. Clegg's (Lyndonia) gr. h. Waldorf.....
Time—2.40½, 2.42, 2.41, 2.47, 2.43.

The horses in all classes competing for prizes occupied the ring, but were only inspected by the judges, no prizes being awarded. To-day the animals will again fill the ring, when the prizes will be awarded. A noticeable feature among the thoroughbreds was Mr. T. C. Patteson's Drake Carter, who has proved himself a great racehorse. He is not in show condition but was brought from Mr. Patteson's farm merely to give horse lovers an opportunity to exhibit an animal of known speed and endurance. Drake Carter is a bay gelding, foaled in 1880, by Ten Broeck (son of imp. Phaeton and Fanny Holton by Lexington), dam Pistina by Planet out of Aerolite, by Lexington.

Drake Carter's conformation favors the idea of great speed and ability to carry weight. He has the record as three miles, 5.34, and his sire, Ten Broeck, has the record at one and four miles. The animal was much admired by the horsemen who thronged about him to inspect his good and bad points, but it is needless to say that they pronounced him a model specimen of the race horse.

CROWDS CHEER FERDINAND.

The Bulgarian National Party Favorable to the Prince.

SOFIA, Sept. 13.—A meeting of the National party was held yesterday, 800 persons being present. Addresses were made by the political leaders. After the meeting a procession was formed, which was subsequently augmented to 2000 persons. They marched to the palace where they cheered Prince Ferdinand. Thence they proceeded to the residence of M. Karaveloff and threw stones at the windows. The police were unable to quell the disturbance and many of them were injured. The mob then visited the offices of the opposition journals and smashed the windows, shouting "Down with Traitors." Then they returned to the palace where Prince Ferdinand appeared upon a balcony. The resolutions adopted at the meeting were read to him, and in reply he said: "Love me and be good patriots. Long live Bulgaria." The crowd then dispersed, singing the national anthem.

A Case Under the Charlton Act.

WHITBY, Sept. 13.—The Assizes opened yesterday before Mr. Justice O'Connor. The docket was very light and was concluded today. The only criminal case of interest was that of the Queen v. Jas. McBrien, who was tried for an offence under the Charlton Act. He was accused of seducing and having illicit intercourse with a girl named Jeffrey, who was said to have been between 12 and 14 years of age. Mr. N. F. Paterson, Q.C., defended the prisoner, and on the close of the examination of the prosecutrix he raised the objection that in her evidence the defendant had not seduced her within the meaning of that word. The judge held the objection was well taken and directed an acquittal. The question turned on the meaning of the word "seduce" as found in the act. His Lordship defined the word as implying that the defendant must be guilty of having previously persuaded and worked on the sympathies of the girl, as otherwise any dampening girl could entrap a man under that act.

COMMERCIAL UNION.

This subject is attracting considerable attention, and is of sufficient importance to warrant the interest taken in it. The following condensation of a speech recently made by Mr. Wiman a Canadian, though at present a millionaire resident of New York, outlines what he thinks would be the general effect of Commercial Union upon Canada. As space permits we shall give the principal arguments in favor of the proposed commercial arrangement :—

Mr. Wiman said that Commercial Union was not a party question, and had nothing whatever to do with politics. The Butterworth bill, introduced into Congress last winter, proposed to obliterate the customs line which stretches for four thousand miles between the two countries, keeping them apart commercially, like a privileged barb wire fence. He thought the fence could be swept away without Canadian nationality being disturbed in the least. He had to ask the people of Canada if they want Commercial Union; if they did, he thought it now possible to get it. He believed the American people might easily be educated up to the point of meeting them half way. Commercial Union meant unrestricted trade on this continent. The prosperity of the farmers flowed from the sale of their produce, and free trade with the United States would open to the Canadian farmers a market of sixty millions of people, the greatest money making and money spending people in the world. Eggs are one of the two articles on the free list, and last year fourteen million dozens of Canadian eggs were exported into the United States. If there could be the same unrestricted interchange of all national products it would mean wealth and prosperity to the great body of Canadian producers. Almost everything raised in Canada was wanted by the Americans. The Maritime Provinces seem to have been specially created to supply the New England States. The Dominion of Canada has along its borders the greatest market in the world, from which it is shut out by a barbarous customs line.

He honestly believed this measure would enhance the value of every farm in Canada, and every farmer would find himself more prosperous. Mr. Wiman next dealt with the manufacturing side of the question. He contended that instead of Canadian manufacturing enterprises being crippled they would be actually benefitted. Canada has an unlimited supply of wood, iron, and water power, capable of almost unlimited development for manufacturing purposes. He believed that if the American continent were one nation commercially, Montreal would eventually become the largest manufacturing city in the world and the greatest distributing point on this continent. Canada is richer in iron ores than any country in the world, and it only needs Commercial Union to develop them. Mr. Wiman also pointed out the wealth of Canada in copper, asbestos, nickel, mica, phosphates, etc. Canada was rich by nature but made poor by policy. The farmer in Manitoba should be given an equal chance with the farmer in Minnesota and Dakota. When that was done, the great tide of immigration coming to New York would flow on to the Northwest, filling it in a few years with a busy population, forming in the land of promise a large peasant class, prosperous, contented, and capable of consuming the manufactures of the East.

Canada does not want political union, and if the people can get Commercial Union it will do more to perpetuate British connection than anything else that could be devised by British or Colonial statesmen. In Detroit the other day Senator Palmer said he was opposed to Commercial Union on the ground that he thought it would indefinitely postpone annexation.

HAS it ever occurred, inquires the Ottawa Free Press, to the friends of the reciprocity movement that possibly the Tories are opposing reciprocity because they really desire annexation, and feel that if we only had unrestricted reciprocity there would not be the slightest ground for an agitation in favor of annexation? It is quite possible that those leading Tories like Sir David Macpherson, Sir A. T. Galt, Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, and others, who signed the annexation manifesto in 1849, and whose little game was spoiled by the reciprocity treaty of 1854, are still directing the policy of the Tory party, and they do not want their new annexationist plot spoiled as the old one was by reciprocity.

THE Toronto Council has passed to its third reading a measure providing that all works of street maintenance, watering and lighting, shall be paid for on the frontage plan.

A KINGSTON cheese buyer says that Canadian cheese buyers who contracted cheese at 12½ to 13c., during the excitement, will lose money. He said that owing to the increased number of dairymen who merged into the cheese business this season the production at the present time, despite the shrinkage caused by the drouth, is fully equal to the amount produced this time last year.

GRAFTING on the C.P.R. is credited with being, it does not appear that that corporation is entirely responsible for its extortionate freight rates. Sir George Stephen stated in Montreal the other day that the passenger and freight tariffs of his company were approved every year by the Dominion Government.

"Use your own judgment, have your wits about you," and, in this age of delusion, take no man's word unless he is prepared to prove what he asserts and is willing to back it: then you will see that a Shepherd may sometimes be one of the black sheep in disguise.

MY CHALLENGE:

I hereby Challenge the Self-styled Cheap-Side-Store, for $500 or $1000, that the following is Correct:—

1st.—That I carry Ten Times more Clothing; that I sell Twenty Times more Clothing and in many instances sell them Cheaper than Cheapsides buy them, and yet I always sell with a profit.

2nd.—That I do sell to other dealers who sell Twice the Amount of Clothing Cheapsides does, and that I can sell him, also Cheaper than he Buys in his present market, and yet I will make a profit.

3rd.—That when Cheapsides sell Grain Bags for $1.75 per dozen he makes no money out of them, and hence his reason for refusing to wholesale them at that price.

4th.—That anything the "Big Clothier" advertises to sell he makes no Stipulation as to the Amount. You may take one or you may take all he has. This is not so with Cheapsides, and consequently advertising to sell Grain Bags at $1.75 per dozen is only a decoy to catch trade.

5th.—That when Cheapsides states in his advertisement that he sold bags to the BIG CLOTHIER, he deliberately states what he knows to be false; for when the "BIG CLOTHIER" sent to buy bags he sent him back word that he did not wholesale them and refused to do so.

6th.—That not One Single Article in Cheapsides Clothing Advertisement in Weekly Review of 9th inst., is worth the money he represents them to be, and yet he warns the public to beware of Designing Dealers.

Now, Mr. Cheapside's, as you have courted a Notice from the BIG CLOTHIER, and as you are too small fry for the Wonderful Cheap Man to again notice, don't come out next week with another delusive advertisement, but either shut up or put up. Every word I herein state is true, and if you accept my Challenge I will make you swallow it or I loose my $1000.

In the meantime, I will sell Grain Bags for $1.50 per dozen (there is no money in it to me at this price,) but if you have the Backb one you profess to have, then just follow the BIG CLOTHIER—he will keep you hustling—for, remember, that the man who always Leads and never follows, is

The Baseball Scores—Other Items of Interest to Sportsmen.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.

There were several noteworthy features in connection with the Toronto-Syracuse game yesterday which made it one of the most exciting and interesting that has been played this season. Both pitchers twirled effectively, Baker carrying off the honors, however, to the great delight of his admirers. The visitors took the lead in the third inning when they tallied on a single, but in Toronto's fourth the score was tied. From this out Umpire McLean found himself in hot water, the players kicking at his decisions till finally he walked off the grounds declaring he could stand the abuse no longer. He had no sooner disappeared till he returned, having wisely decided to remain at his post. Another feature was a triple play effected in the eighth inning by the Torontos in such a clean, business-like, no-question-about-it manner that the spectators applauded the great feat with the warmth it so richly deserved. It was made at a critical point, too, and Yeats, who was the principal factor in its successful accomplishment, upon the harp at whose shrine everyone worshipped. The World believes it is correct in saying that it is the first triple that has been made on the Toronto grounds, and if it is mistaken on this point it is positive that no similar play has probably had such an important bearing upon a game.

THE TRIAL OF THE CRACKS.

A Calm Spoils the Race Between the American Sloops.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The attempt to sail the first trial race between the Volunteer and Mayflower ended without result. The judges had to postpone the event before it had been half sailed owing to the want of wind. So far, however, as it went it was no test of the merits of either boat, and when the judges decided that the race was off and that the next would be on Thursday over a course twenty miles to windward and return from the Scotland lightship a general expression of relief was heard.

While the yachts were beating down toward the Hook the Thistle pursued a zig-zag course, trying to keep astern of the Mayflower. She showed, however, beyond all doubt that in light winds she is a wonderful craft, for even with her split head-sails instead of the big balloon jibs of the sloops she continued to get ahead. Her boom was kept well in board and her stay-sail and jib hardly drew at all. She was away inshore and probably got more tide than the sloops.

Gossip of the Turf.

Hanover and Banburg have been matched to run at the Brooklyn Jockey Club meeting, which begins next week. The distance to be run is one mile and a quarter, the weight to be carried by Hanover 118 pounds and that by Banburg 108 pounds, the only stipulation being a good day and a good track.

G. L. Hayden of Fergus, Ont., purchased from M. J. Daly at Niagara Falls race course the bay colt Bellevue, 3 years, by Bramble, out of Ermengarde.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings healtand h happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Applying for Henry Taylor's Release.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.

The Convention of Young Conservatives in Temperance Hall yesterday made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. Some 250 delegates handed in their credentials. A great many more were expected, and a great many more were in town, but the announcement that Sir John Macdonald could not be present until to-day sent members of them to the Exhibition. But a sufficient number were present to thoughtfully discuss the question of the formation of a Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association for the Province of Ontario, to decide upon that question, and to adopt the basis of a constitution upon which the association will work. It was, too, a representative gathering, nearly every district in the Province having its delegates present.

The proceedings of the National Prison Association on Monday and yesterday gave proof of the comprehensive nature of its objects, and the animated debates showed the deep interest which its members take in its concerns. The Congress yesterday was augmented by the arrival of several well-known prison officials, and the attendance of the general public was larger than on the preceding day. The "Physical Care of the Prisoner," in its ramified forms of lunacies, food, clothing, ventilation and labor afforded a wide field for theorizing and a fine opportunity for the most experienced wardens to apply the practical test. There was the expected variations of opinion, but plans proposed and objections urged, alike received impartial consideration.

To-day will be the most important of the Congress, a trinity of topics particularly interesting having been arranged. These are: "The Indeterminate Sentence and Conditional Liberation," "The Transportation of Criminals" and "The Paying Prisoner." In the afternoon the members will pay a visit to the chief objects of interest in the city, and afterwards patronize Toronto's great fair.

The application for an order to discharge the writ of capias which holds Henry Taylor of the Bank of London in jail at London, came up at Osgoode Hall yesterday before Chief Justice Wilson. The matter was enlarged for a week to give Mr. Taylor's counsel opportunity to cross-examine Mr. W. R. Meredith and others upon affidavits which were only placed in the hands of prisoner's counsel yesterday. The affidavits were sent to London yesterday.

MORTALITY IN AMERICAN CITIES.

Startling Death Rate in Six of the Chief Centres of Population.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—To ascertain how the death rate in Boston compares with that of other cities in the country, the Boston Board of Health has been at some pains to collect information from the reports of kindred boards in other large cities, and Dr. McConnell has made out a table of averages which is of considerable value. Though the death rate of Boston is alarmingly high, it appears that the same is true of every city in the Union, with the exception of Baltimore, which has had a lower rate during the heated term than it usually has at such seasons. If the deaths caused by atmospheric conditions had been caused by an infectious disease, it is safe to say that there would have been a panic in the country. As it is, the high death rate seems to attract nothing more than passing notice. The figures for the first six months are far in excess of those of the corresponding months last year, and in the period is not included the hottest and most fatal month of the twelve. Dr. McConnell's table contains the following facts:

City.	Total deaths. 1886.	1887.	Children. 1886.	1887.	Preventable. 1886.	1887.
Boston	4,227	4,443	1,344	1,479	884	918
New York	17,384	19,426	6,649	6,662	3,516	4,427
Chicago	6,368	7,483	2,131	2,684	1,378	1,783
Brooklyn	7,279	7,726	2,811	2,496	1,288	1,545
St. Louis	2,788	4,389	1,099	1,705	705	966
Cincinnati	3,231	3,766	——	1,573	705	966

In these six cities alone there has been an increase of 4247 deaths in the first six months of the year, the totals being 42,941 for 1886, against 47,098 in 1887. The children given in the table were under 5 years of age. For the five weeks ending July 30 the death rate was still higher than in the six months table. In Boston there were 472 deaths in that time, the rate per 1000 of population being 30.40. Of these 564 were children under 5 years of age, their rate to the total mortality being 48 per cent., and there were 364 deaths from preventable causes, the percentage to the total mortality being 31. In New York city in the same time there were 5151 deaths, the rate being 36.82. The children numbered 3041, making 59 per cent. of the total mortality, and the deaths from zymotic or preventable diseases numbered 2220, or 43.6 per cent. of the total mortality. In Brooklyn there was 2244 deaths in five weeks, the rate being 36.56. Of this number 1519 were children, the per cent. to the total mortality being 62.1, and 1047 were from zymotic diseases. In Philadelphia 51 per cent. of a very high total represented children. In Chicago the rate went up to 30.38 in July, 1225 of the dead being children, and 770 deaths being caused by zymotic diseases. In Pittsburg the rate is higher even than in New York, 37 per 1000

On The Verge Of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w36d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Borbon, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medecine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. DON'T COUGH.

But, seriously, do you Catch on? Well, the Great-and-only-Original-Terror to High-Priced-Clothiers, Wonderful-Forepaw dealer, in other words, teddy Cough (Now bring al-ng the Babies, take the name and the gold Dollar, and be Happy.) has issued a Challenge. He has the war paint on, and terror and destruction will come to any of the Baby Clothiers of Peterboro' who will pretend to do business in opposition to this wonder of the 19th Century. He says he is TRUTHFUL! Well, let us see. He states positively that SHEPPARD is lying when he says that he got Bags from Peterboro's Great Cheapside. He also says that he never advertises that which he will not carry out to the letter. READ CAREFULLY THE FOLLOWING, and see the position it puts this oracle of truth in—Mr. Teddy Cough:

37 Vic. C. 37. D.

I, HENRY SHEPPARD, of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, do Solemnly Declare that on Saturday evening last past two young men came into my place of business and stated to me that they had one deal with Gough but never wanted another. One said "I purchased goods from Gough, (meaning I suppose the store) and he guaranteed me that he would refund me the money if I was not satisfied or words to that effect. I had witness to prove this. Afterwards I went back with the goods, stated that I was not satisfied and "wanted my money. He would not give it me. I told him I could make him return me the money if I wanted to, as I had witness. I did "not get the money, so Gough got the money and the clothing too, but, I have the experience."

On Wednesday, August, 31st, 1887, a responsible farmer came into my store and inspected my Grain Bags. He purchased two dozen bags of good quality, looking at the same time at the cheap bags selling at $1.75 per dozen, but, said he, would not buy them for his own use. About two hours after leaving my store he returned and said "I want two dozen of your cheap bags now" and stated that they were not for himself. He afterwards stated to me in the presence of a witness that he took the two dozen cheap bags in the store of one, Gough a Clothier on George Street, Peterborough, and was paid $3.50 for the same by the said Gough, or one of his salesmen.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the Act passed in the Thirty-seventh year of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial oaths."

HENRY SHEPPARD.

Declared before me at the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, this 13th day of Sept., in the year of our Lord 1887.
E. A. PECK, A Commissioner, &c.

The above has the contrary ring of truth, seeing that in each case four reputable witnesses can be found to corroborate the above sworn statement, and, when it is necessary, more will follow. SHEPPARD has no desire to bring any man's business in such a light before the public. But the BACK-BONE talked about will never be found wanting in SHEPPARD, and just at the right time and place Mr. Forepaw dealer may need his $500 or $1000 to prove his assertions.

So that, at the present moment, Peterboro's Great CHEAPSIDE will go on selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterboro' though it raises the wool on this only Original Cough. SHEPPARD has no Brother-in-laws in Muskoka to sell goods to, neither has he relatives or any other person, who at any time endorsed his paper to the extent of one cent. He has, though his Stock is small, $10,000 in assets over liabilities, and just so long as this state of affairs exists he will pledge himself to the public to give entire satisfaction.

You can save money on any purchase. Sheppard has reduced Men's $10.00 Suits to $6.00. Men's $15.00 Suits to $10.00. Look out for Slashing Reductions in Men's and Boy's Clothing.

One of the Finest.
Bowmanville Statesman:—"The large colored poster printed at the EXAMINER office, for the Peterborough Central Exhibition is one of the finest specimens of poster printing that has ever come to our office for a long time. Peterborough excels in fine printing establishments, and as a prosperous town has no superior in Canada."

Means What He Says.
Some people, like the mythical Tom Pepper, never mean what they say, and sometimes tell the truth by mistake, but when W. J. Morrow says, as he does in his advertisement elsewhere, that he keeps as pure and fresh a stock of groceries and provisions as can be procured, and at the lowest possible prices, depend upon it, he means what he says. Call and inspect his stock, and you will be convinced thoroughly.

Hymeneal Happiness.
Last evening the parsonage of the George Street Methodist Church was the scene of happy nuptials. Rev. Mr. Wallace united in marriage Mr. Harry Dunford and Miss Torie Mann, the second youngest daughter of Mr. Stephen Mann. Mr. and Mrs. Dunford enter upon their married life under the most promising auspices, and congratulations and best wishes follow them to their new home in Bradburn's new terrace on Louis street.

Taxation.
Belleville Intelligencer:—"The rate of taxation at Peterborough this year is 12½ mills on the dollar for Protestants, and 13½ on the dollar for Catholic ratepayers. A very favorable showing, indeed. At Lindsay the rate is 23 mills on the dollar. If the above rate for Peterborough represents the school and municipal rates combined and is ample for all demands, the affairs of the town must be wisely managed. There was a time in Belleville when a low rate of taxation was enjoyed, but there was too much economy. The city is now making up for its holiday in tax-paying. The rate this year is 19 7/12 mills on the dollar. Lindsay with over two cents on the dollar is ahead and nobody here envies her the distinction."

Made One Matrimonially.
This afternoon, the wedding of Mr. James T. Emmerson, of the Metropolitan Grocery Company, and Miss Lou Wells, youngest daughter of Mr. John S. Wells, took place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. H. Wallace, B.D., at the residence of the bride's father. Miss Wells was a member, for a long time, of the George Street Methodist Church choir, and her valued and always willingly rendered contributions to public concerts were highly appreciated. She was very popular and greatly esteemed, as was attested by the many handsome wedding presents which were made her on the occasion of her marriage. The happy couple took the 5:52 train for Toronto this evening. To-morrow they will take steamer for a trip down the lakes and the St. Lawrence. Both parties are well known and have a large circle of friends who unite in the heartiest congratulations.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.
It is remarkable how the popular interest is maintained in the drama of Uncle Tom's Cabin. Last night Bradburn's Opera House was crowded, pit, gallery and dress circle, to witness the presentation of this play by Abbey's Double Company. The play, as put on, was really excellent. The stock features of the drama were well presented by the different actors. Uncle Tom was a faithful presentation; Little Eva was a remarkable impersonation by the little infantile genius who assumed this role. The plantation melodies were a very creditable introduction of variety. The two Marks were—one markedly good, one markedly bad, while the twin Topsies, represented by the Hyer sisters, were worthy of all praise. Their grotesque acting and really excellent singing met with enthusiastic applause and recalls. Altogether the play was presented in such a manner as to delight the large audience present.

Employing Agents.
It is still and unsettled question whether the employment of agents to sell the goods of wholesale merchants is a paying one or not, and there are few, if any, agents employed by retail firms. Yet there are in one case which could be mentioned, thousands of agents in the interest of one local firm. The public will be loth to believe this, thinking that they know very well what is going on. Yet the mere assertion of the fact will convince them. The one establishment referred to is that of D. Belleghem, the Famous Furniture Factor. The excellence of his wares is such that every person who buys them, in singing their praises, becomes an agent for the sale of them. Therefore Belleghem has thousands of agents in his interest in every part of the Midland district. These agents are most effective ones. They receive their commission in advance in the extra value they get in purchasing from Belleghem. Everything in the furniture line, from the smallest to the most costly article can be found in Belleghem's mammoth warerooms. His business is constantly expanding, and as the prudent mother lets out the tucks of the skirts of her growing girl, so Belleghem is forced every year or so to let a tuck out of his factory buildings and enlarge them and if the public would only have let him alone and not have thronged him with orders, he would have added another story to his factory buildings this summer. Great is Belleghem the Famous Furniture Factor.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Another View of the Tax Question.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

There is a great deal of apathy among our citizens in regard to public affairs, otherwise Councillor Moore's sensible and public-spirited letter would have caused a discussion ere this in the press about the stupid and unfair law that now exists, fining those who do not pay their taxes by a certain date, five per cent. of their amount. I am sorry Mr. Moore's motion for its abolition should have been rejected as it is an absurd regulation that ought to be materially modified so as to do justice to those who are unable to pay in time, and also to prevent others making money out of the corporation by not paying their taxes for eight or nine months after they are due, so as to recoup themselves for the five per cent. fine.

As there are many poor men in the town who have a difficulty in making up the full amount of their taxes at once, I would propose that they be made payable in three equal instalments due on the first weeks of October, November and December. This would give a fair chance to those unfavourably situated for paying in one sum, and enable not a few to avoid contributing towards the fine fund, which last year amounted to $300, an unjust levy on those unable to pay at the time by law required.

Councillor Moore's proposal of one per cent. a month is but reasonable and equitable, encouraging payment as soon as possible and preventing long delay, as twelve per cent. is a sufficiently high rate of interest to be generally unprofitable. I hope to see both the public and the press taking hold of the subject in such a way as to show the council that they wish the present law should be thus amended.

Yours truly,
JUSTICE.

In the Matter of Town Taxes.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—Your anonymous correspondent of yesterday is evidently ashamed of his name or is well aware how little credit his letter would secure him, were he to publish it. Generally, it is the consciousness of guilt of some kind, that persuades a man to seek darkness rather than light, and it is when he desires to injure another by insinuation, that he resorts to it. I may pretty safely assume, however, that he is that same Saint and "Moralist" from Charlotte Street, that out of consideration for the place and his hearers, delivers sermons "out of Church" and who, during the past summer, has regaled your readers with attacks on me for not letting him off with a less than fifty per cent assessment on his property. He is no "poor man" though and has precious little sympathy with the unfortunate. It is said he estimates his property for purposes of sale up into the "six figures"—for assessment four will alone suit him, so he naturally felt very badly and tried hard to write me down, because the Court of Revision, of which I am a member, would not let him off with $100 per acre on his land, whilst only the street divided him from property rated thirty times as high. He sneers at my being the friend of the poor man. Whose is he pray? It is neither of the well-to-do nor the poor, but that of Number One, first, last and always.

He takes much care not to discuss very closely the merits of my proposal to levy but one per cent. per month, in place of five per cent. straight, for non-payment on the first of December, and refers to it just enough to get another fling at me, for having assisted in endeavouring to equalize the Roll and helping to place him on a fairfooting with other rate-payers. I am sure he'll never forgive me for it, and can understand how sorely he feels, seeing he has escaped so long. His reference to my proposal being for electioneering purposes, is idle, for I have no ambition in the way he suggests, but I suppose that any man who takes an active part in a public matter, and tries to do his duty, must expect to have odium cast on him and his intentions, however good, misrepresented by individuals of selfish instincts, whose demands for favour he has had to refuse. The proposition I made was to get rid of a hardship and vexation to all ranks, and a suggestion made in Council that I should confine it to those assessed for $600 or $900 and under, I declined to allow, as legislating for any class at the expense of, or to the exclusion of others, I would not consent to being a party to. Regarding the person who "headed the poll" in "Number One", I suggested the name of Mr. Davidson of the same ward in his stead as a member of the Court of Revision, and few, I think, will dispute that he has equal qualification for the position.

And now as I do not care to discuss these matters further with one who finds it necessary to conceal his name from the public, permit me to subscribe myself, Sir,

Your obt. Servant,
W. H. MOORE.

Peterborough, Sept. 14th, 1887.

Peterborough Presbytery.

Quarterly Meeting in St. Andrew's Church.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met in St. Andrew's Church, Peterborough, on the 13th instant. There were twenty-one ministers and seven elders present.

Rev. Mr. Torrance was chosen Moderator for the next six months.

A call from Mill Street Church, Port Hope, to Rev. Wm. McWilliams, was read and sustained.

Arrangements were made for the induction of Rev. Mr. McWilliams on the 13th of October, at 2 o'clock p.m.; Rev. Mr. Cameron to preside, Rev. Mr McLeod to preach, Rev. Mr. Bell to explain the polity of the church, Rev. Mr. Torrance to address the minister and Rev. Mr. McEwen the people.

Very encouraging and interesting reports were presented from several of the mission fields within the bounds.

It was agreed to ask the Presbytery of Lindsay to take the superintendence of the mission fields of Minden and Haliburton.

Rev. Messrs. Carmichael, Ewing and Bennett were appointed a committee to visit the Lakefield, North Smith and Hartley Stations with a view to the union of North Smith and Harvey, so as to form a separate pastoral charge.

The name of Mr. Hoosack, Barrister, was ordered to be forwarded to the College authorities as a student of the first year in Theology.

There was held a conference on the subject of Systematic Beneficence. The conference was opened by Rev. Mr. Bennett, who had prepared a scheme for the acceptance of the Presbytery with a view to the increase of liberality in the congregations and mission stations. The recommendations were received and adopted, and copies ordered to be printed for distribution in the congregations. The following are the recommendations:

I. That all the members of our Church be earnestly exhorted to devote a fair proportion of their income for the support of religious and benevolent objects.

II. That the congregations be recommended to adopt the weekly offering system as the best plan for the raising of funds for the maintenance of Gospel ordinances at home and abroad.

III. That the sessions of each congregation be requested to take steps to give all the people under their care, who are willing, the opportunity of contributing weekly to the stipend fund and to the schemes of the Church, and that the members of sessions themselves be affectionately exhorted to show a good example of liberality to the other members of the congregation.

IV. That in order to the carrying out of the aforegoing recommendations suitable subscription lists be drawn up for use in each of the congregations.

The committee on Evangelistic work gave in their report. The report was ordered to be printed and copies sent to the sessions of the Church.

The next meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held in Mill St. church, Port Hope, on the second Tuesday of January, at 10 o'clock a.m.

Mr. McArthur, a student missionary at Havelock read a discourse which was heartily sustained by the Presbytery.

A report was read to the effect that trustees had been appointed to take charge of the church property at Oak Hill.

Messrs. Carmichael and Thompson were appointed to hold a series of evangelistic services at Minden and Haliburton, as a time most suitable to themselves and the people.

The Presbytery resolved to hold Sabbath School Institutes at Hastings, Peterborough, Millbrook and Grafton.

The following minute was adopted in connection with the death of the Rev. J. W. Smith, to be engrossed in the records of Presbytery:—

"In view of the removal by death, on the 21st of June last, of the Rev. J. W. Smith, late minister of Grafton and Vernonville, this Presbytery desire to put on record their high appreciation of his worth and work. They are thankful to the Great Head of the church for the grace given to their departed father, as manifested in the zeal, ability and fidelity with which, during a period of 36 years, he has discharged, to an attached flock, the active duties of the pastorate.

They bear testimony to his faithful attendance on the courts of the Church and his unwearied efforts to advance her interests, both by his steadfast adherence to her principles and his effective advocacy of the schemes. They also remember with gratitude the uniform kindness which has marked his intercourse with the members of the Presbytery, and the faithful counsels by which he sought to promote their well-being. In his removal they would hear the voice of the Master addressed to each, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."

The Presbytery rejoice to know that that cheerful piety which characterized Mr. Smith's life in the various relationships in which he was placed enabled him to sustain severe affliction, and took away from him all fear in the hour of death. They unite in an expression of deepest sympathy with his surviving partner, praying that the God of all comfort, who has hitherto sustained her, may gladden her spirit with increasing tokens of His gracious presence and blessing."

New Road in Harvey.
The correspondent of the Lakefield Chronicle writing from North Harvey, says:—"Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., paid us a visit last Friday, when he inspected the road opened from Mr. Ward's west to Mr. John Tate's. He was well pleased with the manner in which the grant from the Government was expended. The overseer, Reeve Hicks, forced his way through a part of the roughest land imaginable, opened a road, and made it fairly passable. ¼ of the mile-and-a-half had to be covered by causeways, which was no inexpensive work. The causeway over Flannigan's Lake deserves special notice. There logs are piled on each other fully 6 or 8 tiers deep for a distance of between 40 and 50 yards. Mr. Hicks told your correspondent that with $200 more he could make the road 200 per cent. better than at the present. It is to be hoped that a sum will be apportioned for the completion of this work in the near future." This gives the settlers in Galway and Harvey a route to Peterborough without going by Bobcaygeon or passing through a portion of the county of Victoria. It also enables the people of North Harvey to reach their own county town, Peterborough, more conveniently. It also makes a road past the doors of recent settlers who have heretofore experienced great trouble to reach a passable road. Mr. Stratton appreciates the difficulties under which the settlers have labored, and will use all his efforts to secure further improvements. The road improvements already effected also render available for settlement considerable valuable land otherwise undesirable as a place of location.

BIG LIBERAL VICTORY.

Hon. Mr. Mercier's Candidate Elected by Over 1100 Majority.

OTTAWA Sept. 14.—The result of the election in Ottawa County is the election of the Liberal candidate by a majority, so far as heard from, of 1151. In the last election the Conservative candidate was elected by a majority of 357. This is a genuine Waterloo for the Conservatives.

General Items

The Mounted Police Department have been advised that Deerfoot is among the Bloods, and that the Indians are quiet and peaceable. It is thought that the flight of Deerfoot and the subsequent action of the Mounted Police will have a good effect on the varied tribes in the future by teaching them that the law must be respected.

A party of 300 Icelandic immigrants, in charge of Mr. Baldwinson, arrived at the Canadian Pacific Railway Depot yesterday en route to Manitoba. This makes a colony of 1800 who have settled in the Northwest. The Department of Agriculture class them among the most desirable settlers. They are frugal and industrious.

It is understood that representations having been made to the Postoffice Department that the notice given with regard to the ocean mail service was not long enough to allow of the formation of certain new companies which proposes tendering for the service, the time for receiving tenders will be extended to some date in December not yet definitely fixed. This will give an extension of about two months from the date first fixed on, Dec. 12.

An order-in-council has been passed withdrawing the privilege of torching with bark torches for herring along the coast of Charlotte County, N.B., and adjacent islands. The practice has been permitted by the department for two or three years.

Hon. Mr. Mercier returned to Quebec this morning to attend the funeral of Madame Garneau. He stated before leaving that he would visit Toronto this week or next to confer with Mr. Mowat with reference to the proposed conference of provincial premiers.

Work on the Pontiac Pacific Junction Railway west of the Gatineau River is being rapidly pushed forward and the first ten miles beyond the river will shortly be completed. The company now runs its trains through to Ottawa over the Canadian Pacific Railway from Aylmer, which is a great convenience.

SIXTY THOUSAND MEN IDLE.

The Great Strike of Miners and Laborers in the Lehigh Region.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—A despatch from Hazleton, Pa., says: By the strike of the miners and laborers of the Lehigh and lower anthracite regions for an advance of sixteen per cent. in their wages fully 60,000 are idle. All day yesterday and to-day the streets of the town were crowded with idle men and the situation is being discussed on all sides. The miners quit work last Saturday with a determination not to return to their fields of labor until their demand is granted. A more determined set of men has never been seen, and not a few have been heard to say that they are prepared to remain idle six months if necessary and not be in want.

It is rumored that the Knights of Labor have received notice that the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company and the operators of the Schuylkill region will offer an advance of ten per cent. to-day at the convention to be held at Pottsville. If this offer is made the men will return to work on Thursday and the strike will virtually be at an end. Among the strikers are men of every nationality. Many of the strikers are preparing to leave for other parts to work and if the strike should continue this week hundreds will follow them.

AT THE SHRINE OF ST. ANNE.

An Imposing Ceremony at the Blessing of a Statue of the Saint.

QUEBEC, Sept. 14.—The crowning and blessing of the statue of St. Anne at the Shrine today was a most imposing ceremony. Cardinal Taschereau and all the bishops of the Province, with the exception of Mgrs. Lafleche and Fabre, were present, besides about 10,000 persons from Quebec and its districts. During high mass attending the blessing there was not even standing room in the large edifice. Mgr. Duhamel of Ottawa preached a most eloquent sermon in English, touching on the holy virtues and the many miracles wrought through St. Anne. Mgr. Racine preached in French. The musical part of the mass was very grand, the Union Musical of Quebec besides three other bands of music taking part in the ceremony.

Ottawa's Moral Condition.

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—The White Cross Brotherhood, which took upon itself the task of investigating the charges of juvenile immorality in Ottawa, has made a report, in which it is stated that although some cases were found the charges were grossly exaggerated, and that the moral condition of Ottawa compares favorably with other cities.

A FARMERS' DAY CROWD.

A GRAND COLLECTION OF THOROUGHBREDS AND ROADSTERS.

The Prominent Prize Winners—Farmer Carling Fails to Turn up and Co-mingle With His Fellow-Agriculturalists—A Big Day at the Turnstiles and Grand Stand.

TORONTO, Sept. 15.
THE HORSE DISPLAY was the admired of all admirers at the fair yesterday. There were about 20,000 people there, too, to join in the admiration of the noble equine, the sleek-coated cattle, the fleecy sheep and the great porkers. The turnstiles and the grand stand made the directors happy by turning in the magnificent sum of $12,239, the largest amount ever taken in a single day since the exhibition was established. This is $2000 in excess of the receipts on the same day last year. The weather was simply grand, clear and cool.

The day was advertised as "farmers' day," and it was expected that Farmer John Carling of London would be on hand to stalk to the agriculturists who were gathering there in such great numbers. But Mr. Carling did not come, being detained, it is said, by a pressure of business in the Agricultural Department, of which he is the head at Ottawa.

As stated above a better lot of horses never went into a show ring before in Canada. The judges had their hands full in selecting out the prize winners and in some cases were over three hours at work. From early morning till late in the afternoon the ring was crowded with animals of various classes, being trotted up and down to show off their good points.

The thoroughbred stallions were about the first class decided, and they were a grand lot, and it may safely be said that they were the best exhibit of sires ever brought together in this country. The winner of the first prize was the imported Superior, formerly Strafford. He is a bay with black points, foaled in 1863 by Petrarch, dam Thoughtless, by The Hermit; granddam Salamance, by Student; great granddam Bravery by Gameboy, etc. Superior comes from a racing family, Petrarch, his sire, having won the Two Thousand Guineas and St. Leger in 1876. The Hermit, sire of Thoughtless, the dam of Superior, won the Derby in 1857 and sired two Derby winners. Superior ran several times in England in good company on the flat, and was twice second. He won a steeplechase last year, the only one he ever started in. He is a large, fine horse, suitable for getting saddle or carriage horses such as are required in Canada. He was bred by the Duke of Hamilton at Norfolk, England, and imported to this country last fall by Mr. Simon Beattie of Annan, Scotland, who sold him to Messrs. Kenny & Sweetapple of Lindsay, his present owners.

The second prize was awarded to the well-known steeplechaser Scalper, a horse of fine size and good bone. He is a chestnut, standing 16.1 hands, and is a royally bred horse. Scalper was foaled in 1880 by War Dance, dam Ella Breckenridge by Colossus. He has proved himself a good race horse, having won many cross country events. He was bred by Chinn & Morgan in Kentucky and is now owned by Mr. J. C. Smith of Toronto.

William Hendrie's Bulls Head received third prize. He stands at the head of Mr. Hendrie's stud at Burlington and is a horse of great substance. He is by King Alfonso, dam Maxurk, by Lexington, and also comes from a good racing family. Among the others most noticeable was Mr. T. C. Patteson's brown horse Harkaway, foaled in 1873, bred by the late Gen. A. Ingoldsby of the Bosque Bonita stud, Kentucky. He was a grand race horse of great speed and endurance. Harkaway is by Enquirer (son of imp. Leamington and Lida, by Lexington), dam Rurics by Ruric out of Eleanor Musgrave. Harkaway was purchased by his present owner from Mr. A. J. Cassatt, who used him at his famous breeding establishment, Chesterbrook Farm, in Pennsylvania. Others well known to the Canadian turf were Marquis and Oakdale and the imported horse Glyndon, who ran at the spring meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club, but these failed to catch the judge's eye as the superiors.

In the year-old thoroughbred stallion class F. A. Campbell's bay colt Billetto, by Billet, dam Calomel, by imp. Cauwell, was awarded first prize, J. D. Matheson's bay colt Harry Cooper, by Long Taw, second, and Wm. Hendrie's chestnut colt Radical, by Rossifer, third. The winner is a strong, powerful colt with good bone and highly bred. He was purchased by his present owner at Clifton, N.J. last spring.

For 3-year-old fillies A. Sinclair of Chatham received first prize with the imported filly Lady Dayrell, the winner of the Woodstock Plate at the spring meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club.

The roadster horses gave a good showing. Wm. Hendrie of Hamilton having about the best collection, and particularly one, a 2-year-old filly, by Hyndyk out of Grace Galloway by Happy Medium. Angus Sinclair of Chatham was also well represented.

In the 3-year-old class for fillies a handsome filly, the property of the latter gentleman, by Hillman was awarded first. Another good-looking youngster was that of J. A. Watson, a bay colt by Crown Imperial, who received first prize among the 3-year-old colts. Among the 2-year-olds was noticed Mr. R. Mathews's colt by Rod Wilkes, the prize-winner in that class, and a handsome colt he was. Another smart-looking youngster was Wm. Hendrie's yearling colt by Confederate Chief, of which the colt is a striking resemblance. He was awarded first prize in his class.

The show of imported and Canadian heavy draughts was a grand one—said by many horsemen to be the finest lot of heavy draught horses ever brought together on the continent.

Among the cobs most prominent were Mr. George H. Hastings' elegant-looking, imported black, who is well bred, J. Holderness' imported mare, C. W. McMillan's black gelding by British Splendor, and E. W. Gardner's Doctor. In this class the judges only looked them over and will again inspect them to-day.

A feature among the animals was Mr. Joseph Hickson's collection of ponies, a black Welsh stallion, 3 years old and standing 12 hands, a bay mare 7 years, 11.3 hands, with foal, and four Icelandic pie-balds, two mares and two colts, comprised the little family. As there was no prize for this class they were highly commended. To-day will about wind up the judging of the animals.

Although the competitors for lady riders were few the events were interesting, as Miss Masterman, the well-known professional equestrian, was among the number. The prize was for the best lady rider, every point to be considered. It was naturally thought that the professional would capture the trophy, but her style of riding was not that of the side-saddle, but more of the circus ring order. The ladies trotted and cantered around the ring several times, and were then requested to jump the stone wall, but Miss Gardner, on Jannets, was the only one willing to take the obstacle, which she did in admirable style, and to the delight of all the spectators. It was evident that the young lady was much the superior in every detail and was awarded first prize, Miss Wright of Richmond Hill, on Boeuf, receiving second. Miss Masterman, on Golden Arrow, was awarded a special prize.

A MERCILESS POLICY.

The Government Will Vigorously Apply the Crimes Act in Ireland.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The session of Parliament practically closed last night. The Ministerial speeches leave no doubt of the Government's intention to resort to a rigorous application of the Crimes Act and a merciless exercise of its powers.

The Standard says: "The Government will make a fatal blunder if they defeat the purpose of the law by converting imprisonment under the Crimes Act or any other act into a term of honorable and easy detention. If O'Brien claims to be a martyr he cannot expect to be an elegant recluse."

Another Fight in Afghanistan.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A despatch from Cabul, dated Sept. 6, states that severe fighting took place on Aug. 31 at Maskaki between the Ameer's troops and the insurgents. [illegible]

TORONTO TOPICS.

Farmer Campbell and His Watch.

With his pants full of burrs, Farmer John Campbell, of Fenelon Falls, was around town last night with John McRae, aged 32, employed on the Don works, and living at No. 14 Hamilton-street, in the East End. They went into a hand-me-down shop in York-street and wanted to trade a watch, the property of Campbell. McRae left the store and took the timepiece with him. He went into a building in course of erection in rear of the Palmer House, where he secreted the watch. Then he told Campbell that he had lost it. The men had a dispute in the street and Policeman Ellis came up. The officer marched McRae back to the building, where the watch was found. McRae was then locked up on a charge of theft.

Thomas McComb, a visitor from Collingwood, made the acquaintance of three men last night who robbed him of his watch and chain and a meerschaum pipe. He claims they first knocked him down and then relieved him of the articles mentioned. He was unable to give the police a description of his assailants.

The announcement that neither Sir John or any of the members of the Government could be in Toronto yesterday knocked the banquet and a great deal of enthusiasm out of the Young Conservatives, and made the meetings in Temperance Hall somewhat barren in the matter of attendance, though not in respect to results. Chairman Worrell, at the opening of the convention, frankly acknowledged that the assemblage would be deprived of the pleasure of the attendance of the Chieftain, but urged that as far as the work of organization was concerned this fact need not cause any interference.

The first business of the convention was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

Hon. President—The Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald and W. R. Meredith, M.P.P.
President—J. A. Worrell, Toronto.
Vice-Presidents—J. A. Scott, Rivercrdine; J. A. McGillivray, Uptergis; J. B. Simonds, Ottawa.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. D. MacPherson, Toronto.
Assistant Secretaries—George Howe, Ottawa; J. L. Campbell, Simcoe; S. Hughes, Lindsay.

Edward C. Hyott, a young man connected with an auction room in King-street east, was taken into custody last evening by Detective Johnston on a warrant. The charge against Hyott is that on Feb. 24, 1886, while acting as agent for the City of London Fire Insurance Company at the Village of Brighton, he obtained $1.50 in cash and a promissory note for $6.25 by fraud, from Boswell Switzer. He will be sent to Brighton for a hearing.

Rev. E. A. Stafford, pastor of the Metropolitan Church, yesterday performed an interesting ceremony, when he joined in wedlock Mr. Norreys Worthington of Sherbrooke, Que., and Miss Emma Cook, daughter of Mr. H. H. Cook, the millionaire lumberman, who sits for East Simcoe in the House of Commons. After the ceremony a reception was given at Mr. Cook's residence in Parkdale.

Hon. Oliver Mowat arrived in the city yesterday morning from England. The Premier looks much improved after his trans-Atlantic trip. He will be at his office to-day.

THE ANARCHISTS MUST DIE.

The Illinois Supreme Court Confirms the Sentence to Death.

OTTAWA, Ill., Sept. 14.—The Supreme Court this morning delivered an opinion in the Anarchist case, affirming the judgment of the court below. The execution is to take place Nov. 11, between 9 and 4 o'clock.

The first official information that reached this city of the decision in the Anarchist cases was a telegram from the court clerk at Ottawa to the State's Attorney's office here. Mr. Purcell of the State's Attorney's office ran at once to the jail with the despatch. Following on his heels was a messenger carrying a telegram for August Spies that had been sent from Ottawa by an agent of the Anarchists. The turnkey who took the despatch to cell 25 and shoved it through the bars lingered a moment to watch the effect it would have on Spies. The Anarchist took the message, glanced firmly at the turnkey, and then withdrew to the darker end of the cell. In a few minutes he called gently to the old man who sits as death watch outside the barred door and asked him to hand the telegraph sheet to Parsons. From him it went to all the others and last reached Neebe, who is only under sentence of imprisonment. Newspaper men had been rigorously shut out from the condemned men and all observations had to be taken from the outside of the cell, ten yards from the cell door. It could be dimly seen that each of the condemned men made ostentatious efforts at coolness and bravado.

Capt. Black, counsel for the Anarchists, announces that he will carry the case to the United States Supreme Court. Late this afternoon the condemned men were allowed to take exercise in the covered jail court and speak to their friends who were freely admitted. The prisoners had agreed among themselves to talk to no one for publication and all attempts to interview them were resolutely resisted.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

An Ottawa Coal Dealer Held for Giving a False Certificate.

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—In the Police Court this morning Mr. W. H. Easton, a coal dealer, was committed for trial on a charge of having forged a corporation certificate for coal weighing by altering it so as to make it appear 150 pounds more than the actual weight. The coal was delivered on Aug. 30 to a customer in Hull named Laberge and the certificate made the weight appear 2230 pounds, while the actual weight was only 2070 pounds as ascertained by Mr. Quain, the corporation coal weighing inspector. The charge was made by the inspector whose evidence was sustained by the carter who delivered the coal, who said that he loaded the coal, that it was never weighed at all and that Mr. Easton gave him the corporation certificate of weight.

James Munro, a laborer, testified that on Aug. 30 he was eating his dinner at the Canadian Pacific Railroad weigh scales. He saw Mr. Easton at the time take a book out of the drawer of the scales. A leaf fell out of it and defendant picked it up and put it in his pocket.

Ald. Lewis recalled a conversation he had with Mr. Easton on Friday Sept. 2, with regard to the coal business. He asked Mr. Easton how his man had come with a union station weigh ticket when the coal was alleged to be weighed at the St. Lawrence and Ottawa weigh scales, and asked Mr. Easton who filled out the ticket. Mr. Easton replied: "I suppose I filled it myself." Mr. MacIver was present when the conversation took place.

Mr. H. A. MacIver corroborated the statement of Ald. Lewis.

The defence was reserved for the trial, which will take place at next assizes. Mr. Easton was admitted to bail.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

James O'Neil Convicted of Causing the Death of William McLaren.

HAMILTON, Sept. 14.—At the Assize Court this morning James O'Neil was arraigned on a charge of manslaughter. On July 5 last a young man named William McLaren, in company with a man named Tyle, went up an alleyway off Cannon-street, and were poking in the window or talking outside the house of James O'Neil. The latter came to the door and after a short altercation, McLean and Tyle went away. Shortly afterwards McLaren left Tyle and started up the alleyway alone. Tyle heard a scuffle in the alley and then O'Neil ran out brandishing a club. He was followed by McLaren who was holding his head, complaining that he had been struck with a club. McLaren lingered around the streets until midnight, when he went home. At 2 p.m. next day he died.

The jury brought in a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to mercy.

The next case was that of Edward Brand charged with having assaulted Christopher C. Griggs, a policeman. In November last Griggs while endeavoring to arrest Brand had his ear and hand badly bitten and several teeth knocked out. After the jury had been chosen and just as the court was about taking evidence in the case, Brand pleaded guilty.

At the Police Court this morning, Robert Brown and Peter Mulholland were found guilty of assaulting Constables Ferris and Hallley. Previous convictions were put in. Brown was sentenced to twenty months and Mulholland to twelve months in the Central Prison.

The Panic in Oil.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The panic in oil continued to-day, and holders threw over large amounts all day regardless of price, and at the close to-night the entire gain made in the boom last week was wiped out. The highest price was 83, opening 83, lowest 82, closing 82½. Sales, 4,567,000 barrels.

SAVING THE SCOTT ACT.

A DETERMINED FIGHT TO BE MADE AGAINST REPEAL.

The Temperance Convention Providing Ways and Means to Enter the Fight—The Part Politics Took in the Gathering—Laughed Out of Court.

TORONTO, Sept. 15.

The convention of Scott Act workers reassembled in Richmond Hall yesterday morning and concluded its business at 5 o'clock last evening. Mayor Howland presided. The morning session was entirely given up to the making of preparations to defeat the repeal vote on the Scott Act to be taken in several counties shortly. This discussion, if it meant anything at all, indicated that the Scott Act will be bitterly contested in those counties, by both the liquor and temperance parties. The convention was unanimous in the determination to maintain the Scott Act in the counties where it is now in force. The delegates were of the opinion that to allow the Scott Act to fall without a strong effort to save it would be disastrous to the temperance cause. This is the interpretation of the series of resolutions introduced by the Committee on Campaign Work yesterday and unanimously endorsed by the convention.

Fighting the Devil With Fire.

The first resolution protests against the Dominion Government permitting a repeal vote to be taken on the Scott Act before the three years of its statutory duration shall expire. In the event of a repeal vote being submitted to the electors another resolution recommended a rigorous campaign against the defeat of the act. To carry out this a general supplementary campaign fund will be established at once. The object of this fund will be to provide local organizations with money so as to make the campaign as effective as possible. It was decided that local organizations making application for grants from the general fund must contribute an equal amount to what they receive. This fund will be controlled and administered by a committee composed of Mayor Howland, J. J. McLaren, Rev. Dr. Sutherland, Rev. Dr. Wild, Rev. John Smith, F. S. Spence, Rev. Dr. Griffin, Chas Raymond and Mr. O'Hara.

A resolution was carried providing for a lecture bureau, reliable literature for imparting facts and figures on the working of the Scott Act, and a correspondence bureau to be established in each county. The lecture bureau will be under the control of F. S. Spence, Rev. John Smith, D. T. Moore, Dr. Youmans and Rev. D. L. Brethour.

The Committee on Law Enforcement recommended that the Ontario Government be asked to appoint a force of provincial police to assist county officials in carrying out the Scott Act. Another resolution from the same committee approved of the use of private detectives to secure convictions against Scott Act transgressors. The convention approved of a resolution to appoint officers under the direction and pay of the Dominion Alliance and who shall assist in securing Scott Act convictions.

Mr. J. J. McLaren offered a resolution, which was carried, strongly disapproving of the practice of punishing those guilty of a third offence against the Scott Act by fines instead of imprisonment.

At the morning session Mrs. Youmans of Picton was introduced to the delegates and gave an address on the necessity of a prohibitory liquor law.

The Sheriffs and Liquor Laws.

Mayor Howland was absent at the afternoon session, and the chair was occupied by Mr. McLaren.

The Committee on Legislation presented its report, which, after some discussion, was approved of. It recommended that the election law should be amended so as to abolish all deposits and forfeits as a qualification for Parliamentary candidates. That the Government be petitioned to amend the liquor law so that it would be illegal to drink intoxicating liquor on the premises where it is sold. That licenses be refused to applicants who are convicted of violating the license law. That temperance workers in all the provinces be urged to secure legislation providing for licensing and inspecting of houses of public entertainment.

The question of a third party was again introduced by three separate motions. The main motion was moved by Rev. Mr. Burgess of Lindsay, who advocated the formation of a prohibition party and that the Alliance be called to meet some time in 1888 to perfect a thorough organization. An amendment by Rev. Dr. Sutherland was for the most part similar to the main motion. It however declared for the organization of a new party with prohibition as the chief plank in its platform. The second amendment was introduced by Mr. Spence. Its purport was to advise the sinking of all party differences and support either of the present political parties who will adopt prohibition as a plank in its platform. If neither party would make prohibition a political issue, Mr. Spence's amendment asked for an independent political prohibition party.

The Two Political Parties Denounced.

The speaking and the attitude of the delegates on the question of party politics being severed from the agitation to secure prohibition showed that leading temperance advocates are divided on the best course to pursue. Dr. Sutherland, and those speakers who favored his resolution, denounced the past history of both Canadian political parties, and, so far as they were concerned, they saw no difficulty in breaking down the opposition to prohibition by a vigorous new party. Others, amongst whom was Mr. D. Graham of Montreal, expressed themselves as opposed to breaking up old political parties. They warned the convention that such a course might prove disastrous to temperance reform. In their opinion it would be impossible to get temperance electors to forsake their political associations for the sake of prohibition. It would result in embittering the political parties against temperance movements, and in allying against prohibition the solid influence of the liquor traffic.

Mr. McLaren pointed to the course pursued by Mr. Parnell to make the Irish vote felt in the House of Commons. This was not by a third party, but by voting alternately with the Liberals and Conservatives, according as each party conceded Irish reforms. He took exception to the wholesale condemnation of politicians by the speakers of the afternoon. He strongly advised the delegates to vote down the resolutions on a new party organization and to stick to the deliverance of Tuesday by doing all in their power to insure the defeat of Parliamentary candidates opposed to prohibition. This he thought could be brought about without the cumbersome and expensive machinery of a new party.

The debate was protracted to a great length, and as it went on the delegates were showing symptoms of uneasiness. Things came to a head when Mr. J. A. Livingstone took the floor, when a vote was immediately demanded as the close of his remarks. The vote stood:

For Dr. Sutherland's motion.....29
Against.....25

Objecting to the Vote.

The chairman's manner of taking the vote created a good deal of dissatisfaction. Dr. Sutherland's amendment was alone submitted to the meeting. The supporters of the motions of Messrs. Burgess and Spence claimed that the meeting should have been asked to pronounce on their resolutions. The chairman refused to re-consider his decision and after some expressions of disapproval the convention passed on to the next order of business.

A resolution was carried thanking the Ontario Government for introducing text books on temperance into the public schools.

Dr. Griffin then rose and protested against the ruling of the chair in taking the vote on the third party motions. A short discussion again ensued, which was the means of causing a good deal of feeling.

A motion thanking The Globe, Mail and News for their past support of prohibitory legislation was laughed out of court.

In the confusion which followed a delegate called out: "Why not include The World also?"

Chairman McLaren said: "The world, the flesh and the devil."

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1887.

THE DEBT OF THE DOMINION.

One thing is certain, it is not decreasing. On the other hand, the increase of an already ruinous and oppressive load of public debt is steady and certain. The Government and its defenders—for it has no friends who are not called on to be perpetual apologists for the administration—are, while adding to the debt, constantly striving to put things in the best light for themselves. A short time since with a great flourish of trumpets, the Government organs announced that the accounts for revenue and expenditure for the year ending June 30th, 1887, showed a surplus of about $130,000. They doubtless hailed this huge amount as a redeeming offset against the deficits of the two previous years, amount to nearly ten millions of dollars, ($9,617,869) This rejoicing was premature. The latest official public debt statement in the Canada Gazette, shows that the net debt had been increased by the large sum of $3,467,609 since June 30th, the date when the little surplus was announced. The net debt of the Dominion on the 31st of August last was $228,494,461 compared with $225,026,762 on the 30th June 1887, and $223,159,107 on the 30th June 1886. Thus the net public debt was increased by nearly two million dollars during the fiscal year ending June 30th last, and by $3,467,609 during the two months ending on August 31st. The total increase, therefore, in fourteen months was $5,332,354. And at the bottom of the debt statement referred to above is a foot note informing the public that of the $793,323 paid on account of rebellion losses, "$272,112 paid previous to June 30th and charged to consolidated fund has been transferred to capital account," or in other words added to the debt of the country. This is a rather free-and-easy way to arrive at a surplus—on paper. It is much the same as if a farmer, whose yearly expenses are $1000 and whose receipts are $500, should smuggle $600 of his expenses into a permanent debt in the shape of a mortgage and then declare that he had a surplus of $100 on the year's operations. If the amount of $272,112, improperly included in the public debt, had been charged to current expenditure, where it properly belongs, the boasted surplus of $130,000, on June thirtieth, not only disappears, but leaves a deficit of $142,112. The following is the official statement of debt and capital expenditure of the Dominion on the 31st August :

Total gross debt on Aug. 31, '87	$273,629,561
Total assets	44,535,100
Total net debt on Aug. 31, 1887	228,494,461
Total net debt on 30th June, 1887	225,026,762
Increase of debt in two months	3,467,699
Total capital expenditure to Aug. 31.	7,039,244

Of the gross debt $171,675,735 is payable in England. The temporary loans amounted to $1,241,000. Of the capital expenditure during the year ending June 30, $3,889,875, was for public works and railways, and $1,369,103, as subsidies to railway companies. During July and August the expenditure charged to capital amounted to $1,628,199. Of this sum $619,615 was paid out on account of canals, railways, and other public works, $194,077 as railway subsidies, $194,077 for Dominion land, and $793,323 on account of Northwest rebellion losses. This last amount should be included in the ordinary expenditure of the year 1886 '87, and not added to the public debt. This may not be cheerful nor re-assuring reading, but it serves to show the pace at which we are going, and how much credibility is due the assertion made by Hon. Mr. White in his Forum magazine article to the effect that Canada was well governed.

THE Manitoba agitation arising out of the building of the Red River Valley railway has produced some effect on the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which has reduced its wheat rates. Under the new tariff the rate from Winnipeg to Port Arthur is twenty-four cents per hundred pounds instead of twenty-eight cents as formerly. But the Winnipeg people are not satisfied, and it is pointed out by way of contrast that the rate from St. Paul to Chicago is only seven and a half cents, the distance in both cases being about equal.

A High School Building Burned

Monday morning fire broke out in the high and public school buildings at Bowmanville, and despite the efforts of the firemen, the structure was destroyed. The building and contents were insured for $10,000. Temporary accommodations can be provided for the scholars. As the season is so far advanced it is doubtful if new buildings can be erected this fall.

Disgraceful Proceedings.

SMITH FALLS, Sept. 10.—Recently Mr. Robertson, head master of the high school, quarrelled with the assistant, Mr. Mitchell. They had not been on good terms, and on the latter gentleman entering the head master's room for some purpose he was ordered from it. On refusing to go Mr. Robertson assaulted him, dealing him a blow in the face which felled him to the floor, and proceeded to pummell and kick him around among the desks. The matter is to be ventilated in the courts.

GOUGH'S CHALLENGE.

"Use your own judgment, have your wits about you," and, in this age of delusion, take no man's word unless he is prepared to prove what he asserts and is willing to back it: then you will see that a Shepherd may sometimes be one of the black sheep in disguise.

MY CHALLENGE:

I hereby Challenge the Self-styled Cheap-Side-Store, for $500 or $1000, that the following is Correct:—

1st.—That I carry Ten Times more Clothing; that I sell Twenty Times more Clothing and in many instances sell them Cheaper than Cheapsides buy them, and yet I always sell with a profit.

2nd.—That I do sell to other dealers who sell Twice the Amount of Clothing Cheapsides does, and that I can sell him, also Cheaper than he Buys in his present market, and yet I will make a profit.

3rd.—That when Cheapsides sell Grain Bags for $1.75 per dozen he makes no money out of them, and hence his reason for refusing to wholesale them at that price.

4th.—That anything the "Big Clothier" advertises to sell he makes no Stipulation as to the Amount. You may take one or you may take all he has. This is not so with Cheapsides, and consequently advertising to sell Grain Bags at $1.75 per dozen is only a decoy to catch trade.

5th.—That when Cheapsides states in his advertisement that he sold bags to the BIG CLOTHIER, he deliberately states what he knows to be false; for when the "BIG CLOTHIER" sent to buy bags he sent him back word that he did not wholesale them and refused to do so.

6th.—That not One Single Article in Cheapsides Clothing Advertisement in Weekly Review of 9th inst., is worth the money he represents them to be, and yet he warns the public to beware of Designing Dealers.

Now, Mr. Cheapside's, as you have courted a Notice from the BIG CLOTHIER, and as you are too small fry for the Wonderful Cheap Man to again notice, don't come out next week with another delusive advertisement, but either shut up or put up. Every word I herein state is true, and if you accept my Challenge I will make you swallow it or I loose my $1000.

In the meantime, I will sell Grain Bags for $1.50 per dozen (there is no money in it to me at this price,) but if you have the Backbone you profess to have, then just follow the BIG CLOTHIER—he will keep you hustling—for, remember, that the man who always Leads and never follows, is

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. eodw

THE PRISON CONGRESS.

Some Interesting Papers and a Letter From Archbishop Lynch.

TORONTO, Sept. 15.

Gen. Rostiff Brinkerhoff, member of the Ohio Board of Charities, called the National Prison Congress to order at 10 o'clock yesterday.

Rev. Fred. H. Wines, Springfield, Ill., secretary of the association, announced that the Board of Directors had agreed to recommend to the Executive Committee that the Congress meet next year at Boston, about the middle of June.

Dr. Daniel Clarke, Medical Superintendent of the Toronto Asylum, wrote inviting the members of the Prison Association to pay a visit to the asylum.

A Letter From Archbishop Lynch.

His Grace Archbishop Lynch sent this letter:

ST. MICHAEL'S PALACE,
TORONTO, Sept. 14, 1887.

To the Hon. Secretary of the Prison Congress.

SIR—Permit me to give expression to a few thoughts on prison affairs.

1. Would it be wise to have a jail delivery once or even twice a year, to examine cases in view of shortening sentences of prisoners, such as the case of a father of a family who committed a crime in a moment of passion or drunkenness, but who hitherto bore a good character and is likely to be reformed in a shorter time than his sentence called for. His family suffers, and the criminal also in remorse for the suffering of his family. Could such persons be admitted to bail, or with a ticket-of-leave, and be under the surveillance of the police authorities?

2. Should not men who brutally treat their wives be punished corporally by the lash, for inflicting wounds on their innocent and forgiving wives?

3. Could there be any remedy suggested to prevent crime? It is engendered principally on the streets in youth. They were condemned to the dirty lanes and miserable houses, and often with bad fathers and mothers. The children have no place to play or amuse themselves except the streets, and children require amusement and fresh air as much as they do food. The streets with bad companions are their ruin. Lanes and filthy tenement houses are the nurseries of crime. Could there be any remedy suggested to compel landlords to keep their houses and surroundings in a proper condition?

† JOHN JOSEPH LYNCH,
Archbishop of Toronto.

Warden Brush of the State Prison, Sing Sing, N.Y., said: "I wish to make a statement as a matter of privilege. In an editorial in The Globe this morning are certain statements which are untrue and misleading, and which ought not to be passed by without correction. I bring the matter before the Congress that thus it may be brought before the notice of The Globe. I did not state and it is not true, that prisoners at Sing Sing can be supplied by wealthy outside friends with all they like from cigars to spring chicken, etc. Neither is it true, that they may wear any dress they please. A prisoner can have a box of delicacies to eat only once in two months, and every prisoner at Sing Sing wears the prison stripes. Neither do they live in idleness, but every man not excused by the physician is compelled to do a hard day's work. Last year they earned so loss a sum than $75,000."

A Discussion on the Archbishop's Letter.

In the evening Gen. Brinkerhoff again presided. The first business was an unprepared discussion of three points in Archbishop Lynch's letter read at the morning's session. The debate was very discursive, but not dogmatic. Many of the members contributed their quota to the discussion, which was principally on the third point—the prevention of crime and the ipunishment of wife-beaters by the lash. Several maintained that the punishment was brutalising on the man whipped and also on the whipper. Others argued that the wife-beater ought to be whipped, because he was a brute whom the punishment could not brutalize.

In reply to the question: "Is whipping in accordance with the enlightened spirit of the age?" the pertinent retort was made: "Is wife-beating?" Secretary Wines was dead against flogging. Warden Mason would only resort to the lash when a man was amenable to no other ameliorative influence. The lash was convincing and a good corrective as a last resort. A semi-humorous element was imported into the discussion by a narrative of the grievances of the "long-suffering husband," who was often "wondrously tried" [Laughter.]

On the question of the suggested jail delivery, Mr. Spalding of Massachusetts said if such a proposal were adopted an officer ought to look after the behavior of the discharged. Other suggestions made were that prisoners' aid societies could do much towards preventing relapses into crime. In some of the States there were societies for the prevention of cruelty to children, which would meet some of the evils the Archbishop deplored. In some States children were de-parentized, to take them from criminal surroundings; also shiftless men who would not work were imprisoned. This reduced the ranks of the idle and dissipated, and tended to the lessening of crime. Nothing definite was evolved as to the legal powers of pulling down hovels and providing play ground in crowded districts. Favorable results had accrued wherever this had been done in the States. Those were the most pertinent expressions of opinion.

Prof. Wayland read a paper on this topic, and maintained that close confinement in jails and work houses until death or conclusive proof of reformation was the only feasible treatment of incorrigibles. Nothing less would solve the problem. The disease was deadly, and the treatment must be heroic.

Warden Felton of Chicago thought the indeterminate sentence in theory to be good, but in practice at present undesirable. He was in favor of longer sentences for old offenders.

Warden Spalding, Massachusetts, opposed inebriate asylums for dipsomaniacs, which was far better than committal to jail on account of the objectionable criminal associations.

Several members spoke to a similar effect.

Mr. Smith, Inspector of Prisons for the Province of Quebec, read a paper in which he advocated a stronger law in relation to male depravity. The principal criminal escaped free and the woman had to bear a fearful load of degradation which led to crime. If women had the franchise such questions would be sooner solved.

The Congress adjourned at 10.30.

On The Verge Of Starvation.

"For three months I could not eat or do a day's work. I bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, began using it and in three days my appetite returned, in a week I felt like a new man. It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w36d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Borton, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medecine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

Reasons why you should purchase Fluid Lightning in preference to all other remedies are:—Rapid result—cures instantly. It is easily applied—no trouble—no lost time. It does not require constant use—one application is effectual. One bottle will remove more pain than any other remedy in existence. Try it for Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Rheumatism. Growing in Interest.
The actual business work now going on in the Peterborough Business College is becoming intensely interesting. Nothing equal to it has ever been used in the Canadian Business Colleges, and the students become so charmed with its perfect working that their enthusiasm is great. B.S. dw

Bailliesboro' Union Show.
The Bailliesboro' Union Show will be held Sept. 29th and 30th. The attractions presented are numerous, and will no doubt draw large crowds. A number of new features have been introduced, and another success will undoubtedly be added to the list of successes of the Bailliesboro' men.

The Kabo Corset, warranted to wear a year without breaking, is sold only at Turnbull's, the headquarters for all new and improved Corsets.

Building Notes.
Mr. J. J. Hartley has completed his contract on a neat and handsome two-story white brick residence on London street east, for Mr. Wilberforce Daly, of the firm of Daly, Grange & Co.

The brick work of the alterations of Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co's remodeled premises on Simcoe street, has also been finished and the rest of the work is rapidly being pushed forward to completion.

Electric Light Football.
A match game of football, under the auspices of the Peterborough Ameteur Athletic Association, between an Association team and the team of Norwood High School, will be played on the Association grounds, Ashburnham, on Friday evening next, Sept. 16th. Play will begin at 8 o'clock p.m. This will be an interesting game and it is to be expected that there will be a large turn out of spectators to witness the unusual novelty of a football match by electric light. The Association shows great enterprise in the encouragement of healthy, honest sports, without any undesirable accompaniments, and their efforts should receive the hearty support of the public. There should be a large attendance at the football match on Friday night. Admission to the grounds 15 cents.

Wedding Bells.
Wednesday evening another happy pair was made one by the marriage tie. Mr. Alf. J. Johnston, and Miss Grace R. Stephens, a young lady well known as a contralto vocalist, were on Wednesday evening married at residence of the bride's father, Sherbrooke street, Rev. I. Tovell performing the ceremony. Mr. W. F. Green, his cousin, attended the bridegroom, and Miss Martha, sister of the bride, performed the duties of bridesmaid. After the ceremony the intimate friends of the parties, who were the invited guests, enjoyed themselves in the social intercourse, incident to such interesting occasions. The newly wedded pair take up their residence on Water street.

Striking!
The Peterborough Business College course, endorsed by the Dominion Government.

The examinations for the Civil Service are in the branches taught in this College. This shows what is really used by the government employees, and by practical men everywhere.

The "Chartered Accountants of Ontario" examine candidates in just the subjects taught by this College. Will anyone say they are not practical?

The Ontario Government, at their last session, commended nine Business Colleges out of 22. Peterborough Business College was classed in the highest grade.

His Excellency Lord Lansdowne, Governor-General of Canada, endorsed the abilities of Principal Sawyer by patronizing him—an honor conferred on no other business college principal.

What do these facts tell?

Opened out at Turnbull's, cases after cases of Fall and Winter Millinery, marked at prices that will delight everybody.

A Happy Event.
Last evening at six o'clock the nuptials of Mr. Joseph W. Dawson and Miss Emma Stock were celebrated at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Wm. Stock, corner Stewart and Sherbrooke streets. Rev. B. Greatrix performed the marriage ceremony, which was witnessed by about forty chosen friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The groom, a son of Mr. R. Dawson, South Monaghan, is a young man of ability and means, while of the bride it can be said that she possesses all the womanly virtues conducive to man's happiness. Miss Minnie Stock, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Harry Dawson supported the groom, his cousin. After a recherché dejeuner had been partaken of, the happy couple were escorted to the Midland station, where the 8:50 train was taken for the Thousand Islands, Montreal and other points of interest. At the station a large concourse of friends had assembled to congratulate and bid farewell to the departing ones, who left on their honeymoon trip followed by showers of rice and the best wishes of a large circle of friends for future happiness and prosperity. The presents to the bride were unusually beautiful, numerous and well assorted.

The "Poor Man's" Cause.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

DEAR SIR,—Mr. Moore must have been pretty "mad" when he wrote his last letter. I advise him to keep cool and take things easy, and discuss matters on their merits. Mr. Moore aspires to be a public man, and he ought to be willing to have had acts criticised and his motives fairly discussed. He ought to know the old saying that when a lawyer loses his temper it is a pretty sure sign that he has got a bad case. It is a bad sign when a controversialist not only gets mad but makes a personal attack upon his opponent. I don't follow that example for two reasons. One is that it is undignified, and the other is that it does not interest the public—although I might do so with considerable effect. I have for the present had my say about Mr. Moore's "one per cent. per month", and about the "poor man", and I will wait now until I think there is a necessity for referring to the subject again, and when my referring to it may do good. If Mr. Moore wants to escape public notice he must cease to be a public man, and shew his appreciation of the maxim, that the path of duty is the private station.

Yours truly,
A POOR MAN.

Peterborough, Sept. 15th, 1887.

That Challenge.
The Belleville Intelligencer, referring to the Greatrix-Cooper bicycle contention, says: "The EXAMINER is in error when it says that Mr. Cooper "formulated a distinct challenge of his own." Mr. Greatrix threw out the broad offer to any wheelman between Toronto and Montreal for a $50 medal. Mr. Cooper has accepted that offer and it now remains with Mr. Greatrix to ride or show the white feather. It would be a race in which both would have to work to win." The EXAMINER is not in error. Mr. Greatrix's "broad offer," as our Belleville contemporary puts it, was a distinctly broad challenge, published at the time as such in the local newspapers, which Mr. Cooper can either accept or leave alone. The "white feather" reference is a most unworthy one, and does not at all apply to Mr. Greatrix, who has never yet given the least opportunity for such an imputation to be cast upon him. If he is at all anxious for a race he will have no hesitancy in coming to Peterborough. Mr. Greatrix has already been to Belleville several times this season, and does not propose going again. His time is not his own, and he cannot be running about all the time. Let Mr. Cooper instead of issuing another challenge, accept the original one and the race will be arranged. Mr. Cooper evidently wants the race to occur in Belleville or no race at all. Mr. Greatrix, to the knowledge of Cooper, stated that he would ride any man between Montreal and Toronto on the Peterborough track, and stands by his statement. He is prepared to grant a concession to Cooper, whom he is confident of being able to beat. He will give him ten yards start on a five mile race. If Cooper wants to race at all he will accept this offer. If he does not the matter must end here, as Mr. Greatrix will positively not run at Belleville.

Peterborough Canton.
The weekly drill of Peterborough Canton No. 10, I.O.O.F., was held last evening. Twenty-four chevaliers were in line, and a member of Ottawa Canton, at present visiting in town, who witnessed the practice, said that as far as they had gone, the drill of the home Canton was superior to that of his own corps, which has been established some time. Peterborough Canton has already a membership of 27, with more to follow. Orders for 24 complete uniforms, at a cost of over $1000, were sent by Captain McNeil this morning to Mr. Armstrong, a Windsor manufacturer. They will be finished in about a month. It is the intention of the Canton, during the winter, to hold some entertainments, at which exhibitions of fancy drill will be given by them. The occasion of the presentation of the banner, early in November, will be celebrated with great eclat by a grand ball.

Shipping Cheese.
To-day the last half of August make of Shearer, Keene, Pine Grove, O'onabee Union, Central, Myrtle and Glenthorne factories, in all about 600 cheese, are being shipped by Mr. Wrighton, the purchaser, to Montreal. To-morrow Mr. Flavelle will ship the rest of the August make of this section, about 550 boxes, from Central and North Smith, Warminster, Warsaw and Lakefield factories, direct to England. The next shipment of cheese will be made in October, when the balance of the season's make will be sent off in one consignment.

Still Another.
Another of those happy matrimonial events which are popular at this season of the year transpired last evening at the residence of the bride's father, being the marriage of Mr. John Irwin and Miss Annie Harmer, both of Peterborough. Rev. Mr. Wilson tied the nuptial knot.

Hotel Improvement.
The office desk of the Grand Central Hotel has undergone an alteration that much improves its appearance. An arched opening surmounted by a handsome network design, for the hotel register, has been made through the screen at the corner of the desk, and the old opening closed up. Mr. Roberts did the work.

The late Resolved Waterman, one of the most esteemed citizens of Providence, R. I., out-lived his two wives and twelve children, and died at the age of ninety-nine years, leaving behind him only one daughter and four grandchildren.

Henry Watterson has given the following life-like description of London: "London looks no more like Paris than I look like the Venus di Medici." One can almost see the crowded streets and public buildings through the lines of such writing.

A little newsboy of Orlando, Fla., being suddenly told of his father's death, dropped his papers and hurried home. A citizen, picking them up, sold them through the town, telling the circumstances, and realized $70, some of them fetching $5 apiece.

Allen G. Thurman, when informed that he had been made an LL. D. by Otterbin University, looked very thoughtful for a moment, then broke into a series of smiles and remarked that he Otterbin so honored long ago. New York World.

Roderic Fatty, a little Apache, a pupil in the Indian school at Carlisle, Pa., recently said to his teacher: "I don't like 'Roderic Fatty;' I want a new name." "What name do you want?" "I would like 'Roderic Reconciliation,'" said the little redskin.

A citizen of Douglasville, Ga., went home after dark, and after he had slammed the gate heard a curious flopping around. He investigated, and discovered that he had shut the gate on the head of a big snake, which was making strenuous efforts to escape.

Miss Fortescue, the English actress, who is coming to America, is said to be worth $50,000 and is decidedly pretty. That settles it. There can be no doubt as to her histrionic excellence. But what a relief it would be if somebody would import an actress who is poor and homely.

Probably the longest coffins used are those in which dignitaries of the Catholic Church are buried. They are nine feet in length. Such a coffin was used at the burial of Cardinal McCloskey. The extra length is required for the crown, which is generally buried with the deceased.

Fruit in its Season.
Fruit is so abundant that it should be used at every meal. Nothing can be more tempting or refreshing on the breakfast table than a dish of blackberries, blueberries, raspberries, sliced pineapple or peaches. The fruit should be fresh and cold when served. If berries form a part of the meal, and green leaves can be obtained conveniently, garnish the dish with a fringe of leaves.

This, too, is the season for canning and preserving fruit. Many folk think that it is economical to buy a cheap quality for this purpose. This is an error; only the soundest and best of fruit should be taken, and it should be put up while it is fresh.

Now is the time to preserve pineapples, raspberries and, in some sections of the country, blackberries. When it comes to fruit like the blackberry, which ripens in Florida in March and April, and which can be found in perfection in Vermont as late as September, it is hard to say which is the best time for its preservation. A good general rule is that all fruits are at their best for canning when they are ripe and firm, but they should not be allowed to pass to the stage of over-ripeness, for decay will follow quickly. This is especially true when making currant jelly. Watch the market, and use the various fruits when they can be had in perfection.—Maria Parloa, in Good Housekeeping.

An amateur billiard-player is one who never plays for drinks, is beaten when he plays, and plays by the hour.—New Orleans Picayune.

A Radical Change.
"I had got so bad with dyspepsia that I hardly cared whether I lived or not," says Frank A. Swain, of the Toronto Globe Office. Three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him, and he says, "it now seems a pleasure to live." 2w36d

A DAY FOR GIVING THANKS

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL APPOINTS NOVEMBER 17.

The Proposed Fisheries Commission—Mr. Norquay's Mission to New York a Failure—The Murderers of McLeish Committed for Extradition.

OTTAWA, Sept. 15.—His Excellency the Governor-General has appointed Thursday, Nov. 17, a day of thanksgiving.

By this week's English mail the Government received important despatches from the Imperial Government relative to the proposed Fisheries Commission. It is understood that the negotiations are not sufficiently far advanced to permit of an official statement of the scope of the commission. Cipher messages are passing between England and Canada almost daily and when a definite basis of agreement is arrived at probably some announcement will be made.

Advices received in this city from New York indicate that Premier Norquay has not succeeded in floating the bonds of the Red River Valley Railway.

Information has been received here that peace has been restored among the Kooteny District Indians, Chief Isadore surrendering to the British Columbia authorities the two prisoners charged with murder, and promising to maintain order in future.

It is understood that Hon. Mr. Pope will accompany Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Chief Superintendent of Government Railways, on his tour of inspection over the British Columbia section of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Inspector Inkerman of Halifax has telegraphed the Department of Agriculture that he knows nothing about the reported existence of the Picton cattle disease.

The Department of Justice was yesterday advised that the sentence of the two men charged with the murder of McLeish had been confirmed. After the usual delay of fifteen days, so that the prisoners may apply for a writ of habeas corpus if they so desire, the officers of the law deputed for that purpose will accompany them to Regina, where they will be arraigned on a charge of murder.

AN IMMIGRANT'S RECEPTION.

A Lady in Search of Lodgings in Montreal Sent to a Disreputable House.

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—A middle-aged Scotch lady, accompanied by her two young children, arrived in the city from Glasgow two days ago to join her husband, who came out before her and who now holds a good situation in a dry goods store on Notre Dame-street. Unfortunately she had lost his address, and making inquiry after lodgings was directed by some scoundrel to a disreputable house kept by a woman named Rebecca Johnson on Lagauchetiere-street. The woman made her comfortable enough, but said it would be better to give her all the money she had to keep for safety. The Scotch lady at first became alarmed, and said she would leave if anything was to be feared, but the woman in a plausible manner calmed her, and finally induced her to deliver up her valuables for safety.

A row during the night assured the Scotch lady that she was not in a proper place, so in the morning she announced her intention of leaving and demanded her purse and other valuables, which, however, Rebecca refused to deliver up, denying having received them. The Scotch lady did not say much, but quietly left and, taking a cab, drove to the Central Police Station, where she told her story to Chief Paradis. Detective Carpenter was sent back with the lady, and at the mere sight of his face Rebecca handed the valuables over without a word. Through the efforts of Detective Carpenter the lady was also enabled to find her husband.

ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT.

The Volunteer and Mayflower Waif for the Breeze That Does Not Come.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Volunteer and Mayflower were towed from the Bay Ridge anchorage this morning to a point outside Sandy Hook in the hope that a trial heat could be accomplished. After the yachts got within a couple of miles of the Scotland lightship, from which point the race of twenty miles to windward or leeward and return was to have been sailed, they dropped the tug at 10.10 a.m. After waiting until 3 o'clock for a breeze and finding none, the judges postponed the race until to-morrow [illegible]

THE END OF THE CONGRESS

THE PRISON PHILANTHROPISTS WIND UP THEIR BUSINESS.

An Interesting Debate on the Discharged Prisoner Question—Mayor Howland Heard From—A Visit to the Provincial Insane Asylum.

TORONTO, Sept. 16.

General Brinkerhoff of the Ohio Board of Charities called the Congress to order at 10 o'clock yesterday.

The most successful Congress the National Prison Association has ever held closed last night amidst a chorus of praise and votes of thanks. Eighteen American states, two Canadian provinces and the "Old Country" have been worthily represented, and fraternal bonds have been drawn closer by the interchange of views. Next year it will be proposed to alter the title "National" into "American" in order to approximate nearer to "Canadian." The concluding meeting was attended by many prominent citizens, who heard from the veteran chairman the statement that the Congress agreed to more than "thirty-nine articles" of the prison reformers' faith. Mayor Howland's contribution to the debate was timely and valuable, and the confidential recital by prison managers of some pathetic episodes in the reformed criminal's career touched the chord of sympathy in all present.

Mr. E. A. Meredith, LL.D., Toronto, read an able paper on "The City and County Jail." He said: "Our jails are a disgrace to the civilization of the nineteenth century. Their condition is truly deplorable." The three points he then enforced were: The fearful consequences of the indiscriminate association of prisoners, the evils of committing boys and girls to common jails, and the folly of sending hardened offenders to the same. The first was the monster evil, the abolition of which would remove the pernicious effects of the others. The work of manufacturing prisoners could hardly be done more satisfactorily than by the present jail system. The inscription might be appropriately placed over the prison doors, "Vice and Crime Taught Here." The system must be abolished; no half measures would suffice. The choice was between contamination and separation. The moral results of the latter system had been most encouraging. The Board of Inspection of Prisons in Canada, of which he (Dr. Meredith) is chairman, had for years in their official reports condemned the present obnoxious system. It was lamentable that in Canada, the progress and development of which they were accustomed to vaunt, they had a Government system of propagating vice. He had for a quarter of a century lifted up his voice in useless protest, but it had been as "a voice crying in the wilderness." Experience had shown that where the separate or cellular system had been adopted it had been uniformly successful. He thought it would be infinitely better for boys to be whipped than sent to jails in their present defective state, and launched on "law's royal road to the gallows," as Bulwer had so aptly described it. He objected to sending hardened prisoners to common jails for short periods. Such characters regarded the jail as a club or hotel, where they were fed and clothed at the public expense. Incorrigible prisoners should be made to do sufficient labor to pay for their keep, and should remain in hard labor until proofs of reformation were satisfactory. In conclusion Dr. Meredith referred to the shocking revelations as to the Toronto Jail, and in reply to the question, "Shall this state of things continue?" answered, "No; a thousand times no!"

Rev. A. O. Wright, Secretary of the Wisconsin Board of Charities and Reform, said that all the horrors of prison life which John Howard exposed 100 years ago were paralleled by some of the jails in the United States at the present time. They were relics of barbarism which should be swept away.

Corroborative testimony was given by other members.

Mr. Clement K. Fay, Commissioner of Prisons for Massachusetts, who has just returned from England, gave an interesting account of his visits to Pentonville and Wormwood Scrubbs prisons. He eulogized the strict discipline. It was extremely difficult for outsiders to view the prisons; there were no "picnics" thither as in the States. The English were ahead of Canadians and Americans in many respects in prison announcement, and they had more societies for the reclamation of prisoners on discharge.

Dr. Phillips, Rhode Island, said there was no place where boys were more injured and their souls more surely damned than in the prisons of America. Women should be tried separately, away from the prurient gaze of lecherous men. [Applause.]

Father Justin, of the New York Catholic Reformatory, described its successful results.

Prof. Wayland read a paper by Mr. Charles Nordhoff of New York, advocating transportation, and the possible use of Alaska for such a purpose.

Secretary Wines said the proposal as to Alaska was visionary. Transportation had proved a failure in England and France. It was an injury to the innocent colonists who had settled in good faith. It was an anachronism in these modern days.

Others expressed similar sentiments.

The concluding meeting of the Congress was held last night. Gen. Brinkerhoff presided.

The Mayor, in an able speech, dealt with the discharged prisoner subject. He had been connected with the Prisoners' Aid Society for eight years and been superintendent of the prison Sunday-school. He had learned to see the possibilities in men, especially the discharged prisoner. There were of three classes; those discharged "uncured," still vicious; the dipsomaniacs who had undergone no change, and those who were "cured." The first class ought to be sent back to prison until they were "cured." As to the second, they ought to be treated in Inebriate Asylums. On Sept. 3 there were in the Toronto Jail 107 men, 14 of whom were lunatics. This left 93 prisoners who really represented 805 convictions, several having been in as many as 50 times; 55 represented 718 convictions, and 140 represented 1800 convictions. It was cruel to keep sending these men down to prison. Their cost in an inebriate asylum would be no more than the cost in jail. There was need of the services of the Prisoners' Aid Society, interesting particulars of which the Mayor gave. The Toronto society had never refused a man shelter. The society had recently bought a large house, with plenty of accommodation, which had cost somewhere about $20,000. They had some "gloriously reformed men" in Toronto. In the last few years an average of 760 prisoners had been discharged each year, and of this number the society had found work for 841 men out of 2321 discharged. They had given shelter to 170, paid railway fare for 102, rent for 75, bought articles of furniture for 246, and helped 156 families. But the most surprising fact was they were in a habit of lending money to these discharged prisoners, and "the rogues returned the money." [Applause and laughter.] In four years they had lent $1600, and the society had received $1800 back. [Renewed applause.]

Secretary Wines said the admirable sermon of the Bishop of Huron was a good augury of that successful Congress. He congratulated the city of Toronto on having a Christian mayor, one who loved the humblest and most degraded in this fair city. He also congratulated the city on having a Christian warden over the Central Prison. The association would leave Toronto with the most delightful recollections of their visit, and they trusted that in the future there might be closer relations between those who were interested in the same cause.

Dr. Byers gave some touching narratives of reformed prisoners—one of whom he had met in this city and who thanked him with tears for the interest showed to him whilst in prison.

Dr. Phillips, Prof. Wayland, Hon. Z. Brockway, Mrs. Johnson and Warden Massie addressed the meeting, which with unanimity adopted a resolution thanking the city for the hearty reception, the press for its impartial and correct reports, and the Bishop of Huron for his admirable sermon.

Gen. Brinkerhoff, in his closing address, gave a resume of the proceedings of the Congress, which had been the most successful the association had ever held.

The meeting closed with the Doxology and prayer by Rev. Father Justin.

A Visit to the Asylum.

In the afternoon a number of the members and delegates visited the Provincial Lunatic Asylum and made a detailed and critical inspection of the institution. They expressed their gratification with the arrangements and general aspect of the asylum and the treatment

THE DOMINION AND INDUSTRIAL.

A Wonderful Season—Another Busy Day in the Horse Ring.

TORONTO, Sept. 16.

But one more day remains to see the great Toronto fair. To-night at 10 o'clock the Exhibition will have closed. In point of attendance, gate receipts, exhibits and amusements the fair has been an unqualified success. The weather on the whole has been eminently in favor of success, and the directors have every reason to be satisfied with the manner in which Old Probs has treated them. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday, which are considered the backbone of the gate receipts, were simply superb, and in these four days it is estimated that over 100,000 people visited the city.

The railroad men say travel over their lines has been unprecedented. On the Credit Valley and Owen Sound branches of the C.P.R. it was nothing to see a train steam into Union Station with 1000 passengers on board. The number coming from the section of country traversed by these lines was simply extraordinary. From the eastern trains on the Grand Trunk the influx was also very heavy.

The estimate that the gate receipts would foot up $55,000 will not be very far astray. Up to last night the total was $48,007. If to-day proves favorable this sum ought to be increased by at least $8000. Yesterday's receipts were $9300, against $4407 on the same day of last year. The receipts by days has been:

	1887.	1886.	Inc.
Tuesday	9 414		.....
Wednesday	3,263	0 683	.....
Thursday	2,253	444	.....
Friday	4,913	1,995	.....
Saturday	7,385	4,078	.....
Monday	11,167	5,848	.....
Tuesday	6,982	4,701	.....
Wednesday	12,220	6,196	.....
Thursday	9,201	4,407	.....
	$40,977	$27,350	$11,782

The only event on the amusement program that has not proved a success is the balloons, and Manager Hill declares he will have nothing to do in future with aeronauts. They are as unreliable as the weather. The fireworks have proved highly satisfactory, and were the means of attracting large crowds to the park every evening.

The live stock, especially the horses, is one of the chief attractions of the fair. Everyone likes to see a showy horse. Fat bullocks and wellbred sheep and porkers are very nice to look at, but they have not the faculty of disporting themselves in the ring like the equine species.

Yesterday was another busy one in the horse ring. The weather was threatening all morning, and about noon rain commenced to fall, which put a temporary stop to the judges' labors. The rain continued till 3 o'clock, when it cleared off. The saddle horse display was the principal attraction of the afternoon. In the morning the carriage, general purpose, road and heavy draught horses occupied the ring, and were awarded prizes in their respective classes. In these classes some handsome animals were shown, and far surpassed last year's exhibit. Graham Brothers of Claremont were awarded first prize among the Clydesdales, with imported McArthur, by McGregor. This fine big stallion was the topic of conversation among the farmers and breeders. There was also a good class of Percherons or French draught horses. In the roadsters' class Crown Imperial was given first prize for stallion, 4 years and upwards, John Carroll of St. Catharines with Forest Mambrino being second. It is impossible to describe all these horses, as there are so many worthy of note.

The afternoon was devoted principally to saddle horses, although the carriage teams, cobs and dog-cart horses received their share of attention. Dr. Grinside of Guelph was awarded first for his team, a stylish pair of bay mares, 5 years, by Sharpcatcher and Terror. Charles Brown of this city, with his pair of bay geldings, got second, and Sir W. P. Howland's pair by Gold Leaf third. The latter team, in the estimation of a majority of horsemen, were entitled to the prize, but the gentlemen judging this class were of a different opinion.

SATISFACTION DEMANDED.

An Insult Offered to the German Vice-Consul at Sofia.

SOFIA, Sept. 15.—The Rustchuk newspaper, La Bulgarie, recently published a statement to the effect that the German Vice-Consul had been relieved on account of scandalous conduct. By order of the Government the following day the paper issued a formal denial of the statement and offered an apology. It was supposed that the matter was thus ended. To-day, however, it is learned that the German Charge d'Affaires at Constantinople has sent a note to the Porte requesting that a German warship be allowed to pass through the Dardanelles en route to Bulgarian ports to demand satisfaction. The Porte, before assenting, asks the Bulgarian agent at Constantinople for full particulars of the affair. In order to further satisfy Germany the Bulgarian Government will suppress the paper and prosecute the editor.

THE CANNON BURST.

A Disastrous Occurrence at the Celebration at St. Anne's Shrine.

QUEBEC, Sept. 15.—The news of a terrible accident, through an explosion of a cannon, has just reached the city from St. Anne. Yesterday's report contained an item of the very imposing ceremonies at the coronation and blessing of the statue of St. Anne at the Shrine where so many miracles have been wrought for the past few years. His Eminence Cardinal Taschereau, nearly all the bishops of the province, 300 clergy and about 10,000 people assisted at the ceremony. The little village was en fete, and to add to the success of the demonstration three cannons, which have been ornaments on the lawns at Beauport Asylum for years, were shipped to St. Anne for the purpose of firing a salute on the arrival and departure of the Prince of the Church. Everything went well until the boat carrying His Eminence was leaving the wharf, when the villagers again went to fire off the gun. One of them exploded and large pieces of metal were blown in all directions.

One report states that three men were killed outright, while a second report says that only two men, named Bilodeau and Sylvain, were probably fatally injured and a boy, name unknown, was picked up in an unconscious state and has remained so ever since. It is said the cause of the explosion was owing to the age and used up condition of the guns and the fact that they had not been sponged, although used in firing volley after volley all day. As there is no telegraph communication with St. Anne, the exact details of the injuries to the victims cannot be learned until to-morrow.

The Chicago Anarchists.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—It did not appear when the Anarchists emerged from their cells to take exercise this morning that the fatal news of yesterday had any impression on them.

The representative German paper of this city, The Staats Zeitung, which has hitherto been in favor of the execution of the Anarchists, comes out this morning in an editorial and somewhat supports a commutation of sentence.

A Southern Poet Dead.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 15.—James Barion Hope, editor and founder of The Norfolk Landmark and a distinguished poet, died suddenly this evening of heart disease.

THE LANDLORDS' DENIAL.

THE PRESENT RENTS PREVAILING IN IRELAND NOT EXCESSIVE.

Another Death Resulting From the Firing of the Police at Mitchelstown—Sympathies from the House of Mr. Timothy Harrington.

DUBLIN, Sept. 15.—At a conference of Irish landlords held here to-day resolutions were adopted by an unanimous vote denying that the present rents prevailing in Ireland are excessive, or that general and reasonable abatements have been refused during times of distress. Rents have not been raised in Ireland during the period between 1640 and 1880, whereas in England, Scotland and Wales rents in the same time were increased between thirty four and thirty-nine per cent. The landlords of Ireland, it is further maintained, have rendered important services to Irish agriculture, and they do not, as alleged, neglect their duties towards either their property or the community.

"If," say the resolutions, "we were guided by the most selfish motives we would still be fools to evict tenants whose bankruptcy our forbearance would prevent. We deplore the alienation now existing in Ireland between landlords and tenants and we desire to restore amity. . . . The recent evictions were forced on us through political motives. . . ." In conclusion the resolutions say: "We demand that the Government speedily and finally settle the land legislation in Ireland on just terms to all parties concerned, including compensation to landlords for the loss of exclusive ownership and the reduction of the public charges on lands."

Harrington Suspended.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—In the House of Commons last night after Mr. Harrington had been called to order and made an angry reply to the Speaker's warning, the latter gentleman with quiet dignity said: "Mr. Harrington, I name you."

Mr. W. H. Smith, the Government leader, immediately moved that Mr. Harrington be suspended. The motion was greeted with ironical laughter by the Parnellites and cries of, "Hear the bookseller." (Referring to Mr. Smith's proprietorship of numerous book stalls in London.) Mr. Harrington withdrew from the House during the division on Mr. Smith's motion.

Casey's Deposition.

DUBLIN, Sept. 15.—Casey, one of the men who was wounded during the melee on Friday at Mitchelstown, has died. On Sunday he swore to a deposition identifying the constable who shot him.

The Writing on the Wall.

DUBLIN, Sept. 15.—Apparently the Irish Tories have begun to make use of secret threats and outrages against their opponents. The Episcopal Bishop of Londonderry entertained Justin McCarthy and his daughter at dinner Monday evening, and in the morning there was found painted in conspicuous places on the Bishop's palace the word "Jehabod."

GROUND SQUIRRELS—PRAIRIE DOGS.

Why a Special Session of the Montana Legislature was Called.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. .—The special session of the Fifteenth Legislative Assembly adjourned last evening. Probably never before has it been the case that prairie dogs and grounds squirrels necessitated a special session of the Legislature, but such was the case in Montana. The Legislature last winter authorized a bounty of 10 cents for prairie dogs and 5 cents for ground squirrels, and to date the territory has paid for 638,971 ground squirrels and 158,709 prairie dogs, or a total of over $50,000. The Bounty Act had exhausted the money in the treasury and was rapidly running the treasury into debt. The Governor, with permission of the President, called a special session and the law was repealed.

A MAN-OF-WAR AT MONTREAL.

A Description of H.M. Corvette Tourmaline, Mather Byles, Commander.

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—H.M.S. Tourmaline anchored in the harbor to-day.

The Tourmaline is a screw corvette of 2120 tons and 2000 indicated horse power. She left England a year ago, having been newly fitted throughout, and her old wooden bulwarks entirely replaced by iron; guns of the newest type were placed on board, and the latest fittings added. During last year she has visited nearly every port on the North American and West Indian station usually frequented by our fleet; Halifax, Bermudas, Barbadoes and the round of the West Indian Islands, British Guiana, British Honduras.

One glance along the upper deck is sufficient to convince one of being on board a thoroughly disciplined ship; cleanliness and order reign supreme. Along each side are four five-inch breech-loading guns, with latest Vavasseur mountings; then right forward on either side is a long six-inch chase gun, built in a movable sponson or turret, and enabling a shot to be fired at a pursued vessel without altering course; the same again at the afterend of the upper deck. Along the nettings are machine guns, the newest ideas of Gardner and Nordenfelds being represented; field guns ready for landing at any moment occupy the poop and fo'c'sle. Right aft on the poop, on a raised platform, is the electric search light, whose powerful rays are used in time of war for searching out and discovering for the guns approaching ships, boats, etc. The Tourmaline carries 230 men and is officered as follows:

Captain, Mather Byles.
Lieutenants, John Casement, James Cuddy, Herbert Lyon, Ernest C. Bartlett.
Staff-Surgeon, J. Sweetnam, M.D.
Staff-Paymaster, Cecil P. Walker.
Staff-Engineer, John Hall.
Sub-Lieutenant, Phillip Nelson Ward.
Assistant Paymaster, G. A. Koe.
Assistant Engineer, Wm. C. Barnett.
Assistant Engineer, Thos. S. Guyer.
Midshipmen, Harold G. Grenfell, Philip S. Watson and Arthur C. M. Watling.
Clerk, Geo. P. Wilson.

The Tourmaline was built about twelve years ago by Messrs. Rayiton, Dixon & Co. of the Cleveland ship yard, Middlesboro-on-Tees, England. Two others of the same type were built at the same time, at the Palmer ship yard, Jarrow-on-Tyne, to the order of the British Government.

SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

O'Neil, Manslaughter, Gets Three Years and Brand, Assault, Seven Years.

HAMILTON, Sept. 15.—At the Assize Court to-day James O'Neil, who was convicted yesterday of manslaughter in causing the death of William McLaren, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Edward Brand, who brutally assaulted Constable Griggs and who pleaded guilty, was sent to the penitentiary for seven years. The prisoner was very much affected by the severity of the sentence.

A Chatham Schooner Lost.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 15.—The schooner Provost, brickladen from Chatham, Ont., was driven ashore at Detroit Lighthouse Point on Sept. 12 during a severe northeast gale. The vessel pounded on the rocks severely, but was scuttled before the crew left. All hands are safe.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1887.

THE OTTAWA COUNTY ELECTION.

The result of this by-election is the overwhelming defeat of the Conservative candidate, Mr. Cormier. The candidate of Hon. Mr. Mercier had big odds to fight against. Mr. Cormier, his opponent, was elected at the last general election by the large majority of 267. His seat was attacked, corrupt practices having been alleged, but rather than face the consequences of a trial of the petition he resigned the seat, and the election on Wednesday was the result. His old opponent, Mr. Rochon, was also his opponent on this occasion. In spite of the desperate efforts made to defeat him; in spite of the influence of the Dominion government, both moral and material, the candidate of Mr. Mercier, the Liberal Premier of Quebec, was elected by the astonishing majority of 1460. Last year Mr. Rochon had a majority in Hull of 270; on Wednesday his majority was increased to 887. Mr. Cormier's last election majority of 130 in his own village, Aylmer, of which he has been councillor and mayor, was reduced to 72, and a similar statement applies generally throughout the riding. The result of this contest shows that the people of Quebec appreciate capable and honest administration of public affairs. They have suffered almost unbroken Tory rule since Confederation—till last October when Hon. Mr. Mercier was given the public confidence. Eleven months of honest, straightforward and capable administration of their affairs by a Liberal administration is an experience so full of promises of good results that they have given the emphatic endorsement implied in the result of the Ottawa County election.

AMERICAN statesmen are confronted with the problem of how to decrease their surplus revenue without decreasing their protective tariff. A similar problem will never trouble the Canadian statesmen, who now attempt to rule this country. They have taxed the people to nearly the highest limit, yet they are not bothered with surplus revenue to any bewildering extent. They manage to waste it, along with millions of other revenue, with the greatest facility. For the years '81, '82, '83 and '84, there was a surplus of revenue over expenditure amounting to $18,269,842. This has not only been "got away with" but in the years '85 and '86 there were deficits amounting to $9,617,859. Our Canadian rulers make short work of disposing of surplus revenue. They manage to do this and at the same time add to the public debt at the rate of two or three millions a year; while, on the other hand, the Yankees are not only decreasing their national debt by "leaps and bounds", but experiencing great difficulty in disposing of their surplus revenue. Yet Hon. Thomas White, our Minister of the Interior, has the "exigeant" effrontery to publicly assert that "Canada is well governed."

THE British ambassador has been able to obtain from the Sultan an irade conferring on an English Company the right to build a railway from the Bosphorus to Bagdad. From this latter point India can be reached in a few days by way of the Persian Gulf and Gulf of Oman, or across Beloochistan, which is under British control. The line is to be 1300 miles long, and it is expected that it will be completed in twelve years. The estimated cost is about $90,000,000. This privilege is one which has been very difficult to gain. The road will develop the resources of an extensive region rich in mineral and agricultural resources.

OWING to the frequent occurrence of destructive fires in the city of Montreal, the representatives of the fire insurance companies doing business in that city, at a meeting held on Tuesday, unanimously resolved that "in view of the heavy losses incurred in Montreal in the last two years, and of the present unsatisfactory condition of the fire brigade, an advance of rates was necessary to enable the insurance companies to continue doing business in Montreal." The people of that city will pay a heavy fine for the neglect of the authorities to put the fire department in proper order.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

THE Toronto News comes to this conclusion:—The Young Conservatives' Convention, held in Toronto this week was an ignominious fiasco. The delegates were, for the most part, a lot of machine politicians. The public meeting announced to be held in connection with the gathering was abandoned, and the banquet at which the magnates of the party were expected to be present, was indefinitely postponed, a convenient "press of business" detaining Sir John in Ottawa. The result was to be expected. There were plenty of intelligent, public-spirited Young Conservatives in Ontario who could have made the Convention a success, but they were not here. It is to their credit that they were too independent-minded to allow themselves to be gagged by the party hacks.

Startling!

The Peterborough Business College course, endorsed by the Dominion Government.

The examinations for the Civil Service are in the branches taught in this College. This shows what is really used by the government employees, and by practical men everywhere.

The "Chartered Accountants of Ontario" examine candidates in just the subjects taught by this College. Will anyone say they are not practical?

The Ontario Government, at their last session, commended nine Business Colleges out of 22. Peterborough Business College was classed in the highest grade.

His Excellency Lord Lansdowne, Governor-General of Canada, endorsed the abilities of Principal Sawyer by patronizing him—an honor conferred on no other bankable college principal.

What do these facts tell?

GOUGH'S CHALLENGE.

"Use your own judgment, have your wits about you," and, in this age of delusion, take no man's word unless he is prepared to prove what he asserts and is willing to back it: then you will see that a Shepherd may sometimes be one of the black sheep in disguise.

MY CHALLENGE:

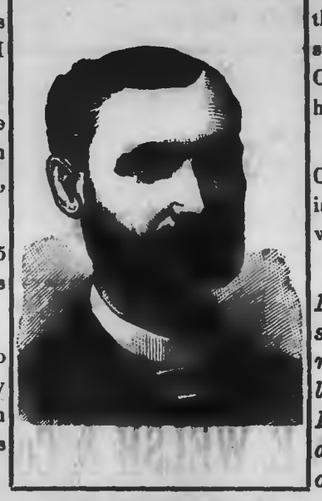
I hereby Challenge the Self-styled Cheap-Side-Store, for $500 or $1000, that the following is Correct:—

1st.—That I carry Ten Times more Clothing; that I sell Twenty Times more Clothing and in many instances sell them Cheaper than Cheapsides buy them, and yet I always sell with a profit.

2nd.—That I do sell to other dealers who sell Twice the Amount of Clothin Cheapsides does, and that I can sell him, also Cheaper than he Buys in his present market, and yet I will make a profit.

3rd.—That when Cheapsides sell Grain Bags for $1.75 per dozen he makes no money out of them, and hence his reason for refusing to wholesale them at that price.

4th.—That anything the "Big Clothier" advertises to sell he makes no Stipulation as to the Amount. You may take one or you may take all he has. This is not so with Cheapsides, and consequently advertising to sell Grain Bags at $1.75 per dozen is only a decoy to catch trade.



5th.—That when Cheapsides states in his advertisement that he sold bags to the BIG CLOTHIER, he deliberately states what he knows to be false; for when the "BIG CLOTHIER" sent to buy bags he sent him back word that he did not wholesale them and refused to do so.

6th.—That not One Single Article in Cheapsides Clothing Advertisement in Weekly Review of 9th inst., is worth the money he represents them to be, and yet he warns the public to beware of Designing Dealers.

Now, Mr. Cheapside's, as you have courted a Notice from the BIG CLOTHIER, and as you are too small fry for the Wonderful Cheap Man to again notice, don't come out next week with another delusive advertisement, but either shut up or put up. Every word I herein state is true, and if you accept my Challenge I will make you swallow it or I loose my $1000.

In the meantime, I will sell Grain Bags for $1.50 per dozen (there is no money in it to me at this price,) but if you have the Backbone you profess to have, then just follow the BIG CLOTHIER—he will keep you hustling—for, remember, that the man who always Leads and never follows, is

GOUGH, THE WONDERFUL CHEAP MAN.

The Home Club Wins from Newark by 10 to 6—Other Scores Yesterday.

TORONTO, Sept. 16.

Three thousand spectators witnessed the Toronto-Newark game yesterday afternoon, cheered the good plays made by both teams, and left the grounds fully satisfied with the result. It was not a brilliantly played game, costly errors being made by both teams. Toronto's victory was of course hailed with delight, as it places the home team in dangerous proximity to the leadership in the pennant race, which it will assume if it wins the next game with the visitors to-morrow afternoon. The Obnoxious Fish Trap.

ASTORIA, Oregon, Sept. 15.—A report comes from Gray's Harbor, W.T., that fifteen men cut the Graham fish trap near Aberdeen and destroyed Colbert's trap. They then started to cut Harris' traps, but were met by armed men and a fight occurred. Of the attacking party four were dangerously hurt and two fatally wounded.

In Brief, And To The Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature. The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy five cents.

PHILADELPHIA'S GREAT DAY.

The Celebration of the Centennial of the Adoption of the Constitution.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—The centennial of the adoption of the American Constitution was celebrated here to-day. It is safe to say that there are at least 200,000 visitors from a distance, in addition to the thousands from adjacent States. In all directions as far as the eye can reach it is one mass of bunting and decoration. The monster civic and industrial pageant started shortly after 10 o'clock and marched a distance of five miles, and then countermarched to the starting point, passing through one continuous line of observation stands gaily decorated with the flags of all nations.

The monster civic and industrial parade, illustrating the advancement of the industrial arts and sciences during the past century, is in believed, fairly eclipsed anything of the kind ever known. There were in line 200 floats, each bearing a representation of some particular branch of industry, 12,000 men, 2000 horses and 150 bands of music.

President Cleveland and party arrived here at 8.30 to-night and were at once driven to the Lafayette Hotel.

OPINIONS OF THE MANIFESTO.

The Government Said to Be Preparing a Reply to It.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—It is reported that the Government is preparing a reply to the manifesto of the Count of Paris, explaining the policy it intends to pursue in the coming session.

The Temps, commenting on the manifesto, says: "The document will have no disquieting influence on the country. It will only excite and embarrass the Right owing to the rapprochement with the Government. It indicates however the Count's views and the Cæsarian doctrine of empire that the monarchy can only be restored through a violent internal crisis and the triumph of anarchy. Republicans whose political experience continues to increase will not afford the monarchy that chance."

The Univers says that the manifesto amounts to a renunciation of the traditional monarchy and that the Count is becoming an emulator and imitator of Napoleon.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

The Bradstreet's Agency Pays Mr. Carsley of Montreal 6000 Damages.

MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—The case of S. Carsley & Co. against the Bradstreet Mercantile Agency of this city has been amicably settled by the payment of about $6000. Mr. Carsley took actions for damages both for his retail and wholesale houses on account of an item on the notification sheet used by the agency to this effect: "Call at office." This, Mr. Carsley claimed, had injured him in his commercial standing. Mr. Carsley had success in the Superior Court as well as in the Court of Appeals, and it was generally thought by eminent lawyers that the highest court of the empire would have sustained this decision.

COLORADO MOB LAW.

Unable to Secure a Victim Lynchers Fire a Prison and Roast Him.

OURAY, Col., Sept. 15.—Yesterday afternoon a negro cook named Joe Dixon, employed at the Hotel Brunswick, had a grievance against Ella Day, a waitress, and shot her four times. Dixon was jailed. A mob went to the jail to lynch the negro. They captured the guard, but failed to gain an entrance. They then saturated the building with coal oil and set fire to it. The firemen in the attempt to extinguish the flames drowned the negro, whose body was roasted in the burning building. The girl is not expected to recover.

Jealousy the Cause.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15.—Information reached here to-day of a double tragedy which occurred on the night of Sept. 13 at Huntingtown, a small village in Calvert County. Edward Crolid, a farmer, cut his wife's throat with a razor, after failing in an attempt to shoot her, nearly severing her head from her body. He then tried to kill his sister, but she escaped, and with the same weapon he cut his own throat, dying after kissing his two little boys. Jealousy was the cause.

It was wonderful what that one bottle did for me," writes Arthur Allchin, of Huntsville, Muskoka, who suffered from Dyspepsia. 2w36d

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair,

Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from Dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature grayness and stops all falling out of the hair. On bald heads, where the roots have not perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. D. Tully and all druggists.

A Pleasing Duty.

"I feel it my duty to say," writes John Bortos, of Desert, P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medecine to all suffering as she did." 2w36d

A Fact Worth Remembering.

Mr. Jas. Binnie, of Toronto, states that his little baby when three months old, was so bad with summer complaint that under doctor's treatment her life was despaired of. Four doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured her, she is now fat and hearty. 2w36d

He has the war paint on, and terror and destruction will come to any of the Baby Clothiers of Peterboro' who will pretend to do business in opposition to this wonder of the 19th Century. He says he is TRUTHFUL! Well, let us see. He states positively that SHEPPARD is lying when he says that he got Bags from Peterboro's Great Cheapside. He also says that he never advertises that which he will not carry out to the letter. READ CAREFULLY THE FOLLOWING, and see the position it puts this oracle of truth in—Mr. Teddy Cough:

37 Vic. C. 37. D.

I, HENRY SHEPPARD, of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, do Solemnly Declare that on Saturday evening last past two young men came into my place of business and stated to me that they had one deal with Gough but never wanted another. One said "I purchased goods from Gough, (meaning I suppose the store) and he guaranteed me that he would refund me the money if I was not satis- "fied or words to that effect. I had witness to prove this. Afterwards I went back with the goods, stated that I was not satisfied and "wanted my money. He would not give it me. I told him I could make him return me the money if I wanted to, as I had witness. I did "not get the money, so Gough got the money and the clothing too, but, I have the experience."

On Wednesday, August, 31st, 1887, a responsible farmer came into my store and inspected my Grain Bags. He purchased two dozen bags of good quality, looking at the same time at the cheap bags selling at $1.75 per dozen, but, said he, would not buy them for his own use. About two hours after leaving my store he returned and said "I want two dozen of your cheap bags now" and stated that they were not for himself. He afterwards stated to me in the presence of a witness that he took the two dozen cheap bags in the store of one, Gough a Clothier on George Street, Peterborough, and was paid $3.50 for the same by the said Gough, or one of his salesmen.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the Act passed in the Thirty-seventh year of Her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial oaths."

HENRY SHEPPARD.

Declared before me at the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, this 13th day of Sept., in the year of our Lord 1887.
E. A. PECK, A Commissioner, &c.

The above has the convincing ring of truth, seeing that in each case four reputable witnesses can be found to corroborate the above sworn statement, and, when it is necessary, more will follow. SHEPPARD has no desire to bring any man's business in such a light before the public. But the BACK-BONE talked about will never be found wanting in SHEPPARD, and just at the right time and place, Mr. Forepaw dealer may need his $500 or $1000 to prove his assertions.

So that, at the present moment, Peterboro's Great CHEAPSIDE will go on selling the Cheapest Clothing in Peterboro' though it raises the wool on this only Original Cough. SHEPPARD has no Brother-in-laws in Muskoka to sell goods to, neither has he relatives or any other person, who at any time endorsed his paper to the extent of one cent. He has, though his Stock is small, $10,000 in assets over liabilities, and just so long as this state of affairs exists he will pledge himself to the public to give entire satisfaction.

You can save money on any purchase. Sheppard has reduced Men's $10.00 Suits to $6.00. Men's $15.00 Suits to $10.00. Look out for Slashing Reductions in Men's and Boy's Clothing.

Young Mens' Christian Association.

Annual meeting—Favorable Financial report—The Affairs of the Association in a Flourishing Condition.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Young Mens' Christian Association was held in their rooms last evening. There were about twenty-five members present. Previous to the meeting tea had been served to the young men by the ladies of the W.C.T.U.

After tea the meeting was called to order, Mr. W.G. Yelland, President, occupying the chair.

Singing and prayer were held, after which, in the absence of Mr. Griffin, chairman of the Devotional Committee, Mr. Yelland read the report of that committee, giving a resume of the work done during the past year at the devotional exercises held under Y. M. C. A. auspices. A total of 229 meetings had been held, with a total attendance of 3,206. The report also referred in complimentary terms to the valuable services of Mr. Geo. R. Williams, Secretary, who was about to sever his connection with the Association, and to his disinterested and whole-souled efforts in behalf of the Association.

FINANCIAL.

Mr. Geo. Schofield read the report of the Finance Committee, in the absence of the chairman, Mr. Bannell Sawyer, which stated that the current expenses of the year amounted to $1,180 77, which with last year's deficits of $650 made their obligations this year the interesting sum of $2,030.77. To liquidate this, the cash receipts were $1725.16. Thus, the report stated, while the old debts had been paid off, and while there now no deficit, there was still remaining in unpaid subscriptions, some $300. The report referred to the difficulty of keeping the affairs of the Association in a sound financial condition, and suggested that each member pledge himself to do all in his power to raise a certain sum towards next years expenses. The members were urged to work steadily to improve the present encouraging prospects. The report was adopted.

Mr. Schofield, treasurer, then read his annual statement, as follows:—

TAXATION.

Mr. CUMMINGS thought the Association should be exempted from taxation. Churches were exempted, and as this was a Christian organization it ought to have the same privileges.

Secretary WILLIAMS thought it a great shame that it was not done. Applications had been made to the town council but none had ever been granted. The Mechanics' Institute was exempted, and the reading rooms of the Association were more public than those of the Institute.

Mr. Geo. MCBURNEY suggested that the principal officers of the Association be appointed a deputation to wait upon the council and make the request in person. He made a motion to that effect, which was seconded by Mr. R. A. Sanderson, and carried.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. Geo. E. WILLIAMS, Secretary, read his report, which opened with a few words of regret that he was about to sever his connection with the Association, but he felt he was following God's call to his new field of labor. During the past year there had been nothing startling in the affairs of the Association. The debt of the Association had been virtually swept away, which was one great result at least of the year's labors. The physical condition of the members of the Association had not been as well looked after as it should have been, owing to lack of proper appliances. It was hoped to better this state of affairs in the future by establishing a gymnasium and resuscitating the lacrosse club Closely connected with the physical condition was the question of social purity, upon which subject the young men of the Association had received much enlightment during the year. The socials held during the year had resulted most satisfactory. The report referred to several of the socials held under the auspices of the Association. Referring to the literary work, the report stated that several additions had been made to the reading room material which had been more largely patronized that ever. A set of parlor games would prove an attraction if added. A number of lectures had been given by several Peterborough gentlemen, to whom thanks were due. The religious work, more fully referred to in the devotional committee's report, was most satisfactory. A good instructor should be procured for the young men's bible class, the report stated. The Secretary hoped the orchestra, which was being organized, would be successful and a benefit to the Association. During the year 33 new members had been added, and a number struck off owing to removals from town and other causes. The present membership was 237. The work of the Reception and Invitation Committees was also referred to.

During the year one new branch had been established at Stirling, and Campbellford was arranging for one too. The annual convention of the Peterborough district, held at Port Hope early in the summer was mentioned. The report referred to the outside influences of the Association in assisting young men, by securing them employment and in other ways, and the report suggested that employers be asked to let the Association know when any help was wanted.

The daily papers were thanked for their kind favors, the ladies for their support, and the church congregations for the use of their churches on several occasions.

A contemplation of the future of the Association concluded the report, in which the Secretary hoped the day was not far distant when the local Association would be affected by the building movement, and to this end a lot should be secured at once.

The report was adopted.

FOR THE SECRETARY.

Mr. MCBURNEY, in moving the adoption of the report, spoke feelingly of the services of the Secretary to the Association.

Mr. CUMMINGS also referred to the able efforts of the secretary, and hoped the members would take the advice given in his report, and work to increase the membership. He, for one, was ready to do his share.

Mr. ROBERTS thought an effort should be made to get hold of the young men who enter the town strangers, before they became acquainted with bad companions. It could be done if the members tried heartily.

Several names were placed on the roll of membership.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, resulting as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Mr. Geo. M. Roger.

VICE-PRESIDENTS.—Mr. Bannell Sawyer and Mr. W. F. Hilliard.

TREASURER.—Mr. G. Schofield

SECRETARY.—Mr. W. H. Stevens, Montreal.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—Geo. S. Bean, I. Richardson, H. S. Griffin, Alfred H. Johnston, O. C. Rowse, Jas. H. Fife, Geo J. Early, Geo. McBurney, A. Tebb and J. C. Turnbull.

The meeting then adjourned after the usual devotional exercises.

Kinmount Pic-nic.

The Kinmount correspondence of the Canadian Post, Lindsay, in its report of the pic-nic says:

"Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P., West Peterborough, was warmly received. After expressing the pleasure he felt at being present he adverted to the pleasure of seeing neighbors and friends assembled to enjoy themselves together and mutually assist in the promotion of a good object, such as the present occasion afforded. He had attended recently a picnic where Protestants and Roman Catholics fraternized in social enjoyment and contributed jointly for the object of the picnic. No one, so far as intercourse and friendly bearing were concerned, knew another's religion, each having the motive of assisting to purchase a public library in view. This state of things was as it should be in a land which was the common home of people of different races and religions. No land under the sun could boast of so great a degree of civil and religious freedom as Canada. Liberty of conscience prevailed throughout the whole land. Every man was free to worship God as his conscience or belief moved him. This was strikingly shown in the multiplicity of sects and denominations in this country. There were gospel armies, salvation armies, saved armies, etc. These were at liberty to beat drums and wave banners and act as they please so long as they did not interfere with the liberty of anybody else. This exemplification of the freedom of opinion and tolerance of difference of opinion was only an example of the tolerance exercised towards their neighbors by those holding every shade of opinion and belief, and was something to rejoice at. This Dominion in this respect was in advance of any other country in the world. Reference was made to the spirit of union manifest in other ways. The two great Presbyterian bodies though of the same faith or creed had widely different methods; yet they sunk their differences and became one. The different bodies of Methodists had diverse interests, but their union was effected, making it the most powerful and the most numerous religious denomination in this Province. The result was that where in a small place there were two or three weak struggling churches the congregations became united and were able to pay a minister a decent salary and much better fitted for doing effective work. The spirit of union that effected these amalgamations was to be commended. Reference was made to the condition of the different provinces prior to the union of 1867. These were scattered, isolated, civil communities, each selfishly or sometimes antagonistically pursuing the tenor of it own way, seeking its own ends or striving to work out alone its little destiny. Confederation united these struggling and attenuated ropes of sand and turned them into one strong, healthy and progressive Dominion, larger than the United States, the home for future millions, where every man, high and low, has the same civil and religious privileges as his neighbor.

Under these conditions every citizen of the Dominion, whatever his race or creed, was loyal to Canada, and though hostile critics had insinuated in some quarters that the Roman Catholic Irish were not as loyal to great Britain as they might be, there was no question of their unswerving loyalty to Canada. If the imputation of disloyalty to Great Britain had any force, it was due to the fact that this imputation of hostility to British institutions was confounded with the unconquerable determination of Irishmen to secure for their native land the same measure of self-government and constitutional freedom which they enjoy in Canada, where the British constitution was construed and applied in a broad and liberal spirit. The same constitutional and governing condition that made the Irishmen the most loyal and valuable of Canadian citizens, would, if given to Ireland, make her sons as staunch and trusty guardians and upholders of British institutions as existed anywhere, as was witnessed only recently in a practical form in connection with the Egyptian war and Northwest rebellion, or as history assures us on the scenes of battle fields, where the British victory was bought by the bravery and gallantry of the Irish contingent of the Imperial armies. Mr. Stratton referred to the great good effected by these annual gatherings as promoting better feeling and neighbourship, and promoting the general harmony of the community, concluding amidst applause.

The Boboaygeon Independent says:—In the first place Mr. Barron and Mr. Stratton both made speeches, in which the chief subject referred to was Commercial Union. The meeting was quite unanimous on the subject and not a word was said on the opposite side. Mr. Stratton made a really good speech, sound, sensible, modest and convincing. It treated briefly of several important topics, and gave general satisfaction. Mr. Barron went into the subject of Commercial Union very fully, and was warmly cheered.

Opening Services—New Methodist Church—Interesting Proceedings.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The dedicatory sermon in connection with the opening of the new Methodist Church in Harvey was delivered Thursday morning at 10.30 a. m., by Rev. I. Tovell, chairman of the District. The Rev. gentleman always delivers a practical and eloquent address and the congregation were delighted with him. After the services a tea was served from one to three o'clock in the afternoon. The ladies of Harvey provided a splendid table of every thing that could be desired. After the tea, which was served in the town hall, an adjournment was made to the church.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P., was voted to the chair, and suitable addresses were delivered by the Chairman, Rev. Mr. Wilson of Bobcaygeon, Mr. Fitzpatrick of Harvey, Rev. Mr. McFarlane of Lakefield, Rev. Mr. Tovell and by the pastor. The choir of the church assisted by the choir from Indian Village supplied appropriate music, Mrs. Adams officiating at the organ.

The new church is erected west of the town hall, and is a neat brick structure. The contract was let to Mr. John Jones of Harvey. Mr. Simon Holt did the brick-work and Messrs. W. R. Girvin and Charles Pocock the plastering. The edifice is 25 x 35 feet, neatly finished, with a seating capacity of about 300. The total cost of the church was $1,050.

The Methodists of Harvey are to be congratulated upon the successful termination of their efforts to secure a comfortable and attractive place of worship. The dedicatory services passed off pleasantly indeed, and a deeper flow of spiritual power and blessing should and doubtless will result from the increased interest in church work which the congregation has manifested.

The following subscriptions towards meeting the expense of the new church were received, some Thursday and some on previous occasions. The building committee and the congregation are to be congratulated upon the success which has attended their united efforts in securing a suitable building to worship in and one too that has a sufficient amount subscribed to liquidate its cost.

That 5 Per Cent.

Mr. McNaughton Replies to Mr. Moore.

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

SIR,—As promised in my letter of the 7th, that I would show Mr. Moore who paid the 5 per cent, I find that out of the three hundred and thirty dollars paid in by fines fifty-five dollars has been paid by the working men or poor men, as Mr. Moore is pleased to call them, a very small percentage indeed when you consider the very large proportion of the ratepayers being workingmen; the balance two-hundred and seventy five being paid by the wealthy merchants, manufacturers, and professional men, of which latter class Mr. Moore wears the cloth.

Now, Mr. Editor, you can easily see in whose interest Mr. Moore's amendment was framed. If the 5 per cent. is a hardship, why does not Mr. Moore, as notary for the Toronto Bank, say to the General Manager and Directors of that wealthy corporation, the fees for protesting a note, one dollar and postage, is too much; the poor man cannot stand it, it is unjust; if they cannot pay their notes at maturity we will charge them one per cent. per month until they can pay? Surely, Mr. Editor, if the argument holds good for the town it is equally good for the Bank. But I do not think there is any chance of Mr. Moore recommending any such course, as in the one case the fine goes directly into his own pocket, and the other relieves the town from paying interest to the Bank. And now, Mr. Editor, in conclusion I will leave it to the public to decide whether my colleague, Mr. Moore, or myself is entitled to the sympathies of the working men, and I think I can fairly sign myself,

JOHN MCNAUGHTON:
The poor man's friend.

English—Lilley.

Last night at eight o'clock Mr. Samuel English and Miss Lydia Lilley were united in the bonds of holy wedlock at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. W Lilley, Antrim street. Rev. Mr. Wallace married the handsome and happy young couple. Miss Laura Golday was bridesmaid and Mr. John Brownlee groomsman. There were about 40 guests present, who showered congratulations on the newly married pair and gave practical illustration of their regard and esteem for the two whose hearts beat as one by their numerous elegant and costly presents both to the bride and groom. After the nuptials came the "wedding breakfast" after which Mr. and Mrs. English were escorted to their future residence in the old English homestead on Charlotte street. Both young people, the groom in particular, are well known in Peterborough, and their large circle of friends and acquaintances vied with each other in giving vent to their congratulations and hearty wishes for the future happiness of the couple, which were emphasized by the remarkably beautiful and varied list of gifts to the objects of their esteem.

Long—Palmer.

The Toronto Mail says:—"The spacious lecture room of the new Methodist church on Avenue road was filled on Wednesday evening to witness the marriage of James Long, of Peterborough, to Miss Maggie Palmer, of this city. The bride was supported by her two nieces, Annie and Maud Lemmon, and Miss Lula Tye. The groom was supported by Dr. J. F. Adams, and Masters Orlando Jolliffe and Willie Adams. The bride was elegantly attired and looked charming. The ceremony was performed by Rev T. W. Jolliffe, pastor of the church. Miss Booth, the organist of the church, played the wedding march. This is the first wedding in the new church. After the ceremony the friends were entertained at the home of Mr. Tozer, on Cumberland street."

Range and Rifle.
A meeting of the Peterborough Rifle Association was held Wednesday evening, when it was decided to hold the annual rifle matches at the butts on Monday and Tuesday, October 10 and 11. A committee was appointed to solicit donations for prizes and prepare the list.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

The National League Will Hold Four Open-Air Meetings on Sunday, at Which Several Members of Parliament Will Dispart Themselves.

DUBLIN, Sept. 16.—The executive branch of the National League has arranged for meetings to be held on Sunday at Roscommon, Bandon, Newton and Kelmacthomas. Members of Parliament Sheehy, Burner, Hooper, Timothy Healy and Dillon will address the meetings.

Mr. Balfour had a conference at the Castle to-day with Lord Ashbourne and Gen. Buller, and it is expected that the meetings will be proclaimed.

Chamberlain to Speak in Coleraine.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Mr. Chamberlain's visit to Coleraine, in Londonderry, will be made the occasion of a great Unionist demonstration. The railways will run special trains to accommodate visitors to the town. On the site of the meeting a temporary building will be constructed capable of holding 5000 persons. An address will be prepared affirming the necessity of union and urging an early land settlement and local government for Ireland the same as in Great Britain. Mr. Chamberlain, it is expected, will announce his scheme of local government, the alternative of home rule.

"Cold Blooded Murder."

DUBLIN, Sept. 16.—The Municipal Council at Queenstown has adopted a resolution condemning the Mitchellstown police for "cold blooded murder" when they fired on the meeting last Friday. A copy of the resolution was ordered to be presented to Mr. William O'Brien in his cell at the Cork jail.

The Inquest at Mitchellstown.

DUBLIN, Sept. 16.—At the inquest over the victims of the recent affray at Mitchellstown, Head Constable Doherty's evidence differed from the statement made by Chief Secretary Balfour in the House of Commons. An unbiased Scotch tourist gave testimony that agrees with the Nationalist version of the affair.

A Patriot's Reward.

DUBLIN, Sept. 16.—The Dublin Corporation to-day, on motion of the Lord Mayor, adopted a resolution protesting against the "tyrannical policy of the Government," and approving of the "patriotic conduct of Mr. O'Brien."

Help for the Distressed.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—J. I. Burnner, Liberal Member of Parliament for the Northwich Division of Cheshire, has given $2000 for the purpose of starting a fund to meet the material needs of Ireland and relieve the distress there.

SHE WALKED OFF A TRAIN.

The Strange Experience of a Lady Passenger on the G.T.R.

LANCASTER, Sept. 16.—At daylight this morning a lady was found lying unconscious alongside of the Grand Trunk track, about one mile east of this place, and was brought here and cared for till noon, when she recovered consciousness. It was then learned that her name was Mrs. Birrall, and that she had been a passenger on No. 4 express going west last night. She knows nothing about how she came to leave the train, and it is supposed that she arose in her sleep, walked out on to the platform and fell off. She is badly bruised and, it is feared, has sustained severe internal injuries. Her friends have been telegraphed to.

Found Dying by the Roadside.

GREENFIELD, Mass., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Patrick Murray was found this morning beside the road in a thickly settled part of the village. She was conscious but terribly cut across the top of the head, which was badly crushed. She stated that she had been assaulted by two persons. She died at 2.15 this morning. Her husband has been drunk for a week.

Violet Cameron's Unnecessary Husband.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Violet Cameron has applied to the court for an injunction against her husband restraining him from molesting her. His counsel said he would agree if the injunction could also issue prohibiting Lonsdale from visiting her. The case was adjourned, her husband agreeing meanwhile to let her alone.

THE ANARCHISTS' APPEAL.

DECISION OF JUDGE MAGRUDER IN THE SUPREME COURT.

A Review of the Haymarket Tragedy and the Events Leading Thereto—The Conviction of the Finding of the Court Below.

OTTAWA, Ill., Sept. 16.—In rendering the decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois on the matter of the appeal of the anarchists, Judge Magruder, speaking for himself and the court, said in substance, quoting much of the testimony:

"About May 1, 1886, the workingmen of Chicago and other industrial centres were generally worked upon by outside influence and greatly excited, especially as to the eight-hour movement. In the midst of this excitement a meeting was held May 4, 1886, at the Haymarket, and it was addressed by defendants Spies, Parsons and Fielden, and while the latter was making his closing speech, at some time between 10 and 11 o'clock in the evening, several companies of policemen, numbering 180 men, marched into the crowd from their station on Desplaines-street and ordered the meeting stopped. As soon as the order was given some one threw a bomb. The plaintiffs in error are charged with being accessories before the fact. There are sixty-eight counts in the indictment and these charge the eight defendants with being present and abetting, etc., and some of them say that they advised and encouraged these lawless acts."

The court then quotes chapter 38, division 3, sections 2 and 3, Revised Statutes of the State of Illinois, and the Judge continues as follows: "If the defendants advised and encouraged, aided or abetted in the killing of the policemen, they are as guilty as if they had taken these men's lives by their own hands. If any of them stood by and saw or aided in the throwing of the fatal bomb each of the aiders and abettors is as guilty as he who did the fatal deed. It is charged that the defendants were united and had conspired to do this awful work and that their common design was fulfilled in their terrible plot, and the evidence shows that while not perhaps a combination of the same culprits there was a desire on their several parts to accomplish the same ends. The questions presented are:

"Did the defendants have a common purpose or design to murder these police?

"Did they combine for that purpose, and was the result of such combination death to men who were the guardians of the law?

"The answer is, who made the bomb that killed Degan? The bomb was round, as big as a baseball, says a credible witness, and a witness says: 'I saw the bomb and knew it was a round bomb.'"

The court follows in the description of the various bombs in use or known to anarchists and scientists, correctly mentioning four different varieties of these destructive compounds, and concluding that these, or the most deadly of them, were made by Louis Linge, judging from what had been found in his possession and his acquaintance with William Seliger, who was a German carpenter and made his appearance in Chicago in 1885, and who seemed to be an expert in bomb making, and in March, 1886, brought dynamite there. The court quotes some experiments made by these gentlemen in their peculiar trade, all of which go to show that these two men were experts in their business. The evidence shows that these two men, April 30, 1886, the Friday before the Haymarket meeting, met, and Linge brought to Seliger's house a large wooden box three feet long and from sixteen to eighteen inches high, and that it contained dynamite, and that he (Linge) spent that evening in filling dynamite into gas pipe and globular shells, using a flat piece of wood which he had made for that purpose, and he was also assisted by a number of persons, Seliger among them. Upwards of fifty bombs were finished that afternoon, and it appears to have been continued till the very evening of the Haymarket meeting.

The record goes on implicating others, especially one Reubner, who was seen working at some coil fuse; and Linge, Seliger, Thielen and Herman were frequently engaged in casting and melting in Seliger's kitchen.

Then follows a description of the premises. Pieces of shells made by Linge were subjected to a chemical analysis and were found to be composed of a certain percentage of tin and the remainder of lead and antimony, iron and zinc, and out of the four bombs examined the percentage varied but slightly, and the pieces taken from Degan's body and those found at Linge's after his arrest were of the same composition. The evidence goes on to further complicate Lingg's connection with this terrible affair so closely that escape for him would be impossible. After fastening the evidence upon Lingg's guilt the Court asks the question:

"Why did Lingg make the bomb which killed Degan?"

"To answer this it becomes necessary to examine the character of the association with which these defendants were connected and its aims. There were no questions about this organization existing or doubt about its objects. Its platform was published by a certain bureau of information called The Alarm and Arbeiter Zeitung.

The court quoted many familiar extracts from the last named incendiary sheet, among them the peculiar ideas of the Communists, the abolishment of titles to land and a sort of freedom which is far beyond or apex in the rear of modern civilization, and in some of these articles the charge is made that the State, the churches, the schools, the press are in the pay and under the sway of the capitalists, and that the laborers must overthrow these powers by physical strength. It is admitted and even positively asserted that such a thing as right of property is not only a myth, but a great wrong to those who, by laziness and other faults, have never earned property, or by their want of thrift cannot keep such as they may have had.

This association, as Judge Magruder aptly expressed it in his very logical opinion, subverts all law. His Honor gives a splendid description of the gentlemen who come to a very free country and try to ruin it at sight. He says: "These men should read our constitution, our laws, and then they will find that they are hemmed in with law, but yet the yoke is so light that none will feel it."

His Honor goes on: "There was another newspaper called The Alarm, mentioned before, and defendant Fielden owned some stock in it, and it was under the management of Engel, another of these defendants."

The Court at some length, but with a cogent argument, proceed to connect the other felonies in the case; for instance, that these defendants were the chief movers and the centre of any and all Communistic meetings in Chicago, and that they were there in person and were always pronounced leaders of the red flag. "The evidence was," says His Honor, "that there were twenty-five to thirty labor unions in Chicago at that time, embracing a membership of from fifteen to sixteen thousand. A large majority of these men, honest and industrious, working for their daily bread, were well-meaning men and had no thought of Anarchy or any of its hateful doctrines."

The court says that the assemblage for any ordinary purpose would have been lawful, but it was not conducted as a lawful assemblage. Even prior to the arming and drilling of the group it was a violation of the militia laws of the State of Illinois, quoting the section which provides that it shall be unlawful for any company to drill or parade with arms in the state without authority.

The argument goes further and finds that each of these defendants has wilfully and maliciously violated the laws of the State of Illinois, and that they shall suffer its extreme penalty, fixed by the Court of Cook County, on the day previously stated.

Judge Mulkey has filed this as his opinion in the anarchist case:

"As is is not my intention to file a separate opinion, as I should have done had my health permitted, I prefer to avail myself of the occasion to say from the bench that, while I concur in the conclusion reached and also in the general view presented in the opinion filed, I do not consider that the record is free from error, for I do not think it is. I am nevertheless of the opinion that none of the errors complained of are of so serious a character as to require a reversal of the judgment. In view of the number of the defendants on trial, the length of time it was in progress, the vast amount of testimony offered and passed upon by the Court, and the almost numberless rulings the Court was required to make, the wonder with me is that the errors were not more numerous and more serious than they were.

"In short, after having carefully examined the records and given the decision and the questions arising upon it my very best thought, with an earnest and conscientious desire to faithfully discharge my whole duty, I am fully satisfied that the conclusion reached vindicates the law and does simple justice between the prisoners and the state, and that it is fully warranted by the law with the evidence."

THE THIRD COMMISSIONER.

Sir John A. Macdonald Would Suit the Imperial Government.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—A despatch has been forwarded to the Governor-General from Downing-street, intimating that the appointment of Sir John A. Macdonald as third commissioner would be very agreeable to Her Majesty's Government. The Premier has not yet agreed to act, but as it is the unanimous wish of the members of the Cabinet that he should, it is more than probable that he will comply. The joint commisson will first sit at Washington, and then in all probability will adjourn to Halifax. The Premier will have the assistance of Hon. Mr. Thompson, Minister of Justice, and Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, both of whom have given the case a vast deal of study, the first from a legal and the latter from a historical standpoint. It has not transpired yet whether additional counsel will be employed, but it is safe to assume that no stone will be left unturned to present the Canadian case in as favorable a light as the facts warrant. A Cabinet Council meeting was held to-day, when the fisheries correspondence was, it is understood, taken up.

The sanction of the Governor-in-Council to the transfer of the St. Martins and Upham Railway to the Central Railway Company of New Brunswick has been obtained. The former road runs from the Intercolonial at Hampton to St. Martins on the Bay of Fundy, and as part of the Central Railway will give an almost straight line from the City of Fredericton, in the centre of the province, to the sea. Mr. C. N. Skinner, who has been here in the interests of the transfer, goes east to-night.

A vote will be taken in Cornwall on Oct. 3 upon a bylaw granting a bonus of $35,000 to the Ontario Pacific Railway Company, which has a charter from Cornwall to Perth. The road is to run from Cornwall through Russell, Manotic and Franktown to Perth, where it connects with the Midland Railway, which is already graded eighteen miles west of Perth. A branch will also be constructed from Russell to Ottawa. The aim of the company is to carry the road through to Sault Ste. Marie and connect with the American lines at that point. There is a Government bonus voted of $3200 per mile from Cornwall to Perth. In return for the proposed subsidy Cornwall is to have the repair shops for the roads in Perth and Ottawa, and the railway is to carry all the gravel wanted by the town at not more than 5 cents per cubic yard.

The organization of "D" Royal School of Infantry at London is not being proceeded with as rapidly as the department would wish, owing to the necessary buildings not being completed. As soon as the contractor reports the barracks ready for occupation Lieut.-Col. Smith will at once commence recruiting. It is understood that there will be no drafting from the other schools to form the nucleus of "D," but that Col. Smith will have to organize the corps from the raw material.

Mr. Josh Marmette, of the Dominion Archivists' Department, returned yesterday from Paris. He has been engaged in France for some weeks copying the records of the Marine Department bearing on Canada under the old regime. The result of his labors will be embodied in a report to the Minister.

The work connected with the deepening and enlarging of the Welland Canal has been completed, with the exception of some filling on the bank, which will be finished very shortly. The Chief Engineer is now engaged in preparing the final estimate for the different contractors and also for Mr. Beemer, the contractor for the new aqueduct, whose work is about finished. This remarkable piece of work, strange as it may appear, carries the canal through and over the Chippewa River. The bottom of the canal is seven feet under the surface of the river.

From The Gazette.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—The Canada Gazette to-day will contain a copy of a certified copy of a report of a committee of the Privy Council, approved by the Government-in-council on July 7, 1886. It reads that the committee of the Privy Council have had under consideration the question of enlarging the powers of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council of the Northwest Territories. The Minister of Justice, to whom the question was referred, recommends that under the authority of the ninth section of the Northwest Territories Acts, 1880 (43 Vic. chap. 25, the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council of the Northwest Territories, or the Lieutenant-Governor by and with the advices of and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories, as the case may be, be empowered. In addition to the powers already conferred on the Lieutenant-Governor-in-council, as by and with such advice and consent to make ordinances in relation to the following subjects, that is to say: 1. Direct taxation within the territory, in order to the raising of a revenue for territorial (including municipal) purposes; 2. The incorporation of companies with territorial objects with the following exceptions: (a) Such companies as cannot be incorporated by a provincial legislature; (b) Railway, tramway, steamboat, canal, transportation, telegraph and telephone companies; (c) Insurances companies.

The committee concurring in the recommendation of the Minister of Justice submits the same for His Excellency's approval.

Worse Than Was Thought.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The failure of J. Pope & Bros., the metal merchants appears to be much larger than it was first thought to be. The liabilities will probably amount to $800,000, a large part of which, it is said, is in accommodation paper. The assignee declared that the firm would pay from 75 to 100 cents on the dollar.

To Discuss Commercial Union.

OSWEGO, N.Y., Sept. 16.—The Board of Trade of this city has decided to hold a meeting in the near future to discuss the subject of commercial union between the United States and Canada, and have invited Erastus Wiman, Hon. Benj. Butterworth and others to address the merchants and bankers of the city on the question.

Excitement Though Brief.

MADRAS, Sept. 16.—A rebellion which proved to be of short duration broke out in Mambors recently. The rebels penetrated into the Maharajah's palace, but were repulsed
